YARMARK CASE CONTINUES IN COURT TODAY

Trial of Ronald W. Yarmark, Aspers ceramics manufacturer, on a 17-count charge growing from the removal of his repossessed car from the Epley Garage, continued in Adams County court this afternoon.

The charge lists "burglary, larceny, forgery, bribery of an employe, destruction of a business record, removing property to defraud creditors and divers conspiracies to commit various crimes."

According to Yarmark's story to the jury this morning, a series of misunderstandings led to his being enmeshed in the tentacles of the law.

He said that after the car had been repossessed he had gone to the General Motors Acceptance Corporation at Harrisburg and had submitted a check for back payments on his $4,000 red Cadillac and had believed that he had been reinstated in his plan of payments for the car on which approximately $2,900 still owed. Asked by District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter whether the GMAC officials were "telling an untruth" when they said they had refused to accept Yarmark's payments, the Aspers man said: "No, I apparently misunderstood them."

Explains Westminster Trip

With that understanding he decided to get his car from the Epley Garage, Yarmark said, and two other men had gone to the garage for him to get the vehicle ready. He said that he had been presented with a storage stub from the Epley Garage, but that he had no knowledge that it was a replacement for the one held by GMAC for the storage of the car. "All I knew was that there was something about $6, a dollar for each day the car was in the garage and I paid that." Asked if he did not know that GMAC would have been given the stub to the storage ticket when the car was placed in the garage by a GMAC agent, Yarmark replied, "I haven't the slightest idea how Mr. Epley conducts his business."

Asked whether he drove his Cadillac to Westminster to "get it out of the state" after removing the vehicle from the Epley Garage, Yarmark said that there had been some damage to the car, apparently while stored at the Epley Garage, and he wanted to have repairs made. Yarmark said he planned to take the car to Littlestown for repairs. Reaching Littlestown he recalled there was no Cadillac garage there and continued to Westminster to put it in a Cadillac garage. Yarmark, in response to a query, said that if he had wanted to hide the car he could have done that around Aspers.

YOUNG FARMERS ELECT OFFICERS

Donald Dillon, Orrtanna R. 1, was elected president of the Gettysburg Young Farmers Association at the annual banquet of the group Tuesday evening at Trinity Evangelical Reformed Church here. Dillon succeeds Paul Waybright.

Francis Walker was elected vice president; John Schwartz, secretary; Wilbur Danner, treasurer; Daniel Hoffman, public relations chairman and Wilbur Waybright and Fred Fissel, directors.

Approximately 45 attended the ladies' night dinner, at which retiring President Waybright served as toastmaster.

William Eckert showed colored slides taken of various members while working on their farms and of various trips.

Elmer Schriver, agricultural education teacher at Gettysburg High School and advisor for the Young Farmers group, showed four reels of film of activities of the young farmers groups and various trips that he had made with a movie camera presented to him some time ago by the group.

Signs Guilty Pleas On Three Charges

Mario Michael Marrero, Greensburg, signed a plea of guilty before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore Tuesday to three charges: larceny of a motor vehicle, operating a vehicle without the consent of the owner and a third count of burglary. Marrero was committed to the county jail in default of a $500 bail.

Marrero confessed to having stolen a truck owned by Donald Sponseller, Biglerville R. 2, on October 17 or 18 in Franklin Twp. On the same day Marrero took several bottles of soda pop from the Whiteway Diner in Franklin Twp. The value of the soda is estimated at 25 cents by state police who made the arrest.

Community Thank Service Tonight

The annual community Thanksgiving Service for Gettysburg will be held this evening at 7:30 in the Memorial Evangelical United Brethren Church, 28 W. High St.

The Rev. Edwerth Korte, chaplain of Gettysburg College, will preach the Thanksgiving sermon using as his theme "Thanks For Giving."

The Junior Choir of Memorial Church, under the direction of Miss Evadel Crider will sing as an anthem "The Lord's Prayer." Nelson Zapf of Christ Lutheran Church will sing a solo entitled "Prayer Of Thanksgiving." The host pastor, Rev. Harry L. Fehl Jr., will have charge of the order of worship.

ANNUAL CORN REFERENDUM DECEMBER 11

The annual corn referendum vote will be held December 11, the Adams County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee announced today.

Growers will have an opportunity to vote on whether they prefer a Soil Bank program, or a corn acreage allotment program similar to prior years.

Information on the referendum sent the county committee stated:

"If two-thirds of the producers voting in the referendum favor corn base acreages then the national average price support rate will be $1.31 per bushel. If corn base acreages are approved, a producer to be elibible for price support must comply with his farm base acreage on corn and must devote an acreage of cropland on his farm equal to at least 15 per cent of the farm base acreage for corn to the Acreage Reserve or Conservation Reserve Program provided for by the Soil Bank Act.

"If corn acreage allotments are approved by more than one-third of the voters voting in the December 11th referendum the 1957 national average corn price support rate will be $1.36 per bushel. This national average of $1.36 per bushel, if corn acreage allotments are approved compares with the national average rate of $1.50 per bushel for producers who complied with their acreage allotments in connection with the 1956 corn price support program.

"At the present there are no plans to offer support for the 1957-crop corn on non-compliance corn in the commercial corn area.

"In connection with the 1957 corn acreage reserve program the Department has announced that the national average rate per bushel for determination of 1957 corn acreage reserve payments will be 90 cents. This is the same national average used in connection with the 1956 corn acreage reserve program."

LAUDS WOMEN FOR ROLE IN GOP VICTORY

State Senator William Z. Scott, Carbon County attorney and legal counsel to the State Republican Committee, told the Adams County Council of Republican Women Tuesday evening at a "Victory" meeting at the courthouse: "We Republicans now have command of the state Senate and House. We must have an affirmative program to present to the people of Pennsylvania and then vote for it. If we do, we will again be able to proudly proclaim that Pennsylvania is not only the Keystone state of the nation, but the keystone of Republicanism as well."

Scott continued: "Over a period of many years Pennsylvania, because of its commerce, its agriculture and industry, its business and its position in the early United States, has been known throughout the nation as the Keystone state. And for years we could also boast that Pennsylvania was the keystone of the Republican party.

"But two years ago something happened. We can no longer boast of being the keystone of Republicanism. But we are on the way to being able to once again make that boast. We have passed our first objective. We elected President Eisenhower and we secured control of the state Senate and the Assembly.

Lauds Women

"Much of that result was due to the efforts of the women of the 67 counties of the state. In fact I think we could ascribe much of the great tribute to President Eisenhower on election day to the women of the 48 states. They, along with the men, went to the voting booths to make clear that they were satisfied with the program of peace, prosperity and progress.

"The women proved their memories were not short, that they were pleased by the efficient government given by President Eisenhower over the last four years and want a continuation of that government for four more years. They want officials with understanding, dignity, sanctity and belief in the freedom of the individual man.

"The people have a chance to compare between Democratic governors and Republican governors and even though we are not too proud of some Republican governors, we can hold our heads high now under the Leader administration."

Reports Presented

Mrs. A. W. Butterfield, president of the Republican women, presided at the meeting with 150 present. Mrs. Howard Hartzell gave the financial report. Mrs. Emma Sheffer, political activities chairman, reported that the operation of the Eisenhower booth on Lincoln Square from May to the election was "very successful in every way. Thousands

Vanguard Of U.N.'s Police Force Moves Into Port Said

CAIRO (AP)—A unit of 190 battle-clad Norwegian troops moved into the northern sector of the Suez Canal zone today to tackle the U.N. police force's first active Middle East peacekeeping mission.

A U.N. spokesman said the contingent would try to ease tension between Egyptians and British-French forces holding Port Said, at the north end of the canal.

The operation had a go-ahead from both Egypt and the British-French military authorities, but it was announced that it was not connected with any withdrawal of British or French troops from the canal zone.

The British-French commander at Port Said announced he was not pulling out any of his men.

Wearing U.N. blue helmets, the Norwegian soldiers moved north by train from the U.N. police force Assembly area at Abu Suweir, behind Egyptian lines near the canal's halfway point. They were part of an international force of some 700 airlifted into the canal zone and standing by in barracks for further orders.

Port Said has been a center of tension since a cease-fire halted the fighting in the canal area. Egypt has charged the occupying forces with atrocities against Egyptian civilians. British and French authorities have complained of cease-fire violations and have charged a calculated campaign is being conducted to prevent the city's civilian population from cooperating with their occupation.

Egypt's latest charges of atrocities by Britain, France and Israel came in a statement calling for a U.N. investigation into "barbarous aggression." The statement was forwarded to U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold and proposed that an investigation be made in cooperation with the International Red Cross.

Deny Atrocity Charges

The governments of Britain, France and Israel have denied previous Egyptian charges of atrocities.

END STRIKE AT ESSEX WIRE

Representatives of the Essex Wire Company and the local unit of the United Steelworkers' Union late Tuesday night signed a three-year contract which provides for immediate resumption of operations at the plant and for wage increases described as a "compromise" between original demands of the union and the first offer by management.

While some of the approximately 180 workers involved were back at work today, Frank L. Gallucci, Fort Wayne, director of industrial relations for Essex Wire, said it will be several weeks before the plant will be in full operation again. The plant closed down after the old contract expired October 24.

Gallucci said the workers will be called back in groups as rapidly as new orders warrant. Some business was lost during the period the plant was closed and the status of some other orders has to be cleared, he added.

The contract, which will run from October 24, 1956, to the same date in 1959, provides for an eight cents an hour increase immediately and for increases of five cents an hour on the contract anniversary in 1957 and 1958.

The agreement was reached in morning, afternoon and evening sessions Tuesday attended by Dan Clevenger, Winchester, Va., representing the federal mediation and conciliation service.

SEEK 9 MORE 4-H MEMBERS

The Adams County 4-H Baby Beef club needs nine more members if it is to achieve its goal of 50 members by December 19, the group learned Tuesday evening at a meeting at the courthouse.

Six new members were accepted Tuesday, bringing to 41 the number scheduled to begin the new Baby Beef club year in December. Reports at the meeting showed that about eight more youths "are interested." Any boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 20 can join the club by contacting Associate County Agent Fred H. Attinger at the Agricultural Extension office in the courthouse. Those planning to join should have secured a calf by December 19 when the first meeting of the new year will be held at the home of Linda Hoffman, Biglerville R. 1.

New members accepted Tuesday were Clarence Eyler, Gettysburg R. 1; Judy and John Kunkel, Biglerville R. 2; Robert Tate, Biglerville R. 2; David Lott, Gettysburg R. 4, and James Earhart, Gettysburg R. 5.

A discussion was held on plans for next year and the possibility of some changes in the rules on judging.

Reports were presented on the seven calves which were selected to represent the county group at the State Farm Show at Harrisburg. The owners of the calves which will go to Harrisburg are Larry Bair, Littlestown R. 2; Glen Benizel, New Oxford R. 2; Barry Breighner, Littlestown R. 2; William Grove, Gardners R. D.; Janet Hay, Gettysburg R. 3; Linda Hoffman, Biglerville R. 1, and Patrick Murren, Hanover R. 4.

KICKED BY COW

George Franklin Weaver, a dairy farmer, Gettysburg R. 4, is suffering from bruises and probably a broken nose after being kicked by a cow Tuesday night. The accident occurred while Weaver was "chipping" the cow.

Every American can help to use America's abundant supply of farm foods and help feed needy and deserving families abroad for the holidays. One American dollar will serve four persons. Every dollar sent to CARE (Cooperative for American remittances to Everywhere, Inc.), 660 First Ave., New York 16, N. Y., will send a 22-pound package of food abroad to be delivered safely to a needy family. The package will contain enough staples to help feed four persons a month.

CARE is seeking five million packages for 20,000,000 persons.

200 Favors Sent To Vets By Jr. Red Cross

Thanksgiving favors made by Junior Red Cross members in six Adams County high schools have been taken to the veterans' hospital at Lebanon by Mrs. Peggy Hill, executive secretary of the Red Cross chapter here.

The 200 attractive favors, together with mints and candy to fill them, and 25 jokebooks and five writing portfolios were made by the Junior Red Cross members or provided by Junior Red Cross funds.

The high school units participating were East Berlin, New Oxford, Delone, Gettysburg, Biglerville and Littlestown.

COLLEGE GIVEN $2,000 GRANT BY ESSO GROUP

The Esso Education Foundation has awarded a financial grant of $2,000 to Gettysburg College, General Willard S. Paul, president of the college, said today. The grant is unrestricted.

The Foundation, through the Standard Oil Company, of New Jersey, and a group of affiliates assisting privately supported colleges and universities in the United States, made 296 other grants for a grand total of $1,191,450. Last January the Foundation made grants of $1,067,900 for the current year.

The Foundation, organized in October, 1955, coordinates and centralizes the educational assistance programs of Jersey Standard and certain domestic affiliates.

With the announcement of grants covering the 1956-57 academic year, the Esso Education Foundation reported the participation of The Carter Oil Company for the first time. Contributors to the Foundation, in addition to Jersey Standard and Carter, are: Esso Standard Oil Company, Esso Shipping Company, Esso Research and Engineering Company, Esso Export Corporation and Interstate Oil Pipe Line Company.

Increase Of 71

Today's grants represented an increase of 71 over the 226 made last January. Additions and deletions in the list of recipients will be made from year to year, the Foundation said, in pursuance of its policy of directly assisting a representative group of privately-supported schools, and yet encouraging all such schools to seek support from other sources.

The District of Columbia and all 43 of the states which have privately supported colleges and universities are represented in the Foundation's latest program.

Of the $1,191,450 in grants announced today, the largest portion, $726,500, was given to 256 colleges and universities in the form of unrestricted grants for undergraduate

Rev. Meredith Talks To Exchange Club

Rev. Victor K. Meredith Jr., pastor of the local Methodist Church, was the speaker Tuesday at a Thanksgiving program held by the Gettysburg Exchange Club at Bankert's Restaurant.

"We should be ever thankful for our daily way of life and the blessings that God has showered upon us," Rev. Mr. Meredith said.

"We should be thankful for our health and our facilities, and our ability with God's grace to carry on our daily lives. We should be thankful for our freedom and our right to worship as we please and we should be even more thankful for our friends and daily associates and for the opportunity we have of working with each other."

President R. E. Shaffer presided at the meeting.

Fairfield Soldier At Fort Jackson

Private Clair C. Cullison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Cullison, Fairfield R. 2, has been assigned to D Company, 2nd Battalion, 1st Training Regiment for eight weeks of basic infantry training at Fort Jackson, S. C.

During the next eight weeks he will learn the fundamentals of being an infantry soldier. This includes classroom lecturers in such subjects as military courtesy, first aid, map reading, and personal hygiene. He will also learn to fire the M-1.

After this eight weeks of training, the trainee is given about 14 days leave after which he may or may not return to Fort Jackson. If he returns to Fort Jackson he may attend eight more weeks of individual training or an Army school. Fort Jackson offers schooling in several specialities as one of the country's largest infantry training centers and conducts a program of training for young men under the provisions of the Reserve Forces Act of 1955.

More than 7,500 Adams Countians are sharing the largest distribution of pre-holiday shopping wealth ever sent to Christmas Club members by Adams County's 13 banking houses.

Checks totaling $640,180.50 are being mailed to 7,675 Christmas club members. Some of the banks already have mailed their checks. All will be in the mails by December 1.

This year's Christmas Club savings represent an increase of nearly $60,000 over the sum distributed by the same banks a year ago. The number of Christmas club accounts jumped from 6,940 last year to 7,675 this year.

Average Check For $83.41

The average check this year is for $83.41, a drop of 26 cents from last year's average, in spite of the big jump in the number of club members. In 1954 the average check was for $84.57; in 1953, $80.56, and in 1952, $75.65.

This is the fourth consecutive year when countians' Christmas Club savings topped the half million dollar mark. The comparative figures for the last four years follow: 1955, $580,669 to 6,940 members; 1954, $558,748.20 to 6,607 members; 1953, $518,913.45 to 6,441 members, and in 1952, $470,390 to 6,218 members.

The largest club in the county again this year is that conducted by the Littlestown State Bank and includes the totals for the club operated by its Farmers' Bank branch at McSherrystown. The Littlestown State Bank's total is $167,270.95 with 1,961 members.

Some Checks Mailed

The second largest club was conducted by The Gettysburg National Bank. Its total is $148,149.20 with 1,618 members.

All of the banks in the county reported larger clubs this year than last and all plan to operate clubs next year. At some of the banks, the 1957 clubs are already open for members.

The Bendersville National Bank mailed its Christmas Club checks November 15, others followed this week and the last of the checks will go out not later than December 1 by other banks.

Totals By Banks

A list of the banks and the sum each is distributing to its club members:

Littlestown State	$167,270.95
Gettysburg National	148,149.20
1st National, Gettysburg	92,400.00
Littlestown National ...	66,554.75

ARMORY TO GET $50,000 SHED

A $50,000 truck shed for Gettysburg's State Armory along W. Confederate Ave., is included among improvement plans for 34 armories of the Pennsylvania National Guard throughout the state, according to an announcement by the Department of Military Affairs. The total cost involved is $4,685,000.

The program to improve facilities for the state's standby militia was developed on the basis of federal grants of $3 for every $4 expended.

The department explained that clearance of individual projects including approval of plans will necessarily take time with the National Guard Bureau.

The program was described as the most comprehensive building and improvement undertaking in nearly 20 years.

The Department of Property and Supplies was asked to undertake the program as individual projects are cleared through federal and state agencies.

President May Use Emergency Provisions Of Taft-Hartley Act To End Waterfront Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government decided today to apply in New York federal court this afternoon for an order to stop striking longshoremen from insisting on a coast-wise bargaining unit.

The National Labor Relations Board authorized its attorneys to seek a temporary restraining order against the International Longshoremen's Association, and Union President William Bradley.

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal action to halt the 20-million-dollars-a-day waterfront strike was reported imminent today.

The probabilities were:

1. Action by President Eisenhower to invoke the national emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act.

2. Or action by the National Labor Relations Board on a pending employer complaint.

Further negotiations were scheduled today between the striking International Longshoremen's Assn. and the New York Shipping Assn., representing 170 shipping and stevedoring firms in the port of New York area.

No concrete progress has been made so far toward settlement of the six-day-old strike of 60,000 ILA members which has closed Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports except for military shipments and movement of some bulk cargo.

Consider 2 Courses

Reports from Washington said the administration was considering two alternate courses of court action for any injunction to end the strike.

If the President invoked the national emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act, this would normally bring an injunction for an 80-day cooling-off period. However, Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, said last night: So far as I know, there are no plans as of this moment to invoke the Taft-Hartley Act."

In view of Snyder's comment, the most likely course might be action by the NLRB based on charges by the New York Shipping Assn. The employers group complained several weeks ago that the ILA had violated the Taft-

YARMARK CASE CONTINUES IN COURT TODAY

Trial of Ronald W. Yarmark, Aspers ceramics manufacturer, on a 17-count charge growing from the removal of his repossessed car from the Epley Garage, continued in Adams County court this afternoon.

The charge lists "burglary, larceny, forgery, bribery of an employe, destruction of a business record, removing property to defraud creditors and divers conspiracies to commit various crimes."

According to Yarmark's story to the jury this morning, a series of misunderstandings led to his being emeshed in the tentacles of the law.

He said that after the car had been repossessed he had gone to the General Motors Acceptance Corporation at Harrisburg and had submitted a check for back payments on his $4,000 red Cadillac and had believed that he had been reinstated in his plan of payments for the car on which approximately $2,900 still owed. Asked by District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter whether the GMAC officials were "telling an untruth" when they said they had refused to accept Yarmark's payments, the Aspers man said: "No, I apparently misunderstood them."

Explains Westminster Trip

With that understanding he decided to get his car from the Epley Garage, Yarmark said, and two other men had gone to the garage for him to get the vehicle ready. He said that he had been presented with a storage stub from the Epley Garage, but that he had no knowledge that it was a replacement for the one held by GMAC for the storage of the car. "All I knew was that there was something about $6, a dollar for each day the car was in the garage and I paid that." Asked if he did not know that GMAC would have been given the stub to the storage ticket when the car was placed in the garage by a GMAC agent, Yarmark replied. "I haven't the slightest idea how Mr. Epley conducts his business."

Asked whether he drove his Cadillac to Westminster to "get it out of the state" after removing the vehicle from the Epley Garage, Yarmark said that there had been some damage to the car, apparently while stored at the Epley Garage, and he wanted to have repairs made. Yarmark said he planned to take the car to Littlestown for repairs. Reaching Littlestown he recalled there was no Cadillac garage there and continued to Westminster to put it in a Cadillac garage. Yarmark, in response to a query, said that if he had wanted to hide the car he could have done that around Aspers.

YOUNG FARMERS ELECT OFFICERS

Donald Dillon, Orrtanna R. 1, was elected president of the Gettysburg Young Farmers Association at the annual banquet of the group Tuesday evening at Trinity Evangelical Reformed Church here. Dillon succeeds Paul Waybright.

Francis Walker was elected vice president; John Schwartz, secretary; Wilbur Danner, treasurer; Daniel Hoffman, public relations chairman and Wilbur Waybright and Fred Fissel, directors.

Approximately 45 attended the ladies' night dinner, at which retiring President Waybright served as toastmaster.

William Eckert showed colored slides taken of various members while working on their farms and of various trips.

Elmer Schriver, agricultural education teacher at Gettysburg High School and advisor for the Young Farmers group, showed four reels of film of activities of the young farmers groups and various trips that he had made with a movie camera presented to him some time ago by the group.

Signs Guilty Pleas On Three Charges

Mario Michael Marrero, Greensburg, signed a plea of guilty before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore Tuesday to three charges: larceny of a motor vehicle, operating a vehicle without the consent of the owner and a third count of burglary. Marrero was committed to the county jail in default of a $500 bail.

Marrero confessed to having stolen a truck owned by Donald Sponseller, Biglerville R. 2, on October 17 or 18 in Franklin Twp. On the same day Marrero took several bottles of soda pop from the Whiteway Diner in Franklin Twp. The value of the soda is estimated at 25 cents by state police who made the arrest.

The Rev. Edwerth Korte, chaplain of Gettysburg College, will preach the Thanksgiving sermon using as his theme "Thanks For Giving."

The Junior Choir of Memorial Church, under the direction of Miss Evadel Crider will sing as an anthem "The Lord's Prayer." Nelson Zapf of Christ Lutheran Church will sing a solo entitled "Prayer Of Thanksgiving." The host pastor, Rev. Harry L. Fehl Jr., will have charge of the order of worship.

ANNUAL CORN REFERENDUM DECEMBER 11

The annual corn referendum vote will be held December 11, the Adams County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee announced today.

Growers will have an opportunity to vote on whether they prefer a Soil Bank program, or a corn acreage allotment program similar to prior years.

Information on the referendum sent the county committee stated:

"If two-thirds of the producers voting in the referendum favor corn base acreages then the national average price support rate will be $1.31 per bushel. If corn base acreages are approved, a producer to be elibible for price support must comply with his farm base acreage on corn and must devote an acreage of cropland on his farm equal to at least 15 per cent of the farm base acreage for corn to the Acreage Reserve or Conservation Reserve Program provided for by the Soil Bank Act.

"If corn acreage allotments are approved by more than one-third of the voters voting in the December 11th referendum the 1957 national average corn price support rate will be $1.36 per bushel. This national average of $1.36 per bushel, if corn acreage allotments are approved compares with the national average rate of $1.50 per bushel for producers who complied with their acreage allotments in connection with the 1956 corn price support program.

"At the present there are no plans to offer support for the 1957-crop corn on non-compliance corn in the commercial corn area.

"In connection with the 1957 corn acreage reserve program the Department has announced that the national average rate per bushel for determination of 1957 corn acreage reserve payments will be 90 cents. This is the same national average used in connection with the 1956 corn acreage reserve program."

LAUDS WOMEN FOR ROLE IN GOP VICTORY

State Senator William Z. Scott, Carbon County attorney and legal counsel to the State Republican Committee, told the Adams County Council of Republican Women Tuesday evening at a "Victory" meeting at the courthouse: "We Republicans now have command of the state Senate and House. We must have an affirmative program to present to the people of Pennsylvania and then vote for it. If we do, we will again be able to proudly proclaim that Pennsylvania is not only the Keystone state of the nation, but the keystone of Republicanism as well."

Scott continued: "Over a period of many years Pennsylvania, because of its commerce, its agriculture and industry, its business and its position in the early United States, has been known throughout the nation as the Keystone state. And for years we could also boast that Pennsylvania was the keystone of the Republican party.

"But two years ago something happened. We can no longer boast of being the keystone of Republicanism. But we are on the way to being able to once again make that boast. We have passed our first objective. We elected President Eisenhower and we secured control of the state Senate and the Assembly.

Lauds Women

"Much of that result was due to the efforts of the women of the 67 counties of the state. In fact I think we could ascribe much of the great tribute to President Eisenhower on election day to the women of the 48 states. They, along with the men, went to the voting booths to make clear that they were satisfied with the program of peace, prosperity and progress.

"The women proved their memories were not short, that they were pleased by the efficient government given by President Eisenhower over the last four years and want a continuation of that government for four more years. They want officials with understanding, dignity, sanctity and belief in the freedom of the individual man.

"The people have a chance to compare between Democratic governors and Republican governors and even though we are not too proud of some Republican governors, we can hold our heads high now under the Leader administration."

Reports Presented

Mrs. A. W. Butterfield, president of the Republican women, presided at the meeting with 150 present. Mrs. Howard Hartzell gave the financial report. Mrs. Emma Sheffer, political activities chairman, reported that the operation of the Eisenhower booth on Lincoln Square from May to the election was "very successful in every way. Thousands

Vanguard Of U.N.'s Police Force Moves Into Port Said

CAIRO (AP)—A unit of 190 battle-clad Norwegian troops moved into the northern sector of the Suez Canal zone today to tackle the U.N. police force's first active Middle East peacekeeping mission.

A U.N. spokesman said the contingent would try to ease tension between Egyptians and British-French forces holding Port Said, at the north end of the canal.

The operation had a go-ahead from both Egypt and the British-French military authorities, but it was announced that it was not connected with any withdrawal of British or French troops from the canal zone.

The British-French commander at Port Said announced he was not pulling out any of his men.

Wearing U.N. blue helmets, the Norwegian soldiers moved north by train from the U.N. police force Assembly area at Abu Suweir, behind Egyptian lines near the canal's halfway point. They were part of an international force of some 700 airlifted into the canal zone and standing by in barracks for further orders.

Port Said has been a center of tension since a cease-fire halted the fighting in the canal area. Egypt has charged the occupying forces with atrocities against Egyptian civilians. British and French authorities have complained of cease-fire violations and have charged a calculated campaign is being conducted to prevent the city's civilian population from cooperating with their occupation.

Egypt's latest charges of atrocities by Britain, France and Israel came in a statement calling for a U. N. investigation into "barbarous aggression." The statement was forwarded to U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold and proposed that an investigation be made in cooperation with the International Red Cross.

Deny Atrocity Charges

The governments of Britain, France and Israel have denied previous Egyptian charges of atrocities.

END STRIKE AT ESSEX WIRE

Representatives of the Essex Wire Company and the local unit of the United Steelworkers' Union late Tuesday night signed a three-year contract which provides for immediate resumption of operations at the plant and for wage increases described as a "compromise" between original demands of the union and the first offer by management.

While some of the approximately 180 workers involved were back at work today, Frank L. Gallucci, Fort Wayne, director of industrial relations for Essex Wire, said it will be several weeks before the plant will be in full operation again. The plant closed down after the old contract expired October 24.

Gallucci said the workers will be called back in groups as rapidly as new orders warrant. Some business was lost during the period the plant was closed and the status of some other orders has to be cleared, he added.

The contract, which will run from October 24, 1956, to the same date in 1959, provides for an eight cents an hour increase immediately and for increases of five cents an hour on the contract anniversary in 1957 and 1958.

The agreement was reached in morning, afternoon and evening sessions Tuesday attended by Dan Clevenger, Winchester, Va., representing the federal mediation and conciliation service.

SEEK 9 MORE 4-H MEMBERS

The Adams County 4-H Baby Beef club needs nine more members if it is to achieve its goal of 50 members by December 19, the group learned Tuesday evening at a meeting at the courthouse.

Six new members were accepted Tuesday, bringing to 41 the number scheduled to begin the new Baby Beef club year in December. Reports at the meeting showed that about eight more youths "are interested." Any boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 20 can join the club by contacting Associate County Agent Fred H. Attinger at the Agricultural Extension office in the courthouse. Those planning to join should have secured a calf by December 19 when the first meeting of the new year will be held at the home of Linda Hoffman, Biglerville R. 1.

New members accepted Tuesday were Clarence Eyler, Gettysburg R. 1; Judy and John Kunkel, Biglerville R. 2; Robert Tate, Biglerville R. 2; David Lott, Gettysburg R. 4, and James Earhart, Gettysburg R. 5.

A discussion was held on plans for next year and the possibility of some changes in the rules on judging.

Reports were presented on the seven calves which were selected to represent the county group at the State Farm Show at Harrisburg. The owners of the calves which will go to Harrisburg are Larry Bair, Littlestown R. 2; Glen Bentzel, New Oxford R. 2; Barry Breighner, Littlestown R. 2; William Grove, Gardners R. D.; Janet Hay, Gettysburg R. 3; Linda Hoffman, Biglerville R. 1, and Patrick Murren, Hanover R. 4.

200 Favors Sent To Vets By Jr. Red Cross

Thanksgiving favors made by Junior Red Cross members in six Adams County high schools have been taken to the veterans' hospital at Lebanon by Mrs. Peggy Hill, executive secretary of the Red Cross chapter here.

The 200 attractive favors, together with mints and candy to fill them, and 25 jokebooks and five writing portfolios were made by the Junior Red Cross members or provided by Junior Red Cross funds.

The high school units participating were East Berlin, New Oxford, Delone, Gettysburg, Biglerville and Littlestown.

COLLEGE GIVEN $2,000 GRANT BY ESSO GROUP

The Esso Education Foundation has awarded a financial grant of $2,000 to Gettysburg College, General Willard S. Paul, president of the college, said today. The grant is unrestricted.

The Foundation, through the Standard Oil Company, of New Jersey, and a group of affiliates assisting privately supported colleges and universities in the United States, made 296 other grants for a grand total of $1,191,450. Last January the Foundation made grants of $1,067,900 for the current year.

The Foundation, organized in October, 1955, coordinates and centralizes the educational assistance programs of Jersey Standard and certain domestic affiliates.

With the announcement of grants covering the 1956-57 academic year, the Esso Education Foundation reported the participation of The Carter Oil Company for the first time. Contributors to the Foundation, in addition to Jersey Standard and Carter, are: Esso Standard Oil Company, Esso Shipping Company, Esso Research and Engineering Company, Esso Export Corporation and Interstate Oil Pipe Line Company.

Increase Of 71

Today's grants represented an increase of 71 over the 226 made last January. Additions and deletions in the list of recipients will be made from year to year, the Foundation said, in pursuance of its policy of directly assisting a representative group of privately-supported schools, and yet encouraging all such schools to seek support from other sources.

The District of Columbia and all 43 of the states which have privately supported colleges and universities are represented in the Foundation's latest program.

Of the $1,191,450 in grants announced today, the largest portion, $726,500, was given to 256 colleges and universities in the form of unrestricted grants for undergraduate

Rev. Meredith Talks To Exchange Club

Rev. Victor K. Meredith Jr., pastor of the local Methodist Church, was the speaker Tuesday at a Thanksgiving program held by the Gettysburg Exchange Club at Bankert's Restaurant.

"We should be ever thankful for our daily way of life and the blessings that God has showered upon us," Rev. Mr. Meredith said.

"We should be thankful for our health and our facilities, and our ability with God's grace to carry on our daily lives. We should be thankful for our freedom and our right to worship as we please and we should be even more thankful for our friends and daily associates and for the opportunity we have of working with each other."

President R. E. Shaffer presided at the meeting.

Fairfield Soldier At Fort Jackson

Private Clair C. Cullison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Cullison, Fairfield R. 2, has been assigned to D Company, 2nd Battalion, 1st Training Regiment for eight weeks of basic infantry training at Fort Jackson, S. C.

During the next eight weeks he will learn the fundamentals of being an infantry soldier. This includes classroom lecturers in such subjects as military courtesy, first aid, map reading, and personal hygiene. He will also learn to fire the M-1.

After this eight weeks of training, the trainee is given about 14 days leave after which he may or may not return to Fort Jackson. If he returns to Fort Jackson he may attend eight more weeks of individual training or an Army school. Fort Jackson offers schooling in several specialities as one of the country's largest infantry training centers and conducts a program of training for young men under the provisions of the Reserve Forces Act of 1955.

President May Use Emergency Provisions Of Taft-Hartley Act To End Waterfront Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government decided today to apply in New York federal court this afternoon for an order to stop striking longshoremen from insisting on a coast-wise bargaining unit.

The National Labor Relations Board authorized its attorneys to seek a temporary restraining order against the International Longshoremen's Association, and Union President William Bradley.

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal action to halt the 20-million-dollar-a-day waterfront strike was reported imminent today.

The probabilities were:

1. Action by President Eisenhower to invoke the national emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act.

2. Or action by the National Labor Relations Board on a pending employer complaint.

Further negotiations were scheduled today between the striking International Longshoremen's Assn. and the New York Shipping Assn., representing 170 shipping and stevedoring firms in the port of New York area.

No concrete progress has been made so far toward settlement of the six-day-old strike of 60,000 ILA members which has closed Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports except for military shipments and movement of some bulk cargo.

Consider 2 Courses

Reports from Washington said the administration was considering two alternate courses of court action for any injunction to end the strike.

If the President invoked the national emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act, this would normally bring an injunction for an 80-day cooling-off period. However, Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, said last night: "So far as I know, there are no plans as of this moment to invoke the Taft-Hartley Act."

In view of Snyder's comment, the more likely course might be action by the NLRB based on charges by the New York Shipping Assn. The employer group complained several weeks ago that the ILA had violated the Taft-

13 County Banks Are Mailing Checks For $640,180 To 7,675 Christmas Clubbers

More than 7,500 Adams Countians are sharing the largest distribution of pre-holiday shopping wealth ever sent to Christmas Club members by Adams County's 13 banking houses.

Checks totaling $640,180.50 are being mailed to 7,675 Christmas club members. Some of the banks already have mailed their checks. All will be in the mails by December 1.

This year's Christmas Club savings represent an increase of nearly $60,000 over the sum distributed by the same banks a year ago. The number of Christmas club accounts jumped from 6,940 last year to 7,675 this year.

Average Check For $83.41

The average check this year is for $83.41, a drop of 26 cents from last year's average, in spite of the big jump in the number of club members. In 1954 the average check was for $84.57; in 1953, $80.56, and in 1952, $75.65.

This is the fourth consecutive year when countians' Christmas Club savings topped the half million dollar mark. The comparative figures for the last four years follow: 1955, $580,668 to 6,940 members; 1954, $558,748.20 to 6,607 members; 1953, $518,913.45 to 6,441 members, and in 1952, $470,390 to 6,218 members.

The largest club in the county again this year is that conducted by the Littlestown State Bank and includes the totals for the club operated by its Farmers' Bank branch at McSherrystown. The Littlestown State Bank's total is $167,270.95 with 1,961 members.

Some Checks Mailed

The second largest club was conducted by The Gettysburg National Bank. Its total is $148,149.20 with 1,618 members.

All of the banks in the county reported larger clubs this year than last and all plan to operate clubs next year. At some of the banks, the 1957 clubs are already open for members.

The Bendersville National Bank mailed its Christmas Club checks November 15, others followed this week and the last of the checks will go out not later than December 1 by other banks.

Totals By Banks

A list of the banks and the sum each is distributing to its club members:

Littlestown State	$167,270.95
Gettysburg National	148,149.20
1st National, Gettysburg	92,400.00
Littlestown National	66,554.75

Biglerville National	21,917.50
Abbottstown State	20,756.50
1st National, Fairfield	18,263.60
Arendtsville National	16,000.00
East Berlin National	14,000.00
Peoples State, East Berlin	12,575.00
Bendersville National	9,307.50
York Springs National	7,200.00
Total	$640,180.50

National Figures Up

Edward F. Dorset, president of Christmas club a Corporation, has announced that 12,800,000 Americans had saved one billion, one hundred and eighty-seven million dollars in the 1956 Christmas Club. This record breaking sum was accumulated in some 6,800 banks and savings institutions throughout the nation.

ARMORY TO GET $50,000 SHED

A $50,000 truck shed for Gettysburg's State Armory along W. Confederate Ave. is included among improvement plans for 34 armories of the Pennsylvania National Guard throughout the state, according to an announcement by the Department of Military Affairs. The total cost involved is $4,685,000.

The program to improve facilities for the state's standby militia was developed on the basis of federal grants of $3 for every $4 expended.

The department explained that clearance of individual projects including approval of plans will necessarily take time with the National Guard Bureau.

The program was described as the most comprehensive building and improvement undertaking in nearly 20 years.

The Department of Property and Supplies was asked to undertake the program as individual projects are cleared through federal and state agencies.

DOCK STRIKE NEGOTIATORS GET SCOLDING

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal mediator has scolded union and management negotiators with a warning to "stop fiddling around" and settle the East-Gulf coast dock strike.

But the paralyzing walkout by 60,000 dock workers moved into its fifth day today with no sign of settlement. From 150 to 200 ships remained idle at deserted piers from Maine to Texas.

Negotiators for the International Longshoremen's Assn. and the New York Shipping Assn. resume contract talks today.

Must Reach Agreement

After a fruitless session yesterday, Robert H. Moore, federal mediator, said he had told both sides they "might as well stop fiddling around."

He said he informed the negotiators he didn't think there would be any immediate government intervention to stop the strike under the Taft-Hartley law.

"I told them there is no government machinery that can do more than delay the inevitable, that they were going to have to reach an agreement sooner or later."

The White House also appealed to both sides to settle their differences.

Polling Members

Meanwhile, on the West Coast Harry Bridges' International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union started polling its members to determine their stand on the East-Gulf coast strike. Results are to be announced tomorrow.

The union has already refused to handle ships coming from or sailing for strikebound ports. And yesterday the West Coast longshoremen started a 24-hour walkout to discuss the strike. Waterfront activity on the Pacific Coast dropped to about 25 per cent of normal.

But the West Coast action brought only a scowl from ILA President William V. Bradley in New York.

"They Embarrass Us"

He sent a sharply worded telegram to Bridges and told him, in effect, to keep his nose out of the ILA strike. Bradley said the ILA "resents the interference of you and your officers."

"These activities don't help us; they embarrass us," Bradley added.

As the contract talks continued the economic pinch caused by the strike grew more painful.

The nation's railroads ordered a halt to rail shipment of almost all export freight to all strikebound ports. The order was aimed at blocking a massive tieup of freight cars at ports.

The strike was already costing the nation's economy millions of dollars a day.

Costing Millions

The union struck last Thursday midnight when its old contract ran out. Main issues in the dispute are union demands for a single contract to cover all East and Gulf ports, a full day's pay for any man called to the piers, no cut in the present 20-man work gangs and a limit on the amount of cargo loaded in slings.

The New York employers' group which represents 170 shipping and stevedoring firms, insists that it does not have authority to negotiate for other Atlantic and Gulf ports.

The first American aviator shot down in World War I was H. Clyde Balsey of the Lafayette Escadrille in 1916.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass
Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

ASKS 3 NATIONS TO PREPARE TO LEAVE EGYPT

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold pressed Britain, France and Israel today for a timetable for withdrawal of their troops from Egypt now that the U.N. police force has gone in.

There was no indication the secretary general's request would be answered speedily. All three nations obviously were hoping for some modification of Egypt's insistent stand that the police force must get out of the Suez Canal zone after the troop withdrawal.

Informed diplomats said Hammarskjold would report to the General Assembly that he had sent notes to three powers which invaded the Arab state. These, it was said, cited the Assembly resolutions calling on them to withdraw, noted they have not done so and asked when they plan to comply with the Assembly request.

British, French and Israeli sources refused to comment.

"Dynamiting Peace"

Egyptian Foreign Secretary Mahmoud Fawzi, arriving to attend the Assembly session, warned that the continued presence of invasion troops in the canal zone was "dynamiting" peace. Egypt forwarded a statement to Hammarskjold charging that the invasion forces were committing atrocities on Egyptian civilians and asking a U.N. committee to be named to investigate.

Diplomats said Hammarskjold—just back from a trouble-shooting trip to the Middle East — has voiced satisfaction with the U.N. force's entry into Egypt and its deployment so far.

The informants said Hammarskjold had finally gotten the sevennation Middle East Advisory Committee to approve his report on his trip to Egypt.

The report—contained in three documents—dealt with:

1. A review of Hammarskjold's messages to Britain, France and Israel concerning troop withdrawal.

2. A summary of his talks with Egyptian President Nasser and disclosure that no agreements were reached with the Egyptian leader. Also recorded were Nasser's views on the U.N. force and Hammarskjold's own on-the-spot appraisal.

3. An account of negotiations for salvage operations by Scandinavian and other "neutral" European companies to clear the wreckage-choked Suez Canal. It is believed this task will take at least five months.

FIELD WILLS MILLIONS FOR CHARITY WORK

NEW YORK (AP)—Marshall Field III, who died here Nov. 8 at the age of 63, has bequeathed more than 30 million dollars to the Field Foundation, Inc., for philanthropic purposes.

The terms of the will of the late publisher and philanthropist were announced last night by John F. Wharton, a lawyer and executor of the estate.

The residuary estate, the value of which was not stated, will go to Field's only son, Marshal Field Jr., who is also an executor of the estate. The son is editor and publisher of the Chicago Sun-Times, which his father founded.

Mrs. Ruth Pruyn Field, his widow, will receive $1,100,000 in cash and the family homes on Long Island, on Park Avenue in Manhattan and in South Carolina. Eleven grandchildren will get $100,000 each.

Field inherited 160 million dollars from the real estate and department store fortune of his grandfather. His law firm, Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton Garrison of this city, said Field gave "a substantial part" of his inheritance to his family and to charity during his lifetime.

The Field Foundation was set up in 1940 for charitable, scientific and educational purposes.

Field also left bequests to a number of employes.

Petitioning Court On Building Site

The Adams County commissioners this morning signed a petition asking the county court to approve the sale of a ten-acre plot adjoining E. Broadway, now part of the county home land, to the Gettysburg Joint School Authority for $45,000.

Attorney Donald G. Oyler, solicitor for the commissioners, said the petition will probably be presented to the court Saturday after several appraisements of the land have been made and attached to the petition asking permission for the sale.

The annual contribution of $300 to the local unit of the Pennsylvania National Guard was approved this morning.

This afternoon the commissioners plan to visit the sites of the new bridges being constructed at the "Baugher's Bridge" site, near Aspers, and the "Deardorff's Burnt Mill" site near Bender's Church. Contracts for construction of the bridges have been let but the commissioners said this morning they understood work had been delayed because of inability of the contractor to obtain materials.

YARMARK CASE

car, after it had been repossessed, from the Epley garage.

Howard L. Miller, Gettysburg R. 4; William Joseph Cullison, Gettysburg R. 3, and Ralph Vernon Thompson, Fourth St., all of whom had entered pleas of guilty or nolo contendere to various parts of the 17 count charge, told this general story:

The Yarmark red Cadillac was repossessed October 11 on Buford Ave. by an agent of General Motors Acceptance Corporation. Miller had been driving the car and parked it. He saw the agent drive away with it, and reported to Yarmark.

Later Yarmark and Miller, according to Miller, located the car at Epley's garage. They later talked to Thompson, an employe of Epley.

Offered Aid In "Jest"

October 14 Thompson told Cullison he "could get Yarmark his car for $50." Thompson said he made the remark jokingly. The next day there was a conference and according to the three, it was decided to get the car. Wednesday, October 16, was chosen because Thompson said Epley "always plays golf Wednesday afternoons." Certain wiring had been removed from the car to prevent its being moved, and wire was secured as replacement. Wednesday the group met in Aspers, with the exception of Thompson, who was at work. Another car, belonging to "a girl friend of Yarmark," was secured. The group then went to an apartment near Epley's garage. Cullison said Yarmark was lying down in a rear seat of one of the cars and when they arrived at the garage he ran into the apartment and was later joined by Cullison and Miller.

When Epley left the garage, Cullison followed to make certain he went to play golf. Thompson, meantime, had secured another storage ticket and replaced it with the one on the vehicle, and sent the stub to Yarmark with the suggestion that he present the new stub, say he was from GMAC, and obtain the vehicle.

Pays $6 Storage

Yarmark met Thompson in the machine shop of the garage and said he wouldn't present the false stub because he feared he would be recognized. However, Yarmark gave Thompson $6, the amount of the storage.

Yarmark drove the car out of the garage and to Westminster where it was placed in another garage. Miller drove another car to Westminster to return Yarmark. License plates from the "girl friend's car" were used on the Cadillac to drive it out of the garage.

Thompson said Yarmark had promised him $25 if he would help get the car. He said Yarmark called the day after the car was secured and told him that he had lost a silver object from the keyring worth $24 and held Thompson responsible for it. Thompson said he had been engaged to be married to Cullison's sister.

A 30-minute long stenographic record of a telephone conversation between Yarmark and District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter was read into the record by Teeter's secretary, Miss Elizabeth Sheffer. In the record Yarkmark was quoted as saying that "it's all my fault" . . . "I'd rather go fight the Japs again than go through this thing" . . . "I don't want to hear of Adams County or Pennsylvania again" . . . "I'm willing to give up everything I have and start a new life."

Had Cashier's Check

Yarmark obtained two cashier's checks at a bank the day the car was removed from the garage. One was for more than $600 to GMAC for back payments. Yarmark and Miller went to Harrisburg to present the check to GMAC. Miller was asked why Yarmark had removed the car from the Epley garage when he planned to give the check to GMAC and apparently would get the car back that way. Miller said Yarmark's explantion was that "they might not give it to me."

Wedding

Cocklin—Byers

U. N. SECRETARY ASKS POWERS ON CANAL POLICE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold today asked the General Assembly to give him broad powers to work out with Egypt agreements on the deployment of the Middle East police force.

He told the Assembly he and President Nasser had worked out certain broad principles on the use of the force, but his report left unanswered the big question any of the U.N. troops would police the Suez Canal area after the withdrawal of British and French forces.

No Immediate Reply

Hammarskjold said he and Nasser had agreed to proceed immediately, if the Assembly approves, "to explore jointly concrete aspects of the functioning of UNEF (the U.N. Emergency Forces), including its stationing and the question of the lines of communication and supplies."

There was no immediate comment from the British, French or Israeli delegations. There also was no word when they would reply to Hammarskjold's request for a statement on their withdrawal plans.

The secretary general, in a separate report, asked the Assembly to give him authority to make arrangements with private salvage firms to clear the wreckage of vessels and bridges from the Suez Canal.

Fairfield

FAIRFIELD — Six members of the Mason-Dixon FFA Chapter of the Fairfield Joint High School recently received their Chapter Farmer Degree. Receiving the silver FFA pin were Earl Adelsberger, Leon Harbaugh, Russell Hartman, Nelson Kauffman, Robert Swisher and Wendell Wetzel. To receive this award, members must have completed at least one year in vocational agriculture, must have held the Green Hand Degree for at least one year and must have invested or earned at least $50 from his supervised farming program. The projects these Future Farmers completed are: Earl Adelsberger, 12 Leghorn layers; Leon Harbaugh, 1 Hereford steer and 1/5 acre of potatoes; Russell Hartman, 2 market pigs; Nelson Kauffman, ¾ acre garden; Robert Swisher, 50 laying hens; Wendell Wetzel, two market pigs.

Miss Helen McCleaf entertained the bridge club at her home Monday evening. The club will meet in two weeks at the home of Miss Mary Harbaugh.

The Fairfield Girl Scout Troop Committee will meet on Wednesday evening, November 28, at 8 o'clock at the scout room.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Martin and family spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Fisher, Ephrata.

Monday guests at the J. W. Martin home were Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Matthews and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dodson, Philadelphia.

A Thanksgiving Day Mass will be offered in St. Mary's Church Thursday morning at 9 o'clock.

The annual Fairfield Community Thanksgiving service will be held Thursday morning in the Fairfield Mennonite Church. The Rev. Verle C. Schumacher, pastor of Zion Lutheran Church, will deliver the sermon and have for his text "Now Thank We All Our God."

The entire estate of the late Lydia A. Bollinger, of New Oxford, was bequeathed to her granddaughter, Gladys M. Millhimes, New Oxford, according to the will entered for probate Monday in the office of the register and recorder. Mrs. Bollinger, who died at her home in New Oxford, November 16, left an estate of $200 in personal property and $6,500 in real estate in New Oxford and Oxford Twp. Her granddaughter was also appointed executrix of the will, which was dated April 5, 1952.

Hartley Act by insisting on bargaining for an Atlantic and Gulf Coast contract with the Port of New York employer group.

Bargaining Territory

The NLRB has ruled several times that the Port of New York area alone is the proper bargaining territory for the ILA and the employer association. To date, the union has had separate contracts in the various ports. The New York employers, resisting the union's demand, have contended they have no authority to bargain for employers in other ports.

The ILA, which modified its contract territory demand recently, now is insisting that a new contract here cover all branch operations of Port of New York employers in other East and Gulf Coast ports. This is a major issue in the negotiation deadlock.

If the NLRB general counsel finds merit in the employers' charges and issues a complaint, he could apply for a federal court injunction restraining the ILA from continuing the strike so long as it keeps insisting that other ports be included in a new contract.

The ILA could abandon its two-coast bargaining demand and still continue the strike on other issues, but some officials were hopeful that if the contract territory issue was put aside, agreement might be reached on the remaining issues.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — West Coast longshoremen worked today amid indications they had voted overwhelmingly to strike in support of an East Coast walkout.

Ben McDonald, president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union Local 13 at Los Angeles, said a strike was approved by more than 95 per cent of the ballots there. McDonald said there were 2,905 votes but did not give a breakdown.

Harry Bridges' ILWU has 1,000 West Coast members. Union officials in San Francisco said the vote was overwhelmingly in favor of a strike.

McDonald said, "The vote here in Los Angeles means our members are in favor of going along with whatever the negotiating committee decides to do, including a sympathy strike with members in Eastern and Gulf ports."

FATALLY HURT IN 'CYCLE ACCIDENT

A Littlestown man's brother was killed early Tuesday when his motorcycle crashed into a concrete dividing strip on Ponca Street in Baltimore.

Baltimore police said Samuel J. Bemisderfer, 25, Baltimore, was dead on arrival at City Hospital.

Bemisderfer, police said, was traveling south on Ponca Street enroute to work at an automobile assembly plant short before 7 a.m.

Police said the impact of the crash hurled Bemisderfer 15 feet into the air. The motorcycle crashed into an automobile after it ran out of control.

A member of the Bemisderfer family said Samuel had been employed at the auto plant before and after he served four years in the Army, one year of which was with forces in France and another year with Army units in Korea.

The crash victim is survived by his father, Ralph Bemisderfer; stepmother, Mrs. Julia Cummings Bemisdefer, and a half sister, Miriam E. Bemisderfer, Hanover, and two brothers, Carl Bemisderfer, Littlestown, and David Bemisderfer, with the Air Force in Japan.

His mother, Mrs. Gladys Marie Berger Bemisderfer, died in 1939.

Funeral services Friday at 2 p.m. at the Little and Son Funeral Home, Littlestown. Interment in Cedar Hill Cemetery, Greencastle.

BURY MRS. WARD

Funeral services for Mrs. Annie Ward, formerly of Harrisburg and a former resident of Gettysburg, who died Saturday morning in Cumberland Twp., were held at the Bender Funeral Home Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. Ernest Ogden and Elder H. E. Corbin conducted the services. Interment was in Lincoln Cemetery. The pallbearers were: Joseph Carter, Ellis Jackson, Emory Thomas, Sterling Adams, Samuel Banks and Harry Liles.

PROPERTY SOLD

Richard J. and Louise D. Kane have sold their property on the Biglerville Rd., near the abattoir, to Donald E. and E. Romaine Lawver, Carlisle St. The sale was made through Lee M. Hartman, realtor. Possession will be given Wednesday.

Don Larsen, who pitched a perfect game for the Yankees in the World Series, allowed three home runs in Washington in the season's opener there last spring. He won the game.

from Syria and Jordan

In Damascus, the Syrian government announced the cancellation of all contracts with British and French companies and barred the piping of oil through Syria for Western Europe.

The move appeared to be the first step in breaking off economic relations with Britain and France. Syria severed diplomatic relations with the two Western powers two weeks ago.

Movement of oil through pipelines in Syria already had stopped. Some pumping stations on the lines were blown up two weeks ago following the British-French invasion of the canal zone.

Vote End Of Alliance

In Amman, Jordan's Parliament urged without a dissenting vote that Jordan end its military subsidy alliance with Britain and establish relations with Russia and Communist China. The military alliance stemmed from World War I, when Britain fostered the creation of Jordan Pro-Egyptian candidates won a majority in Jordan's Oct. 21 elections and it was believed that the ending of the agreement was only a matter of time.

Reports reaching Syria from Lebanon said widespread violence had erupted in Beirut and the Lebanese army was called out to restore order. Tanks were reported patrolling Beirut's streets after the French-owned Bank of Syria and Lebanon was bombed by unidentified persons.

education. This is an increase of $160,500 over the funds made available in 193 unrestricted grants announced last January.

Grants Well Dividide

In selecting the institutions and designating the amounts, the Foundation's Administrative Committee was counseled by a board of experienced educators. The Administrative Committee is composed of executives of the seven companies participating in the Foundation.

Of the 256 institutions receiving unrestricted grants, 142 offer primarily liberal arts and general courses, including teacher training; 12 are professional and technical schools, and 102 are liberal arts and general with one or more professional schools. Enrollment in 117 of these colleges is less than 1,000 students. Included in the group are 47 schools for men, 31 for women and 178 coeducational. There are 135 denominational colleges and 121 non-denominational.

The second largest share of the grants, $210,000, went to 16 institutions, earmarked for building and other capital projects.

Research Projects

Assistance in carrying out research projects, amounting to $99,950, was given to 14 institutions. These grants will be spent on basic research in the sciences and engineering.

Other grants amounting to $155,000 were included in the program. The National Fund for Medical Education was given $75,000 for disbursement to the medical schools it represents. Another $55,000 went to assist in special studies being made by nine institutions, principally in the field of human relations. The United Negro College Fund received $25,000 for distribution to the 31 schools it represents.

Eighteen other Pennsylvania institutions received grants.

OPEN "WHITE WAY" FRIDAY

Carlisle's "Brighter White Way Day" ceremonies, commemorating its new system of street lighting, will be held Friday evening beginning at 7 o'clock.

Speakers will be: Harry Breen, Carlisle burgess, who will throw a switch opening the last circuit of lights to be completed; John Davidson, vice president, Harrisburg Division, Pennsylvania Power and Light Co., whose organization installed the new system; and Elmer W. Kruger, chairman, beautification of the square committee of the Carlisle Community Development Council. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the building housing the electrical circuits for the old systems of lights will be demolished. Borough Manager Paul White will introduce the speakers.

Preceding the addresses, the Carlisle Band will play several selections.

The new 60 light system, which White describes as "the last word in modern lighting," replaces 99 old lights, but provides twice as much light as the former system. Cost of the new system will amount to 10 cents per capita per year over a ten year period.

White said the ceremonies will be concluded by 7:30 p.m.

Weather Forecast

Extended forecast for Thursday, Nov. 22, through Monday, Nov. 26.

Eastern Pennsylvania, eastern New York and Midatlantic states: Temperature will average 4 to 8 degrees below normal, colder Thursday and Friday and warming trend Sunday or Monday, snow flurries in and west of mountains, Thursday and possibly Friday, some rain or snow likely over weekend, total precipitation ¼ to ½ inch.

Western Pennsylvania, western New York and West Virginia: Temperature will average 6 to 10 degrees below normal, colder Thursday and Friday and warming trend Sunday or Monday, snow flurries and squalls, Thursday and probably Friday and snow or rain likely over weekend, total precipitation ¼ to ½ inch.

year is a natural result of the high degree of employment and the over-all prosperity of our people. While a part of the funds will be spent for Christmas and bring joy to the hearts of our merchants, nearly a third will be put right back in permanent savings. Americans are still thrifty," said Mr. Dorset.

The 1956 payoff is the largest in the history of the club and represents an increase over 1955 of 57 million dollars or five per cent with three hundred thousand more members. The average check this year amounts to $92.73 for each member.

Pennsylvania Second

Of the 6,800 institutions 148 had clubs in excess of $1,000,000 each. As in past years, New York leads with 2,615,833 members and $252,107,041, followed by Pennsylvania with 2,001,623 members and $181,539,855 and then New Jersey with 1,144,106 members and $137,989,946. With the rapid growth of the club on the Pacific Coast, California reached fourth place with 926,423 members and $101,128,002.

Surveys made by Christmas Club a Corporation indicate that while the entire one billion, one hundred and eighty-seven million dollars will not go into retail channels, all of it will help boost the nation's economy. Here is the forecast of how it will be used: Christmas purchases, $294,400,000; permanent savings, $360,800,000; year-end bills, $66,500,000; insurance premiums, $122,300,000; taxes, $112,800,000; miscellaneous, $41,500,000; mortgage payments, $79,500,000; education, $30,900,000; and purchase of household furnishings, $78,300,000.

Hartley Act by insisting on bargaining for an Atlantic and Gulf Coast contract with the Port of New York employer group.

Bargaining Territory

The NLRB has ruled several times that the Port of New York area alone is the proper bargaining territory for the ILA and the employer association. To date, the union has had separate contracts in the various ports. The New York employers, resisting the union's demand, have contended they have no authority to bargain for employers in other ports.

The ILA, which modified its contract territory demand recently, now is insisting that a new contract here cover all branch operations of Port of New York employers in other East and Gulf Coast ports. This is a major issue in the negotiation deadlock.

If the NLRB general counsel finds merit in the employers' charges and issues a complaint, he could apply for a federal court injunction restraining the ILA from continuing the strike so long as it keeps insisting that other ports be included in a new contract.

The ILA could abandon its two-coast bargaining demand and still continue the strike on other issues, but some officials were hopeful that if the contract territory issue was put aside, agreement might be reached on the remaining issues.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — West Coast longshoremen worked today amid indications they had voted overwhelmingly to strike in support of an East Coast walkout.

Ben McDonald, president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union Local 13 at Los Angeles, said a strike was approved by more than 95 per cent of the ballots there. McDonald said there were 2,905 votes but did not give a breakdown.

Harry Bridges' ILWU has 1,000 West Coast members. Union officials in San Francisco said the vote was overwhelmingly in favor of a strike.

McDonald said, "The vote here in Los Angeles means our members are in favor of going along with whatever the negotiating committee decides to do, including a sympathy strike with members in Eastern and Gulf ports."

FATALLY HURT IN 'CYCLE ACCIDENT

A Littlestown man's brother was killed early Tuesday when his motorcycle crashed into a concrete dividing strip on Ponca Street in Baltimore.

Baltimore police said Samuel J. Bemisderfer, 25, Baltimore, was dead on arrival at City Hospital.

Bemisderfer, police said, was traveling south on Ponca Street enroute to work at an automobile assembly plant short before 7 a.m.

Police said the impact of the crash hurled Bemisderfer 15 feet into the air. The motorcycle crashed into an automobile after it ran out of control.

A member of the Bemisderfer family said Samuel had been employed at the auto plant before and after he served four years in the Army, one year of which was with forces in France and another year with Army units in Korea.

The crash victim is survived by his father, Ralph Bemisderfer; stepmother, Mrs. Julia Cummings Bemisdefer, and a half sister, Miriam E. Bemisderfer, Hanover, and two brothers, Carl Bemisderfer, Littlestown, and David Bemisderfer, with the Air Force in Japan.

His mother, Mrs. Gladys Marie Berger Bemisderfer, died in 1939.

Funeral services Friday at 2 p.m. at the Little and Son Funeral Home, Littlestown. Interment in Cedar Hill Cemetery, Greencastle.

BURY MRS. WARD

Funeral services for Mrs. Annie Ward, formerly of Harrisburg and a former resident of Gettysburg, who died Saturday morning in Cumberland Twp., were held at the Bender Funeral Home Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. Ernest Ogden and Elder H. E. Corbin conducted the services. Interment was in Lincoln Cemetery. The pallbearers were: Joseph Carter, Ellis Jackson, Emory Thomas, Sterling Adams, Samuel Banks and Harry Liles.

PROPERTY SOLD

Richard J. and Louise D. Kane have sold their property on the Biglerville Rd., near the abattoir, to Donald E. and E. Romaine Lawver, Carlisle St. The sale was made through Lee M. Hartman, realtor. Possession will be given Wednesday.

from Syria and Jordan.

In Damascus, the Syrian government announced the cancellation of all contracts with British and French companies and barred the piping of oil through Syria for Western Europe.

The move appeared to be the first step in breaking off economic relations with Britain and France. Syria severed diplomatic relations with the two Western powers two weeks ago.

Movement of oil through pipelines in Syria already had stopped. Some pumping stations on the lines were blown up two weeks ago following the British-French invasion of the canal zone.

Vote End Of Alliance

In Amman, Jordan's Parliament urged without a dissenting vote that Jordan end its military subsidy alliance with Britain and establish relations with Russia and Communist China. The military alliance stemmed from World War I, when Britain fostered the creation of Jordan. Pro-Egyptian candidates won a majority in Jordan's Oct. 21 elections and it was believed that the ending of the agreement was only a matter of time.

Reports reaching Syria from Lebanon said widespread violence had erupted in Beirut and the Lebanese army was called out to restore order. Tanks were reported patrolling Beirut's streets after the French-owned Bank of Syria and Lebanon was bombed by unidentified persons.

education. This is an increase of $160,500 over the funds made available in 193 unrestricted grants announced last January.

Grants Well Dividide

In selecting the institutions and designating the amounts, the Foundation's Administrative Committee was counseled by a board of experienced educators. The Administrative Committee is composed of executives of the seven companies participating in the Foundation.

Of the 256 institutions receiving unrestricted grants, 142 offer primarily liberal arts and general courses, including teacher training; 12 are professional and technical schools, and 102 are liberal arts and general with one or more professional schools. Enrollment in 117 of these colleges is less than 1,000 students. Included in the group are 47 schools for men, 31 for women and 178 coeducational. There are 135 denominational colleges and 121 non-denominational.

The second largest share of the grants, $210,000, went to 16 institutions, earmarked for building and other capital projects.

Research Projects

Assistance in carrying out research projects, amounting to $99,950, was given to 14 institutions. These grants will be spent on basic research in the sciences and engineering.

Other grants amounting to $155,000 were included in the program. The National Fund for Medical Education was given $75,000 for disbursement to the medical schools it represents. Another $55,000 went to assist in special studies being made by nine institutions, principally in the field of human relations. The United Negro College Fund received $25,000 for distribution to the 31 schools it represents.

Eighteen other Pennsylvania institutions received grants.

OPEN "WHITE WAY" FRIDAY

Carlisle's "Brighter White Way Day" ceremonies, commemorating its new system of street lighting, will be held Friday evening beginning at 7 o'clock.

Speakers will be: Harry Breen, Carlisle burgess, who will throw a switch opening the last circuit of lights to be completed; John Davidson, vice president, Harrisburg Division, Pennsylvania Power and Light Co., whose organization installed the new system; and Elmer W. Kruger, chairman, beautification of the square committee of the Carlisle Community Development Council. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the building housing the electrical circuits for the old systems of lights will be demolished. Borough Manager Paul White will introduce the speakers.

Preceding the addresses, the Carlisle Band will play several selections.

The new 60 light system, which White describes as "the last word in modern lighting," replaces 99 old lights, but provides twice as much light as the former system. Cost off the new system will amount to 10 cents per capita per year over a ten year period.

White said the ceremonies will be concluded by 7:30 p.m.

The 1956 payoff is the largest in the history of the club and represents an increase over 1955 of 57 million dollars or five per cent with three hundred thousand more members. The average check this year amounts to $92.73 for each member.

Pennsylvania Second

Of the 6,800 institutions 148 had clubs in excess of $1,000,000 each. As in past years, New York leads with 2,615,833 members and $252,107,041, followed by Pennsylvania with 2,001,623 members and $181,539,855 and then New Jersey with 1,144,106 members and $137,989,946. With the rapid growth of the club on the Pacific Coast, California reached fourth place with 926,423 members and $101,128,002.

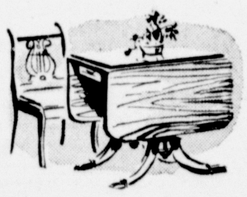

Surveys made by Christmas Club a Corporation indicate that while the entire one billion, one hundred and eighty-seven million dollars will not go into retail channels, all of it will help boost the nation's economy. Here is the forecast of how it will be used: Christmas purchases, $294,400,000; permanent savings, $360,800,000; year-end bills, $66,500,000; insurance premiums, $122,300,000; taxes, $112,800,000; miscellaneous, $41,500,000; mortgage payments, $79,500,000; education, $30,900,000; and purchase of household furnishings, $78,300,000.

ASKS 3 NATIONS TO PREPARE TO LEAVE EGYPT

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold pressed Britain, France and Israel today for a timetable for withdrawal of their troops from Egypt now that the U.N. police force has gone in.

There was no indication the secretary general's request would be answered speedily. All three nations obviously were hoping for some modification of Egypt's insistent stand that the police force must get out of the Suez Canal zone after the troop withdrawal.

Informed diplomats said Hammarskjold would report to the General Assembly that he had sent notes to three powers which invaded the Arab state. These, it was said, cited the Assembly resolutions calling on them to withdraw, noted they have not done so and asked when they plan to comply with the Assembly request.

British, French and Israeli sources refused to comment.

"Dynamiting Peace"

Egyptian Foreign Secretary Mahmoud Fawzi, arriving to attend the Assembly session, warned that the continued presence of invasion troops in the canal zone was "dynamiting" peace. Egypt forwarded a statement to Hammarskjold charging that the invasion forces were committing atrocities on Egyptian civilians and asking a U.N. committee to be named to investigate.

Diplomats said Hammarskjold—just back from a trouble-shooting trip to the Middle East — has voiced satisfaction with the U.N. force's entry into Egypt and its deployment so far.

The informants said Hammarskjold had finally gotten the seven-nation Middle East Advisory Committee to approve his report on his trip to Egypt.

The report—contained in three documents—dealt with:

1. A review of Hammarskjold's messages to Britain, France and Israel concerning troop withdrawal.

2. A summary of his talks with Egyptian President Nasser and disclosure that no agreements were reached with the Egyptian leader. Also recorded were Nasser's views on the U.N. force and Hammarskjold's own on-the-spot appraisal.

3. An account of negotiations for salvage operations by Scandinavian and other "neutral" European companies to clear the wreckage-choked Suez Canal. It is believed this task will take at least five months.

FIELD WILLS MILLIONS FOR CHARITY WORK

NEW YORK (AP)—Marshall Field III, who died here Nov. 8 at the age of 63, has bequeathed more than 30 million dollars to the Field Foundation, Inc., for philanthropic purposes.

The terms of the will of the late publisher and philanthropist were announced last night by John F. Wharton, a lawyer and executor of the estate.

The residuary estate, the value of which was not stated, will go to Field's only son, Marshal Field Jr., who is also an executor of the estate. The son is editor and publisher of the Chicago Sun-Times, which his father founded.

Mrs. Ruth Pruyn Field, his widow, will receive $1,100,000 in cash and the family homes on Long Island, on Park Avenue in Manhattan and in South Carolina. Eleven grandchildren will get $100,000 each.

Field inherited 160 million dollars from the real estate and department store fortune of his grandfather. His law firm, Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton Garrison of this city, said Field gave "a substantial part" of his inheritance to his family and to charity during his lifetime.

The Field Foundation was set up in 1940 for charitable, scientific and educational purposes.

Field also left bequests to a number of employes.

Petitioning Court On Building Site

The Adams County commissioners this morning signed a petition asking the county court to approve the sale of a ten-acre plot adjoining E. Broadway, now part of the county home land, to the Gettysburg Joint School Authority for $45,000.

Attorney Donald G. Oyler, solicitor for the commissioners, said the petition will probably be presented to the court Saturday after several appraisements of the land have been made and attached to the petition asking permission for the sale.

The annual contribution of $300 to the local unit of the Pennsylvania National Guard was approved this morning.

This afternoon the commissioners plan to visit the sites of the new bridges being constructed at the "Bargher's Bridge" site, near Aspers, and the "Deardorff's Burnt Mill" site near Bender's Church. Contracts for construction of the bridges have been let but the commissioners said this morning they understood work had been delayed because of inability of the contractor to obtain materials.

YARMARK CASE

car, after it had been repossessed, from the Epley garage.

Howard L. Miller, Gettysburg R. 4; William Joseph Cullison, Gettysburg R. 3, and Ralph Vernon Thompson, Fourth St., all of whom had entered pleas of guilty or nolo contendere to various parts of the 17 count charge, told this general story:

The Yarmark red Cadillac was repossessed October 11 on Buford Ave. by an agent of General Motors Acceptance Corporation. Miller had been driving the car and parked it. He saw the agent drive away with it, and reported to Yarmark.

Later Yarmark and Miller, according to Miller, located the car at Epley's garage. They later talked to Thompson, an employe of Epley.

Offered Aid In "Jest"

October 14 Thompson told Cullison he "could get Yarmark his car for $50." Thompson said he made the remark jokingly. The next day there was a conference and according to the three, it was decided to get the car. Wednesday, October 16, was chosen because Thompson said Epley "always plays golf Wednesday afternoons." Certain wiring had been removed from the car to prevent its being moved, and wire was secured as replacement. Wednesday the group met in Aspers, with the exception of Thompson, who was at work. Another car, belonging to "a girl friend of Yarmark," was secured. The group then went to an apartment near Epley's garage. Cullison said Yarmark was lying down in a rear seat of one of the cars and when they arrived at the garage he ran into the apartment and was later joined by Cullison and Miller.

When Epley left the garage, Cullison followed to make certain he went to play golf. Thompson, meantime, had secured another storage ticket and replaced it with the one on the vehicle, and sent the stub to Yarmark with the suggestion that he present the new stub, say he was from GMAC, and obtain the vehicle.

Pays $6 Storage

Yarmark met Thompson in the machine shop of the garage and said he wouldn't present the false stub because he feared he would be recognized. However, Yarmark gave Thompson $6, the amount of the storage.

Yarmark drove the car out of the garage and to Westminster where it was placed in another garage. Miller drove another car to Westminster to return Yarmark. License plates from the "girl friend's car" were used on the Cadillac to drive it out of the garage.

Thompson said Yarmark had promised him $25 if he would help get the car. He said Yarmark called the day after the car was secured and told him that he had lost a silver object from the keyring worth $24 and held Thompson responsible for it. Thompson said he had been engaged to be married to Cullison's sister.

A 30-minute long stenographic record of a telephone conversation between Yarmark and District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter was read into the record by Teeter's secretary, Miss Elizabeth Sheffer. In the record Yarkmark was quoted as saying that "it's all my fault" . . . "I'd rather go fight the Japs again than go through this thing" . . . "I don't want to hear of Adams County or Pennsylvania again" . . . "I'm willing to give up everything I have and start a new life."

Had Cashier's Check

Yarmark obtained two cashier's checks at a bank the day the car was removed from the garage. One was for more than $600 to GMAC for back payments. Yarmark and Miller went to Harrisburg to present the check to GMAC. Miller was asked why Yarmark had removed the car from the Epley garage when he planned to give the check to GMAC and apparently would get the car back that way. Miller said Yarmark's explantion was that "they might not give it to me."

Wedding

Cocklin—Byers

Miss Miriam R. Byers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Byers, Latimore, and Homer J. Cocklin, Dillsburg, were united in marriage on Monday at 2 p.m. The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Norman L. Bortner, pastor of the bride.

The bride wore a light blue wool street-length dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The bride is a graduate of York Springs High School and the groom of the Dillsburg High School. The bride is employed by the Pa. Public Utility, Harrisburg. The groom is associated with the Cocklin Funeral establishment.

Immediately following the ceremony the couple left on a trip through the southern states and into Florida.

TO CLOSE THURSDAY

The office of the Adams County Red Cross chapter and the Adams County Free Library have announced they will be closed Thursday only.

70 Volunteers Husk Corn For Guise's Widow: Seventy volunteers, neighbors of the late Ervin Guise, former tenant on the Oyler and Spangler farm, gathered at the farm early on Saturday morning and husked 15 acres of field corn.

Mr. Guise died a week ago after a long illness which prevented him from keeping up with his work. The corn had to be hauled in and as Guise was unable to do it, neighbors volunteered their help.

Miss Elizabeth Sheely Is Wed On Anniversary Of Mother's Wedding: Miss Elizabeth K. Sheely, daughter of Mrs. Viola T. Sheely, Hanover, and Donald K. Weiser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Weiser, East Lincoln avenue, were married Tuesday noon in Emmanuel Reformed church, Hanover, by the Rev. Abner S. DeChant, pastor emeritus of the church, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Edgar F. Hoffmeier, the pastor.

An interesting feature of the marriage was the fact that the bride wore the same ivory taffeta wedding gown in which her mother was attired at her wedding to the late John A. Sheely in 1903. The ceremony was performed on the anniversary of her mother's wedding, and also the anniversary of the marriage of the bride's maternal grandparents in 1861.

Lincoln Invited To Be At Dedication Because Of Rank As President: Lincoln was invited to Gettysburg for the dedication of the National Cemetery out of deference for his rank and none were more surprised at his acceptance than the committee in charge, Theodore C. Cazeau, of Rochester, New York, the principal speaker at the first annual banquet of the past presidents and past commanders association of the Sons of Veterans, told an audience of 172 at the Hotel Gettysburg Saturday night.

A brief program preliminary to the banquet consisted of the introduction of Judge D. P. McPherson as toastmaster by Major O. G. MacPherson of the Sons of Veterans Reserves, chairman of the committee.

The banquet was to commemorate the dedication of the National cemetery here and the delivery of Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

Today's Talk

ON ACCUMULATING ENERGY

We all know it is energy that runs the world. Through macnines, engines, and endless useful things that electricity serves, as well as many other forms of fuel, energy is created. It is because of the energy of men that so much in the world has been accomplished.

How often we have been admonished to save our energy, to store it, then rest that it may be made greater and to serve in larger measure. Stored in an athlete is an abundance of energy. But it must be conserved for the important events.

By worrying, idleness, and bitterness we empty this choice and precious thing that we term energy. It leaves us for no purpose. We even shrink in health and well-being when we refuse to honor this God-given energy and waste it as of no account. How inspiring is that one with great energy and who makes it a point to inspire others with it, while there are others who walk among us with this wonderful substance leaking from their minds and efforts without doing any good for anyone.

Think of the energy that the sun distributes all over the earth. We should be thankful to God for having created it to bless mankind. The mind is full of energy, and as it is fed increasing knowledge its generosity carries on and keeps increasing itself. We should store all the energy possible, for without it there remains to people hardly the factor of hope.

Just think of the energy that is lost through hate, fear and bitterness. Then just imagine that flood of energy that flows from every part of the human body, through the brain and heart, as well as every single heart-beat! The energy of the human heart is amazing. God created it as his masterpiece. It should be treated with the utmost kindness!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Franklin's Whistle."

THANKSGIVING

Lord, we are grateful, one and all,
For every blessing through the year.
The grownups and the children small
Together at the table here
We thank Thee for our daily bread,
The strength for every task we face;
With gratitude we bow the head
And speak to Thee a simple grace.

Lord, make us worthy of Thy love
And in Thy service keep us strong.
May every room and roof above
Be gay with laughter and with song.
Dwell with us in the home we keep—
Your house and ours we'd have it be.
Guard us through wakefulness and sleep
And every day of every year.

Forgive our failures, Lord, we pray
And change to care our selfish greed.
To do Thy will from day to day
Bestow on us the help we need.
Grant us to know the right from wrong,
The true from false when they appear,
And may our faith be always strong
To do some needed service here.

ROTARIANS AND LADIES ATTEND ANNUAL DINNER

The annual Thanksgiving dinner was enjoyed by the Littlestown Rotarians and their Rotary Anns and several guests on Tuesday evening in the Kingsdale Fire Company Hall, along the Littlestown-Taneytown Rd. A full course turkey dinner was served to approximately 75 persons present. Prior to the meal, the invocation was offered by the Rev. David S. Kammerer, a member of the club.

Andrew S. Beshore, Harrisburg, orator, traveler and humorist, was guest speaker for the occasion, using as his theme "The House That Love Built." The speaker, who was strickened with polio at the age of 18 months, praised the work and encouraging functions of the Rotary International program for crippled children. Mr. Beshore was introduced by Carl F. Hermann, acting chairman of the community srevice committee, in charge of the evening's program.

L. Robert Snyder, chairman of the music committee, announced that an illustrated lecture on the federal highway program will be presented at the club meeting next Tuesday, 6:15 p.m., at Schottie's Hotel. Assisting Mr. Snyder on the music committee with program arrangements are George P. Smith and the Rev. David S. Kammerer.

Following the club meeting last evening, the Rotarians and Rotary Anns were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Hermann, owners and managers of the Towne Theater, to see the showing of the feature "The Power and the Pride."

A Christmas party will be featured at the next meeting of the Loyalty Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church on Monday, December 3, 7:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Luther W. Ritter, Glenwyn Drive. Each member is asked to take a $1 gift for exchange.

A birthday and pre-Thanksgiving turkey dinner was held on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Shfader, E. King St., in honor of her mother, Mrs. Jennie Boose, who observed her 73rd birthday. Present in addition to Mrs. Boose were her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Willet, Hanover; Mrs. John Bucher, Mr. and Mrs. George Honeycutt and children, Gene, Barbara, Judy and David, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shrader and children, Larry and Brenda, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bowman and daughter, Joyce, and Mr. and Mrs. Shrader.

PTA Meeting, Open House

An open house was featured at Rolling Acres Elementary School on Tuesday evening immediately following a brief business meeting of the Littlestown Jointure Parent Teachers' Association. R. Edward Newman, chairman of the evening's program committee, welcomed the large number of parents and friends and invited them to visit with the elementary teachers in their classrooms. Displays of the pupils' work were arranged for inspection. The teaching staff was present to be interviewed and included: Mrs. Naomi C. Schwartz, Mrs. Gertrude Knouse, Mrs. Maria L. Seiwell and Mrs. Martha Knechel, Grade One; Mrs. Marion Ecker, Mrs. Marion Richter and Mrs. Geraldine B. Redding, Grade Two; Mrs. Esther R. Bankert, Mrs. Irene Jones, Mrs. Oneida Hughes and Mrs. Miriam Study, Grade Three; Mrs. Dessa Herring, Mrs. Eva P. Sentz and Mrs. Jane K. Rhoades, Grade Four; Mrs. Sarah Staub, Miss Verna Culler and Mrs. Myrtle R. Manchey, Grade Five; Mrs. Suzanne Harbach and Mrs. Margaret Lohr, Grade Six; Mrs. Gertrude Renner, special education. John H. Riley is the elementary principal. While the adults toured the classrooms, the children present were shown a movie in the general purpose room of the school. "American Education" was the November program theme.

Plan Xmas Program

Mrs. R. C. Harbaugh, president, conducted the session and gave the heard from Mrs. J. Leslie Yohn, secretary, and Mrs. Beaven F. Hanlon, treasurer. The awards for the PTA membership drive went to the third grade taught by Mrs. Esther Bankert, first, and the first grade taught by Mrs. Naomi Schwartz, second. Mrs. Monroe J. Stavely, chairman of the committee in charge of the recent PTA bake sale, reported that the sale was a success and thanked all who helped in any way with the event.

At the conclusion of the session, refreshments were served by Mrs. Preston L. Myers, Mrs. Joseph Cookson, Mrs. Porter W. Seiwell, Mrs. Mary Bowersox and Mrs. Emanuel Nester.

An inspirational Christmas program will be presented by the Junior High and Senior High Choruses of the Littlestown High School on Tuesday, December 18, in the high school auditorium, and this will be the PTA monthly program. There will be no business period. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Joseph P. Long, Mrs. Monroe J. Stavely, Mrs. Charles E. Tressler, Mrs. Clayton L. Evans and Mrs. Donald C. Feeser.

November 17, 1956

My dear Editor:

I am here in Washington reading Friday's edition of your paper, and am hurrying to tell you how delighted I am with the Citation awarded THE TIMES and your good self by The Associated Press and the Managing Editors' Association. My heartiest and sincerest congratulations!

Having had a good deal to do with contracts and related documents I've acquired a habit of always looking for fine print, and this prompts my only criticism of the award.

I've said it before to friends and in these columns, and I'll say it again, that the name Paul L. Roy and THE GETTYSBURG TIMES are synonymous, and the Citation, in my judgment, should have carried both in the same size type.

Times readers should bear in mind, too, your very efficient staff of co-workers. Your entire organization, in efficiency and enterprise, compares favorably with those of many larger town newspapers.

William Allen White, distinguished Editor of the Emporia (Kansas) Gazette, many of whose talents and characteristics you possess, would have gotten a kick out of this award. His was a small town paper also, but he knew how to get recognition for both it and himself far beyond the confines of Emporia and Kansas.

Again, Congratulations! And more power to THE TIMES, yourself, and your fine organization.

Sincerely,
LEIGHTON C. TAYLOR

JAYCEES WILL SELL CAKES THIS EVENING

Members of the Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce will conduct a house-to-house canvass of the community this evening, selling fruit cakes. The three-pound cakes are $3 each. The Jaycees will meet at 6:30 p.m. at Schottie's Hotel to begin their canvass.

President Albert J. Bair presided at the semi-monthly dinner meeting of the chapter held Monday evening at Schottie's. Plans were made for the members and their Jayceettes to attend the ice follies in Hershey next Saturday evening, November 28. Paul E. Hilterbrick Jr. reported on the recent regional meeting which he attended at Carlisle. It was announced that a public safety committee will be appointed in the near future. A report was heard from Thomas E. Craig, secretary. The Jaycees will meet again on Monday, December 3, at Schottie's.

Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold a dance for members and their guests on Friday night from 9 p.m. until after midnight, at Bankert's, N. Queen St. Music will be provided by Pat Patterson and his orchestra, Hanover. The committee on arrangements includes Earl J. Weaver, Charles F. Bridinger and Malcolm Harner.

Clarence L. Schwartz Sr., Littlestown postmaster, has announced that no window service will be offered at the local post office tomorrow and there will be no regular deliveries. However, perishables and special deliveries will be taken to their destinations.

Most Stores Closing

A majority of the community stores will be closed all day on Thanksgiving Day and will reopen for business at the regular hour on Friday morning.

Students of the local schools began their Thanksgiving vacation, when Rolling Acres Elementary School, Littlestown Junior-Senior High School and St. Aloysius Parochial School all dismissed at 1:45 o'clock this afternoon. Classes will be resumed at the regular hour on Monday morning.

A public party will be held by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Littlestown Aerie 2226, on Friday, starting at 8 p.m. at the FOE Home, W. King St. Prizes will be given and refreshments will be available.

A high mass will be celebrated in St. Aloysius Catholic Church on Thanksgiving Day at 8 a.m., by the pastor, the Rev. Fr. William A. Boyle.

Largest number of visitors to Turkey today are those from the United States and Greece.

Volunteer Firemen End 2-Day Walkout

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — Members of a Duryea borough volunteer fire company ended a two-day walkout yesterday after being assured of an immediate $750 maintenance allowance and a similar amount next month.

The strike was called by the Germania Fire Co. Germania and the Excelsiors, the borough's other volunteer company, had asked for $1,000 for maintenance. The Excelsiors also threatened to quit during the constroversy.

Only one alarm was sounded during the strike and the members of the Germania company joined the Excelsiors in fighting the blaze.

FREE SEGREGATIONIST

CLINTON, Tenn. (AP) — Segregationist John Kasper has been freed of charges growing out of rioting over racial integration of Clinton High School.

Kasper, 27-year-old executive secretary of the Seaboard White Citizens Council at Washington, D.C., broke into a broad smile when the jury announced the verdict. The all-male jury deliberated 45 minutes.

Kasper had been charged by the state with sedition and inciting to riot because of his activities against the admission of 12 Negroes to Clinton High School under a federal court order Aug. 27.

NEWCOMBE IS NAMED MVP IN NATIONAL LOOP; EDGES MAGLIE

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Pitcher Don Newcombe, whose 27 victories made him the biggest Brooklyn winner in 32 years, was voted today the Most Valuable Player in the National League for 1956 by the Baseball Writers Assn.

The big right-hander edged out his mound mate Sal Maglie by a scant 40 points. Seven players received first-place nominations by 24 voting writers. Five accumulated more than 100 points.

Not since Hank Sauer nosed out Robin Roberts and Joe Black in a three-way battle for the 1952 award has there been such a close race.

The 30-year-old Newcombe, who lost only seven games all season and but two of his last 20 decisions, topped the list with 223 points. His subpar World Series performance — he was knocked out of the box in both starts — did not figure in the balloting.

Aaron Third

Maglie, who won 13 games including a no-hitter while losing only five after joining the Dodgers in mid-May, was second with 183 points. Then came Milwaukee's Hank Aaron, 146, and Warren Spahn, 126. Junior Gilliam, another Dodger, rounded out the first five with 103 points.

In all, 32 players received recognition, 11 of them pitchers. Eight Dodgers were named, but Roy Campanella, who got his third MVP award last year, wasn't among them.

Only one rookie was honored in the voting. He is Frank Robinson the Redlegs' slugging left fielder, who placed seventh with 79 points. Pee Wee Reese of the Dodgers was eighth; Stan Musial, the St. Louis' Cardinals' all-time great, was ninth; and Duke Snider, also Brooklyn, was tenth.

Greatest Season

Roy McMillan, Cincinnati shortstop, was sixth with 96 points.

Newcombe, who weighs 230 pounds 6-4, enjoyed by far his greatest season. In registering his third 20-game season, he racked up the most victories by a Dodger pitcher since Dazzy Vance won 28 in 1924. Don started 36 games and completed 18. He turned in five shutouts and finished fifth in earned runs with a 3.09 mark. His only two defeats after June 17 were a 1-0 loss to Johnny Antonelli and the Giants and a setback to Robin Roberts and the Phillies when Sandy Amoros dropped a fly ball.

DEL ENNIS IS TRADED BY PHILS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Del Ennis, traded to the St. Louis Cardinals for less age and more speed in deal about as matter of factly as Rip Repulski, is looking at the deal about as matter of factly as the Philadelphia Phillies. "That's baseball," he says.

If you put it on the black board, Ennis plus an unknown for Repulski and Bobby Morgan, a utility infielder, comes out by the Phillies' figuring to at least three years difference and more times on base.

And yesterday's trade of the 31-year-old outfielder and an unnamed minor league player for the two Cardinals may be one of a series.

General Manager Roy Hamey, who put his head together with General Manager Frank Lane of St. Louis on this one, has already indicated he'll barter to the hilt in an effort to pull the Phillies from the National League's second division.

"Naturally, the guy in the deal for us was Repulski," said Hamey. Repulski, also an outfielder, is 28 and that, says Hamey, "is a big thing."

Among the players new Chicago Cub manager Bob Sheffing will have in spring training in 1957 are Gene Fodge, Bob Speake and Jim Bolger. They played for him at Los Angeles last season.

Cage Clinic Monday For School Coaches

Bob Davies, head basketball coach at Gettysburg College, will conduct a free clinic for high school basketball coaches next Monday at 8 p.m. in Gettysburg's Eddie Plank Memorial Gymnasium. The topic for the clinic, to which only high school and junior high school coaches are invited, will be "Teaching-Man-for-Man Defense."

In announcing the clinic, Davies, former Seton Hall All-American and Rochester Royal great, said that "although many high school coaches use the zone defense, the man-for-man fundamentals to be dealt with in the clinic will be very effective and beneficial in teaching the zone defense."

SOWELL NAMES COURTNEY AS MEDAL WINNER

MELBOURNE (AP)—Arnie Sowell, the feather striding Pittsburgh half-miler, thinks the Olympic gold medal for the 800-meter run won't necessarily go to the fastest man but to the strongest runner. And he named teammate Tom Courtney of Livingston, N.J., as the man to beat.

"It's a great field, and the race calls for three tough races in four days. It's going to take a strong runner to win," said the lean 21-year-old.

Arnie, who had just loped a 50.8 quarter over the grass of the Preston football field, wouldn't predict what time he could make, but declared, "I'm in great shape and ready. I'm fully recovered from the ankle injury of last summer."

Will Follow Pace

He had shown that by winning the half mile in 1:94.3 and the mile in 4:11.3 at Geelong last Wednesday.

"The winner's time could be slow," said the 5-10 135-pounder. "It depends on who sets the pace. Audun Boysen (Norway) might go off like a rabbit and we would have to go with him."

Sowell said he would prefer to follow the pace than set it because "you have an advantage in laying back and picking the spot for your kick."

Courtney, a 6-2, 180-pounder, is a power runner who turned in a 1:46.4 while edging Sowell in the Olympic trials. Arnie was timed in 1:46.9.

FAVOR CHESTNUT

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Fourth-ranking Ike Chestnut of New York rules a 10-7 choice over Los Angeles' Irish Tommy Bain in their nationally televised 10-round featherweight scrap tonight at the Legion Stadium. The bout will be carried over the ABC network at 7 p.m. Pacific Standard Time.

LAFAYETTE CO-CAPTAINS

EASTON, Pa. (AP) — Jack Slotter, of Quakerstown, a back, and Bob Burcin of Tamaqua, a guard, have been elected permanent co-captains of the 1956 Lafayette College football team.

Lafayette does not have a regular captain for the season. Coach Steve Bokuf appoints an acting captain for each game and the squad elects a permanent captain before the final game of the season with Lehigh.

Both Slotter and Burcin are seniors and played on Lafayette football teams for three seasons.

End Dave Middleton caught 44 passes for 663 yards as a rookie with the Detroit Lions in 1953.

Gets Big Virginia Buck

Ronald E. Guise, 60 E. Middle St., is shown with the 205-pound, 13-point buck he shot Monday near Waterlick, Va. Guise, accompanied by Harry Kuhn, Highland Ave., went to Virginia Sunday for the deer season there. It was their first trip to Virginia for the deer season. Guise, a state employe at Harrisburg, has shot seven bucks in prior years while hunting in Pennsylvania. (Times Photo)

LIONS GOAD FOR CLASH WITH PITT

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — The Penn State Lions will depend on a versatile offense and a stout defense in its bid for a win Saturday against Pittsburgh in Pitt Stadium.

The Lions will be gunning for their seventh win against two losses for the season when they play their closing game against the western Pennsylvania eleven.

Players and coaches — looking hard at Penn State for an explanation of their surprising victories this year—agree almost to a man that "fundamental football" has brought most of the success to the Nittany Lions.

Coach Rip Engle of Penn State is the first to admit that "nothing pays off better than a sound offense and a sound defense, executed by sound operatives."

BOLTS TO OPEN ON DECEMBER 4

WEST CHESTER, CIRCUIT CHAMP

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — West Chester, undefeated in four Pennsylvania State Teachers Colleges Football Conference games, reigns as 1956 champion of the 14-team circuit.

West Chester completed the season with 225 rating points computed on the basis of won-lost records and caliber of opposition.

East Stroudsburg, with a 6 - 1 record, finished in second place with 213 points. Rounding out the standings are Indiana (200 points), Slippery Rock (200), Shippensburg (188), Lock Haven (167), Edinboro (150), Clarion (140), Millersville (107), Kutztown (100), Bloomsburg (100), California (93), Mansfield (80), and Cheyney (62).

Jack Connor of Shippensburg set a conference record by scoring 11 touchdowns and two conversions for a total of 68 points. George Dintiman of Lock Haven scored 24 points on four touchdowns for a single game record.

MAXWELL AWARD FOR CAPITANI NEXT MONDAY

FRANK CAPITANI

Gettysburg' Frank Capitani, hard-running junior fullback from Hershey, was named this week as the Philadelphia Maxwell Club Award winner for his outstanding performance in the Bullets' 21-0 victory over Franklin and Marshall last Saturday. Capitani will be honored Monday at the Maxwell Club's weekly luncheon in Philadelphia.

In leading Gettysburg to victory over Franklin and Marshall, Capitani gained three times as much rushing yardage as the entire F&M team by ripping off 174 yards in 25 carries for a 6.7 average. The 5-10, 180-pounder scored two touchdowns on runs of 21 and 40 yards, and played a brilliant defensive game by making 11 unassisted tackles, helping on 16 others and breaking up two Diplomat passes.

Capitani, the East's eighth-best rusher last year with a 7.7 average, led this season's team, which won seven and lost two, in rushing, total offense, punting and pass receiving, and was second in scoring and pass interceptions. His 5.0 rushing average of the 1956 campaign gives him a two-season rushing average of 6.3 yards per carry. In addition to his outstanding play, he is regarded as Gettysburg's best defensive performer.

Accompanying Capitani to Philadelphia on Monday will be head football coach John Yovicsin, Athletic Director Henry T. Bream, and Gettysburg Publicity Director Jim Tarman.

Orioles Announce 1957 Home Games

Baltimore will help officially open the 1957 baseball season in Washington next April 15 when it will meet the Senators at Griffith Stadium. On the following day, Tuesday, April 16, the Orioles will return to Baltimore and meet Boston to launch the 1957 campaign on the home grounds.

Next year's Oriole schedule, as announced today by Jack Dunn III, assistant general manager, will include 47 night games, as compared to 42 in 1956, and will have 72 dates, one more than last year, for the 77 home games. In addition to the 47 night games the Orioles will play day games at Memorial Stadium on 12 Sundays, four Saturdays, six weekdays, Fourth of July and Labor Day. On Labor Day, Monday, September 2, the Orioles will meet the New York Yankees in a doubleheader starting at 2 p.m. The Fourth of July game, to start at 1:30 p.m., will be with the Washington Senators.

Iowa Tackle Is AP Lineman Of Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Big Alex Karras, Iowa tackle, was named Associated Press lineman of the week today for his superb play against Ohio State that helped put the Hawkeyes in the Rose Bowl.

The performance of the Gary, Ind. youth in Iowa's 6-0 triumph over the Buckeyes was "outstanding" according to his coach, Forest Evashevski. Alex was shifted to play head on with the OSU center.

"This made him doubly effective," Evashevski said. "He could penetrate from that position and take both sides of the line. He just licked the man playing opposite him. He has exceptional quickness for a 230-pounder."

OREGON STATE NEEDS HOLIDAY WIN FOR BOWL

By DON WEISS
The Associated Press

Oregon State, all set for a New Year's Day date in the Rose Bowl with Iowa, has another holiday matter confronting it tomorrow in one of several traditional Thanksgiving Day college football games.

The Beavers, lacking only the formality of a vote to assure their presence at Pasadena Jan. 1, need a victory over archrival Oregon to clinch their school's second Pacific Coast conference championship in the 41-year history of the league.

Oregon State (6-1) is challenged for the PCC leadership by UCLA (5-1), a Rose Bowl ineligible. Should the Beavers falter, UCLA would be able to lift the championship for the fourth straight year by defeating Southern California Saturday.

A further scrambling — or unscrambling—of the Atlantic Coast Conference's position concerning its Orange Bowl representative could come about in South Carolina's game with Wake Forest.

Pro Game Thursday

There's been renewed interest in the Gamecocks (4-2) and in four-times-beaten Duke (3-1 in ACC competition) since Clemson was mauled by Miami 21-0 last week. Since the conference is not bound to send its champion to the bowl, merely its "most representative team," a good performance by South Carolina could keep the pot boiling. Clemson still leads with a 3-0-1 league record.

Other pairings for the Thanksgiving football menu are Virginia Tech vs. Virginia Military, Penn vs. winless Cornell, Colgate at Brown in a morning game, Miami (Ohio) at Cincinnati, Maryland at North Carolina State, William & Mary at Richmond, Washington & Lee at Washington (Mo.), Colorado A&M at Denver, Idaho at Montana.

For the National Football League enthusiast, there's the annual pro game at Detroit between the Lions and Green Bay Packers.

16th Olympic Games Will Open Thursday At Melbourne Before Capacity Throng Of 110,000

MELBOURNE (AP) — The Duke of Edinburgh opens the 16th Olympic Games tomorrow before a sellout 110,000 and there was hope Melbourne's nasty spring weather would turn to warm sunshine.

The dissension that has plagued the games from the start seems to have melted away amid final preparations for the stately ceremony.

More than 4,000 athletes from 68 nations will complete in 16 sports between now and Dec. 8. Major honors are expected to go to the United States and Russia, with Australia and Hungary vying for third place in the unofficial point standings.

For the past seven years, the Melbourne games have been the center of controversy. At the start they were a political football and preparations went so slowly Avery Brundage, International Olympic Committee president, threatened to move the games to another country. Then, in recent weeks, the troubled situation in the Middle East and Hungary brought the withdrawal of seven nations.

But to the throngs on the gaily decorated streets of Melbourne all this was forgotten today.

The ceremonies, which follow rigid protocol, begin at 3 p.m., Australian time, tomorrow when the Duke of Edinburgh enters the great oval of the Melbourne Cricket Club and service bands play the national anthem.

Parade Of Athletes

Then comes the march of athletes in their uniforms of many colors — with team officials, a total of 5,000 men and women.

As thousands of pigeons are released, the duke reads the simple words that start this great sports festival:

"I declare open the Olympic Games of Melbourne celebrating the 16th Olympiad of the modern era."

Competition Starts Friday

Then comes the dramatic arrival of the Olympic torch that was kindled in Greece and brought by plane to Australia. From Darwin to Melbourne it was carried by 2,830 athletes, each running one mile.

There will be a brief dedication address by the Archbishop of Melbourne and recitation of the Olympic oath, then, after the national anthem, the athletes march out. Actual competition begins at 8 p.m. when Korea meets Nationalist China in basketball. Russia plays Canada in the second game of the evening.

Full-scale competition starts Friday in track and field, fencing, the modern pentathlon, rowing, field hockey, soccer, weightlifting, and boxing.

PIRATES SIGN JOE L. BROWN

PITTSBURGH (AP)—General Manager Joe L. Brown will direct the Pittsburgh Pirates for another year and possibly longer as a reward for his part in the National League club's most successful season in five years.

John Galbreath, Pirate president, announced the signing of Brown yesterday. Salary terms and length of contract were not revealed.

Galbreath expressed hope, however, that Brown would remain with the club for many years, saying:

"This past year was a trying and challenging job for Joe and it proved to be a most successful one. I am very well pleased with the recent progress of the Pirates and the Pittsburgh organization."

Brown, 37, was hired last year to succeed Branch Rickey Sr., who remained with the club as board chairman and advisor. Rickey lauded Brown's retention.

He had shown that by winning the half mile in 1:94.3 and the mile in 4:11.3 at Geelong last Wednesday.

"The winner's time could be slow," said the 5-10 135-pounder. "It depends on who sets the pace. Audun Boysen (Norway) might go off like a rabbit and we would have to go with him."

Sowell said he would prefer to follow the pace than set it because "you have an advantage in laying back and picking the spot for your kick."

Courtney, a 6-2, 180-pounder, is a power runner who turned in a 1:46.4 while edging Sowell in the Olympic trials. Arnie was timed in 1:46.9.

FAVOR CHESTNUT

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Fourth-ranking Ike Chestnut of New York rules a 10-7 choice over Los Angeles' Irish Tommy Bain in their nationally televised 10-round featherweight scrap tonight at the Legion Stadium. The bout will be carried over the ABC network at 7 p.m. Pacific Standard Time.

LAFAYETTE CO-CAPTAINS

EASTON, Pa. (AP) — Jack Slotter, of Quakerstown, a back, and Bob Burcin of Tamaqua, a guard, have been elected permanent co-captains of the 1956 Lafayette College football team.

Lafayette does not have a regular captain for the season. Coach Steve Hokuf appoints an acting captain for each game and the squad elects a permanent captain before the final game of the season with Lehigh.

Both Slotter and Burcin are seniors and played on Lafayette football teams for three seasons.

End Dave Middleton caught 44 passes for 663 yards as a rookie with the Detroit Lions in 1955.

Gets Big Virginia Buck

Ronald E. Guise, 60 E. Middle St., is shown with the 205-pound, 13-point buck he shot Monday near Waterlick, Va. Guise, accompanied by Harry Kuhn, Highland Ave., went to Virginia Sunday for the deer season there. It was their first trip to Virginia for the deer season. Guise, a state employe at Harrisburg, has shot seven bucks in prior years while hunting in Pennsylvania. (Times Photo)

LIONS GOAD FOR CLASH WITH PITT

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — The Penn State Lions will depend on a versatile offense and a stout defense in its bid for a win Saturday against Pittsburgh in Pitt Stadium.

The Lions will be gunning for their seventh win against two losses for the season when they play their closing game against the western Pennsylvania eleven.

Players and coaches — looking hard at Penn State for an explanation of their surprising victories this year—agree almost to a man that "fundamental football" has brought most of the success to the Nittany Lions.

Coach Rip Engle of Penn State is the first to admit that "nothing pays off better than a sound offense and a sound defense, executed by sound operatives."

BOLTS TO OPEN ON DECEMBER 4

The Littlestown High School drbiblers will play a 21-game schedule during the coming season, opening on Tuesday, December 4, when Dallastown will be met on the Bolts' floor.

WEST CHESTER, CIRCUIT CHAMP

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — West Chester, undefeated in four Pennsylvania State Teachers Colleges Football Conference games, reigns as 1956 champion of the 14-team circuit.

West Chester completed the season with 225 rating points computed on the basis of won-lost records and caliber of opposition.

East Stroudsburg, with a 6 - 1 record, finished in second place with 213 points. Rounding out the standings are Indiana (200 points), Slippery Rock (200), Shippensburg (188), Lock Haven (167), Edinboro (150), Clarion (140), Millersville (107), Kutztown (100), Bloomsburg (100), California (93), Mansfield (80), and Cheyney (62).

Jack Connor of Shippensburg set a conference record by scoring 11 touchdowns and two conversions for a total of 68 points. George Dintiman of Lock Haven scored 24 points on four touchdowns for a single game record.

MAXWELL AWARD FOR CAPITANI NEXT MONDAY

FRANK CAPITANI

Gettysburg' Frank Capitani, hard-running junior fullback from Hershey, was named this week as the Philadelphia Maxwell Club Award winner for his outstanding performance in the Bullets' 21-0 victory over Franklin and Marshall last Saturday. Capitani will be honored Monday at the Maxwell Club's weekly luncheon in Philadelphia.

In leading Gettysburg to victory over Franklin and Marshall, Capitani gained three times as much rushing yardage as the entire F&M team by ripping off 174 yards in 25 carries for a 6.7 average. The 5-10, 180-pounder scored two touchdowns on runs of 21 and 40 yards, and played a brilliant defensive game by making 11 unassisted tackles, helping on 16 others and breaking up two Diplomat passes.

Capitani, the East's eighth-best rusher last year with a 7.7 average, led this season's team, which won seven and lost two, in rushing, total offense, punting and pass receiving, and was second in scoring and pass interceptions. His 5.0 rushing average of the 1956 campaign gives him a two-season rushing average of 6.3 yards per carry. In addition to his outstanding play, he is regarded as Gettysburg's best defensive performer.

Accompanying Capitani to Philadelphia on Monday will be head football coach John Yovicsin, Athletic Director Henry T. Bream, and Gettysburg Publicity Director Jim Tarman.

Orioles Announce 1957 Home Games

Baltimore will help officially open the 1957 baseball season in Washington next April 15 when it will meet the Senators at Griffith Stadium. On the following day, Tuesday, April 16, the Orioles will return to Baltimore and meet Boston to launch the 1957 campaign on the home grounds.

Next year's Oriole schedule, as announced today by Jack Dunn III, assistant general manager, will include 47 night games, as compared to 42 in 1956, and will have 72 dates, one more than last year, for the 77 home games. In addition to the 47 night games the Orioles will play day games at Memorial Stadium on 12 Sundays, four Saturdays, six weekdays, Fourth of July and Labor Day. On Labor Day, Monday, September 2, the Orioles will meet the New York Yankees in a doubleheader starting at 2 p.m. The Fourth of July game, to start at 1:30 p.m., will be with the Washington Senators.

Iowa Tackle Is AP Lineman Of Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Big Alex Karras, Iowa tackle, was named Associated Press lineman of the week today for his superb play againnt Ohio State that helped put the Hawkeyes in the Rose Bowl.

The performance of the Gary, Ind. youth in Iowa's 6-0 triumph over the Buckeyes was "outstanding" according to his coach, Forest Evashevski. Alex was shifted to play head on with the OSU center.

"This made him doubly effective," Evashevski said. "He could penetrate from that position and take both sides of the line. He just licked the man playing opposite him. He has exceptional quickness for a 230-pounder."

OREGON STATE NEEDS HOLIDAY WIN FOR BOWL

By DON WEISS
The Associated Press

Oregon State, all set for a New Year's Day date in the Rose Bowl with Iowa, has another holiday matter confronting it tomorrow in one of several traditional Thanksgiving Day college football games.

The Beavers, lacking only the formality of a vote to assure their presence at Pasadena Jan. 1, need a victory over archrival Oregon to clinch their school's second Pacific Coast conference championship in the 41-year history of the league.

Oregon State (6-1) is challenged for the PCC leadershhip by UCLA (5-1), a Rose Bowl ineligible. Should the Beavers falter, UCLA would be able to lift the championship for the fourth straight year by defeating Southern California Saturday.

A further scrambling — or unscrambling—of the Atlantic Coast Conference's position concerning its Orange Bowl representative could come about in South Carolina's game with Wake Forest.

Pro Game Thursday

There's been renewed interest in the Gamecocks (4-2) and in four-times-beaten Duke (3-1 in ACC competition) since Clemson was mauled by Miami 21-0 last week. Since the conference is not bound to send its champion to the bowl, merely its "most representative team," a good performance by South Carolina could keep the pot boiling. Clemson still leads with a 3-0-1 league record.

Other pairings for the Thanksgiving football menu are Virginia Tech vs. Virginia Military, Penn vs. winless Cornell, Colgate at Brown in a morning game, Miami (Ohio) at Cincinnati, Maryland at North Carolina State, William & Mary at Richmond, Washington & Lee at Washington (Mo.), Colorado A&M at Denver, Idaho at Montana.

For the National Football League enthusiast, there's the annual pro game at Detroit between the Lions and Green Bay Packers.

16th Olympic Games Will Open Thursday At Melbourne Before Capacity Throng Of 110,000

MELBOURNE (AP) — The Duke of Edinburgh opens the 16th Olympic Games tomorrow before a sellout 110,000 and there was hope Melbourne's nasty spring weather would turn to warm sunshine.

The dissension that has plagued the games from the start seems to have melted away amid final preparations for the stately ceremony.

More than 4,000 athletes from 68 nations will complete in 16 sports between now and Dec. 8. Major honors are expected to go to the United States and Russia, with Australia and Hungary vying for third place in the unofficial point standings.

For the past seven years, the Melbourne games have been the center of controversy. At the start they were a political football and preparations went so slowly Avery Brundage, International Olympic Committee president, threatened to move the games to another country. Then, in recent weeks, the troubled situation in the Middle East and Hungary brought the withdrawal of seven nations.

But to the throngs on the gaily decorated streets of Melbourne all this was forgotten today.

The ceremonies, which follow rigid protocol, begin at 3 p.m., Australian time, tomorrow when the Duke of Edinburgh enters the great oval of the Melbourne Cricket Club and service bands play the national anthem.

Parade Of Athletes

Then comes the march of athletes in their uniforms of many colors — with team officials, a total of 5,000 men and women.

As thousands of pigeons are released, the duke reads the simple words that start this great sports festival:

"I declare open the Olympic Games of Melbourne celebrating the 16th Olympiad of the modern era."

Competition Starts Friday

Then comes the dramatic arrival of the Olympic torch that was kindled in Greece and brought by plane to Australia. From Darwin to Melbourne it was carried by 2,830 athletes, each running one mile.

There will be a brief dedication address by the Archbishop of Melbourne and recitation of the Olympic oath, then, after the national anthem, the athletes march out. Actual competition begins at 8 p.m. when Korea meets Nationalist China in basketball. Russia plays Canada in the second game of the evening.

Full-scale competition starts Friday in track and field, fencing, the modern pentathlon, rowing, field hockey, soccer, weightlifting, and boxing.

PIRATES SIGN JOE L. BROWN

PITTSBURGH (AP)—General Manager Joe L. Brown will direct the Pittsburgh Pirates for another year and possibly longer as a reward for his part in the National League club's most successful season in five years.

John Galbreath, Pirate president, announced the signing of Brown yesterday. Salary terms and length of contract were not revealed.

Galbreath expressed hope, however, that Brown would remain with the club for many years, saying:

"This past year was a trying and challenging job for Joe and it proved to be a most successful one. I am very well pleased with the recent progress of the Pirates and the Pittsburgh organization."

Brown, 37, was hired last year to succeed Branch Rickey Sr., who remained with the club as board chairman and advisor. Rickey lauded Brown's retention.

DeChant, pastor emeritus of the church, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Edgar F. Hoffmeier, the pastor.

An interesting feature of the marriage was the fact that the bride wore the same ivory taffeta wedding gown in which her mother was attired at her wedding to the late John A Sheely in 1903. The ceremony was performed on the anniversary of her mother's wedding, and also the anniversary of the marriage of the bride's maternal grandparents in 1861.

Lincoln Invited To Be At Dedication Because Of Rank As President: Lincoln was invited to Gettysburg for the dedication of the National Cemetery out of deference for his rank and none were more surprised at his acceptance than the committee in charge. Theodore C Cazeau, of Rochester, New York, the principal speaker at the first annual banquet of the past presidents and past commanders association of the Sons of Veterans, told an audience of 172 at the Hotel Gettysburg Saturday night.

A brief program preliminary to the banquet consisted of the introduction of Judge D. P. McPherson as toastmaster by Major O. G. MacPherson of the Sons of Veterans Reserves, chairman of the committee.

The banquet was to commemorate the dedication of the National cemetery here and the delivery of Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

Today's Talk

ON ACCUMULATING ENERGY

We all know it is energy that runs the world. Through machines, engines, and endless useful things that electricity serves, as well as many other forms of fuel, energy is created. It is because of the energy of men that so much in the world has been accomplished.

How often we have been admonished to save our energy, to store it, then rest that it may be made greater and to serve in larger measure. Stored in an athlete is an abundance of energy. But it must be conserved for the important events.

By worrying, idleness, and bitterness we empty this choice and precious thing that we term energy. It leaves us for no purpose. We even shrink in health and well-being when we refuse to honor this God-given energy and waste it as of no account. How inspiring is that one with great energy and who makes it a point to inspire others with it, while there are others who walk among us with this wonderful substance leaking from their minds and efforts without doing any good for anyone.

Think of the energy that the sun distributes all over the earth. We should be thankful to God for having created it to bless mankind. The mind is full of energy, and as it is fed increasing knowledge its generosity carries on and keeps increasing itself. We should store all the energy possible, for without it there remains to people hardly the factor of hope.

Just think of the energy that is lost through hate, fear and bitterness. Then just imagine that flood of energy that flows from every part of the human body, through the brain and heart, as well as every single heart-beat! The energy of the human heart is amazing. God created it as his masterpiece. It should be treated with the utmost kindness!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Franklin's Whistle."

THANKSGIVING

Lord, we are grateful, one and all,
For every blessing through the year.
The grownups and the children small
Together at the table here
We thank Thee for our daily bread,
The strength for every task we face;
With gratitude we bow the head
And speak to Thee a simple grace.

Lord, make us worthy of Thy love
And in Thy service keep us strong.
May every room and roof above
Be gay with laughter and with song.
Dwell with us in the home we keep—
Your house and ours we'd have it be.
Guard us through wakefulness and sleep
And every day of every year.

Forgive our failures, Lord, we pray
And change to care our selfish greed.
To do Thy will from day to day
Bestow on us the help we need.
Grant us to know the right from wrong.
The true from false when they appear.
And may our faith be always strong
To do some needed service here.

ROTARIANS AND LADIES ATTEND ANNUAL DINNER

The annual Thanksgiving dinner was enjoyed by the Littlestown Rotarians and their Rotary Anns and several guests on Tuesday evening in the Kingsdale Fire Company Hall, along the Littlestown-Taneytown Rd. A full course turkey dinner was served to approximately 75 persons present. Prior to the meal, the invocation was offered by the Rev. David S. Kammerer, a member of the club.

Andrew S. Beshore, Harrisburg, orator, traveler and humorist, was guest speaker for the occasion, using as his theme "The House That Love Built." The speaker, who was strickened with polio at the age of 18 months, praised the work and encouraging functions of the Rotary International program for crippled children. Mr. Beshore was introduced by Carl F. Hermann, acting chairman of the community srevice committee, in charge of the evening's program.

L. Robert Snyder, chairman of the music committee, announced that an illustrated lecture on the federal highway program will be presented at the club meeting next Tuesday, 6:15 p.m., at Schottie's Hotel. Assisting Mr. Snyder on the music committee with program arrangements are George P. Smith and the Rev. David S Kammerer

Following the club meeting last evening, the Rotarians and Rotary Anns were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Hermann, owners and managers of the Towne Theater, to see the showing of the feature "The Power and the Pride."

A Christmas party will be featured at the next meeting of the Loyalty Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church on Monday, December 3, 7:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Luther W. Ritter, Glenwyn Drive. Each member is asked to take a $1 gift for exchange.

A birthday and pre-Thanksgiving turkey dinner was held on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Shrader, E. King St., in honor of her mother, Mrs. Jennie Boose, who observed her 73rd birthday. Present in addition to Mrs. Boose were her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs Frank Willet, Hanover; Mrs. John Bucher, Mr. and Mrs. George Honeycutt and children, Gene, Barbara, Judy and David, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shrader and children, Larry and Brenda, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bowman and daughter, Joyce, and Mr. and Mrs. Shrader.

Miss Elizabeth Anne Crouse, a second year student at the Pennsylvania State University, State College, arrives today to spend the Thanksgiving vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Crouse, Lumber St.

PTA Meeting, Open House

An open house was featured at Rolling Acres Elementary School on Tuesday evening immediately following a brief business meeting of the Littlestown Jointure Parent Teachers' Association. R. Edward Newman, chairman of the evening's program committee, welcomed the large number of parents and friends and invited them to visit with the elementary teachers in their classrooms. Displays of the pupils' work were arranged for inspection. The teaching staff was present to be interviewed and included: Mrs. Naomi C. Schwartz, Mrs. Gertrude Knouse, Mrs. Maria L. Seiwell and Mrs. Martha Knechel, Grade One; Mrs. Marion Ecker, Mrs. Marion Richter and Mrs. Geraldine B. Redding, Grade Two; Mrs. Esther R. Bankert, Mrs. Irene Jones, Mrs. Oneida Hughes and Mrs. Miriam Study, Grade Three; Mrs. Dessa Herring, Mrs. Eva P. Sentz and Mrs Jane K. Rhoades, Grade Four; Mrs. Sarah Staub, Miss Verna Culler and Mrs. Myrtle R. Manchey, Grade Five; Mrs. Suzanne Harbach and Mrs. Margaret Lohr, Grade Six. Mrs. Gertrude Renner, special education. John H. Riley is the elementary principal. While the adults toured the classrooms, the children present were shown a movie in the general purpose room of the school "American Education" was the November program theme.

Plan Xmas Program

Mrs. R. C Harbaugh, president, conducted the session and gave the report from Mrs. J. Leslie Yohn, secretary, and Mrs. Beaven F. Hanlon, treasurer. The awards for the PTA membership drive went to the third grade taught by Mrs. Esther Bankert, first, and the first grade taught by Mrs. Naomi Schwartz, second. Mrs. Monroe J. Stavely, chairman of the committee in charge of the recent PTA bake sale, reported that the sale was a success and thanked all who helped in any way with the event.

At the conclusion of the session, refreshments were served by Mrs. Preston L. Myers, Mrs. Joseph Cookson, Mrs. Porter W. Seiwell, Mrs. Mary Bowersox and Mrs. Emanuel Nester.

An inspirational Christmas program will be presented by the Junior High and Senior High Choruses of the Littlestown High School on Tuesday, December 18, in the high school auditorium, and this will be the PTA monthly program. There will be no business period. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Joseph P. Long, Mrs. Monroe J. Stavely, Mrs. Charles E. Tressler, Mrs. Clayton L. Evans and Mrs. Donald C. Feeser.

November 17, 1956

My dear Editor:

I am here in Washington reading Friday's edition of your paper, and am hurrying to tell you how delighted I am with the Citation awarded THE TIMES and your good self by The Associated Press and the Managing Editors' Association. My heartiest and sincerest congratulations!

Having had a good deal to do with contracts and related documents I've acquired a habit of always looking for fine print, and this prompts my only criticism of the award.

I've said it before to friends and in these columns, and I'll say it again, that the name Paul L. Roy and THE GETTYSBURG TIMES are synonymous, and the Citation, in my judgment, should have carried both in the same size type.

Times readers should bear in mind, too, your very efficient staff of co-workers. Your entire organization, in efficiency and enterprise, compares favorably with those of many larger town newspapers.

William Allen White, distinguished Editor of the Emporia (Kansas) Gazette, many of whose talents and characteristics you possess, would have gotten a kick out of this award. His was a small town paper also, but he knew how to get recognition for both it and himself far beyond the confines of Emporia and Kansas.

Again, Congratulations! And more power to THE TIMES, yourself, and your fine organization.

Sincerely,
LEIGHTON C. TAYLOR

JAYCEES WILL SELL CAKES THIS EVENING

Members of the Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce will conduct a house-to-house canvass of the community this evening, selling fruit cakes. The three-pound cakes are $3 each. The Jaycees will meet at 6.30 p.m. at Schottie's Hotel to begin their canvass.

President Albert J. Bair presided at the semi-monthly dinner meeting of the chapter held Monday evening at Schottie's. Plans were made for the members and their Jayceettes to attend the ice follies in Hershey next Saturday evening, November 28. Paul E. Hilterbrick Jr. reported on the recent regional meeting which he attended at Carlisle. It was announced that a public safety committee will be appointed in the near future. A report was heard from Thomas E. Craig, secretary. The Jaycees will meet again on Monday, December 3, at Schottie's.

Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold a dance for members and their guests on Friday night from 9 p.m. until after midnight, at Bankert's, N. Queen St. Music will be provided by Pat Patterson and his orchestra, Hanover. The committee on arrangements includes Earl J. Weaver, Charles F. Bridinger and Malcolm Harner.

Clarence L. Schwartz Sr., Littlestown postmaster, has announced that no window service will be offered at the local post office tomorrow and there will be no regular deliveries. However, perishables and special deliveries will be taken to their destinations.

Most Stores Closing

A majority of the community stores will be closed all day on Thanksgiving Day and will reopen for business at the regular hour on Friday morning.

Students of the local schools began their Thanksgiving vacation, when Rolling Acres Elementary School, Littlestown Junior-Senior High School and St Aloysius Parochial School all dismissed at 1:45 o'clock this afternoon. Classes will be resumed at the regular hour on Monday morning.

A public party will be held by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Littlestown Aerie 2226, on Friday, starting at 8 p.m. at the FOE Home, W. King St. Prizes will be given and refreshments will be available.

A high mass will be celebrated in St. Aloysius Catholic Church on Thanksgiving Day at 8 a.m., by the pastor, the Rev. Fr. William A. Boyle.

Largest number of visitors to Turkey today are those from the United States and Greece.

Volunteer Firemen End 2-Day Walkout

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — Members of a Duryea borough volunteer fire company ended a two-day walkout yesterday after being assured of an immediate $750 maintenance allowance and a similar amount next month.

The strike was called by the Germania Fire Co. Germania and the Excelsiors, the borough's other volunteer company, had asked for $1,000 for maintenance. The Excelsiors also threatened to quit during the controversy.

Only one alarm was sounded during the strike and the members of the Germania company joined the Excelsiors in fighting the blaze.

FREE SEGREGATIONIST

CLINTON, Tenn. (AP) — Segregationist John Kasper has been freed of charges growing out of rioting over racial integration of Clinton High School.

Kasper, 27-year-old executive secretary of the Seaboard White Citizens Council at Washington, D.C., broke into a broad smile when the jury announced the verdict. The all-male jury deliberated 45 minutes.

Kasper had been charged by the state with sedition and inciting to riot because of his activities against the admission of 12 Negroes to Clinton High School under a federal court order Aug. 27.

Dog Of Year Has Patch On Heart

BOSTON (AP)—Dog of the Year — selected by the National Society of Medical Research — is a black and white mongrel with a plastic patch on his heart.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, President Eisenhower's heart consultant, yesterday placed a silver collar on the 44-pound mutt, named Airplane, at the Children's Medical Center.

He was aided by 4-year-old Joanne McLaughlin, who only a week ago underwent a heart operation made possible by surgical research on Airplane's heart.

70 Volunteers Husk Corn For Guise's Widow: Seventy volunteers, neighbors of the late Ervin Guise, former tenant on the Oyler and Spangler farm, gathered at the farm early on Saturday morning and husked 15 acres of field corn.

Mr. Guise died a week ago after a long illness which prevented him from keeping up with his work. The corn had to be hauled in and as Guise was unable to do it, neighbors volunteered their help.

Miss Elizabeth Sheely Is Wed On Anniversary Of Mother's Wedding: Miss Elizabeth K. Sheely, daughter of Mrs. Viola T. Sheely, Hanover, and Donald K. Weiser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Weiser, East Lincoln avenue, were married Tuesday noon in Emmanuel Reformed church, Hanover, by the Rev. Abner S. DeChant, pastor emeritus of the church, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Edgar F. Hoffmeier, the pastor.

An interesting feature of the marriage was the fact that the bride wore the same ivory taffeta wedding gown in which her mother was attired at her wedding to the late John A. Sheely in 1903. The ceremony was performed on the anniversary of her mother's wedding, and also the anniversary of the marriage of the bride's maternal grandparents in 1861.

Lincoln Invited To Be At Dedication Because Of Rank As President: Lincoln was invited to Gettysburg for the dedication of the National Cemetery out of deference for his rank and none were more surprised at his acceptance than the committee in charge, Theodore C. Cazeau, of Rochester, New York, the principal speaker at the first annual banquet of the past presidents and past commanders association of the Sons of Veterans, told an audience of 172 at the Hotel Gettysburg Saturday night.

A brief program preliminary to the banquet consisted of the introduction of Judge D. P. McPherson as toastmaster by Major O. G. MacPherson of the Sons of Veterans Reserves, chairman of the committee.

The banquet was to commemorate the dedication of the National cemetery here and the delivery of Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

Today's Talk

ON ACCUMULATING ENERGY

We all know it is energy that runs the world. Through macnines, engines, and endless useful things that electricity serves, as well as many other forms of fuel, energy is created. It is because of the energy of men that so much in the world has been accomplished.

How often we have been admonished to save our energy, to store it, then rest that it may be made greater and to serve in larger measure. Stored in an athlete is an abundance of energy. But it must be conserved for the important events.

By worrying, idleness, and bitterness we empty this choice and precious thing that we term energy. It leaves us for no purpose. We even shrink in health and well-being when we refuse to honor this God-given energy and waste it as of no account. How inspiring is that one with great energy and who makes it a point to inspire others with it, while there are others who walk among us with this wonderful substance leaking from their minds and efforts without doing any good for anyone.

Think of the energy that the sun distributes all over the earth. We should be thankful to God for having created it to bless mankind. The mind is full of energy, and as it is fed increasing knowledge its generosity carries on and keeps increasing itself. We should store all the energy possible, for without it there remains to people hardly the factor of hope.

Just think of the energy that is lost through hate, fear and bitterness. Then just imagine that flood of energy that flows from every part of the human body, through the brain and heart, as well as every single heart-beat! The energy of the human heart is amazing. God created it as his masterpiece. It should be treated with the utmost kindness!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Franklin's Whistle."

THANKSGIVING

Lord, we are grateful, one and all,
For every blessing through the year.
The grownups and the children small
Together at the table here
We thank Thee for our daily bread,
The strength for every task we face;
With gratitude we bow the head
And speak to Thee a simple grace.

Lord, make us worthy of Thy love
And in Thy service keep us strong.
May every room and roof above
Be gay with laughter and with song.
Dwell with us in the home we keep—
Your house and ours we'd have it be.
Guard us through wakefulness and sleep
And every day of every year.

Forgive our failures, Lord, we pray
And change to care our selfish greed.
To do Thy will from day to day
Bestow on us the help we need.
Grant us to know the right from wrong,
The true from false when they appear,
And may our faith be always strong
To do some needed service here.

ROTARIANS AND LADIES ATTEND ANNUAL DINNER

The annual Thanksgiving dinner was enjoyed by the Littlestown Rotarians and their Rotary Anns and several guests on Tuesday evening in the Kingsdale Fire Company Hall, along the Littlestown-Taneytown Rd. A full course turkey dinner was served to approximately 75 persons present. Prior to the meal, the invocation was offered by the Rev. David S. Kammerer, a member of the club.

Andrew S. Beshore, Harrisburg, orator, traveler and humorist, was guest speaker for the occasion, using as his theme "The House That Love Built." The speaker, who was strickened with polio at the age of 18 months, praised the work and encouraging functions of the Rotary International program for crippled children. Mr. Beshore was introduced by Carl F. Hermann, acting chairman of the community srevice committee, in charge of the evening's program.

L. Robert Snyder, chairman of the music committee, announced that an illustrated lecture on the federal highway program will be presented at the club meeting next Tuesday, 6:15 p.m., at Schottie's Hotel. Assisting Mr. Snyder on the music committee with program arrangements are George P. Smith and the Rev. David S. Kammerer.

Following the club meeting last evening, the Rotarians and Rotary Anns were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Hermann, owners and managers of the Towne Theater, to see the showing of the feature "The Power and the Pride."

A Christmas party will be featured at the next meeting of the Loyalty Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church on Monday, December 3, 7:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Luther W. Ritter, Glenwyn Drive. Each member is asked to take a $1 gift for exchange.

A birthday and pre-Thanksgiving turkey dinner was held on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Shfader, E. King St., in honor of her mother, Mrs. Jennie Boose, who observed her 73rd birthday. Present in addition to Mrs. Boose were her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Willet, Hanover; Mrs. John Bucher, Mr. and Mrs. George Honeycutt and children, Gene, Barbara, Judy and David, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shrader and children, Larry and Brenda, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bowman and daughter, Joyce, and Mr. and Mrs. Shrader.

PTA Meeting, Open House

An open house was featured at Rolling Acres Elementary School on Tuesday evening immediately following a brief business meeting of the Littlestown Jointure Parent Teachers' Association. R. Edward Newman, chairman of the evening's program committee, welcomed the large number of parents and friends and invited them to visit with the elementary teachers in their classrooms. Displays of the pupils' work were arranged for inspection. The teaching staff was present to be interviewed and included: Mrs. Naomi C. Schwartz, Mrs. Gertrude Knouse, Mrs. Maria L. Seiwell and Mrs. Martha Knechel, Grade One; Mrs. Marion Ecker, Mrs. Marion Richter and Mrs. Geraldine B. Redding, Grade Two; Mrs. Esther R. Bankert, Mrs. Irene Jones, Mrs. Oneida Hughes and Mrs. Miriam Study, Grade Three; Mrs. Dessa Herring, Mrs. Eva P. Sentz and Mrs. Jane K. Rhoades, Grade Four; Mrs. Sarah Staub, Miss Verna Culler and Mrs. Myrtle R. Manchey, Grade Five; Mrs. Suzanne Harbach and Mrs. Margaret Lohr, Grade Six; Mrs. Gertrude Renner, special education. John H. Riley is the elementary principal. While the adults toured the classrooms, the children present were shown a movie in the general purpose room of the school. "American Education" was the November program theme.

Plan Xmas Program

Mrs. R. C. Harbaugh, president, conducted the session and gave the heard from Mrs. J. Leslie Yohn, secretary, and Mrs. Beaven F. Hanlon, treasurer. The awards for the PTA membership drive went to the third grade taught by Mrs. Esther Bankert, first, and the first grade taught by Mrs. Naomi Schwartz, second. Mrs. Monroe J. Stavely, chairman of the committee in charge of the recent PTA bake sale, reported that the sale was a success and thanked all who helped in any way with the event.

At the conclusion of the session, refreshments were served by Mrs. Preston L. Myers, Mrs. Joseph Cookson, Mrs. Porter W. Seiwell, Mrs. Mary Bowersox and Mrs. Emanuel Nester.

An inspirational Christmas program will be presented by the Junior High and Senior High Choruses of the Littlestown High School on Tuesday, December 18, in the high school auditorium, and this will be the PTA monthly program. There will be no business period. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Joseph P. Long, Mrs. Monroe J. Stavely, Mrs. Charles E. Tressler, Mrs. Clayton L. Evans and Mrs. Donald C. Feeser.

NEWCOMBE IS NAMED MVP IN NATIONAL LOOP; EDGES MAGLIE

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Pitcher Don Newcombe, whose 27 victories made him the biggest Brooklyn winner in 32 years, was voted today the Most Valuable Player in the National League for 1956 by the Baseball Writers Assn.

The big right-hander edged out his mound mate Sal Maglie by a scant 40 points. Seven players received first-place nominations by 24 voting writers. Five accumulated more than 100 points.

Not since Hank Sauer nosed out Robin Roberts and Joe Black in a three-way battle for the 1952 award has there been such a close race.

The 30-year-old Newcombe, who lost only seven games all season and but two of his last 20 decisions, topped the list with 223 points. His subpar World Series performance — he was knocked out of the box in both starts — did not figure in the balloting.

Aaron Third

Maglie, who won 13 games including a no-hitter while losing only five after joining the Dodgers in mid-May, was second with 183 points. Then came Milwaukee's Hank Aaron, 146, and Warren Spahn, 126. Junior Gilliam, another Dodger, rounded out the first five with 103 points.

In all, 32 players received recognition, 11 of them pitchers. Eight Dodgers were named, but Roy Campanella, who got his third MVP award last year, wasn't among them.

Only one rookie was honored in the voting. He is Frank Robinson the Redlegs' slugging left fielder, who placed seventh with 79 points. Pee Wee Reese of the Dodgers was eighth; Stan Musial, the St. Louis' Cardinals' all-time great, was ninth; and Duke Snider, also Brooklyn, was tenth.

Greatest Season

Roy McMillan, Cincinnati shortstop, was sixth with 96 points.

Newcombe, who weighs 230 pounds 6-4, enjoyed by far his greatest season. In registering his third 20-game season, he racked up the most victories by a Dodger pitcher since Dazzy Vance won 28 in 1924. Don started 36 games and completed 18. He turned in five shutouts and finished fifth in earned runs with a 3.09 mark. His only two defeats after June 17 were a 1-0 loss to Johnny Antonelli and the Giants and a setback to Robin Roberts and the Phillies when Sandy Amoros dropped a fly ball.

DEL ENNIS IS TRADED BY PHILS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Del Ennis, traded to the St. Louis Cardinals for less age and more speed in deal about as matter of factly as Rip Repulski, is looking at the deal about as matter of factly as the Philadelphia Phillies. "That's baseball," he says.

If you put it on the black board, Ennis plus an unknown for Repulski and Bobby Morgan, a utility infielder, comes out by the Phillies' figuring to at least three years difference and more times on base.

And yesterday's trade of the 31-year-old outfielder and an unnamed minor league player for the two Cardinals may be one of a series.

General Manager Roy Hamey, who put his head together with General Manager Frank Lane of St. Louis on this one, has already indicated he'll barter to the hilt in an effort to pull the Phillies from the National League's second division.

"Naturally, the guy in the deal for us was Repulski," said Hamey. Repulski, also an outfielder, is 28 and that, says Hamey, "is a big thing."

Among the players new Chicago Cub manager Bob Sheffing will have in spring training in 1957 are Gene Fodge, Bob Speake and Jim Bolger. They played for him at Los Angeles last season.

Cage Clinic Monday For School Coaches

Bob Davies, head basketball coach at Gettysburg College, will conduct a free clinic for high school basketball coaches next Monday at 8 p.m. in Gettysburg's Eddie Plank Memorial Gymnasium. The topic for the clinic, to which only high school and junior high school coaches are invited, will be "Teaching-Man-for-Man Defense."

In announcing the clinic, Davies, former Seton Hall All-American and Rochester Royal great, said that "although many high school coaches use the zone defense, the man-for-man fundamentals to be dealt with in the clinic will be very effective and beneficial in teaching the zone defense."

SOWELL NAMES COURTNEY AS MEDAL WINNER

MELBOURNE (AP)—Arnie Sowell, the feather striding Pittsburgh half-miler, thinks the Olympic gold medal for the 800-meter run won't necessarily go to the fastest man but to the strongest runner. And he named teammate Tom Courtney of Livingston, N.J., as the man to beat.

"It's a great field, and the race calls for three tough races in four days. It's going to take a strong runner to win," said the lean 21-year-old.

Arnie, who had just loped a 50.8 quarter over the grass of the Preston football field, wouldn't predict what time he could make, but declared, "I'm in great shape and ready. I'm fully recovered from the ankle injury of last summer."

Will Follow Pace

He had shown that by winning the half mile in 1:94.3 and the mile in 4:11.3 at Geelong last Wednesday.

"The winner's time could be slow," said the 5-10 135-pounder. "It depends on who sets the pace. Audun Boysen (Norway) might go off like a rabbit and we would have to go with him."

Sowell said he would prefer to follow the pace than set it because "you have an advantage in laying back and picking the spot for your kick."

Courtney, a 6-2, 180-pounder, is a power runner who turned in a 1:46.4 while edging Sowell in the Olympic trials. Arnie was timed in 1:46.9.

FAVOR CHESTNUT

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Fourth-ranking Ike Chestnut of New York rules a 10-7 choice over Los Angeles' Irish Tommy Bain in their nationally televised 10-round featherweight scrap tonight at the Legion Stadium. The bout will be carried over the ABC network at 7 p.m. Pacific Standard Time.

LAFAYETTE CO-CAPTAINS

EASTON, Pa. (AP) — Jack Slotter, of Quakerstown, a back, and Bob Burcin of Tamaqua, a guard, have been elected permanent co-captains of the 1956 Lafayette College football team.

Lafayette does not have a regular captain for the season. Coach Steve Hokuf appoints an acting captain for each game and the squad elects a permanent captain before the final game of the season with Lehigh.

Both Slotter and Burcin are seniors and played on Lafayette football teams for three seasons.

End Dave Middleton caught 44 passes for 653 yards as a rookie with the Detroit Lions in 1955.

Gets Big Virginia Buck

Ronald E. Guise, 60 E. Middle St., is shown with the 205-pound, 13-point buck he shot Monday near Waterlick, Va. Guise, accompanied by Harry Kuhn, Highland Ave., went to Virginia Sunday for the deer season there. It was their first trip to Virginia for the deer season. Guise, a state employe at Harrisburg, has shot seven bucks in prior years while hunting in Pennsylvania. (Times Photo)

LIONS GOAD FOR CLASH WITH PITT

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — The Penn State Lions will depend on a versatile offense and a stout defense in its bid for a win Saturday against Pittsburgh in Pitt Stadium.

The Lions will be gunning for their seventh win against two losses for the season when they play their closing game against the western Pennsylvania eleven.

Players and coaches — looking hard at Penn State for an explanation of their surprising victories this year—agree almost to a man that "fundamental football" has brought most of the success to the Nittany Lions.

Coach Rip Engle of Penn State is the first to admit that "nothing pays off better than a sound offense and a sound defense, executed by sound operatives."

BOLTS TO OPEN ON DECEMBER 4

WEST CHESTER, CIRCUIT CHAMP

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — West Chester, undefeated in four Pennsylvania State Teachers Colleges Football Conference games, reigns as 1956 champion of the 14-team circuit.

West Chester completed the season with 225 rating points computed on the basis of won-lost records and caliber of opposition.

East Stroudsburg, with a 6 - 1 record, finished in second place with 213 points. Rounding out the standings are Indiana (200 points), Slippery Rock (200), Shippensburg (188), Lock Haven (167), Edinboro (150), Clarion (140), Millersville (107), Kutztown (100), Bloomsburg (100), California (93), Mansfield (80), and Cheyney (62).

Jack Connor of Shippensburg set a conference record by scoring 11 touchdowns and two conversions for a total of 68 points. George Dintiman of Lock Haven scored 24 points on four touchdowns for a single game record.

MAXWELL AWARD FOR CAPITANI NEXT MONDAY

FRANK CAPITANI

Gettysburg' Frank Capitani, hard-running junior fullback from Hershey, was named this week as the Philadelphia Maxwell Club Award winner for his outstanding performance in the Bullets' 21-0 victory over Franklin and Marshall last Saturday. Capitani will be honored Monday at the Maxwell Club's weekly luncheon in Philadelphia.

In leading Gettysburg to victory over Franklin and Marshall, Capitani gained three times as much rushing yardage as the entire F&M team by ripping off 174 yards in 25 carries for a 6.7 average. The 5-10, 180-pounder scored two touchdowns on runs of 21 and 40 yards, and played a brilliant defensive game by making 11 unassisted tackles, helping on 16 others and breaking up two Diplomat passes.

Capitani, the East's eighth-best rusher last year with a 7.7 average, led this season's team, which won seven and lost two, in rushing, total offense, punting and pass receiving, and was second in scoring and pass interceptions. His 5.0 rushing average of the 1956 campaign gives him a two-season rushing average of 6.3 yards per carry. In addition to his outstanding play, he is regarded as Gettysburg's best defensive performer.

Accompanying Capitani to Philadelphia on Monday will be head football coach John Yovicsin, Athletic Director Henry T. Bream, and Gettysburg Publicity Director Jim Tarman.

Orioles Announce 1957 Home Games

Baltimore will help officially open the 1957 baseball season in Washington next April 15 when it will meet the Senators at Griffith Stadium. On the following day, Tuesday, April 16, the Orioles will return to Baltimore and meet Boston to launch the 1957 campaign on the home grounds.

Next year's Oriole schedule, as announced today by Jack Dunn III, assistant general manager, will include 47 night games, as compared to 42 in 1956, and will have 72 dates, one more than last year, for the 77 home games. In addition to the 47 night games the Orioles will play day games at Memorial Stadium on 12 Sundays, four Saturdays, six weekdays, Fourth of July and Labor Day On Labor Day, Monday, September 2, the Orioles will meet the New York Yankees in a doubleheader starting at 2 p.m. The Fourth of July game, to start at 1:30 p.m., will be with the Washington Senators.

Iowa Tackle Is AP Lineman Of Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Big Alex Karras, Iowa tackle, was named Associated Press lineman of the week today for his superb play against Ohio State that helped put the Hawkeyes in the Rose Bowl.

The performance of the Gary, Ind. youth in Iowa's 6-0 triumph over the Buckeyes was "outstanding" according to his coach, Forest Evashevski. Alex was shifted to play head on with the OSU center.

"This made him doubly effective," Evashevski said. "He could penetrate from that position and take both sides of the line. He just licked the man playing opposite him. He has exceptional quickness for a 230-pounder."

OREGON STATE NEEDS HOLIDAY WIN FOR BOWL

By DON WEISS
The Associated Press

Oregon State, all set for a New Year's Day date in the Rose Bowl with Iowa, has another holiday matter confronting it tomorrow in one of several traditional Thanksgiving Day college football games.

The Beavers, lacking only the formality of a vote to assure their presence at Pasadena Jan. 1, need a victory over archrival Oregon to clinch their school's second Pacific Coast conference championship in the 41-year history of the league.

Oregon State (6-1) is challenged for the PCC leadership by UCLA (5-1), a Rose Bowl ineligible. Should the Beavers falter, UCLA would be able to lift the championship for the fourth straight year by defeating Southern California Saturday.

A further scrambling — or unscrambling—of the Atlantic Coast Conference's position concerning its Orange Bowl representative could come about in South Carolina's game with Wake Forest.

Pro Game Thursday

There's been renewed interest in the Gamecocks (4-2) and in four-times-beaten Duke (3-1 in ACC competition) since Clemson was mauled by Miami 21-0 last week. Since the conference is not bound to send its champion to the bowl, merely its "most representative team," a good performance by South Carolina could keep the pot boiling. Clemson still leads with a 3-0-1 league record.

Other pairings for the Thanksgiving football menu are Virginia Tech vs. Virginia Military, Penn vs. winless Cornell, Colgate at Brown in a morning game, Miami (Ohio) at Cincinnati, Maryland at North Carolina State, William & Mary at Richmond, Washington & Lee at Washington (Mo.), Colorado A&M at Denver, Idaho at Montana.

For the National Football League enthusiast, there's the annual pro game at Detroit between the Lions and Green Bay Packers.

16th Olympic Games Will Open Thursday At Melbourne Before Capacity Throng Of 110,000

MELBOURNE (AP) — The Duke of Edinburgh opens the 16th Olympic Games tomorrow before a sellout 110,000 and there was hope Melbourne's nasty spring weather would turn to warm sunshine.

The dissension that has plagued the games from the start seems to have melted away amid final preparations for the stately ceremony.

More than 4,000 athletes from 68 nations will complete in 16 sports between now and Dec. 8. Major honors are expected to go to the United States and Russia, with Australia and Hungary vying for third place in the unofficial point standings.

For the past seven years, the Melbourne games have been the center of controversy. At the start they were a political football and preparations went so slowly Avery Brundage, International Olympic Committee president, threatened to move the games to another country. Then, in recent weeks, the troubled situation in the Middle East and Hungary brought the withdrawal of seven nations.

But to the throngs on the gaily decorated streets of Melbourne all this was forgotten today.

The ceremonies, which follow rigid protocol, begin at 3 p.m., Australian time, tomorrow when the Duke of Edinburgh enters the great oval of the Melbourne Cricket Club and service bands play the national anthem.

Parade Of Athletes

Then comes the march of athletes in their uniforms of many colors — with team officials, a total of 5,000 men and women.

As thousands of pigeons are released, the duke reads the simple words that start this great sports festival:

"I declare open the Olympic Games of Melbourne celebrating the 16th Olympiad of the modern era."

Competition Starts Friday

Then comes the dramatic arrival of the Olympic torch that was kindled in Greece and brought by plane to Australia. From Darwin to Melbourne it was carried by 2,830 athletes, each running one mile.

There will be a brief dedication address by the Archbishop of Melbourne and recitation of the Olympic oath, then, after the national anthem, the athletes march out. Actual competition begins at 8 p.m. when Korea meets Nationalist China in basketball. Russia plays Canada in the second game of the evening.

Full-scale competition starts Friday in track and field, fencing, the modern pentathlon, rowing, field hockey, soccer, weightlifting, and boxing.

PIRATES SIGN JOE L. BROWN

PITTSBURGH (AP)—General Manager Joe L. Brown will direct the Pittsburgh Pirates for another year and possibly longer as a reward for his part in the National League club's most successful season in five years.

John Galbreath, Pirate president, announced the signing of Brown yesterday. Salary terms and length of contract were not revealed.

Galbreath expressed hope, however, that Brown would remain with the club for many years, saying:

"This past year was a trying and challenging job for Joe and it proved to be a most successful one. I am very well pleased with the recent progress of the Pirates and the Pittsburgh organization."

Brown, 37, was hired last year to succeed Branch Rickey Sr., who remained with the club as board chairman and advisor. Rickey lauded Brown's retention.

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Pitcher Don Newcombe, whose 27 victories made him the biggest Brooklyn winner in 32 years, was voted today the Most Valuable Player in the National League for 1956 by the Baseball Writers Assn.

The big right-hander edged out his mound mate Sal Maglie by a scant 40 points. Seven players received first-place nominations by 24 voting writers. Five accumulated more than 100 points.

Not since Hank Sauer nosed out Robin Roberts and Joe Black in a three-way battle for the 1952 award has there been such a close race.

The 30-year-old Newcombe, who lost only seven games all season and but two of his last 20 decisions, topped the list with 223 points. His subpar World Series performance — he was knocked out of the box in both starts — did not figure in the balloting.

Aaron Third

Maglie, who won 13 games including a no-hitter while losing only five after joining the Dodgers in mid-May, was second with 183 points. Then came Milwaukee's Hank Aaron, 146, and Warren Spahn, 126. Junior Gilliam, another Dodger, rounded out the first five with 103 points.

In all, 32 players received recognition, 11 of them pitchers. Eight Dodgers were named, but Roy Campanella, who got his third MVP award last year, wasn't among them.

Only one rookie was honored in the voting. He is Frank Robinson the Redlegs' slugging left fielder, who placed seventh with 79 points. Pee Wee Reese of the Dodgers was eighth; Stan Musial, the St. Louis' Cardinals' all-time great, was ninth; and Duke Snider, also Brooklyn, was tenth.

Greatest Season

Roy McMillan, Cincinnati shortstop, was sixth with 96 points.

Newcombe, who weighs 230 pounds 6-4, enjoyed by far his greatest season. In registering his third 20-game season, he racked up the most victories by a Dodger pitcher since Dazzy Vance won 28 in 1924. Don started 36 games and completed 18. He turned in five shutouts and finished fifth in earned runs with a 3.09 mark. His only two defeats after June 17 were a 1-0 loss to Johnny Antonelli and the Giants and a setback to Robin Roberts and the Phillies when Sandy Amoros dropped a fly ball.

DEL ENNIS IS TRADED BY PHILS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Del Ennis, traded to the St. Louis Cardinals for less age and more speed in deal about as matter of factly as Rip Repulski, is looking at the deal about as matter of factly as the Philadelphia Phillies. "That's baseball," he says.

If you put it on the black board, Ennis plus an unknown for Repulski and Bobby Morgan, a utility infielder, comes out by the Phillies' figuring to at least three years difference and more times on base.

And yesterday's trade of the 31-year-old outfielder and an unnamed minor league player for the two Cardinals may be one of a series.

General Manager Roy Hamey, who put his head together with General Manager Frank Lane of St. Louis on this one, has already indicated he'll barter to the hilt in an effort to pull the Phillies from the National League's second division.

"Naturally, the guy in the deal for us was Repulski," said Hamey. Repulski, also an outfielder, is 28 and that, says Hamey, "is a big thing."

Among the players new Chicago Cub manager Bob Sheffing will have in spring training in 1957 are Gene Fodge, Bob Speake and Jim Bolger. They played for him at Los Angeles last season.

Cage Clinic Monday For School Coaches

Bob Davies, head basketball coach at Gettysburg College, will conduct a free clinic for high school basketball coaches next Monday at 8 p.m. in Gettysburg's Eddie Plank Memorial Gymnasium. The topic for the clinic, to which only high school and junior high school coaches are invited, will be "Teaching-Man-for-Man Defense."

In announcing the clinic, Davies, former Seton Hall All-American and Rochester Royal great, said that "although many high school coaches use the zone defense, the man-for-man fundamentals to be dealt with in the clinic will be very effective and beneficial in teaching the zone defense."

SOWELL NAMES COURTNEY AS MEDAL WINNER

MELBOURNE (AP)—Arnie Sowell, the feather striding Pittsburgh half-miler, thinks the Olympic gold medal for the 800-meter run won't necessarily go to the fastest man but to the strongest runner. And he named teammate Tom Courtney of Livingston, N.J., as the man to beat.

"It's a great field, and the race calls for three tough races in four days. It's going to take a strong runner to win," said the lean 21-year-old.

Arnie, who had just loped a 50.8 quarter over the grass of the Preston football field, wouldn't predict what time he could make, but declared, "I'm in great shape and ready. I'm fully recovered from the ankle injury of last summer."

Will Follow Pace

He had shown that by winning the half mile in 1:94.3 and the mile in 4:11.3 at Geelong last Wednesday.

"The winner's time could be slow," said the 5-10 135-pounder. "It depends on who sets the pace. Audun Boysen (Norway) might go off like a rabbit and we would have to go with him."

Sowell said he would prefer to follow the pace than set it because "you have an advantage in laying back and picking the spot for your kick."

Courtney, a 6-2, 180-pounder, is a power runner who turned in a 1:46.4 while edging Sowell in the Olympic trials. Arnie was timed in 1:46.9.

FAVOR CHESTNUT

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Fourth-ranking Ike Chestnut of New York rules a 10-7 choice over Los Angeles' Irish Tommy Bain in their nationally televised 10-round featherweight scrap tonight at the Legion Stadium. The bout will be carried over the ABC network at 7 p.m. Pacific Standard Time.

LAFAYETTE CO-CAPTAINS

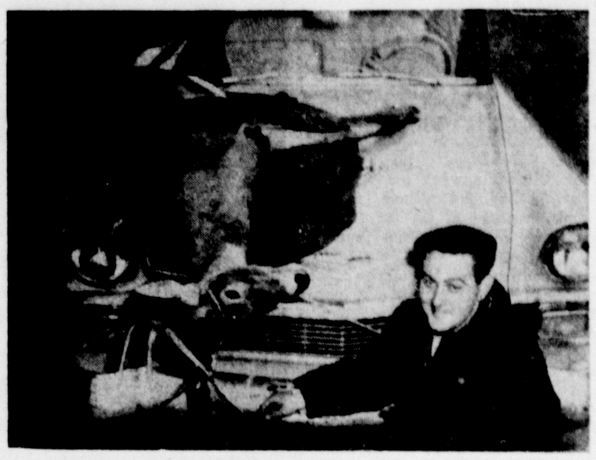

EASTON, Pa. (AP) — Jack Slotter, of Quakerstown, a back, and Bob Burcin of Tamaqua, a guard, have been elected permanent co-captains of the 1956 Lafayette College football team.

Lafayette does not have a regular captain for the season. Coach Steve Hokuf appoints an acting captain for each game and the squad elects a permanent captain before the final game of the season with Lehigh.

Both Slotter and Burcin are seniors and played on Lafayette football teams for three seasons.

End Dave Middleton caught 44 passes for 663 yards as a rookie with the Detroit Lions in 1955.

Ronald E. Guise, 60 E. Middle St., is shown with the 205-pound, 13-point buck he shot Monday near Waterlick, Va. Guise, accompanied by Harry Kuhn, Highland Ave., went to Virginia Sunday for the deer season there. It was their first trip to Virginia for the deer season. Guise, a state employe at Harrisburg, has shot seven bucks in prior years while hunting in Pennsylvania. (Times Photo)

LIONS GOAD FOR CLASH WITH PITT

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — The Penn State Lions will depend on a versatile offense and a stout defense in its bid for a win Saturday against Pittsburgh in Pitt Stadium.

The Lions will be gunning for their seventh win against two losses for the season when they play their closing game against the western Pennsylvania eleven.

Players and coaches — looking hard at Penn State for an explanation of their surprising victories this year—agree almost to a man that "fundamental football" has brought most of the success to the Nittany Lions.

Coach Rip Engle of Penn State is the first to admit that "nothing pays off better than a sound offense and a sound defense, executed by sound operatives."

BOLTS TO OPEN ON DECEMBER 4

WEST CHESTER, CIRCUIT CHAMP

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — West Chester, undefeated in four Pennsylvania State Teachers Colleges Football Conference games, reigns as 1956 champion of the 14-team circuit.

West Chester completed the season with 225 rating points computed on the basis of won-lost records and caliber of opposition.

East Stroudsburg, with a 6 - 1 record, finished in second place with 213 points. Rounding out the standings are Indiana (200 points), Slippery Rock (200), Shippensburg (188), Lock Haven (167), Edinboro (150), Clarion (140), Millersville (107), Kutztown (100), Bloomsburg (100), California (93), Mansfield (80), and Cheyney (62).

Jack Connor of Shippensburg set a conference record by scoring 11 touchdowns and two conversions for a total of 68 points. George Dintiman of Lock Haven scored 24 points on four touchdowns for a single game record.

MAXWELL AWARD FOR CAPITANI NEXT MONDAY

FRANK CAPITANI

Gettysburg' Frank Capitani, hard-running junior fullback from Hershey, was named this week as the Philadelphia Maxwell Club Award winner for his outstanding performance in the Bullets' 21-0 victory over Franklin and Marshall last Saturday. Capitani will be honored Monday at the Maxwell Club's weekly luncheon in Philadelphia.

In leading Gettysburg to victory over Franklin and Marshall, Capitani gained three times as much rushing yardage as the entire F&M team by ripping off 174 yards in 25 carries for a 6.7 average. The 5-10, 180-pounder scored two touchdowns on runs of 21 and 40 yards, and played a brilliant defensive game by making 11 unassisted tackles, helping on 16 others and breaking up two Diplomat passes.

Capitani, the East's eighth-best rusher last year with a 7.7 average, led this season's team, which won seven and lost two, in rushing, total offense, punting and pass receiving, and was second in scoring and pass interceptions. His 5.0 rushing average of the 1956 campaign gives him a two-season rushing average of 6.3 yards per carry. In addition to his outstanding play, he is regarded as Gettysburg's best defensive performer.

Accompanying Capitani to Philadelphia on Monday will be head football coach John Yovicsin, Athletic Director Henry T. Bream, and Gettysburg Publicity Director Jim Tarman.

Orioles Announce 1957 Home Games

Baltimore will help officially open the 1957 baseball season in Washington next April 15 when it will meet the Senators at Griffith Stadium. On the following day, Tuesday, April 16, the Orioles will return to Baltimore and meet Boston to launch the 1957 campaign on the home grounds.

Next year's Oriole schedule, as announced today by Jack Dunn III, assistant general manager, will include 47 night games, as compared to 42 in 1956, and will have 72 dates, one more than last year, for the 77 home games. In addition to the 47 night games the Orioles will play day games at Memorial Stadium on 12 Sundays, four Saturdays, six weekdays, Fourth of July and Labor Day. On Labor Day, Monday, September 2, the Orioles will meet the New York Yankees in a doubleheader starting at 2 p.m. The Fourth of July game, to start at 1:30 p.m., will be with the Washington Senators.

Iowa Tackle Is AP Lineman Of Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Big Alex Karras, Iowa tackle, was named Associated Press lineman of the week today for his superb play againnt Ohio State that helped put the Hawkeyes in the Rose Bowl.

The performance of the Gary, Ind. youth in Iowa's 6-0 triumph over the Buckeyes was "outstanding" according to his coach, Forest Evashevski. Alex was shifted to play head on with the OSU center.

"This made him doubly effective," Evashevski said. "He could penetrate from that position and take both sides of the line. He just licked the man playing opposite him. He has exceptional quickness for a 230-pounder."

OREGON STATE NEEDS HOLIDAY WIN FOR BOWL

By DON WEISS
The Associated Press

Oregon State, all set for a New Year's Day date in the Rose Bowl with Iowa, has another holiday matter confronting it tomorrow in one of several traditional Thanksgiving Day college football games.

The Beavers, lacking only the formality of a vote to assure their presence at Pasadena Jan. 1, need a victory over archrival Oregon to clinch their school's second Pacific Coast conference championship in the 41-year history of the league.

Oregon State (6-1) is challenged for the PCC leadership by UCLA (5-1), a Rose Bowl ineligible. Should the Beavers falter, UCLA would be able to lift the championship for the fourth straight year by defeating Southern California Saturday.

A further scrambling — or unscrambling—of the Atlantic Coast Conference's position concerning its Orange Bowl representative could come about in South Carolina's game with Wake Forest.

Pro Game Thursday

There's been renewed interest in the Gamecocks (4-2) and in four-times-beaten Duke (3-1 in ACC competition) since Clemson was mauled by Miami 21-0 last week. Since the conference is not bound to send its champion to the bowl, merely its "most representative team," a good performance by South Carolina could keep the pot boiling. Clemson still leads with a 3-0-1 league record.

Other pairings for the Thanksgiving football menu are Virginia Tech vs. Virginia Military, Penn vs. winless Cornell, Colgate at Brown in a morning game, Miami (Ohio) at Cincinnati, Maryland at North Carolina State, William & Mary at Richmond, Washington & Lee at Washington (Mo.), Colorado A&M at Denver, Idaho at Montana.

For the National Football League enthusiast, there's the annual pro game at Detroit between the Lions and Green Bay Packers.

16th Olympic Games Will Open Thursday At Melbourne Before Capacity Throng Of 110,000

MELBOURNE (AP) — The Duke of Edinburgh opens the 16th Olympic Games tomorrow before a sellout 110,000 and there was hope Melbourne's nasty spring weather would turn to warm sunshine.

The dissension that has plagued the games from the start seems to have melted away amid final preparations for the stately ceremony.

More than 4,000 athletes from 68 nations will complete in 16 sports between now and Dec. 8. Major honors are expected to go to the United States and Russia, with Australia and Hungary vying for third place in the unofficial point standings.

For the past seven years, the Melbourne games have been the center of controversy. At the start they were a political football and preparations went so slowly Avery Brundage, International Olympic Committee president, threatened to move the games to another country. Then, in recent weeks, the troubled situation in the Middle East and Hungary brought the withdrawal of seven nations.

But to the throngs on the gaily decorated streets of Melbourne all this was forgotten today.

The ceremonies, which follow rigid protocol, begin at 3 p.m., Australian time, tomorrow when the Duke of Edinburgh enters the great oval of the Melbourne Cricket Club and service bands play the national anthem.

Parade Of Athletes

Then comes the march of athletes in their uniforms of many colors — with team officials, a total of 5,000 men and women.

As thousands of pigeons are released, the duke reads the simple words that start this great sports festival:

"I declare open the Olympic Games of Melbourne celebrating the 16th Olympiad of the modern era."

Competition Starts Friday

Then comes the dramatic arrival of the Olympic torch that was kindled in Greece and brought by plane to Australia. From Darwin to Melbourne it was carried by 2,830 athletes, each running one mile.

There will be a brief dedication address by the Archbishop of Melbourne and recitation of the Olympic oath, then, after the national anthem, the athletes march out. Actual competition begins at 8 p.m. when Korea meets Nationalist China in basketball. Russia plays Canada in the second game of the evening.

Full-scale competition starts Friday in track and field, fencing, the modern pentathlon, rowing, field hockey, soccer, weightlifting, and boxing.

PIRATES SIGN JOE L. BROWN

PITTSBURGH (AP)—General Manager Joe L. Brown will direct the Pittsburgh Pirates for another year and possibly longer as a reward for his part in the National League club's most successful season in five years.

John Galbreath, Pirate president, announced the signing of Brown yesterday. Salary terms and length of contract were not revealed.

Galbreath expressed hope, however, that Brown would remain with the club for many years, saying:

"This past year was a trying and challenging job for Joe and it proved to be a most successful one. I am very well pleased with the recent progress of the Pirates and the Pittsburgh organization."

Brown, 37, was hired last year to succeed Branch Rickey Sr., who remained with the club as board chairman and advisor. Rickey lauded Brown's retention.

DeChant, pastor emeritus of the church, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Edgar F. Hoffmeier, the pastor.

An interesting feature of the marriage was the fact that the bride wore the same ivory taffeta wedding gown in which her mother was attired at her wedding to the late John A Sheely in 1903. The ceremony was performed on the anniversary of her mother's wedding, and also the anniversary of the marriage of the bride's maternal grandparents in 1861.

A brief program preliminary to the banquet consisted of the introduction of Judge D. P. McPherson as toastmaster by Major O G. MacPherson of the Sons of Veterans Reserves, chairman of the committee.

The banquet was to commemorate the dedication of the National cemetery here and the delivery of Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

Today's Talk

ON ACCUMULATING ENERGY

We all know it is energy that runs the world. Through machines, engines, and endless useful things that electricity serves, as well as many other forms of fuel, energy is created. It is because of the energy of men that so much in the world has been accomplished.

How often we have been admonished to save our energy, to store it, then rest that it may be made greater and to serve in larger measure. Stored in an athlete is an abundance of energy. But it must be conserved for the important events.

By worrying, idleness, and bitterness we empty this choice and precious thing that we term energy. It leaves us for no purpose. We even shrink in health and well-being when we refuse to honor this God-given energy and waste it as of no account. How inspiring is that one with great energy and who makes it a point to inspire others with it, while there are others who walk among us with this wonderful substance leaking from their minds and efforts without doing any good for anyone.

Think of the energy that the sun distributes all over the earth. We should be thankful to God for having created it to bless mankind. The mind is full of energy, and as it is fed increasing knowledge its generosity carries on and keeps increasing itself. We should store all the energy possible, for without it there remains to people hardly the factor of hope.

Just think of the energy that is lost through hate, fear and bitterness. Then just imagine that flood of energy that flows from every part of the human body, through the brain and heart, as well as every single heart-beat! The energy of the human heart is amazing. God created it as his masterpiece. It should be treated with the utmost kindness!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Franklin's Whistle."

THANKSGIVING

Lord, we are grateful, one and all,
For every blessing through the year.
The grownups and the children small
Together at the table here
We thank Thee for our daily bread,
The strength for every task we face;
With gratitude we bow the head
And speak to Thee a simple grace.

Lord, make us worthy of Thy love
And in Thy service keep us strong.
May every room and roof above
Be gay with laughter and with song.
Dwell with us in the home we keep—
Your house and ours we'd have it be.
Guard us through wakefulness and sleep
And every day of every year.

Forgive our failures, Lord, we pray
And change to care our selfish greed.
To do Thy will from day to day
Bestow on us the help we need.
Grant us to know the right from wrong,
The true from false when they appear,
And may our faith be always strong

ROTARIANS AND LADIES ATTEND ANNUAL DINNER

The annual Thanksgiving dinner was enjoyed by the Littlestown Rotarians and their Rotary Anns and several guests on Tuesday evening in the Kingsdale Fire Company Hall, along the Littlestown-Taneytown Rd. A full course turkey dinner was served to approximately 75 persons present. Prior to the meal, the invocation was offered by the Rev. David S. Kammerer, a member of the club

Andrew S. Beshore, Harrisburg, orator, traveler and humorist, was guest speaker for the occasion, using as his theme "The House That Love Built." The speaker, who was strickened with polio at the age of 18 months, praised the work and encouraging functions of the Rotary International program for crippled children. Mr. Beshore was introduced by Carl F. Hermann, acting chairman of the community srevice committee, in charge of the evening's program.

L. Robert Snyder, chairman of the music committee, announced that an illustrated lecture on the federal highway program will be presented at the club meeting next Tuesday, 6:15 p.m., at Schottie's Hotel. Assisting Mr. Snyder on the music committee with program arrangements are George P. Smith and the Rev. David S Kammerer

Following the club meeting last evening, the Rotarians and Rotary Anns were the guests of Mr and Mrs. Carl F. Hermann, owners and managers of the Towne Theater, to see the showing of the feature "The Power and the Pride."

A Christmas party will be featured at the next meeting of the Loyalty Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church on Monday, December 3, 7:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Luther W. Ritter, Glenwyn Drive. Each member is asked to take a $1 gift for exchange.

A birthday and pre-Thanksgiving turkey dinner was held on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Shfader, E. King St., in honor of her mother, Mrs. Jennie Boose, who observed her 73rd birthday. Present in addition to Mrs. Boose were her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Willet, Hanover; Mrs. John Bucher, Mr. and Mrs. George Honeycutt and children, Gene, Barbara, Judy and David, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shrader and children, Larry and Brenda, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bowman and daughter, Joyce, and Mr. and Mrs. Shrader.

Miss Elizabeth Anne Crouse, a second year student at the Pennsylvania State University, State College, arrives today to spend the Thanksgiving vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd E. Crouse, Lumber St.

PTA Meeting, Open House

An open house was featured at Rolling Acres Elementary School on Tuesday evening immediately following a brief business meeting of the Littlestown Jointure Parent Teachers' Association. R. Edward Newman, chairman of the evening's program committee, welcomed the large number of parents and friends and invited them to visit with the elementary teachers in their classrooms. Displays of the pupils' work were arranged for inspection. The teaching staff was present to be interviewed and included: Mrs. Naomi C. Schwartz, Mrs. Gertrude Knouse, Mrs. Maria L. Seiwell and Mrs. Martha Knechel, Grade One; Mrs. Marion Ecker, Mrs. Marion Richter and Mrs. Geraldine B. Redding, Grade Two; Mrs. Esther R. Bankert, Mrs. Irene Jones, Mrs. Oneida Hughes and Mrs. Miriam Study, Grade Three; Mrs. Dessa Herring, Mrs. Eva P. Sentz and Mrs. Jane K. Rhoades, Grade Four; Mrs. Sarah Staub, Miss Verna Culler and Mrs. Myrtle R. Manchey, Grade Five; Mrs. Suzanne Harbach and Mrs. Margaret Lohr, Grade Six. Mrs Gertrude Renner, special education. John H. Riley is the elementary principal. While the adults toured the classrooms, the children present were shown a movie in the general purpose room of the school "American Education" was the November program theme.

Plan Xmas Program

Mrs. R. C Harbaugh, president, conducted the session and gave the report from Mrs. J. Leslie Yohn, secretary, and Mrs. Beaven F. Hanlon, treasurer. The awards for the PTA membership drive went to the third grade taught by Mrs. Esther Bankert, first, and the first grade taught by Mrs. Naomi Schwartz, second. Mrs. Monroe J. Stavely, chairman of the committee in charge of the recent PTA bake sale, reported that the sale was a success and thanked all who helped in any way with the event.

At the conclusion of the session, refreshments were served by Mrs. Preston L. Myers, Mrs. Joseph Cookson, Mrs. Porter W. Seiwell, Mrs. Mary Bowersox and Mrs. Emanuel Nester.

An inspirational Christmas program will be presented by the Junior High and Senior High Choruses of the Littlestown High School on Tuesday, December 18, in the high school auditorium, and this will be the PTA monthly program. There will be no business period. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Joseph P. Long, Mrs. Monroe J. Stavely, Mrs. Charles E. Tressler, Mrs. Clayton L. Evans and Mrs. Donald C. Feeser.

Congratulates Times For Citation

November 17, 1956

My dear Editor:

I am here in Washington reading Friday's edition of your paper, and am hurrying to tell you how delighted I am with the Citation awarded THE TIMES and your good self by The Associated Press and the Managing Editors' Association. My heartiest and sincerest congratulations!

Having had a good deal to do with contracts and related documents I've acquired a habit of always looking for fine print, and this prompts my only criticism of the award.

I've said it before to friends and in these columns, and I'll say it again, that the name Paul L. Roy and THE GETTYSBURG TIMES are synonymous, and the Citation, in my judgment, should have carried both in the same size type.

Times readers should bear in mind, too, your very efficient staff of co-workers. Your entire organization, in efficiency and enterprise, compares favorably with those of many larger town newspapers.

William Allen White, distinguished Editor of the Emporia (Kansas) Gazette, many of whose talents and characteristics you possess, would have gotten a kick out of this award. His was a small town paper also, but he knew how to get recognition for both it and himself far beyond the confines of Emporia and Kansas.

Again, Congratulations! And more power to THE TIMES, yourself, and your fine organization.

Sincerely,
LEIGHTON C. TAYLOR

JAYCEES WILL SELL CAKES THIS EVENING

Members of the Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce will conduct a house-to-house canvass of the community this evening, selling fruit cakes. The three-pound cakes are $3 each. The Jaycees will meet at 6:30 p.m. at Schottie's Hotel to begin their canvass.

President Albert J. Bair presided at the semi-monthly dinner meeting of the chapter held Monday evening at Schottie's. Plans were made for the members and their Jayceettes to attend the ice follies in Hershey next Saturday evening, November 28. Paul E. Hilterbrick Jr. reported on the recent regional meeting which he attended at Carlisle. It was announced that a public safety committee will be appointed in the near future. A report was heard from Thomas E. Craig, secretary. The Jaycees will meet again on Monday, December 3, at Schottie's.

Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold a dance for members and their guests on Friday night from 9 p.m. until after midnight, at Bankert's, N. Queen St. Music will be provided by Pat Patterson and his orchestra, Hanover. The committee on arrangements includes Earl J. Weaver, Charles F. Bridinger and Malcolm Harner.

Clarence L. Schwartz Sr., Littlestown postmaster, has announced that no window service will be offered at the local post office tomorrow and there will be no regular deliveries. However, perishables and special deliveries will be taken to their destinations.

Most Stores Closing

A majority of the community stores will be closed all day on Thanksgiving Day and will reopen for business at the regular hour on Friday morning.

Students of the local schools began their Thanksgiving vacation, when Rolling Acres Elementary School, Littlestown Junior-Senior High School and St. Aloysius Parochial School all dismissed at 1:45 o'clock this afternoon. Classes will be resumed at the regular hour on Monday morning.

A public party will be held by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Littlestown Aerie 2226, on Friday, starting at 8 p.m. at the FOE Home, W. King St. Prizes will be given and refreshments will be available.

A high mass will be celebrated in St. Aloysius Catholic Church on Thanksgiving Day at 8 a.m. by the pastor, the Rev. Fr. William A. Boyle.

Largest number of visitors to Turkey today are those from the United States and Greece.

Volunteer Firemen End 2-Day Walkout

SCRANTON, Pa (AP) — Members of a Duryea borough volunteer fire company ended a two-day walkout yesterday after being assured of an immediate $750 maintenance allowance and a similar amount next month

The strike was called by the Germania Fire Co. Germania and the Excelsiors, the borough's other volunteer company, had asked for $1,000 for maintenance. The Excelsiors also threatened to quit during the controversy.

Only one alarm was sounded during the strike and the members of the Germania company joined the Excelsiors in fighting the blaze

FREE SEGREGATIONIST

CLINTON, Tenn (AP) — Segregationist John Kasper has been freed of charges growing out of rioting over racial integration of Clinton High School

Kasper, 27-year-old executive secretary of the Seaboard White Citizens Council at Washington, D.C., broke into a broad smile when the jury announced the verdict. The all-male jury deliberated 45 minutes.

Kasper had been charged by the state with sedition and inciting to riot because of his activities against the admission of 12 Negroes to Clinton High School under a federal court order Aug. 27.

Dog Of Year Has Patch On Heart

BOSTON (AP)—Dog of the Year — selected by the National Society of Medical Research — is a black and white mongrel with a plastic patch on his heart.

Dr. Paul Dudley White, President Eisenhower's heart consultant, yesterday placed a silver collar on the 44-pound mutt, named Airplane, at the Children's Medical Center.

He was aided by 4-year-old Joanne McLaughlin, who only a week ago underwent a heart operation made possible by surgical research on Airplane's heart.

Two Men Killed In Auto-Truck Crash

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—An automobile carrying four Scranton men home from their jobs in Endicott, N.Y., collided with a truck yesterday. Two were killed and two were injured.

Dead were William Jackson, 40, and Thomas Ritchie, 50. Fred Hawkins, 21, and Anthony Shiveck, 38, were hospitalized. All four worked for the Giles Drilling Co in Endicott.

The truckdriver, Howard Mandone, 29, of Binghamton, N.Y., was unhurt.

TEACHER, PUPIL MEET IN COURT

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 76-year-old retired Brackenridge school teacher and a judge she taught in the eighth grade will be working together again this week in an Allegheny County Criminal Courtroom.

Miss Cornelia Thompson, the teacher, appeared in court for jury duty yesterday. She saw a familiar face — visiting Judge Harry B. Crytzer of Juniata and Perry Counties.

"Old School Teacher"

"Don't you know who I am," she asked the startled jurist. "I'm your old school teacher from Brackenridge."

Judge Crytzer, his wife, and Miss Thompson had a impromptu reunion.

Miss Thompson said the judge was one of her smartest pupils when he graduated from the eighth grade in 1916. Judge Crytzer served as sports coach at New Kensington High School in 1927 and 1928. He now lives in New Bloomfield, Perry County.

NO MONKEY BUSINESS

ROCHESTER, Mich. (AP) — Lola, a monkey in a pharmaceutical company laboratory, snatched a paycheck from a workman's pocket and ate the signature.

The company sympathetically heard the story from the laboratory worker, and issued him a duplicate check.

HER BEAUTY is reflected in her exquisite Christmas compact, and enhanced by other treasured gifts: rhinestone choker with matching earrings and twin bracelets, a pale stone ring and dress-up watch.

Says Outlook For Farmer Good In '57

HARRISBURG (AP) — An official of the American Farm Bureau Federation said he feels the 1957 outlook for the American farmer is "good."

"The years 1956 and 1957 are years of caution—not panic—for the American farmers," said Dr. Kenneth M. Hood, assistant secretary of the federation.

"The markets for farm products in 1957 should remain strong and the overall outlook is good," he added last night in an address before the 6th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Farmers' Assn.

"BRIT" ROTH AT 95 WRITES HIS NEWS COLUMNS

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP) — For newspaperman "Brit" Roth, this Thanksgiving has the added fillip of being his birthday.

He will be 95 tomorrow. And today is just another day on the job.

Brit—short for Britain—started in newspapering in 1880 as a printer. Nowadays, he writes three columns a week for the Allentown Evening Chronicle, mostly reminiscences of the old times in this northeastern Pennsylvania city.

Photographic Memory

Between the old times and the present, Roth (rhymes with "growth") has seen a lot of history go by. His Chronicle colleagues say his memory is pretty nearly photographic.

"When I was a young printer down on Park Row in New York, I remember seeing P. T. Barnum at Madison Square Garden, when it was in the old horsecar shed just off Union Square at 14th Street and Broadway," he recalls.

Many of the veteran newsman's stories concern New York in the 1880s. He saw John L. Sullivan fight Tug Wilson of England in New York.

Remembers Presidents

He recalls seeing Presidents James Garfield and Chester Arthur standing on the portico of the old Fifth Avenue Hotel. And as a lad in school in Albany, N. Y., he met the then-governor, Grover Cleveland. He and another boy were roaming about the New York State Capitol when they saw the governor in his office. They stared.

"Don't look in, come in," said Cleveland, and they did.

Roth cast his first presidential vote for Cleveland when the Democrat ran for the presidency, but he's voted Republican ever since.

After leaving New York, Roth worked on the Atlanta Constitution, the Cincinnati Times-Star and the Philadelphia Inquirer. Then he came back home to Allentown and became a Chronicle reporter. He's still at it.

"Nowadays, they retire you at 65. Heck, I'm 30 years past that," he chuckles.

Unmarked Police Cars Are Opposed

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Motor Federation today is pledged to "vigorously oppose" the use of unmarked police cars in traffic law enforcement.

The group voted the opposition in one of several resolutions adopted yesterday by its ways and means committee.

The group also reaffirmed its opposition to the use of radar in traffic law enforcement.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Gov. Leader has advised a Philadelphia educator that he has ordered a statewide survey of desegregation in Pennsylvania's public schools.

Floyd L. Logan, president of the Philadelphia Educational Equality League, said Tuesday the governor had written him of his intention.

Logan said the state school code prohibits any distinction because of race, creed or color and hence is in conformity with the decision of the U.S. Supreme Court, banning segregation in public schools.

"Tin Lizzie" may have been a humorous nickname for the early motor cars. But automobiles are now a boost for the tin industry in that two billion motor oil cans were used in 1955.

HOSIERY, ALWAYS A HAPPY CHOICE for Yuletide gifting, combines the feminine frivolity she loves with the practicality she insists upon. Fashion-wise hose are available this season in many styles and shades. Suggested here, seamless stockings—by Hanes.

SOIL BANK PLAN BEFORE GRANGE

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — The National Grange today tackled its biggest order of business—the national farm problems, including the soil bank which reportedly created a storm in the resolutions committee.

The report of the committee went to the floor on the final day of the Grange's 90th national convention. It appeared the report would be approved by the 70 delegates.

The report gave tacit approval to the soil bank—though no praise.

It urged substitution of a two-piece system for the current method of price support farm produce.

It called for use of farm surpluses to aid drought-stricken farmers in the same way they are used to help the needy abroad.

It asked that a commodity-by-commodity approach be used in attacking farm problems and that the system of parity as a yardstick for farm price supports be thoroughly overhauled.

Yesterday, Miles Horst, assistant to U. S. Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson arrived at the convention. A grange spokesman said he had been invited and would "clarify" the soil bank for the committee members.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A downtown night club was damaged by fire early Tuesday as 50 patrons were chased to the street and a young woman dancer was trapped temporarily in a second floor dressing room.

James Bittaro, 48, manager of the Le Bon Bon Club at 13th and Locust Sts., was burned slightly as he rescued dancer Adele Young 26.

Cause of the blaze was not learned immediately.

Mike Belloise, one-time featherweight boxing champion, now works in the New York City post office.

REP. WALTER SEES RUSSIANS SHOOT REFUGEE IN HUNGARY

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — A U.S congressman said he saw Russian soldiers shoot down a refugee today on Hungarian soil near the Austrian frontier.

Rep. Francis Walter (D-Pa.), here to survey the U.S. aid program for Hungarian refugees, told newsmen he witnessed the incident while on a trip to the Hungarian-Austrian frontier with Lt. Gen. Joseph M. Swing, U.S. commissioner of immigration and naturalization; and John V. Lindsay, executive assistant to the U.S. attorney general.

Walter's account coincided with statements by refugees of trainloads of countrymen being deported to Russia. This was made in the face of protestations from the Sooviet-controlled Budapest radio that there have been no deportations, and promises that Russian troops will turn over all arrested Hungarians to the regime of Premier Janos Kadar for trial.

Heard Shooting

Walter said he was actually walking on Hungarian territory some distance from the first Hungarian checkpoint when he heard shooting and saw a man running. The man was running beside a small canal about 100 yards from the congressman. Soldiers were firing at him.

Walter said he saw the man fall down the canal bank as though he had been shot. Refugees who came across the border later told him the soldiers were Russians, he said.

Gen. Swing also heard the shooting and saw people running, he said.

Trip With Newsmen

Walter, Swing and Lindsay made the trip to the border with Western newsmen.

They motored from Vienna to the swamp region near Lake Neusiedlersee, where the border refugees came across a narrow bridge spanning a canal which forms the border there. Machinegun and rifle shots and the rattling of tanks were heard.

For 30 minutes, Hungarian soldiers stopped refugees on the bridge and checked their papers. They told youngsters among them to "go back to Budapest." But after 30 minutes the soldiers gave up and the stream across the border resumed.

Austrians Helpful

Last night, refugees — men, women and children—jumped into the icy water of the canal when passage over the bridge seemed too slow. They were sped on to warm shelter by helpful Austrians.

Radio Budapest held to the Soviet line in its broadcasts.

The broadcasting station of Premier Janos Kadar's Soviet-installed regime, which told of the deportations Nov. 13, has maintained in recent days that no Hungarian citizens were shipped out of the country by the Red army.

Deny Deportations

Soviet and Hungarian representatives at the United Nations also deny the deportations, while the United States says it knows of at least 16,000 persons shipped from Hungary to the East.

Today Budapest radio announced that all Hungarian citizens arrested by Russian troops during Hungary's anti-Communist revolt will be turned over to Hungarian authorities.

The broadcast was regarded here as another attempt of the Kadar government to quiet the Hungarian public, infuriated by the mass deportations to the Soviet Union. It did not say how many persons were held by the Russians.

More Confirmation

Refugees streaming into Austria in ever-increasing numbers added their testimony to earlier accounts of deportations. Many said they fled their homeland to escape a similar fate.

One group of railwaymen said they blew up a railway bridge near the town of Szombathely last week when they learned the Russians were readying a trainload of prisoners for the trip to Russia. The railwaymen said many of the prisoners then escaped through machine-gun fire of Russian guards.

A husband-wife ballet team said they escaped deportation by sheer luck. They are Vera Pasztor, prima ballerina of the Budapest State Opera, and her husband, Ernest Vashegyi, ballet master and solo dancer.

Bribed Sentry

Vashegyi said he was arrested by Russian troops and held with hundreds of other Hungarians in a cellar of Budapest's Western Railway Station. He said he escaped by bribing the Russian sentry with his gold wristwatch.

More than 0,200 refugees crossed the border between 8 p.m. yesterday and 8 a.m. today.

Budapest radio said "armed bandits" are still hidden in the capital, and appealed for the people's help in digging out diehard rebels.

A dispatch from Budapest said that some of the huge Soviet T54 tanks that spearheaded the Nov. 4 crackdown on the Hungarian revolt-for-freedom have disappeared from the capital. They apparently have been replaced by World War II models.

Major industrial areas remained paralyzed by a sitdown strike.

Police in Austria's border of province of Burgenland said the flow of refugees is threatening to get out of hand. Of nearly 50,000 who have crossed the frontier since Oct. 30, only about 8,000 have been moved out of Austria.

Burgenland now has about 6,500 refugees in uncomfortable, temporary camps. Police said five or six 1,000-man convoys were urgently needed to clear out the surplus and make way for newcomers.

At some points Hungarian soldiers were still letting their countrymen into Austria with no more interference than an occasional volley of machinegun fire—into the air.

MOTOR CLUBS WANT REVISION IN PA. PENALTIES

HARRISBURG (AP) — Motor clubs opened a drive today to revise the penalties for lesser offenses in the commonwealth's new system of graduated penalties for highway traffic violations.

The first shot was fired by the Harrisburg AAA Motor Club which sharply attacked what it termed inequities in the system, particularly for arrests on the charge of driving too fast for conditions.

"This category has become a catch-all for traffic arrests," said William E. Miller, the club's general manager. "Yet the first arrest under such circumstances calls for a warning that remains on the record for three years."

He referred to the system whereby a motorist arrested for driving too fast for conditions and a second time perhaps for going through a stop sign could wind up with a three-month suspension for improper passing as the third violation in a three year period.

Deputy Atty. Gen. Malvin Garfinkel said he planned a conference soon with O. D. Shipley, state highway safety director, to work out some revisions.

Garfinkel said the problem has been complicated by a law requiring local police officials to report to the state all local traffic infractions.

Miller said changes are needed in the system "if the careful motorist who unwittingly breaks a traffic law is not to be thrown into the same class with the reckless, habitual violator."

East Berlin

EAST BERLIN — Trinity Lutheran Church School will be at 9:15 on Sunday and the worship service will be at 10:30 a.m. The church reports that the clothing will not be loaded until November 28. This allows another weekend for donations. There is a special need for blankets for beds and layettes which may be brought to the church by next Sunday.

The committee which will conduct the Susquehanna University Appeal in Trinity Lutheran Church will visit the university on December 2, leaving here at 1:30 p.m. Any who wish to go along should notify Charles Gentzler, the chairman.

A congregational meeting for the purpose of adopting a budget for 1957 will be held Sunday at 10:30 a.m. The Every Member visitors will be commissioned in the worship service. The assignments will be made at the "Send-off" in the evening at 7 p.m. The church needs $600 for apportionment, $200 for Lutheran World Action and $345 for the West Penn Inner Mission.

Underground Blasts Reported In Philly

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Four underground explosions blew several manhole covers into the air along a four-block stretch of Walnut Street a one-way west traffic artery yesterday.

There were no injuries. One cover blew high into the air just behind a bus of the Philadelphia Transportation Co. after it passed an intersection.

The blasts occurred along a main line and disrupted street traffic seven hours. Workers for the Philadelphia Electric Co. and the Philadelphia Gas Works said the blasts were fed by a major break in the line. The air in the vicinity reeked with the fumes.

Vehicular and pedestrian traffic was barred from the street until late at night. The stretch of road involved lies east of Broad Street, main north-south artery.

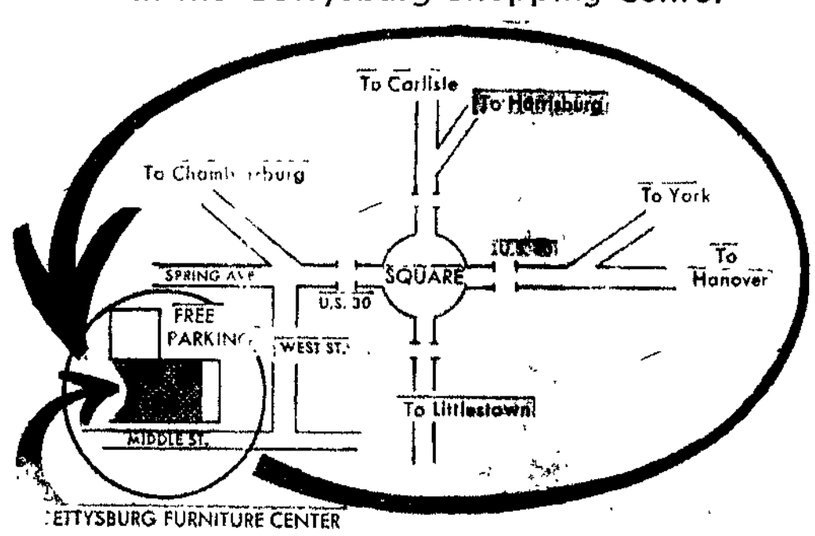

The exact cause of the blasts was not determined. Workers said they believed a spark somehow came from an underground electric cable and touched off the gas.

Si Green, former Duquesne 6 foot 7½ basketball star, is with the Rochester Royals this season. He was the No. 1 choice in the National Basketball Assn. draft.

REP. WALTER SEES RUSSIANS SHOOT REFUGEE IN HUNGARY

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — A U.S. congressman said he saw Russian soldiers shoot down a refugee today on Hungarian soil near the Austrian frontier.

Rep. Francis Walter (D-Pa.), here to survey the U.S. aid program for Hungarian refugees, told newsmen he witnessed the incident while on a trip to the Hungarian-Austrian frontier with Lt. Gen. Joseph M. Swing, U.S. commissioner of immigration and naturalization; and John V. Lindsay, executive assistant to the U.S. attorney general.

Walter's account coincided with statements by refugees of trainloads of countrymen being deported to Russia. This was made in the face of protestations from the Sooviet-controlled Budapest radio that there have been no deportations, and promises that Russian troops will turn over all arrested Hungarians to the regime of Premier Janos Kadar for trial.

Heard Shooting

Walter said he was actually walking on Hungarian territory some distance from the first Hungarian checkpoint when he heard shooting and saw a man running. The man was running beside a small canal about 100 yards from the congressman. Soldiers were firing at him.

Walter said he saw the man fall down the canal bank as though he had been shot. Refugees who came across the border later told him the soldiers were Russians, he said.

Gen. Swing also heard the shooting and saw people running, he said.

Trip With Newsmen

Walter, Swing and Lindsay made the trip to the border with Western newsmen.

They motored from Vienna to the swamp region near Lake Neusiedlersee, where the border refugees came across a narrow bridge spanning a canal which forms the border there. Machinegun and rifle shots and the rattling of tanks were heard.

For 30 minutes, Hungarian soldiers stopped refugees on the bridge and checked their papers. They told youngsters among them to "go back to Budapest." But after 30 minutes the soldiers gave up and the stream across the border resumed.

Austrians Helpful

Last night, refugees — men, women and children—jumped into the icy water of the canal when passage over the bridge seemed too slow. They were sped on to warm shelter by helpful Austrians.

Radio Budapest held to the Soviet line in its broadcasts.

The broadcasting station of Premier Janos Kadar's Soviet-installed regime, which told of the deportations Nov. 13, has maintained in recent days that no Hungarian citizens were shipped out of the country by the Red army.

Deny Deportations

Soviet and Hungarian representatives at the United Nations also deny the deportations, while the United States says it knows of at least 16,000 persons shipped from Hungary to the East.

Today Budapest radio announced that all Hungarian citizens arrested by Russian troops during Hungary's anti-Communist revolt will be turned over to Hungarian authorities.

The broadcast was regarded here as another attempt of the Kadar government to quiet the Hungarian public, infuriated by the mass deportations to the Soviet Union. It did not say how many persons were held by the Russians.

More Confirmation

Refugees streaming into Austria in ever-increasing numbers added their testimony to earlier accounts of deportations. Many said they fled their homeland to escape a similar fate.

One group of railwaymen said they blew up a railway bridge near the town of Szombathely last week when they learned the Russians were readying a trainload of prisoners for the trip to Russia. The railwaymen said many of the prisoners then escaped through machine-gun fire of Russian guards.

A husband-wife ballet team said they escaped deportation by sheer luck. They are Vera Pasztor, prima ballerina of the Budapest State Opera, and her husband, Ernest Vashegyi, ballet master and solo dancer.

Bribed Sentry

Vashegyi said he was arrested by Russian troops and held with hundreds of other Hungarians in a cellar of Budapest's Western Railway Station. He said he escaped by bribing the Russian sentry with his gold wristwatch.

More than 0,200 refugees crossed the border between 8 p.m. yesterday and 8 a.m. today.

Budapest radio said "armed bandits" are still hidden in the capital, and appealed for the people's help in digging out diehard rebels.

A dispatch from Budapest said that some of the huge Soviet T54 tanks that spearheaded the Nov. 4 crackdown on the Hungarian revolt-for-freedom have disappeared from the capital. They apparently have been replaced by World War II models.

Major industrial areas remained paralyzed by a sitdown strike.

Police in Austria's border of province of Burgenland said the flow of refugees is threatening to get out of hand. Of nearly 50,000 who have crossed the frontier since Oct. 30, only about 8,000 have been moved out of Austria.

Burgenland now has about 6,500 refugees in uncomfortable, temporary camps. Police said five or six 1,000-man convoys were urgently needed to clear out the surplus and make way for newcomers.

Two Men Killed In Auto-Truck Crash

SCRANTON, Pa (AP)—An automobile carrying four Scranton men home from their jobs in Endicott, N.Y., collided with a truck yesterday. Two were killed and two were injured.

Dead were William Jackson, 40 and Thomas Ritchie, 50. Fred Hawkins, 21, and Anthony Shiveck, 38, were hospitalized. All four worked for the Giles Drilling Co in Endicott.

The truckdriver, Howard Mandone, 29, of Binghamton, N.Y., was unhurt.

TEACHER, PUPIL MEET IN COURT

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 76-year-old retired Blackenridge school teacher and a judge she taught in the eighth grade will be working together again this week in an Allegheny County Criminal Courtroom.

Miss Cornelia Thompson, the teacher, appeared in court for jury duty yesterday. She saw a familiar face — visiting Judge Harry B Cryitzer of Juniata and Perry Counties.

"Old School Teacher"

"Don't you know who I am," she asked the startled jurist. "I'm your old school teacher from Brackenridge."

Judge Crytzer, his wife, and Miss Thompson had a impromptu reunion.

Miss Thompson said the judge was one of her smartest pupils when he graduated from the eighth grade in 1916. Judge Crytzer served as sports coach at New Kensington High School in 1927 and 1928. He now lives in New Bloomfield, Perry County.

NO MONKEY BUSINESS

ROCHESTER, Mich. (AP) — Lola, a monkey in a pharmaceutical company laboratory, snatched a paycheck from a workman's pocket and ate the signature.

The company sympathetically heard the story from the laboratory worker, and issued him a duplicate check.

HER BEAUTY is reflected in her exquisite Christmas compact, and enhanced by other treasured gifts: rhinestone choker with matching earrings and twin bracelets, a pale stone ring and dress-up watch.

Says Outlook For Farmer Good In '57

HARRISBURG (AP) — An official of the American Farm Bureau Federation said he feels the 1957 outlook for the American farmer is "good."

"The years 1956 and 1957 are years of caution—not panic—for the American farmers," said Dr. Kenneth M. Hood, assistant secretary of the federation.

"The markets for farm products in 1957 should remain strong and the overall outlook is good," he added last night in an address before the 6th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Farmers' Assn.

"BRIT" ROTH AT 95 WRITES HIS NEWS COLUMNS

ALLENTOWN, Pa (AP) — For newspaperman "Brit" Roth, this Thanksgiving has the added fillip of being his birthday.

He will be 95 tomorrow. And today is just another day on the job.

Brit—short for Britain—started in newspapering in 1880 as a printer. Nowadays, he writes three columns a week for the Allentown Evening Chronicle, mostly reminiscences of the old times in this northeastern Pennsylvania city.

Photographic Memory

Between the old times and the present, Roth (rhymes with "growth") has seen a lot of history go by. His Chronicle colleagues say his memory is pretty nearly photographic.

"When I was a young printer down on Park Row in New York, I remember seeing P. T. Barnum at Madison Square Garden, when it was in the old horsecar shed just off Union Square at 14th Street and Broadway," he recalls.

Many of the veteran newsman's stories concern New York in the 1880s. He saw John L. Sullivan fight Tug Wilson of England in New York.

Remembers Presidents

He recalls seeing Presidents James Garfield and Chester Arthur standing on the portico of the old Fifth Avenue Hotel. And as a lad in school in Albany, N. Y., he met the then-governor, Grover Cleveland. He and another boy were roaming about the New York State Capitol when they saw the governor in his office. They stared.

"Don't look in, come in," said Cleveland, and they did.

Roth cast his first presidential vote for Cleveland when the Democrat ran for the presidency, but he's voted Republican ever since.

After leaving New York, Roth worked on the Atlanta Constitution, the Cincinnati Times-Star and the Philadelphia Inquirer. Then he came back home to Allentown and became a Chronicle reporter. He's still at it.

"Nowadays, they retire you at 65. Heck, I'm 30 years past that," he chuckles.

Unmarked Police Cars Are Opposed

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Motor Federation today is pledged to "vigorously oppose" the use of unmarked police cars in traffic law enforcement.

The group voted the opposition in one of several resolutions adopted yesterday by its ways and means committee.

The group also reaffirmed its opposition to the use of radar in traffic law enforcement.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Gov. Leader has advised a Philadelphia educator that he has ordered a statewide survey of desegregation in Pennsylvania's public schools.

Floyd L. Logan, president of the Philadelphia Educational Equality League, said Tuesday the governor had written him of his intention.

Logan said the state school code prohibits any distinction because of race, creed or color and hence is in conformity with the decision of the U.S. Supreme Court, banning segregation in public schools.

"Tin Lizzie" may have been a humorous nickname for the early motor cars. But automobiles are now a boost for the tin industry in that two billion motor oil cans were used in 1955.

SOIL BANK PLAN BEFORE GRANGE

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — The National Grange today tackled its biggest order of business—the national farm problems, including the soil bank which reportedly created a storm in the resolutions committee.

The report of the committee went to the floor on the final day of the Grange's 90th national convention. It appeared the report would be approved by the 70 delegates.

The report gave tacit approval to the soil bank—though no praise.

It urged substitution of a two-piece system for the current method of price support farm produce.

It called for use of farm surpluses to aid drought-stricken farmers in the same way they are used to help the needy abroad.

It asked that a commodity-by-commodity approach be used in attacking farm problems and that the system of parity as a yardstick for farm price supports be thoroughly overhauled.

Yesterday, Miles Horst, assistant to U. S. Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson arrived at the convention. A grange spokesman said he had been invited and would "clarify" the soil bank for the committee members.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A downtown night club was damaged by fire early Tuesday as 50 patrons were chased to the street and a young woman dancer was trapped temporarily in a second floor dressing room.

James Bittaro, 48, manager of the Le Bon Bon Club at 13th and Locust Sts., was burned slightly as he rescued dancer Adele Young 26.

Cause of the blaze was not learned immediately.

Mike Belloise, one-time featherweight boxing champion, now works in the New York City post office.

THANKSGIVING DAY TAKES ON SPIRITUAL CAST

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pennsylvanians celebrate another Thanksgiving time starting today, and outwardly at least there seems to be little variation from the traditional forms.

Bulging turkey dinners, rousing family gatherings, the whooping it up at football games, and, in later years, exciting curtain raiser for Christmas—these are the main stems of the American idiom for the November holiday.

Such festivities will get their full due in the state tomorrow; but a generous sampling of sentiments showed an intensity of serious, even spiritual feelings, not usually associated with what has become pretty much a sportive occasion.

Not since World War II, perhaps, have so many people in this country been so deeply disturbed by the way the worldd is whirling.

Prayer For Refugees

Over the state the customary Thanksgiving Day church services have, as a special mission, prayer and practical help for refugees and other destitute people of central Europe and the Middle East.

Communities as well as churches aim to raise Thanksgiving Day funds for the dispossessed.

Thanksgiving Day opens the yearly world-wide Bible-reading campaign of the American Bible Society, with passages suggested for reading each day through the Christmas season.

Not At Farm Home

President Eisenhower—who, it appears, will not be at his Gettysburg farm home for the holiday—has indicated that he will be among the many millions the world over who will read the daily texts.

The Rev. Walter J. Lake, Philadelphia district secretary of the society, said that the President in a letter on behalf of Bible reading, wrote:

"The Bible is endorsed by the ages. Our civilization is built upon its words. . . I am glad to receive again your list of suggested passages to read from my Bible from Thanksgiving to Christmas."

Gov. Leader joined with other governors and President Eisenhower in issuing Thanksgiving Day proclamations.

How the holiday may be shared with others is exemplified by residents of Pine Grove in Schuylkill County, who entertain college students from other lands. Twenty of them from Penn State leave late today for Pine Grove by bus and will return to University Park Sunday afternoon. Transportation is paid by the Pine Grove Rotary Club, and the Women's Club of the town arranged for the students' entertainment.

In Philadelphia, a preview of Christmas wonderland is offered by Gimbel's department store which sends a gay and colorful parade through the city's streets, and invites the children to take an early peek at toyland.

In other places, too, there are early manifestations of Christmas. Many Pennsylvania cities and towns already are well along with their street and building decorations, and soon the big trees will be set in place.

Generally fair weather is the prospect for the state on Thanksgiving Day. Temperatures probably will be rather cold, the forecasters say, but not out of keeping with the season.

Present perfect for any woman would be gift of satin cases or quilt-lined boxes to hold gloves, hose and lingerie.

DEFENDANT IS PLACED NEAR CRIME'S SCENE

NEW YORK (AP) — A policeman testifying in the Victor Riesel acid blinding case has placed Gondolfo Maranti, one of the defendants, near the scene of the attack.

Patrolman Edward F. Grant testified for the government yesterday that Miranti drove a car the wrong way on a one-way mid-Manhattan street just before Riesel was blinded.

Grant said he flagged the car down and started to write a summons. The officer said the driver pleaded, "I'm married and have children. I'm in a hurry to get get home."

Identified In Court

Grant testified he let the driver go although he offered the patrolman a $5 tip. Grant quoted himself as saying, "Put that away before you get into trouble."

To identify Miranti as the driver, Grant stepped from the stand in federal court, walked up to Miranti and squeezed his left shoulder hard.

The government alleges Miranti drove Abe Telvi, later found slain on a lower East Side street, to the scene and that Abe Telvi threw the acid. Miranti, Domenico Bando and Leo Telvi, Abe Telvi's brother, are on trial. The government says it is trying to prove the three acted as go-betweens and harbored Abe Telvi after the attack last April 5 on the syndicated labor columnist.

Can't Identify Telvi

Also indicted in the alleged attack conspiracy are labor racketeer John (Johnny Dio) Dioguardi and four others.

Grant was unable yesterday to identify a picture of Abe Telvi. He said that a few minutes after the acid had been thrown into Reisel's face near Broadway he saw a man running through a nearby parking lot.

Grant and Patrolman James McGurk stopped the man but let him go after he said he was fleeing two Puerto Ricans who had tried to hold him up. Shown Abe Telvi's picture, Grant said, "To the best of my recollection I cannot say that I have ever seen this man before."

AMERICANS AT SOUTH POLE MAY HAVE TO MOVE

By DON GUY

MCMURDO SOUND, Antarctica (AP)—Eight Americans camped at the bottom of the world found today they would have to move.

Their snow vehicle broke down. Their breath grew short in the thin polar air and 25-below-zero cold.

The party of Navy Seabees, landed by ski planes yesterday to build a base at the South Pole, reported by radio that their survival tents were pitched eight miles from the Pole. If they cannot repair their belt-track weasel, they must trudge the distance through powdery, knee-deep snow.

The men are the first ever to go to the two-mile high polar plateau to live for any period. Their mission is to build a base for U.S. scientists who will make observations during the sunless antarctic winter.

The group radioed the base here that the weasel had a broken transmission case, needed gear lubricant and its batteries were dead. Parts will be flown to them.

The deep, powdery show means supplies will have to be dropped by parachute—big, wheeled planes cannot land.

The expedition's mechanic, John A. Randall, of Northfield, Mass., will have a tough job changing the transmission.

If the weasel cannot be repaired, it means that 11 sled dogs the Seabees brought with them must pull the party's supplies.

PROTEST STRIKE IN LONDON BY TRUCK DRIVERS

LONDON (AP)—A thousand truck drivers struck today to protest a decision taking 10 per cent of the government's industrial vehicles off the road because of the nation's fuel crisis.

The drivers are employes of the nationalized British Road Service. They haul general goods, and foodstuffs other than meat.

Several hundred meat transport workers struck briefly two days ago but returned to their jobs after BRS withdrew the order for their particular field.

Even before the first gas ration book was ready for issuance tomorrow, other Britons were feeling the chilling effect of the rationing order.

Most Britons had expected it since the closing of the Suez Canal sharply reduced the supply of oil from the Middle East.

Automobile traffic was thinner during the rush hour. Thousands left their cars at home. Buses and trains were more crowded.

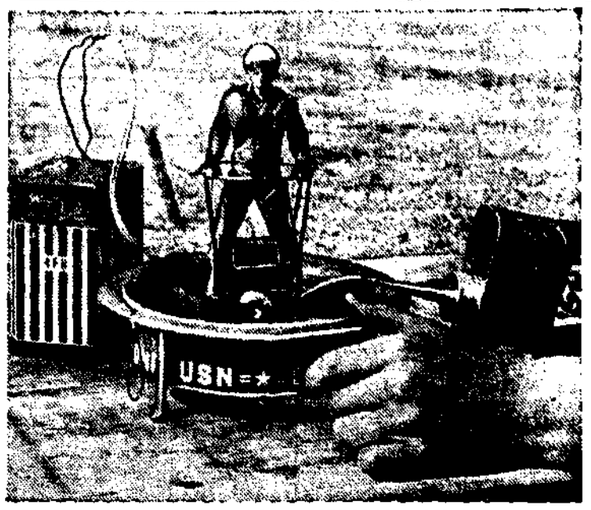

Garages were swamped by automobile owners wanting to make sure of a full tank. There was an upsurge in sales of drums and other containers.

The plan is to limit motorists to gas for an average 200 miles of driving per month and sharply reduce fuel supplies for industry and home heating. Britons began figuring how many miles they could get on their gasoline allowance, or how cold their homes might be this winter.

Most newspapers accepted the decision as necessary if unpleasant. One exception was the Communist Daily Worker which said: "Oust the robbers."

Editorial cartoons denounced the hoarder, but there was unmistakable evidence that he was at work.

One hardware store operator, in reporting a run on containers, said: "My customers all assure me they want them for brewing dandelion wine."

HOLIDAY TO BE CHILLY AND FAIR

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was cold today over most of the western two thirds of the country and generally chilly and fair weather was the outlook for most of the nation on Thanksgiving Day.

The season's biggest snowstorm in sections of the Rockies spread into the mid-continent. The snow extended from the Dakotas eastward to Lake Michigan and southward into northeast Kansas and southwest Missouri.

Heaviest falls were in a narrow belt from northeast Iowa northeastward through extreme southeastern Minnesota and into most of Wisconsin. Falls measured up to 9 inches at Park Falls, Wis., and 8 inches at Eau Claire, Wis. More than a foot of snow fell in sections of the Rockies before the storm moved eastward.

Rain and sleet were reported in areas east of the snow belt. Rain and showers fell eastward through Lower Michigan, through New York and to the Atlantic coast, southward through the Ohio Valley, and tapering off to a narrow band of showers in the South through Arkansas and Louisiana.

The leading edge of the cold air extended southward through Lake Michigan, eastern Iowa and through northwestern Louisiana.

STUDENT FACES ARSON CHARGE

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — Paul D Matovich, a 20-year-old University of Idaho freshman, was charged with first-degree arson last night and the state law enforcement commissioner said his arrest solved a dormitory fire Oct 19 in which three students perished.

Commissioner Earle Koehler said the arrest also solved three other dormitory fires at the university Oct. 12, 13 and 14.

Matovich waived preliminary hearing when he was arraigned before a justice of the peace and was bound over for Circuit Court under $40,000 bond.

He was charged only with setting fire to Chrisman Hall Oct. 13. Lloyd G. Martinson, Latah County prosecutor, said Matovich admitted setting that blaze.

Martinson reported Matovich had a previous record of setting fires.

The last fire started in a lounge on the second floor of Gault Hall and spread to sleeping quarters above. Paul Johnson, Davenport, Wash.; John Knudson, Idaho Falls, and Clair Schuldberg, Terreton, Idaho, were trapped and died.

The U. S recently presented a mine sweeper to Belgium. Three officers and 36 Belgium sailors came to Boston to receive this aid for mutual defense.

Find 4 Skeletons Of Colonial Soldiers

PHILADELPHIA (AP) Archaeologists have found near Independence Hall the skeletons of four men believed to have been colonial soldiers in the American Revolution.

One will be placed in the National Memorial to the Unknown Soldiers of the American Revolution to be erected in the center of Washington Square near Independence Hall.

Pennsylvania archaeologist Duncan Campbell said the search for the skeletons was based on records which said mass burials had been made in shallow pits in the area.

THANKSGIVING DAY TAKES ON SPIRITUAL CAST

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pennsylvanians celebrate another Thanksgiving time starting today, and outwardly at least there seems to be little variation from the traditional forms.

Bulging turkey dinners, rousing family gatherings, the whooping it up at football games, and, in later years, exciting curtain raiser for Christmas—these are the main stems of the American idiom for the November holiday.

Such festivities will get their full due in the state tomorrow; but a generous sampling of sentiments showed an intensity of serious, even spiritual feelings, not usually associated with what has become pretty much a sportive occasion.

Not since World War II, perhaps, have so many people in this country been so deeply disturbed by the way the worldd is whirling.

Prayer For Refugees

Over the state the customary Thanksgiving Day church services have, as a special mission, prayer and practical help for refugees and other destitute people of central Europe and the Middle East.

Communities as well as churches aim to raise Thanksgiving Day funds for the dispossessed.

Thanksgiving Day opens the yearly world-wide Bible-reading campaign of the American Bible Society, with passages suggested for reading each day through the Christmas season.

Not At Farm Home

President Eisenhower—who, it appears, will not be at his Gettysburg farm home for the holiday—has indicated that he will be among the many millions the world over who will read the daily texts.

The Rev. Walter J. Lake, Philadelphia district secretary of the society, said that the President in a letter on behalf of Bible reading, wrote:

"The Bible is endorsed by the ages. Our civilization is built upon its words . I am glad to receive again your list of suggested passages to read from my Bible from Thanksgiving to Christmas."

Gov. Leader joined with other governors and President Eisenhower in issuing Thanksgiving Day proclamations.

How the holiday may be shared with others is exemplified by residents of Pine Grove in Schuylkill County, who entertain college students from other lands Twenty of them from Penn State leave late today for Pine Grove by bus and will return to University Park Sunday afternoon. Transportation is paid by the Pine Grove Rotary Club, and the Women's Club of the town arranged for the students' entertainment.

In Philadelphia, a preview of Christmas wonderland is offered by Gimbel's department store which sends a gay and colorful parade through the city's streets, and invites the children to take an early peek at toyland.

In other places, too, there are early manifestations of Christmas. Many Pennsylvania cities and towns already are well along with their street and building decorations, and soon the big trees will be set in place.

Generally fair weather is the prospect for the state on Thanksgiving Day. Temperatures probably will be rather cold, the forecasters say, but not out of keeping with the season.

Present perfect for any woman would be gift of satin cases or quilt-lined boxes to hold gloves, hose and lingerie.

FAMILY SCORES A HIT with Dad on Christmas morning with gifts to help him put his best looks forward at work and play: dress shirt with neatly patterned tie, and woven sport shirt. Dad has already donned still another handsome sport shirt gift. By Van Heusen.

DEFENDANT IS PLACED NEAR CRIME'S SCENE

NEW YORK (AP) — A policeman testifying in the Victor Riesel acid blinding case has placed Gondolfo Maranti, one of the defendants, near the scene of the attack.

Patrolman Edward F. Grant testified for the government yesterday that Miranti drove a car the wrong way on a one-way mid-Manhattan street just before Riesel was blinded.

Grant said he flagged the car down and started to write a summons. The officer said the driver pleaded, "I'm married and have children I'm in a hurry to get get home."

Identified In Court

Grant testified he let the driver go although he offered the patrolman a $5 tip. Grant quoted himself as saying, "Put that away before you get into trouble."

To identify Miranti as the driver, Grant stepped from the stand in federal court, walked up to Miranti and squeezed his left shoulder hard.

The government alleges Miranti drove Abe Telvi, later found slain on a lower East Side street, to the scene and that Abe Telvi threw the acid. Miranti, Domenico Bando and Leo Telvi, Abe Telvi's brother, are on trial. The government says it is trying to prove the three acted as go-betweens and harbored Abe Telvi after the attack last April 5 on the syndicated labor columnist.

Can't Identify Telvi

Also indicted in the alleged attack conspiracy are labor racketeer John (Johnny Dio) Dioguardi and four others.

Grant was unable yesterday to identify a picture of Abe Telvi. He said that a few minutes after the acid had been thrown into Reisel's face near Broadway he saw a man running through a nearby parking lot.

Grant and Patrolman James McGurk stopped the man but let him go after he said he was fleeing two Puerto Ricans who had tried to hold him up. Shown Abe Telvi's picture, Grant said, "To the best of my recollection I cannot say that I have ever seen this man before."

AMERICANS AT SOUTH POLE MAY HAVE TO MOVE

By DON GUY

MCMURDO SOUND, Antarctica (AP)—Eight Americans camped at the bottom of the world found today they would have to move.

Their snow vehicle broke down. Their breath grew short in the thin polar air and 25-below-zero cold.

The party of Navy Seabees, landed by ski planes yesterday to build a base at the South Pole, reported by radio that their survival tents were pitched eight miles from the Pole. If they cannot repair their belt-track weasel, they must trudge the distance, through powdery, knee-deep snow.

The men are the first ever to go to the two-mile high polar plateau to live for any period. Their mission is to build a base for U.S. scientists who will make observations during the sunless antarctic winter.

The group radioed the base here that the weasel had a broken transmission case, needed gear lubricant and its batteries were dead. Parts will be flown to them.

The deep, powdery snow means supplies will have to be dropped by parachute—big, wheeled planes cannot land.

The expedition's mechanic, John A. Randall, of Northfield, Mass., will have a tough job changing the transmission.

If the weasel cannot be repaired, it means that 11 sled dogs the Seabees brought with them must pull the party's supplies.

Cancer Clinic Asks Court For Re-trial

PITTSBURGH (AP) — U. S. District Court is studying a request by the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic, Portage, Pa., for a new trial in its battle for return of a half million pills seized by the government.

A Federal jury ruled last week that the government acted properly in seizing the pills in a raid on the clinic in March, 1955. The government claimed the pills were misbranded as effective in cancer treatment. A judge ordered the pills destroyed.

Vincent M. Casey, attorney for the clinic, submitted the motion for a new trial on Monday, contending last week's verdict was against weight of the evidence.

Casey also asked for a delay in execution of the order pending the court's decision in denying the plea.

HARRISBURG (AP) — Dr. Frank[illegible] D. Fry, long active in matters of pathological services, director of Reiter State Hospital, Lackawanna County, at an annual salary of $9,424.

Tons of Chestnuts In "Struck" Ships

NEW YORK (AP) — Food importers have appealed to striking longshoremen for help in pulling 2½ million pounds of chestnuts out of the fire.

The importers said the chestnuts are buried in the holds of five strikebound ships in the Port of New York. They were headed for the [illegible] America Thanksgiving turkeys.

Worth $500,000, they represent more than half the total annual import volume dealers said. The [illegible]

Cancer Clinic Asks Court For Re-trial

PITTSBURGH (AP) — U. S. District Court is studying a request by the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic, Portage, Pa., for a new trial in its battle for return of a half million pills seized by the government.

A Federal jury ruled last week that the government acted properly in seizing the pills in a raid on the clinic in March, 1955. The government claimed the pills were misbranded as effective in cancer treatment. A judge ordered the pills destroyed.

Vincent M. Casey, attorney for the clinic, submitted the motion for a new trial on Monday, contending last week's verdict was against weight of the evidence.

Casey also asked for a delay in execution of the order granting the government the right to destroy the pills.

HARRISBURG (AP) — Dr. Franklyn D. Fry, today began his duties as pathological services director at Retreat State Hospital, Lackawanna County, at an annul slary of $9,424.

Dr. Fry was chief clinical psychologist of the Veterans Administration Mental Hygiene Clinic at Wilkes-Barre.

Tons of Chestnuts In "Struck" Ships

NEW YORK (AP) — Food importers have appealed to striking longshoremen for help in pulling 2½ million pounds of chestnuts out of the fire.

The importers said the chestnuts are buried in the holds of five strikebound ships in the Port of New York. They were headed for the stuffing in American Thanksgiving turkeys.

Worth $500,000, they represent more than half the total annual import volume, dealers said. They said all appeals to the International Longshoremen's Assn. to exempt the nuts from the strike ban have been unavailing.

Orrtanna

ORRTANNA — R D March, this place, accompanied D. J. Wolff, Gettysburg, and Harold Brown, Fairfield, on a business trip to Hudson, Mich., recently.

Mack and Flory Newcommer, Mt. Joy, Lancaster County, were recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Ira M. Walter.

Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Mark Saum and H. B. Saum were Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Vandreau and daughter, Judy, Quincy, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bowman and children, Linda, Donald, Robert Jr. and Rickey. Mr. Vandreau and Mr. Bowman are nephews of Mrs. Mark Saum.

Wesley Taylor Jr. has returned to his home at Manchester, York County, after a six-week stay at the Luther Wetzel home where he assisted in the apple harvest.

James E. Singley, E.T.S.M., has arrived from Great Lakes Naval Training Station to spend 30-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Singley. Upon the completion of his furlough he will leave for Key West, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Gallagher, Orrtanna R. D.; Mrs. Ruth Shindledecker and Glyde Lawver, Orrtanna, spent Sunday with Mrs. Edith Baker, sister of Mrs. Gallagher and Mr. Lawver, and other relatives. Mrs. Howard Lawver, Gettysburg, spent Sunday at the Baker home also where a turkey dinner was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Biesecker and Mrs. Elsie Fishel, Hanover, visited Saturday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. O. Biesecker.

Approximately 450 persons were served turkey suppers in the new Mt. Carmel EUB Church hall Saturday evening. This was the first benefit affair held at the church for two years due to the erecting of the addition to the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Davis visited recently with friends at Roxbury, Franklin County.

Mrs. J. R. Kauffman returned to her home at Walnut Creek, Calif., after spending sometime with her sister and nephew, Mrs. Anne Rollins and son, William.

Luther Wetzel and grandson, Wendell Wetzel, Orrtanna R. D., and the former's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Wetzel, Solley, Md., have returned from a hunting trip to Tioga County.

Mummasburg

MUMMASBURG — Mr. and Mrs. Donald Miller and children were recent visitors at the home of Mrs. Miller's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Jeffcoat, and family, near Harney.

Mr. and Mrs. Jere Keefer were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Keefer, Shippensburg R. D.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mummert, Elizabethtown, visited Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Topper were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geoge Warfel

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller, Hanover, recently visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Knipple. All visited relatives in Carlisle.

Roy Topper, U. S. Navy, who spent a leave at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Topper, has been assigned to the Central weather station at Washington, D. C.

GIVE GLAMOUR

Especially glamourous gifts this Christmas are housecoats and robes in such newly opulent fabrics as rich brocades, satins and other "evening" materials.

SPARKLING BRIGHTLY for Christmas is the gold-colored metal fashion jewelry shown here: delicately knotted necklace, matching double-loop pin, button ear rings and swirl bracelet.

Ike Will Meet Leaders Dec. 13

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced yesterday that President Eisenhower will discuss his 1957 legislative program with congressional leaders on Dec. 13-14.

Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, said that Eisenhower, Cabinet members and other administration officials will cover "high points of the State of the Union message" which the President will submit to the new Congress shortly after it meets on Jan. 3.

Eisenhower has held similar sessions with congressional leaders of both parties in past years.

LONDON (AP)—The British government announced Tuesday it will start rationing gasoline and oil beginning Dec. 17.

There will be a basic ration for all motorists with a limited supplementary allowance for essential purposes.

Emmitsburg

EMMITSBURG—United Lutheran Church Women met recently at the home of Mrs. D. L. Beegle. The topic was "Next Door to My Neighbor." The leaders were Mrs. Charles Gillilan and Mrs. Charles Lynn. There were 20 present and refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Beegle, and Mrs. Edward Smith, as co-hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hall, Oregon, Ill., spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. A. W. McCleaf, West Main St.

Mr. and Mrs. George O'Toole, Waynesboro; Mrs. Margaret Fitzgerald, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Belva Martin and Mrs. Harold Martin, Thurmont, were recent guests of Mrs. Eugene Warthen.

SP3 Claude Corl Jr., Broughton, Pa., and Lewis Corl, Ft. Jackson, S. C., spent the weekend with their grandmother, Mrs. Lewis Higbee.

Barbers report that since the recent popularity of short "crew cuts" for men, there has been a parallel boom in demands for the long neglected mustache wax — makes short hair cuts stand straight up.

GIVE GLAMOUR

Especially glamourous gifts this Christmas are housecoats and robes in such newly opulent fabrics as rich brocades, satins and other "evening" materials.

SPARKLING BRIGHTLY for Christmas is the gold-colored metal fashion jewelry shown here: delicately knotted necklace, matching double-loop pin, button ear rings and swirl bracelet.

Ike Will Meet Leaders Dec. 13

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced yesterday that President Eisenhower will discuss his 1957 legislative program with congressional leaders on Dec. 13-14.

Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, said that Eisenhower, Cabinet members and other administration officials will cover "high points of the State of the Union message" which the President will submit to the new Congress shortly after it meets on Jan. 3.

Eisenhower has held similar sessions with congressional leaders of both parties in past years.

LONDON (AP)—The British government announced Tuesday it will start rationing gasoline and oil beginning Dec. 17.

There will be a basic ration for all motorists with a limited supplementary allowance for essential purposes.

Emmitsburg

EMMITSBURG—United Lutheran Church Women met recently at the home of Mrs. D. L. Beegle. The topic was "Next Door to My Neighbor." The leaders were Mrs. Charles Gillilan and Mrs. Charles Lynn. There were 20 present and refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Beegle, and Mrs. Edward Smith, as co-hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hall, Oregon, Ill., spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. A. W. McCleaf, West Main St.

Mr. and Mrs. George O'Toole, Waynesboro; Mrs. Margaret Fitzgerald, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Belva Martin and Mrs. Harold Martin, Thurmont, were recent guests of Mrs. Eugene Warthen.

SP3 Claude Corl Jr., Broughton, Pa., and Lewis Corl, Ft. Jackson, S C, spent the weekend with their grandmother, Mrs. Lewis Higbee.

Barbers report that since the recent popularity of short "crew cuts" for men, there has been a parallel boom in demands for the long neglected mustache wax — makes short hair cuts stand straight up.

The Time Is Here, The Places Near, To Start Your Christmas Shopping

Want to make this a merry, memorable, momentous Christmas? Plan for it!

Plan your shopping, plan your spending, plan what you'll buy for everyone on your gift list, for the pleasure that comes out of Santa's pack depends to a great extent on the planning that goes into it.

First item of planning, of course, is this: Plan to shop early. There are a lot of practical reasons why.

Shop early, and you'll have more time to shop, plus more time for wrapping and mailing gifts and joining in Yuletide festivities. You can avoid the crowds, budget your spending and take advantage of lay-away and installment buying plans.

But the best reason of all for early shopping is — it's fun! Nothing equals the pure joy of planning a wonderful Christmas for friends and loved ones, and the earlier you start to plan and shop, the more fun you have.

Best place and time to begin your planning and shopping is right here and now. Browse through this special Christmas section, and be sure to keep paper and a pen or pencil handy. You'll get a lot of ideas for gifts, and you'll want to jot them down.

While you're planning, keep in mind that Christmas is people. Think about the people on your gift list in terms of their special interests, and you'll find it twice as easy to select just the right gift for everyone.

Keep this in mind, too! Plans are often made to be changed. When you get to the stores to select your gifts, you may find that you'll want to replace the "shirt for Dad" and "pajamas for Cousin Jane" on your list with a handsome jacket for Dad and a glamorous robe for Jane.

In this case, your advance plans will have steered you in the right direction, and whatever happens, your plans make sure that you'll never be at a loss for a good gift idea.

Short of cash? Planned spending will help you. Whether you use Christmas lay-away, installment buying, charge account or other credit programs, planning helps you overcome that immediate cash shortage and be just as generous as you wish to be.

More important than the amount you spend is the appropriateness of the gift. So don't let the presents you give be costly mistakes.

Plan right, and you'll give pleasure. What's more, you'll probably find that the cost of a really-appreciated gift is less than that of an inappropriate, never-used present.

After you've had the fun of planning what to give, the next step is the most enjoyable of all.

Plan to start your shopping tomorrow. The stores are ready—and so are you — to make this a well-planned and wonderful Christmas.

Start your shopping tomorrow!

COLORFUL GIFT IDEA

Give her dyer-to-match coordinates for a luxury look and good fashion.

LIGHTING ADVENT WREATH, a lovely old custom, shown here. Wreath base is of stryofoam, pine and assorted color Yule balls. It's a long lasting plan.

White Christmas Dreams Are Taking Colorful Turn

For emeryone who dreams of a colorful Christmas, Santa and his helpers have a plentiful selection of linens for bedroom, kitchen, dining room and bath. Color-bright sheets, towels, bedspreads and tablecloths vie with the traditional white Christmas gifts and add to the decor of the home as well as increasing the linen supply.

Comforters and blankets are giftworthy in solid colors or gala patterns — stripes and dainty florals show up importantly in this season's choice of bedcoverings.

For gifts that bring easy care as well as luxury and good looks, there are many selections among then miracle-fiber fabrics. New this year are fitted sheets in striped nylon tricot, in a rainbow of colors — blue, pink, green or yellow against white. Top sheets come in coordinated solid nolors.

Shoppers will find more blankets to choose from among them a greater variety and diversity of colors in washable blankets of Orlon acrylic fiber.

Embroidered or printed Irish linens add glamour to kitchen, bedroom or bath, in the form of pillow cases, mat sets, kitchen towels and tablecloths.

Down - filled comforters make another glamour gift, and the colorful theme prevails here, too, with the coverings in every shade from deep tones to pastels.

Warm woolen blankets present an array of decorator colors and often have the added advantage of moth-proofing. And for very important presents, there are electric blankets in twin or full size, with single or dual nontrols.

Curtains get into the gift act, too. In this category are gaily patterned plastic shower curtains, crisp cafe curtains for the kitchen or matching draperies and bedspreads. The latter make a fine gift for a teen-age girl, and the draperies and bedspread might be plaid, anc important home fashion.

With the strong revival of interest in lace, the gift choice could be lace curtains for the living room, in a modern or traditional design. Then there are elegant lace tablecloths.

Practicality combines with an heirloom look in synthetic-fiber laces. One suggestion is an Italion-type lace tablecloth of Dacron polyester fiber, designed with intricate, patterns that combine shadow lace and cutwork effects.

"Bridge sets" of luncheon tablecloths and napkins in cottons and rayons are available in many novel patterns, including one that features, reproductions of the king, queen and jack.

Well-received, too, are gifts of pillows, whether made of foam rubber or filled with down, feathers or Dacron fiber-fill. When the choice is Dacron, the shopper will be aided by new labels which define content and weight requirements of the stuffing material.

Little Gifts Lead To Pep For Home

"Pep-er up-ers" for the home come in many forms, and all are good sources of gift ideas. Accessories such as throw pillows, magazine racks, lamps, ashtrays, wastebaskets and scatter rugs will provide pleaure at moderate price.

When an unusual gift that's also useful is the object, the Christmas shopper might consider an umbrella stand in a graceful new design.

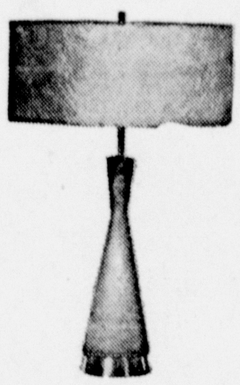

There's a renewal of interest in artificial fruit or flowers for home adornment, and a colorful selection of either the fruit or flowers could solve gift problems.

If the home for which the gift is intended houses a hobby collection such as handpainted plates or cups, an addition to the display would be welcomed.

The Organization of American States now has the most complete catalogue in existence of Latin American art and artists of all periods.

Appliances For Mother Head Lists

With a handbook on automation tucked under his arm alongside his gift list, Santa will make his rounds this Christmas delivering a record number of new appliances to homes everywhere.

His chuckle will sound extra joyful. Pleasure, health and happiness for the whole family are built into every piece of equipment—and he knows it.

A new way of life has been opened up for families whose kitchens and home laundries are geared to the new trends There's more leisure time, more efficiency and a lot less drudgery.

The new equipment makes it possible for the housewife to have a staff of mechanical servants that do her bidding at the push of a button.

Tops For Mother

Mother, consequently, is usually considered the chief benefactor of Christmas gifts chosen from among the list of major home appliances. But there is more than increased efficiency, ease of operation, and relief from old fashioned housekeeping drudgery, in them.

What's good for Mom is good for the whole family. And when she has more time and energy to devote to other family projects besides routine cooking, laundering and cleaning, everybody profits, from Dad down to the household pet.

Since Christmas is a holiday that centers around family life, Santa is especially pleased to deliver gifts that make for family closeness. Often the family shares jointly in the giving.

More beautiful than ever is the equipment which makes all this possible. Though colorful appliances, now being produced by most manufacturers, are becoming increasingly popular among housewives, it is still predominantly a "White Christmas" with all-white appliances outselling tinted equipment.

Stack-on And Built-in

And the new concept of kitchen planning which includes gleaming steel cabinets as well as the working appliances, makes way for building automatic kitchens and home laundries on a mix-match plan over a period of time, if one wishes. This means the individual appliances and the cabinetting can be chosen for follow-up gift giving.

Designers have put ovens, refrigerators, dishwashers, clothes washers, dryers into cabinets and wall attachments that make even a small kitchen seem spacious Stacks-ons and built-ins are the terms used to describe the units which provide so much flexibility.

They make for three advantages: first, more room for family living; second, installation at convenient heights, and third, more opportunity for individual expression.

In the completely automatic kitchen recommended by Santa, mother seldom has to lift a finger, except to push a button or twist a dial.

Ovens Without Flame

Dinners can be put on cold, on new ranges, ad dials set o do Today there also are electronic ovens that cook without flame

Combinations of refrigerators and freezers, in almost any desired sizes, are a new convenience. A similar principle holds for washers and dryers for the laundry. New ironers are sit-down devices.

Automatic dishwashers, probably among the most desired of all home appliances, come now in portable as well as fixed models.

It should be obvious why they make such wonderful Christmas gifts for mother. They save time and they provide most sanitary cleaning.

BEFORE GUESTS ARRIVE, the holiday hostess pins on her gift corsage in front of a fireplace she decorated with pine roping, holly and flat eucalyptus touched with silver.

New Animals In Toyland This Year

Largest menagerie in the world is in the toy industry according to the Toy Manufacturers of the U.S.A., Inc., and about 50 million of the animals will be found under Christmas trees this year.

Most of the new animals in the toy world are realistic, whether they are stuffed, or made of wood, rubber or plastic. There has been a noticeable increase in their popularity.

For the little miss there are little dogs which wag their tails and roll over while playing a soft melody.

For the little man there is a terrier or monkey which can do ten back flips with one winding.

Both would enjoy the little poodle that walks along on four legs with the same gait as his real life counterpart.

Since the smallest tot who is just beginning to walk needs an animal which will help in his physical development a push-pull animal is recommended. There are dogs that bark and cows that moo, which are made of durable wood.

Hundreds of the old favorites, such as stuffed bears, bunnies, and horses, are among the gift animal-toys this year. Many of these now have musical chimes and humorous expressions on their faces

No toy menagerie is complete without all types of birds and fish, so these have been added to the toy world Hens cluck, frogs croak and bees buzz in the wondrous world of miniature.

There also are a wonderful assortment of teddy bears from miniature to giant sizes.

Closet Accessories In Order For Yule

Looking for Christmas gifts that are a little bit "different," practical, yet glamourous? Smart new closet accessories will fill the bill on all counts.

If you want to splurge on a gift for someone "special," you can get a matched ensemble of wardrobe bags and boxes with coordinating trim for shelves.

A lady of fashion will appreciate gifts to help keep her clothes padded and cover-protected hangers and gay hat boxes.

Is Age Of Child Key To Right Toy Selection

Assistant Santas shouldn't trust to memory about the birthdays of children to whom they plan to give gifts of toys this Christmas. If toy gifts are to score for safety and educational value, they must be chosen thoughtfully to fit the age and capabilities of each child.

This advice comes from Emma Dickson Sheehy, professor of childhood education at Teacher's College, Columbia University and chairman of the advisory committee of Toy Guidance Council — which offers consumer booklets advising on play interests and safety requirements of different age groups.

Scientifically Tested

"Age suitability is scientifically tested by American toy manufacturers," Professor Sheehy said.

"Based on this research, tags, labels and instruction sheet provided by many manufacturers give top shoppers the essential information about why each toy is suitable for a particular age group; how the child can use it; why he will enjoy it and how he will profit from the play activity.

"Whether you are a parent, relative or just a friend of the family shopping for a casual gift, it's important to take the trouble to check on the suitability of the toys that you buy to be sure they fit the needs of the child for whom you are buying.

"This is particularly important when choosing toys for a baby. Here are some basic points that are important to the happiness and safety of the crib and carriage set:

"Baby's toys should be light weight because his muscles are just beginning to develop strength. They should be bright colored because he can't distinguish subtler shades.

"Baby needs toys that are varied in textures to help him develop his sense of touch. Edges must be smooth because baby's skin is tender. It's essential that every toy he uses be too large to swallow, avoid loose parts that might be swallowed.

Built In Safety

"Everything baby plays with goes into his mouth when he's teething, so be sure his playthings are washable and safe to suck and non toxic. Picture books should be of washable cloth or plastic.

"In families where there are children of several ages, it is very important for parents to recognize that toys that are educational for older children may be unsafe for the pre-school child."

SOMETHING REAL LIVE, and bright and gay—a colorful parakeet, for example—will be found in the pet shop for smart Christmas giving. The bird, plus attractive cage, would make an especially good gift for shut-ins or people who live alone.

The onion family purloined its name of scallion from the ancient Palestinian city of Ascalon.

MORE GLAMOROUS VISION is the gift that can be given her in the form of a new set of glasses, for regular wear or for sun wear, with lenses to be ground to the proper prescription. Shown here, smart Ray Ban "Zanzibar" sun glasses.

Uncle Sam Will Aid In Gifting

"A Gift Today for a Bright Tomorrow" is the legend on the card available this year to those who plan to give a U.S. Savings Bond as a special extra gift for someone this Christmas

Get them at your bank.

For those wanting to give something smaller than the minimum $18.75 price for the lowest bond, Savings Stamps, obtainable at the post office with an appropriate album, would be just the thing, especially for children.

Newest Marvels Of Modern Science Come To Playland

Santa's pack will be well loaded this year with atomic, supersonic electronic and remote controlled devices, accurate replicas of the wonders of the modern scientific world, which the Toy Manufacturers of the U.S.A. have been busy making ready for Christmas giving.

Among outer space vehicle and equipment will be air-pressure propelled rockets, launching bases, and even a guided missile base And, as the young modern scientists know, when you travel in outer space you encounter satellites, so the manufacturers have provided them, too.

As each surprising new innovation in ultra modern locomotion appears, toy makers begin construction of their counterparts for the toy world. Newest among these is a working, gas propelled miniature of the "flying platform" recently announced by the armed forces. The miniature comes equipped with a soldier and flies to a height of 50 feet.

Remote control, now a part of our daily living, is represented in the world of toys by such devices as miniature tractors, street cleaners and autos operated off flashlight batteries, can also by robots that now can walk, talk and pick up objects. Practically all of these may be operated from a distance by a guide wire.

In the field of miniature electronic equipment there are radar sets, two-way radios, broadcasting stations and other similar workable toys which may well help many a child learn the wonders of modern communication and detection.

Toy radio stations for gift giving actually can send and receive messages up to half a mile, operating on flashlight batteries.

Toy radar rocket cannon are equipped to spot the target.

Complete electronic communication systems permit the spotter to talk with the operator while the radar antenna rotates to pick up "beep" signals

Many of he electronic toys for this Christmas have combinations of loud speakers and radar equipment to increase instructive play value.

Yes, the atomic, electronic and supersonic age has arrived in the toy world.

"We Have Kept The Pledge"

THE BOOKMART

Is very happy to announce that our pledge of June 14, 1948, is fulfilled. Thanks to all our patrons of Gettysburg, Adams County and the adjacent areas, the housewife, the business man, the professional man, industry and manufacturing enterprises, the various institutions of learning, the layman, the boys and girls of our community.

All of you have so generously supported us in the past with your patronage that has helped to make our promise a Reality.

On June 15, 1948, we opened our doors to the public with a limited supply of merchandise on our shelves and counters, and a lone sign in our store window with the following promise:

"Bookmart now Open for Business — We are still in the process of evolution, and will require some time and a lot of your kind support before we can reach maturity, when this establishment hopes to be of service to this community by bringing to you merchandise of a National reputation, plus value, plus quality, plus satisfactory performance for your office and home."

THAT WAS OUR PLEDGE — Since that day we have striven to serve you by bringing you merchandise that you need FOR YOUR HOME, FOR YOUR OFFICE, FOR YOUR PLEASURE, ENTERTAINMENT AND MANY MORE DIVERSIFIED OBJECTIVES.

We shall continue to serve you faithfully with the same objective as our aim—"SERVICE, QUALITY AND COURTESY." With that in mind we have enlarged our floor space more than one-third, to make it a pleasure to shop at the BOOKMART.

Our trade name "BOOKMART" means a place to trade for many thousands of different items besides books. You needn't go out of town or to a half dozen different stores to shop for the basic items we carry . . . BOOKS OF ALL KINDS of any publisher . . . GAMES for young and old . . . STATIONERY — Personal and Commercial . . . OFFICE SUPPLIES andEquipment . . . GIFTS — unusual for any occasion and for anyone . . . RECORDS of all Major Recording Companies and Record Players.

We extend to all a sincere invitation to come in and browse over our newly arranged display of merchandise — for your immediate needs and gifts for Christmas.

The Time Is Here, The Places Near, To Start Your Christmas Shopping

Want to make this a merry, memorable, momentous Christmas? Plan for it!

Plan your shopping, plan your spending, plan what you'll buy for everyone on your gift list, for the pleasure that comes out of Santa's pack depends to a great extent on the planning that goes into it.

First item of planning, of course, is this: Plan to shop early. There are a lot of practical reasons why.

Shop early, and you'll have more time to shop, plus more time for wrapping and mailing gifts and joining in Yuletide festivities. You can avoid the crowds, budget your spending and take advantage of lay-away and installment buying plans.

But the best reason of all for early shopping is — it's fun! Nothing equals the pure joy of planning a wonderful Christmas for friends and loved ones, and the earlier you start to plan and shop, the more fun you have.

Best place and time to begin your planning and shopping is right here and now. Browse through this special Christmas section, and be sure to keep paper and a pen or pencil handy. You'll get a lot of ideas for gifts, and you'll want to jot them down.

While you're planning, keep in mind that Christmas is people. Think about the people on your gift list in terms of their special interests, and you'll find it twice as easy to select just the right gift for everyone.

Keep this in mind, too! Plans are often made to be changed. When you get to the stores to select your gifts, you may find that you'll want to replace the "shirt for Dad" and "pajamas for Cousin Jane" on your list with a handsome jacket for Dad and a glamorous robe for Jane.

In this case, your advance plans will have steered you in the right direction, and whatever happens, your plans make sure that you'll never be at a loss for a good gift idea.

Short of cash? Planned spending will help you. Whether you use Christmas lay-away, installment buying, charge account or other credit programs, planning helps you overcome that immediate cash shortage and be just as generous as you wish to be.

More important than the amount you spend is the appropriateness of the gift. So don't let the presents you give be costly mistakes.

Plan right, and you'll give pleasure. What's more, you'll probably find that the cost of a really-appreciated gift is less than that of an inappropriate, never-used present.

After you've had the fun of planning what to give, the next step is the most enjoyable of all.

Plan to start your shopping tomorrow. The stores are ready—and so are you — to make this a well-planned and wonderful Christmas.

Start your shopping tomorrow!

COLORFUL GIFT IDEA

Give her dyer-to-match coordinates for a luxury look and good fashion.

LIGHTING ADVENT WREATH, a lovely old custom, shown here. Wreath base is of styrofoam, pine and assorted color Yule balls. It's a long lasting plan

White Christmas Dreams Are Taking Colorful Turn

For emeryone who dreams of a colorful Christmas, Santa and his helpers have a plentiful selection of linens for bedroom, kitchen, dining room and bath. Color-bright sheets, towels, bedspreads and tablecloths vie with the traditional white Christmas gifts and add to the decor of the home as well as increasing the linen supply.

Comforters and blankets are giftworthy in solid colors or gala patterns — stripes and dainty florals show up importantly in this season's choice of bedcoverings.

For gifts that bring easy care as well as luxury and good looks, there are many selections among then miracle-fiber fabrics. New this year are fitted sheets in striped nylon tricot, in a rainbow of colors — blue, pink, green or yellow against white. Top sheets come in coordinated solid colors.

Shoppers will find more blankets to choose from among them a greater variety and diversity of colors in washable blankets of Orlon acrylic fiber.

Embroidered or printed Irish linens add glamour to kitchen, bedroom or bath, in the form of pillow cases, mat sets, kitchen towels and tablecloths.

Down - filled comforters make another glamour gift, and the colorful theme prevails here, too, with the coverings in every shade from deep tones to pastels.

Warm woolen blankets present an array of decorator colors and often have the added advantage of moth-proofing. And for very important presents, there are electric blankets in twin or full size, with single or dual controls.

Curtains get into the gift act, too. In this category are gaily patterned plastic shower curtains, crisp cafe curtains for the kitchen or matching draperies and bedspreads. The latter make a fine gift for a teen-age girl, and the draperies and bedspread might be plaid, anc important home fashion.

With the strong revival of interest in lace, the gift choice could be lace curtains for the living room, in a modern or traditional design. Then there are elegant lace tablecloths.

Practicality combines with an heirloom look in synthetic-fiber laces. One suggestion is an Italian-type lace tablecloth of Dacron polyester fiber, designed with intricate, patterns that combine shadow lace and cutwork effects.

"Bridge sets" of luncheon tablecloths and napkins in cottons and rayons are available in many novel patterns, including one that features, reproductions of the king, queen and jack.

Well-received, too, are gifts of pillows, whether made of foam rubber or filled with down, feathers or Dacron fiber-fill. When the choice is Dacron, the shopper will be aided by new labels which define content and weight requirements of the stuffing material.

Little Gifts Lead To Pep For Home

"Pep-er up-ers" for the home come in many forms, and all are good sources of gift ideas. Accessories such as throw pillows, magazine racks, lamps, ashtrays, wastebaskets and scatter rugs will provide pleaure at moderate price.

When an unusual gift that's also useful is the object, the Christmas shopper might consider an umbrella stand in a graceful new design.

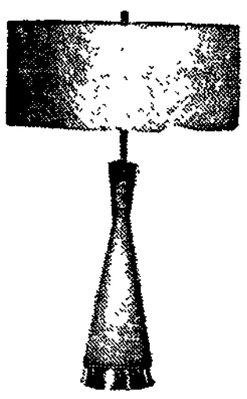

There's a renewal of interest in artificial fruit or flowers for home adornment, and a colorful selection of either the fruit or flowers could solve gift problems.

If the home for which the gift is intended houses a hobby collection such as handpainted plates or cups, an addition to the display would be welcomed.

Check His Wardrobe For Ideas

Best way to go about gifting a man at Christmas is to start out by asking yourself a number of pertinent questions about the man himself.

What are his hobbies? What sports does he enjoy (either actively or spectator-wise)? Does he like to make things of wood, leather or metal? Does he collect anything from stamps to records? Does he do a lot of traveling? Is he a sports car enthusiast or boatman, an "outdoor chef" or camera fan? Does he smoke a pipe, cigars, cigarettes? Is he a garden devotee? Does he like to read, and if so, what? What are his tastes and need in the way of wearing apparel?

Armed with the answers to questions like these, you can set forth to shop with confidence in your ability to "fit the gift to the man" in a manner sure to be warmly rewarded by his appreciation, come Christmas morning.

"Give a man a gift he can wear" is always good advice, so you might first turn your thoughts to your man's wardrobe needs.

Sportswear Gifts

Sportswear especially is rich in gifting possibilities because it includes such a wide variety of items that can add pleasure to a man's off-the-job hours.

Sweaters are perennial favorites at Christmas, and this year the big, bulky yarns, often cable stitched, are in the fashion spotlight.

In outercoats the finger-tip length suburban coat is a top favorite for week-end wear and especially for automobile traveling. It appears in solid color fleeces and meltons, tweeds, plaids and fancy woolens.

Few men have all the slacks they'd like to mix or match with their favoirte sports coats. Hence, a pair of the new "Ivy" type of slim legs and back buckle in flannel, covert or sharkskin is a pretty safe bet for gifting the average man.

Sports shirts are another "natural." This year, you can choose from a wide array of stripes, plaids, checks and solids to suit any taste from the daring to the conservative. Collars are mostly "Ivy" button down and one-piece continental.

A really "super" gift on which the whole family might well get together is one of the handsome new sports coats in tweed, shetland, donegal or herringbone.

WARM, PRETTY PAJAMAS give sleeping comfort on winter nights, are welcome gift on Christmas morn. Ski pajamas by Carter.

For His "Loaf Life"

For your man's "loaf life" consider a luxurious dressing robe or several pairs of the new pajamas that double so handsomely as "loungers." The new shirt-jackets are another good idea for his hours of ease-at-home.

On the dress-up side, consider shirts (what man ever has too many?), neckties, socks, gloves, hats, shoes, mufflers, handkerchief, tie-bar and cuff-link sets. Choose with an eye to his tastes, and you're pretty sure to ring the Christmas bell with your gift.

Here's Television Gift For The Lazy

Effortless operation of TV set is a gift that is ready for giving to old lazy bones. In some instances it provides for change of stations by touching a push-button on the set. In others, there are remote control units.

One of the new devices by reputable makers actually operates without in any way being connected with the set itself. Weighing only eight ounces, it may be carried easily to the phone, for example, for the purpose of silencing the set while answering.

Gift Surprise Can Be Phone

Although the telephone comes to mind almost instinctively at Christmas time as the perfect instrument for personalizing Yule greetings to friends and relatives with long distance calls, modern developments have launched it on a gifting career as well.

With telephone companies now offering instruments in colors to match almost every scheme of home decoration, what woman wouldn't be thrilled with a new phone in her favorite hue to supplant the traditional black.

Yes this is but half of the story on modern, useful gift giving made possible by the telephone.

The grandest gesture of all would be to give her a phone for use in the kitchen where her own "office" is located. It will save her hundreds of steps a day.

Or, if she already has a phone in the kitchen, why not another for her bedroom, or the den or the playroom?

In any event a check to the local telephone company can help you arrange for a truly surprising and welcome Christmas for her.

A Leather Jacket Will Add Variety To His Wardrobe

Men, too, like a little variety in their wardrobe and Christmas is the time to add a touch of leather.

Among the leather wearables you'll find in the stores right now is a new three-button cold-weather suburban coat of rich London tan suede with alpaca lining, two deep pockets each about a foot square and a third change pocket.

Another popular style coat is zipped down the front, has side entry pockets.

Still another has inverted pleats from the shoulder yoke down the front and patch pockets that button down with a triangular flap.

The popular two-button sack coat is new in white Morocco capeskin of extra-soft glove tannage with striped taffeta lining. It has three outside pockets, and an inside breast pocket piped in leather.

If you want to give him something really unusual you can get this model in gold kid for a formal evening at home.

Ed Sutton of Cullowhee, N. C., averaged 7.6 yards per carry during North Carolina's first three football games this fall.

Yule Array Is Sure To Please Gals

Heralding a Yule season of happy hinting for "her" and happy hunting for "him," Santa and fashion join in presenting a wonderful variety of gifts calculated to deck every woman with Christmas glamour. From hats to hose, from coats to lingerie, from bath preparations to exotic perfumes, there are just-right presents for the personal pleasure of every girl and every woman, be she teen-ager, career girl, homemaker, mother or grandmother.

What's more, the wide selection makes it possible for the thoughtful giver to select presents so appropriate to the needs and tastes of the woman he plans to please that the gifts seem to have been made especially for her.

Consider "Her" Needs

Santa and fashion didn't forget practicality, either. They know the very same feminine hearts that love frills and luxury are also accompanied by wise feminine heads that insist upon gifts that can really be used. Now the most glamourous presents — furs, for example — abound with usefulness and durability, while functional gifts such as housedresses and kitchen aprons are pretty and fashionable.

WORTH THINKING ABOUT FOR CHRISTMAS is a gift of air conditioning, which can serve in colder weather as well as in the summer time, especially to clear the air in the home no matter how large your Christmas party. Window model shown is a General Electric Thin-Line.

Almost every woman would welcome a gift of fur, of course, but the present will be even more gratifying if it has that personal, "just for you" feeling. And "he" can show his thoughtfulness by considering "her" needs and way of life.

If she's an outdoor girl, a casually-styled fur coat, full length and warm, will be appreciated. If most of her outings are likely to be by car, she may prefer a jacket or other little fur that will be convenient as well as glamourous.

Hints Can Help

In the field of little gifts, too, presents can have a personal touch. If he doesn't know her favorite perfume or her most-liked shades of cosmetics, she'll usually be willing to help with hints.

If she won't hint and Santa can't guess, costume jewelry, scarves, gala collars or belts make wonderful "extra" presents and add excitement to Christmas morning by giving her many packages to open.

The career girl appreciates fashion gifts that can help her make quick changes from office-smart to party-glamourous appearance. Caraco jacket cover-ups or sweaters and blouses that can be worn with cocktail jumpers during the day are good possibilities.

For Active Life

For homemakers — and every woman who likes to entertain — cocktail aprons, hostess robes or at-home slacks, skirts and glamour tops make welcome gifts.

If she leads an active life, she'll like a car coat — whether her activities center around a college campus or PTA meetings.

And so it goes through the whole gift list. With the help of Santa and fashion, "he" is sure to find his shopping easier and "she" will find her presents more pleasing than ever this Christmas

Gifts Of Records Can Be Platters Of Joy For Everyone

Planning to give records as Christmas gifts? And who isn't! So many different types of people get so much joy out of them these days, the gift giver can't miss making a selection that will strike home

Remember, records are a must for the lover of good music, for the Hi-Fi hobbyist, for collectors, for home dance enthusiasts.

Range Is Limitless

Age makes no difference either. The selection of records that instruct as well as delight youngsters is almost limitless. Gifts of records for the sportsman or the student of history—people who like to preserve important voices from the past—are tops.

Yet, though records furnish limitless gift giving opportunities in their own right, there's an opportunity this year to serve up some new pleasure with gift platters for fans That opportunity comes from the development of a host of useful record accessories

Take, for example, the new lightweight, washable carrying cases for discs, which are in effect, portable cabinets permitting owners to take select records to and from the homes of friends, easily, safely and comfortably. And this suggests also, the gift opportunities inherent in the wide range of portable record players.

New Record Racks

Or take the newly designed racks, which make it possible for fans to set up a convenient selection of records to be kept close at hand, instead of having them scattered on the floor.

Or for the Hi-Fi bug, you may want to consider a diamond stylus that allows for 800 playing hours before a change is necessary . . or an additional speaker or amplifier for truer tone projection

And as for records themselves, it's easier than ever to make sure fine choices, with recordings available on a club subscription basis. Here's a gift that keeps new records—and the right ones—coming to the lucky person the whole year 'round

With membership goes the right to choose to suit individual tastes A handsome gift card announces the gift to the recipient Columbia "LP" record club offers four divisions from which to choose: 1 Classical, 2. Listening and Dancing, 3 Jazz, and, 4 Broadway, Movies, Television and Musical Comedies.

For the family, for friends at Christmas time, no gift is more appropriate than well selected music of the Yule season The new recordings of Christmas carols are legion. Recordings of traditional masterpieces await your choice—such as Handel's Messiah.

Gifts for All

The ardent music lover generally prefers classical—the traditional example of Beethoven's 5th Symphony directed by Arturo Toscanini.

From the theater come records of the top hits . . . such as "My Fair Lady," or "Waiting for Godot," among many others.

For the Jazz Enthusiast there's (Dave) "Brubeck Plays (Dave) Brubeck," and a lot more.

For the Child's Christmas there's "'Twas the Night Before Christmas" and the "Littlest Snowman," and others

For the teen-ager there's Vic Damone's record of "That Towering Feeling," among the many to be chosen from

For the family "The Somerset Strings" comes specially gift wrapped, as do others you may like better.

For everyone on your gift list there's a record and record accessories that make the "perfect Christmas Gift."

Watch Wins Favor As Gift

One Christmas gift that combines special thoughtfulness with down-to-earth practicality all in one package is a wrist watch Members of nearly every age group welcome the gift of a handsome, dependable time-piece, and there is a generous variety of models, in a wide price range to appeal to all needs and tastes

For women who have a busy round-the-clock schedule as homemakers or who are active sports enthusiasts there are shock and water resistant models that are smaller and prettier than ever, many with convenient expansion bracelets of dainty, narrow links

Dressler designs are as beautiful as fine jewelry, some with delicately tinted crystals, unusual dial shapes and sparkling stone-set cases Decorative end-pieces, faceted crystals, black dials and contour bracelets are also style-leading highlights in new women's watches, to be seen in your jeweler's Christmas display

Simplicity and neat masculine styling are characteristics of new watches for men. In business or everyday watches, cases are slim and dial markings are clean-cut, with a choice between round or rectangular cases.

Lay-away a gift a day to make Christmas bright and gay.

Check His Wardrobe For Ideas

Best way to go about gifting a man at Christmas is to start out by asking yourself a number of pertinent questions about the man himself.

What are his hobbies? What sports does he enjoy (either actively or spectator-wise)? Does he like to make things of wood, leather or metal? Does he collect anything from stamps to records? Does he do a lot of traveling? Is he a sports car enthusiast or boatman, an "outdoor chef" or camera fan? Does he smoke a pipe, cigars, cigarettes? Is he a garden devotee? Does he like to read, and if so, what? What are his tastes and need in the way of wearing apparel?

Armed with the answers to questions like these, you can set forth to shop with confidence in your ability to "fit the gift to the man" in a manner sure to be warmly rewarded by his appreciation come Christmas morning.

"Give a man a gift he can wear" is always good advice, so you might first turn your thoughts to your man's wardrobe needs.

Sportswear Gifts

Sportswear especially is rich in gifting possibilities because it includes such a wide variety of items that can add pleasure to a man's off-the-job hours.

Sweaters are perennial favorites at Christmas and this year the big, bulky yarns, often cable stitched, are in the fashion spotlight.

In outercoats the finger-tip length suburban coat is a top favorite for week-end wear and especially for automobile traveling. It appears in solid color fleeces and meltons, tweeds, plaids and fancy woolens.

Few men have all the slacks they'd like to mix or match with their favorite sports coats. Hence, a pair of the new "Ivy" type of slim legs and back buckle in flannel, covert or sharkskin is a pretty safe bet for gifting the average man.

Sports shirts are another "natural." This year you can choose from a wide array of stripes, plaids, checks and solids to suit any taste from the daring to the conservative. Collars are mostly "Ivy" button down and one-piece continental.

A really "super" gift on which the whole family might well get together is one of the handsome new sports coats in tweed, shetland, donegal or herringbone.

WARM, PRETTY PAJAMAS give sleeping comfort on winter nights, are welcome gift on Christmas morn. Ski pajamas by Carter.

For His "Loaf Life"

For your man's "loaf life" consider a luxurious dressing robe or several pairs of the new pajamas that double so handsomely as "loungers." The new shirt-jackets are another good idea for his hours of ease-at-home.

On the dress-up side, consider shirts (what man ever has too many?), neckties, socks, gloves, hats, shoes, mufflers, handkerchief, tie-bar and cuff-link sets. Choose with an eye to his tastes, and you're pretty sure to ring the Christmas bell with your gift.

Here's Television Gift For The Lazy

Effortless operation of TV set is a gift that is ready for giving to old lazy bones. In some instances it provides for change of stations by touching a push-button on the set. In others, there are remote control units.

One of the new devices by reputable makers actually operates without in any way being connected with the set itself. Weighing only eight ounces, it may be carried easily to the phone, for example, for the purpose of silencing the set while answering.

Gift Surprise Can Be Phone

Although the telephone comes to mind almost instinctively at Christmas time as the perfect instrument for personalizing Yule greetings to friends and relatives with long distance calls, modern developments have launched it on a gifting career as well.

With telephone companies now offering instruments in colors to match almost every scheme of home decoration, what woman wouldn't be thrilled with a new phone in her favorite hue to supplant the traditional black.

Yes this is but half of the story on modern, useful gift giving made possible by the telephone.

The grandest gesture of all would be to give her a phone for use in the kitchen where her own "office" is located. It will save her hundreds of steps a day.

Or, if she already has a phone in the kitchen, why not another for her bedroom, or the den or the playroom?

In any event a check to the local telephone company can help you arrange for a truly surprising and welcome Christmas for her.

A Leather Jacket Will Add Variety To His Wardrobe

Men, too, like a little variety in their wardrobe and Christmas is the time to add a touch of leather.

Among the leather wearables you'll find in the stores right now is a new three-button cold-weather suburban coat of rich London tan suede with alpaca lining, two deep pockets each about a foot square and a third change pocket.

Another popular style coat is zipped down the front, has side entry pockets.

Still another has inverted pleats from the shoulder yoke down the front and patch pockets that button down with a triangular flap.

The popular two-button sack coat is new in white Morocco capeskin of extra-soft glove tannage with striped taffeta lining. It has three outside pockets, and an inside breast pocket piped in leather.

If you want to give him something really unusual you can get this model in gold kid for a formal evening at home.

Ed Sutton of Cullowhee, N. C., averaged 7.6 yards per carry during North Carolina's first three football games this fall.

Up-To-Date As Today's Newspaper

For this Christmas season the American toy industry has created a new group of toys as up-to-date and absorbing as a newspaper's front page, with a sharp eye for detail and the unfailing judgment of a crack editor. Most are toys faithful to real-life counterparts down to the last detail.

The biggest bulge in Santa's pack this year, according to the association, may well hold educational toys designed to help along a very young man's or glory. For the aspiring architect, there is a new construction set with precision-engineered plastic blocks to let him build bridges and skyscrapers exactly to scale. (Mother and Dad can even use them to plan their new home.) Budding highway engineers can lay out the last word in super highways in their own back yards using new toy graders, sand haulers, and rollers.

For Junior Executives

For the rising young junior-junior-executive, there is a new, very businesslike telephone set, operated on flashlight batteries, which will enable him to sit at his desk in the playroom and sell a big order to that tough customer in the living room.

Tomorrow's electronic engineer can learn the fundamentals of electrical and electronic communications with toy radio outfits. The latest of these, carefully designed to meet the varying skills of different age groups, begin with crystal receiver sets and advance right up to the most modern of transistor sets.

FAIR EXCHANGE GIFT-WISE is in best traditions of the Christmas spirit! Each member of this happy twosome "looks better in a sweater"; he in his handsome pullover with ribbed waist, wrist and neck; she in her pretty cardigan; both garments fashioned in Tycora.

The junior mechanic of the house might well be able to share the maintenance load with dad by means of his own carpentry set and auto mechanic's set. These contain all the tools necessary to do many a job of professional caliber. The tools are specially designed for small hands.

The small-size housewife has gotten her share of the toy industry's attention, according to the Toy Manufacturers of the U.S.A. She'll be able to handle even the most intricate recipes with accurately detailed, miniature cooking equipment—ranges, refrigerators, utensils, dish sets, and tableware. The kitchen appliances really work, usually powered by flashlight batteries.

And now that she has her own home-canning outfit complete with jars, she might be able to help mother out of a jam when mother runs short of . . . well jam, for one thing.

America's toy makers have also equipped the little lady with a complete set of miniature furniture for just about every room in the house.

She can make clothes for her dolls on her own sewing machine. She can keep them looking spiffy, too, with her own electric iron and ironing board — all junior-size, of course, but efficient nevertheless, and completely safe to use.

She can give mother a hand around the house (or keep her own room pin-neat, at the very least) with her personal sweeper or vacuum cleaner.

If the little housekeeper has a doll that's only an infant, she'll be able to tend to baby with toy-size bathinettes, bassinets, and cribs.

Of course, after a day like that, the little homemaker is fairy entitled to a little amusement. An old magician's gimmick with a modern application might be just the thing. A new toy makes "magic" movies out of drawings of fairy tale characters and historical personages by "animating" them. The gimmick? It's all done with mirrors, naturally.

The trend toward authenticity and realism has brought the hobby of scale-model building close to the stature of art.

This year many scale modelers are turning their attention for the first time to atom-propelled craft like the submarine Nautilus.

Here's A Breather

The toy industry may well have reached a kind of absolute limit in its search for adult ideas with still another device. Taking their tip, apparently, from modern man's all-out pursuit of labor-saving devices, the industry has come up with a child-labor-saving device No longer is the child required to use his own lungs to blow bubbles.

Now, with a newly designed bubble-twirler, he can make almost endless streams of bubbles with just one sweep of his little hand.

SURE BET

If there still remains a question in your mind about what a man really wants, you can't miss when you give him a gift certificate on his favorite men's wear, sports goods, shoe, hardware or hobby shop.

Beauty Gifts, Things Of Joy

Shopping for a glamour gift to please a lady? Santa's advice is, "Give her a gift to enhance her beauty, and give her a beautiful gift."

At Christmas time, her favorite colognes and perfumes, lotions and lipsticks, powders and other beauty aids are dressed up for holiday giving in gala packages, and the festive appearance of these beauty gifts makes them doubly delightful to her.

For instance, one well-known line of perfumes and cosmetics features a gift package of cologne, perfume, sachet, face and bath powder, with the added attraction of a built-in music box that plays a tune every time the lid of the package is raised.

Several manufacturers now offer colognes and lotions in spray-mist dispensers. This would be a way to give her an "old favorite" beauty aid with a novelty touch.

Christmas is a time for giving coordinated sets of cosmetics, bath preparations and fragrances, and they're especially welcome this year because they contribute a "costume feeling" that goes well with the fashion-favored co-ordinated look.

Small items such as a lipstick or purse-size container of perfume can be tucked into other gift packages.

GRANDMOTHER'S GIFT

One of the newest and most popular ideas in jewelry gifts is the "grandmother's charm bracelet" which carries a locket or disc engraved with the name and birthdate of each of her grandchildren; others to be added as her family grows in numbers.

To Insure Delivery Address With Care, Is Holiday Advice

Careful addressing of Christmas Cards is a must if you want to avoid the heavy strain on friendship that usually follows when greetings fail to arrive. Postal authorities estimate that more than 2,000,000 cards go illegible addresses, incorrect postage or other mailing mistakes.

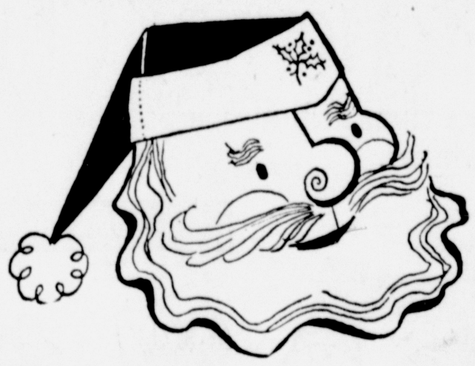

Write or print the address preferably in permanent ink to avoid smear in damp weather, use zone numbers, and mail all cards at least two weeks before Christmas, is the advice of Jerlyn Madison, Sheaffer Pen writing consultant who has studied the situation.

Unsealed card envelopes require only a 2-cent stamp; sealed cards, a 3-cent stamp.

Gifts Of Silver Live A Long Life Of Beauty And Utility

Why not be practical, asks the Jewelry Industry Council, in choosing your Christmas gifts?

Practicality need not mean your gift will lack sentiment or beauty, for if it is silver, either sterling or plate, holloware or flatware, it will combine the qualities a thoughtful Christmas gift should have: a long life of usefulness, a very special beauty and an unmistakable commemorative value which gives it additional meaning significance.

Because silver is becoming more and more, a favorite gift, it is no longer thought of as a present for brides only. There is lovely silver for homemakers, young girls, babies and even the men on your Christmas list.

Starting with a homemaker's needs, it is wise, if possible, to check her present supply of silver before choosing a gift. Perhopes she is still building her sterling flatware collection and, if so, a place setting or individual serving pieces in her pattern would be a welcome addition.

Inventory of her holloware may reveal she lacks some important pieces such as a silver vegetable dish, tray, salts and peppers, candlesticks or centerpiece bowl.

Shining assets to entertaining are silver cigarette urns, individual ash trays and silver butter plates. Magnificent both to use and to display is a silver coffee or tea service.

Hope chests are far from old fashioned. Many young girls in their teens are collecting essentials for future housekeeping, among them silver flatware and holloware. A chest of plated flatware would indeed be a cherished contribution. Picture frames, dresser sets and dainty clocks are gifts of silver she can enjoy right away.

A child's first life-time possession is very often a silver baby cup. There are other gifts of silver for babies and young children; gifts that, with the years, become heirlooms for future generations to use and enjoy: baby spoons and forks, long-handled feeding spoons, small picture frames, porringers, bib holders and junior-sized place settings, among them.

For the man in the house, your jeweler has a wide variety of silver gifts for his home and his office: cigarette boxes, table lighters, ash trays, etc.

TOPS FOR CHRISTMAS

She's sure to welcome blouses and sweaters, tailored for day time, festive for date-time.

What's Cooking In Kitchen? Lots Of Grand Gift Ideas

Fun and excitement are cooking in the kitchen-gift category, as manufacturers have come up with an unusually impressive array of work-easers and life-brighteners for the "chief cook and bottle washer," whoever she—or he—may be.

In the useful-gadget class are presents such as spoon-holders, very much at home on the range during cooking time; lettuce washers, so decorative that the imaginative homemaker may decide to use one as part of a table decoration; knife holders, magnetized, of course; and bread boards with festive motifs.

Several of these items can be grouped to make a lavish gift at little cost, or they can even be used as packaging materials. A kitchen wastebasket, dish drainer, mixing bowl or plastic tray (for flatware) can be heaped with fruit, candy or gadgets such as cheese cutters, measuring shoons, vegetable scoops, stove-top salt and peppers, cake servers, pepper mills and a host of others.

Thrifty little gifts that gratify are spice shelves, plastic planters for growing parsley or herbs, pegboards to hold kitchen utensils, cookie jars, lazy susans and matched sets of mixing bowls.

Ornamental as well as useful are enameled or copper-bottomed pots and pans. Also in the group of major kitchen gifts are sets of pottery or plastic dishes.

Decorated matchbooks make inexpensive but attractive gifts, especially when monogrammed.

SAVE YOUR POINSETTIAS

If you keep your Christmas gift poinsettia well watered while it is blooming, then let the blooms and leaves fade, you can save the plant to bloom again for next Christmas. It should be put away in a cool dark place to rest until next fall.

FOR LADIES OF FASHION

Because today's clothes are characterized chiefly by their softness and simplicity, interesting, up-to-date jewelry is more important than ever to the fashionable woman: a gift tip worth consideration by her favorite Santa.

XmasGiftsKeyedToHis Sport Are Sure Winners

When it comes to their continued avid interest in sports, few men ever "grow up." Long past the day of their own bat swinging, basket ringing and touchdown scoring, they follow their favorite teams with unremitting enthusiasm from one end of the season to the other.

On the active-participant side, many men channelize their sports proclivities into such pastimes as golf, tennis, bowling, fishing, hunting or boating. If you want to score a solid hit with such a man at Christmas, the surest way is to "play his game" in your gifting.

For the golfer, there is a host of gadgets and accessories that will heighten his pleasure, maybe even lower his score! Consider, for instance, one of the new golf umbrellas that will fit so handily into his golf bag, a cart to tote the latter when caddies are in short supply, or a set of numbered covers for his clubs. Then, too, one of the new lightweight golf bags may be right on the beam. There's even a practice device with which he can sharpen up his putting indoors on rainy days and all winter long.

A dozen of his favorite brand of golf balls will always be welcome; one manufacturer is putting these up in desk and pencil caddies that make handsome gifts.

The tennis addict will always appreciate a new press or cover to say nothing of shorts, shirts, socks, shoes and sweaters geared to his game. A few tins of tennis balls are always in order. While he may prefer to elect hi racket for himelf, you can eaily come to his rescue, giftwise, with a Gift Certificate on his favorite sports store.

The bowler might well up his score if he had his own ball, with carrying case; bowling shoes and shirts can also aid and abet his game.

For the angler, the gifting possibilities are practically endless. So many new rods, spinning reels and lures keep bobbing up on the market that the fisherman who wants to keep abreast of the times (as what fisherman doesn't?) usually has an extra long "wish list."

For the hunter, there are sleeping bags, hunting coats and boots, portable cook stoves, compasses and an ample supply of his favorite shells.

For the "arm chair" or spectator-type sportsman, there are books about his favorite game.

If you keep your Christmas gift poinsettia well watered while it is blooming, then let the blooms and leaves fade, you can save the plant to bloom again for next Christmas. It should be put away in a cool dark place to rest until next fall.

FOR LADIES OF FASHION

Because today's clothes are characterized chiefly by their softness and simplicity, interesting, up-to-date jewelry is more important than ever to the fashionable woman: a gift tip worth consideration by her favorite Santa.

Xmas Gifts Keyed To His Sport Are Sure Winners

When it comes to their continued avid interest in sports, few men ever "grow up." Long past the day of their own bat swinging, basket ringing and touchdown scoring, they follow their favorite teams with unremitting enthusiasm from one end of the season to the other.

On the active-participant side, many men channelize their sports proclivities into such pastimes as golf, tennis, bowling, fishing, hunting or boating. If you want to score a solid hit with such a man at Christmas, the surest way is to "play his game" in your gifting.

For the golfer, there is a host of gadgets and accessories that will heighten his pleasure, maybe even lower his score! Consider, for instance, one of the new golf umbrellas that will fit so handily into his golf bag, a cart to tote the latter when caddies are in short supply, or a set of numbered covers for his clubs. Then, too, one of the new lightweight golf bags may be right on the beam. There's even a practice device with which he can sharpen up his putting indoors on rainy days and all winter long.

A dozen of his favorite brand of golf balls will always be welcome; one manufacturer is putting these up in desk and pencil caddies that make handsome gifts.

The tennis addict will always appreciate a new press or cover to say nothing of shorts, shirts, socks, shoes and sweaters geared to his game. A few tins of tennis balls are always in order. While he may prefer to elect hi racket for himself, you can eally come to his rescue, giftwise, with a Gift Certificate on his favorite sports store.

The bowler might well up his score if he had his own ball, with carrying case; bowling shoes and shirts can also aid and abet his game.

For the angler, the gifting possibilities are practically endless. So many new rods, spinning reels and lures keep bobbing up on the market that the fisherman who wants to keep abreast of the times (as what fisherman doesn't?) usually has an extra long "wish list."

For the hunter, there are sleeping bags, hunting coats and boots, portable cook stoves, compasses and an ample supply of his favorite shells.

For the "arm chair" or spectator-type sportsman, there are books about his favorite game.

Up-To-Date As Today's Newspaper

For this Christmas season the American toy industry has created a new group of toys as up-to-date and absorbing as a newspaper's front page, with a sharp eye for detail and the unfailing judgment of a crack editor. Most are toys faithful to real-life counterparts down to the last detail.

The biggest bulge in Santa's pack this year, according to the association, may well hold educational toys designed to help along a very young man's or glory. For the aspiring architect, there is a new construction set with precision-engineered plastic blocks to let him build bridges and skyscrapers exactly to scale. (Mother and Dad can even use them to plan their new home.) Budding highway engineers can lay out the last word in super highways in their own back yards using new toy graders, sand haulers, and rollers.

For Junior Executives

For the rising young junior-junior-executive, there is a new, very businesslike telephone set, operated on flashlight batteries, which will enable him to sit at his desk in the playroom and sell a big order to that tough customer in the living room.

Tomorrow's electronic engineer can learn the fundamentals of electrical and electronic communications with toy radio outfits. The latest of these, carefully designed to meet the varying skills of different age groups, begin with crystal receiver sets and advance right up to the most modern of transistor sets.

The junior mechanic of the house might well be able to share the maintenance load with dad by means of his own carpentry set and auto mechanic's set. These contain all the tools necessary to do many a job of professional caliber. The tools are specially designed for small hands.

The small-size housewife has gotten her share of the toy industry's attention, according to the Toy Manufacturers of the U.S.A. She'll be able to handle even the most intricate recipes with accurately detailed, miniature cooking equipment—ranges, refrigerators, utensils, dish sets, and tableware. The kitchen appliances really work, usually powered by flashlight batteries.

And now that she has her own home-canning outfit complete with jars, she might be able to help mother out of a jam when mother runs short of . . . well jam, for one thing.

America's toy makers have also equipped the little lady with a complete set of miniature furniture for just about every room in the house.

She can make clothes for her dolls on her own sewing machine. She can keep them looking spiffy, too, with her own electric iron and ironing board — all junior-size, of course, but efficient nevertheless, and completely safe to use.

She can give mother a hand around the house (or keep her own room pin-neat, at the very least) with her personal sweeper or vacuum cleaner.

If the little housekeeper has a doll that's only an infant, she'll be able to tend to baby with toy-size bathinettes, bassinets, and cribs.

Of course, after a day like that, the little homemaker is fairly entitled to a little amusement. An old magician's gimmick with a modern application might be just the thing. A new toy makes "magic" movies out of drawings of fairy tale characters and historical personages by "animating" them. The gimmick? It's all done with mirrors, naturally.

The trend toward authenticity and realism has brought the hobby of scale-model building close to the stature of art.

This year many scale modelers are turning their attention for the first time to atom-propelled craft like the submarine Nautilus.

Here's A Breather

The toy industry may well have reached a kind of absolute limit in its search for adult ideas with still another device. Taking their tip, apparently, from modern man's all-out pursuit of labor-saving devices, the industry has come up with a child-labor-saving device No longer is the child required to use his own lungs to blow bubbles.

Now, with a newly designed bubble-twirler, he can make almost endless streams of bubbles with just one sweep of his little hand.

FAIR EXCHANGE GIFT-WISE is in best traditions of the Christmas spirit! Each member of this happy twosome "looks better in a sweater"; he in his handsome pullover with ribbed waist, wrist and neck; she in her pretty cardigan; both garments fashioned in Tycora.

SURE BET

If there still remains a question in your mind about what a man really wants, you can't miss when you give him a gift certificate on his favorite men's wear, sports goods, shoe, hardware or hobby shop.

Beauty Gifts, Things Of Joy

Shopping for a glamour gift to please a lady? Santa's advice is, "Give her a gift to enhance her beauty, and give her a beautiful gift."

At Christmas time, her favorite colognes and perfumes, lotions and lipsticks, powders and other beauty aids are dressed up for holiday giving in gala packages, and the festive appearance of these beauty gifts makes them doubly delightful to her.

For instance, one well-known line of perfumes and cosmetics features a gift package of cologne, perfume, sachet, face and bath powder, with the added attraction of a built-in music box that plays a tune every time the lid of the package is raised.

Several manufacturers now offer colognes and lotions in spray-mist dispensers. This would be a way to give her an "old favorite" beauty aid with a novelty touch.

Christmas is a time for giving coordinated sets of cosmetics, bath preparations and fragrances, and they're especially welcome this year because they contribute a "costume feeling" that goes well with the fashion-favored co-ordinated look.

Small items such as a lipstick or purse-size container of perfume can be tucked into other gift packages.

GRANDMOTHER'S GIFT

One of the newest and most popular ideas in jewelry gifts is the "grandmother's charm bracelet" which carries a locket or disc engraved with the name and birthdate of each of her grandchildren; others to be added as her family grows in numbers.

To Insure Delivery Address With Care, Is Holiday Advice

Careful addressing of Christmas Cards is a must if you want to avoid the heavy strain on friendship that usually follows when greetings fail to arrive. Postal authorities estimate that more than 2,000,000 cards go illegible addresses, incorrect postage or other mailing mistakes.

Write or print the address preferably in permanent ink to avoid smear in damp weather, use zone numbers, and mail all cards at least two weeks before Christmas, is the advice of Jerlyn Madison, Sheaffer Pen writing consultant who has studied the situation.

Unsealed card envelopes require only a 2-cent stamp; sealed cards, a 3-cent stamp.

Glamorous Collection Of Presents For 1956 Features Wide Choice

The most wonderful thing about the Christmas gifting that is in store for everyone this year is the vastly expanding scope of the presents from which to choose for friends and loved ones.

Old St. Nick has done more than keep pace with today's wider opportunities to help folks enjoy life, by adding glamour to the prosaic, and by seizing upon such modern scientific principles as automation, in order to fill his gifts bag.

He also has evolved myriad new ways to make young and old alike thrill with delight at Christmas time; his list of gifts includes so many, many things that will keep on giving through the coming months and even years.

It won't be long now before it's time for him, and his great horde of helpers, to deposit these gifts under the tree. Time dictates the wisdom of early planning, careful and thoughtful inspection of the wonderful array of gifts, and early slection, to make sure your first choices are realized.

Exposition Of Gift Giving Ideas

And to make all this easy for everyone, the leading stores of this community, and all of the agencies that are ready to help you make this the best and most complete Christmas on record, are joining to present a city-wide exposition of Christmas Gifts starting tomorrow.

The glittering contents of Santa's gifts bag have been spread over the counters and shelves of the stores, against a brilliant background of Yuletide decorations for all to see. Doors of the stores will swing wide at the beginning of the business day to welcome young and old.

There's a special invitation for youngsters to come in and inspect the new and marvelous wonders of Toyland, 1956.

Banks of the city, too, will be bedecked for the occasion and their personnel on the job to offer help in terms of Christmas Club plans and financing arrangements, all designed to make it possible for everyone to fulfill their fondest notions of modern giving. Stores also will offer convenient budget plans to help you finance your giving.

This special Christmas Gifts Section is presented as an aid to more successful gift giving.

It is planned, at one and the same time, as a preview of the broad sweeping array of gifts that go on display tomorrow, and as a guide to help you start your choosing.

This Year's Keynote

"Christmas belongs to everyone," is really the keynote of this year's gifting, with virtually everything that's designed to make life more enjoyable now listed in the modern category of gifts.

The trend among members of families to get together for purchase of major gifts all will enjoy over a long period of time surges forward this year.

Such gifts can range from an outboard motor to wall carpeting for the living room; from a new color-television set to a completely finished recreation room. Or it can be as simple as a collection of games the family may join in playing.

The trend toward multiple gift giving also is burgeoning beyond the simple idea of giving the children several toys. It spills over with joyous persistency into the adult age groups where the gift of a razor is accompanied by some shaving cream; the gift of a camera is accompanied by some film.

Handsome To Behold

The joy of opening more than one gaily bedecked gift package, some small, some large, but all contributing to the gaiety of the occasion, and the message of affection presents convey, is an important part of the Christmas program.

The range of suitable gifts is as broad as the range of human interests now that designers have made even pots and pans handsome to behold. Almost every category of gift giving now offers items ranging from piggy bank prices to major investments.

There are wearable gifts, ranging from a tie to a sports jacket and beyond, for men; from scarfs and cosmetics to exciting furs, for women. There are useful and now beautiful practical gifts encompassing the homemaking activities of women, from a set of pot holders to a fine new automatic range.

There are play gifts for the grown-ups as well as the children, to be chosen to fit hobby or sports interests, from an inexpensive set of fish hooks to a fine set of golf clubs. And for the children, an inspection of the 1956 Toyland, with its vast selection of playthings as new as today's news, is a must.

Treasured And Unique

There are gifts to treasure, such as the enduring beauty of fine silver and jewelry, a watch, a child's first locket.

There are unique gifts such as a tape recorder, with which to make an ever living thing of the delightful peals of joy that welcome Christmas morning surprises, or simple to operate photographic equipment to preserve the scene in color.

The Christmas scene is important too, for it is the spirit of the Yule reflected by the home, both indoors and out, that helps make the season so joyous.

Dad, usually the proud planner of exterior illumination, will find new and improved equipment and plans on display in the stores. Mother, usually responsible for interior decor, will want to consult with the florist, and also probably invent schemes of her own, her own.

EVERYBODY'S HAPPY when Santa brings gifts for the home, for such presents bring pleasure that all can share. Daughter proves this by putting the home gift of a sofa to practical use right away, as she sits down to open her Christmas packages. Shown here, French provincial International sofa.

Here's Guide To Delicious Turkey For Holiday Feast

Whether you are a bride who is cooking her first holiday meal, or an experienced homemaker, you will find the following information furnished by the Gas Appliances Manufacturers Association a handy guide when you get ready to roast it for the festive meal.

The size bird you order will, of course, depend upon the number of people you plan to serve. Weighed ready-to-cook, you should figure at least a pound a person.

The experts suggest that you buy a bird one and a half times as large as you need, in order to have plenty left over to satisfy the family.

Prepare stuffing according to the weight of the bird. This table tells you how much for a turkey weighing—

8-12 lbs.—2½ quarts (10 cups)
12-16 lbs.—3½ quarts (14 cups)
16-20 lbs.—4½ quarts (18 cups)
20-25 lbs.— 6 quarts (24 cups)

RECOMMENDED ROASTING TIME, using the open-pan method for a stuffed turkey, with oven temperature set at 300 degrees, is given here in minutes per pound:

7-10 lbs. approx. 30 min. per lb.
10-15 lbs. approx. 20 min per lb.
15-18 lbs. approx. 18 min. per lb.
18-20 lbs. approx. 15 min. per lb.
20-25 lbs. approx. 12 min. per lb.

Care should be taken to baste the turkey properly during the roasting time.

RECOMMENDED ROASTING TIME for turkeys that are foil wrapped without stuffing, and with oven temperature set at 450 degrees, is given here in minutes per pound:

7-10 lbs. approx. 17 min. per lb.
10-15 lbs. approx. 15 min. per lb.
158-18 lbs. approx. 12 min. per lb.
18-20 lbs. approx. 11 min. per lb.
20-25 lbs. approx. 10 min. per lb.

Be sure to open foil 20 minutes to half an hour before end of roasting time to allow juice to escape into roaster.

TEST FOR DONENESS is the same for both methods. The bird is done when the drumstick can be moved easily and the thick portion feels very soft when pinched.

Holiday Table Is Sure To Be Gifted

Decking the festive board on Christmas day, gifts of china, glassware, silver and table ornaments speedily prove their beauty and usefulness, for the woman who unwraps a gift for her table will want to enjoy it and display it right away.

A gleaming silver coffee service or a milk glass punch bowl, complete with cups, gets proud use when friends drop in with holiday greetings. Dinnerware and flatware, whether in the form of a complete service or additional place settings, makes its appearance at Christmas dinner or buffet.

A silver well and tree platter can be the highlight of the Christmas feast for her.

She likes gifts with more than one use, too—for instance, a salad bowl that can also serve as part of a centerpiece.

And she'll find time, in the midst of her party preparations, to experiment with attractive arrangements of glass or silver table ornaments.

Television Developments Broaden Gift Selections

Two new developments in the field of television promise substantial help for generous Santas this year. One is the portable TV receiver and the other is progress in providing sets for reception of telecasts in color.

Small, smartly styled, rugged portable TV receivers already have proven their popularity in homes and offices. In a sense, they represent the completion of a cycle in television viewing.

It was only a short time ago that the public was clamoring for larger and larger screens, which they still want for living rooms. But now, with the mounting popularity of television as a form of entertainment, the demand grows for portability and personalized sets.

Easily Carried About

And as a result, practically all of the major producers of TV receivers, including such manufacturers as RCA Victor, General Electric, Zenith, Admiral and Emerson, are producing models in sizes so small they can be placed on a desk, or easily carried about by a child.

Portability and small size of the personal-type sets is what makes them so desirable for Christmas giving. Among candidates for these gifts are dad, who will like one for his office; mother, who can move it easily from kitchen to bedroom, wherever her chores take her, without missing a scene of her favorite programs; obviously for children and for the sick. Above all they are the most convenient as second sets for the home.

This Christmas, also, it appears, color television will really be zooming.

Interest Runs High

Spokesmen for the Radio Corporation of America actually feel that color receivers may be in short supply during the height of the Christmas season, so rapidly is the interest mounting.

Color receivers, which also pick up regular black and white programs are now perfected and are available nationally at prices slightly under $500. Nationwide networks are increasing color programs and more local stations are being equipped for color-casting.

It all adds up to the opportunity for a gay and colorful Christmas for many this year.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Lingerie Gifts Are Pretty, Practical

Lovely lingerie and sleepwear make gifts that are as practical as they are glamourous, a combination that never fails to appeal to feminine hearts.

A bouffant petticoat to wear under her favorite full-skirted fashions is sure to delight any teen-ager on your list, while the more mature woman will be flattered by your choice of a slim Empire slip, lavished with lace and embroidery. These look elegantly fragile, but may be had in nylon and other miracle fabrics that are a breeze to care for—an added factor all women will appreciate!

Warm and cozy sleepwear is always welcome, and this year there is an especially wide selection of colorful styles.

Other than for use in buildings, Vermont marble is also used in toothpaste, paint and rouge.

Flowers Play New Important Role In Plans For Christmas

The weeks before Christmas are filled with a hectic whirl—of shopping, decorating and making plans for holiday parties. The smart woman knows that she can take care of her holiday decorations just before the season starts, and, if she plans them carefully, expect them to last for all of her parties.

Today, there are so many decorative materials on the market that will last for a long time, that with a little imagination, any home can be transformed for the holiday season.

You will, of course, want to fit your decorations to your color scheme. The home with a modern decor is suitable for decorations in ice blue, lavender, or hot pink. The more traditional home is better suited to the red and green colors always associated with Christmas.

Alyn Wayne, official stylist for the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association, offers a few hints.

HE CAN BE KING OF THE YULE AND SHE HIS QUEEN this Christmas with royal raiment including crowns, sword and scabbard, cloaks, scepters and other "ruling" accessories. All it takes is a willing Santa. King and Queen sets by Ideal.

"Before you start to decorate, evaluate your home, and decide upon the areas which you want to decorate," says Wayne. "Perhaps a striking modern fireplace is the focal point of your living room. You'll want to dramatize it, with clever decorations. A lovely bay window, or picture window, can also be used for your starting point."

Florist Will Advise

"Then," this expert advises, "get acquainted with the materials available at your local florist shop. Your florist will be happy to give you advice on your Christmas decorating problems and he'll show you the different greens, colored spray snows, berries, foam novelties and other accessories.

"You'll find ready made decorations, such as door pieces and wreaths to help you in your decorating plan."

Of course, you still have your gift list to cope with. Flowers are a most welcome gift — in decorations, flowering plants such as poinsettias, or corsages.

And it's simple to give flowers for Christmas gifts. Just take your list of names, with the gift you choose and message for the card, to your local florist, who is a member of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association.

Your flower order will be on its way in a few minutes, and your thoughtful gift will be greatly appreciated. For those last-minute gifts, too, your FTD florist is the solution, for he can send flowers anywhere in the world, within a matter of hours, even the day before Christmas.

There's no problem of size or suitability with flowers. They are an excellent gift for persons of all ages. Poinsettias are especially fine this year, and last all through the holiday seasons. This popular plant, by the way, comes in coral and cream, as well as the familiar red.

Corsages are Versatile

Corsages can be versatile and varied. For a formal occasion, a white gardenia or camellia is a good choice, backed by shiny green leaves. To wear on her coat, try an all-foliage corsage, of pine needles, pine cones, holly and red berries. Red roses and holly are a good choice, while red carnations are long-lasting favorites.

When you receive flowers as a gift, you can make sure they last as long as they should by following a few rules.

Never place flower arrangements directly over or in front of a radiator, or in a draft. This causes the flowers to lose moisture rapidly, and fade faster.

Glamourize Your Gifting With New Fashion Jewelry

Fashion jewelry designs for Winter '56-'57 are fresh and exciting, says the Jewelry Industry Council, thus making jewelry a particularly good gift choice for Christmas this year.

Christmas shoppers should look for two major trends in fashion jewelry: One highlighting the combination of textured gold colored metal in tailored designs, the other reflecting elegance with a lavish hand for gleaming stones and richly sculptured surfaces. Colored stones are, in fact, seen in both the tailored and dressy designs, the rich, warm colors of ruby, sapphire and emerald among the most popular for winter.

Pins, larger, airier and nearly always asymmetric, add a dashing focal point to coat, suit or dress, and even to swept-back hair. Earrings, for daytime wear, are neat and round; for evenings, as demure or exotic as a lady likes them to be.

Bracelet fashions favor variety, too — a wristful of gleaming dangles, charms and chains or a wide cuff, plain or jeweled. Large costume rings, set with dazzling synthetic stones, and jeweled combs are also part of winter's fashion jewelry collections.

Christmas Top Day To Bestow Diamond Ring

Seems as if Santa and Cupid are in cahoots to make Christmas the most important single day of the year for the bestowal of the betrothal ring. Jewelers everywhere report more sales of diamond engagement rings in December than in any other month.

When it comes to choosing this all-important ring, jewelers say that about half the selections are made by men, shopping alone, while the other half is made by couples.

If you are "the man in the case," whether you shop "solo" or as a twosome, here are some important guideposts to follow:

First of all, the style should be such as to flatter your lady's hand. For long, thin fingers, the Brilliant (round), Heart and Pear shapes are considered the most flattering, while for short, plump fingers the Marquise and Emerald cuts are favored.

Perennially the "best seller" in diamond engagement rings is the Brilliant (round) shape, often flanked by a pair of baguette diamonds.

Emerald-cut diamonds are cut in the style that has long been used for emeralds and other colored stones. They have a subdued beauty that is preferred by many diamond connoisseurs.

The Marquise shape, gracefully tapering to points at top and bottom brings out the maximum fire and color of a diamond. The Heart is the newest diamond shape, and is favored by many couples for its romantic significance.

In choosing a diamond, it is well to be guided by what the jewelers call the "four C's": Color, Clarity, Cut and Carat.

"Color" in a diamond is a delicate thing; a faint shade or tone can make an important difference. The finest gem diamonds resemble a crystal clear drop of water with a faint bluish tinge. The bluer the tint, the more valuable the diamond.

"Clarity" refers to a diamond's freedom from imperfections, such as spots of carbon, internal cracks or tiny bubbles. The smaller and fewer the flaws, the greater the value. A diamond is considered perfect if it has no flaws that can be seen under a loupe that magnifies ten times.

"Cut" describes the shape of the diamond and the process by which it has been changed from the rough to the faceted stone. The full measure of its fire and brilliance is achieved only through proper cutting.

"Carat" is the accepted standard of weight for diamonds. There are 100 points to a carat. A 50 point diamond is equal to a half-carat, and so on.

Packaging Often "Makes" The Gift, Expert Concludes

Americans give more presents than they receive — they say. But it is the only conclusion a New York packaging designer got in a summary of a poll of "typical" retail store patrons.

Another conclusion was that virtually any item makes an acceptable gift, especially if it is in a good-looking carton. Gift packaging often "makes" the gift, says Harry S. Lapow, who conducted the poll.

"In general the figures we tabulated were strikingly consistent," said Lapow. "Gift-givers said they gave an average of 40 to 50 gifts a year — not including the casual cigar or the gratuity. That adds up to 4 or 5 billion gifts a year, or more than 12 million every day, including Sundays."

One unhappy respondent gave testimony, Lapow said, that he gives about 60 gifts a year — but receives only two.

AIDS TO GROOMING

Toiletries specially compounded for men lend themselves ideally to Christmas gifting. There are shaving lotions, creams and soaps, colognes, talcum powders and toilet waters, many of which come in gift sets and attractive containers which double as holders for cigarettes, dress accessories and the like.

Flowers Play New Important Role In Plans For Christmas

The weeks before Christmas are filled with a hectic whirl—of shopping, decorating and making plans for holiday parties. The smart woman knows that she can take care of her holiday decorations just before the season starts, and, if she plans them carefully, expect them to last for all of her parties.

Today, there are so many decorative materials on the market that will last for a long time, that with a little imagination, any home can be transformed for the holiday season.

You will, of course, want to fit your decorations to your color scheme. The home with a modern decor is suitable for decorations in ice blue, lavender, or hot pink. The more traditional home is better suited to the red and green colors always associated with Christmas.

Alyn Wayne, official stylist for the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association, offers a few hints.

HE CAN BE KING OF THE YULE AND SHE HIS QUEEN this Christmas with royal raiment including crowns, sword and scabbard, cloaks, scepters and other "ruling" accessories. All it takes is a willing Santa. King and Queen sets by Ideal.

"Before you start to decorate, evaluate your home, and decide upon the areas which you want to decorate," says Wayne. "Perhaps a striking modern fireplace is the focal point of your living room. You'll want to dramatize it, with clever decorations. A lovely bay window, or picture window, can also be used for your starting point."

Florist Will Advise

"Then," this expert advises, "get acquainted with the materials available at your local florist shop. Your florist will be happy to give you advice on your Christmas decorating problems and he'll show you the different greens, colored spray snows, berries, foam novelties and other accessories.

"You'll find ready made decorations, such as door pieces and wreaths to help you in your decorating plan."

Of course, you still have your gift list to cope with. Flowers are a most welcome gift — in decorations, flowering plants such as poinsettias, or corsages.

And it's simple to give flowers for Christmas gifts. Just take your list of names, with the gift you choose and message for the card, to your local florist, who is a member of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association.

Your flower order will be on its way in a few minutes, and your thoughtful gift will be greatly appreciated. For those last-minute gifts, too, your FTD florist is the solution, for he can send flowers anywhere in the world, within a matter of hours, even the day before Christmas.

There's no problem of size or suitability with flowers. They are an excellent gift for persons of all ages. Poinsettias are especially fine this year, and last all through the holiday seasons. This popular plant, by the way, comes in coral and cream, as well as the familiar red.

Corsages are Versatile

Corsages can be versatile and varied. For a formal occasion, a white gardenia or camellia is a good choice, backed by shiny green leaves. To wear on her coat, try an all-foliage corsage, of pine needles, pine cones, holly and red berries. Red roses and holly are a good choice, while red carnations are long-lasting favorites.

When you receive flowers as a gift, you can make sure they last as long as they should by following a few rules.

Never place flower arrangements directly over or in front of a radiator, or in a draft. This causes the flowers to lose moisture rapidly, and fade faster.

Glamorous Collection Of Presents For 1956 Features Wide Choice

The most wonderful thing about the Christmas gifting that is in store for everyone this year is the vastly expanding scope of the presents from which to choose for friends and loved ones.

Old St. Nick has done more than keep pace with today's wider opportunities to help folks enjoy life, by adding glamour to the prosaic, and by seizing upon such modern scientific principles as automation, in order to fill his gifts bag.

He also has evolved myriad new ways to make young and old alike thrill with delight at Christmas time; his list of gifts includes so many, many things that will keep on giving through the coming months and even years.

It won't be long now before it's time for him, and his great horde of helpers, to deposit these gifts under the tree. Time dictates the wisdom of early planning, careful and thoughtful inspection of the wonderful array of gifts, and early slection, to make sure your first choices are realized

Exposition Of Gift Giving Ideas

And to make all this easy for everyone, the leading stores of this community, and all of the agencies that are ready to help you make this the best and most complete Christmas on record, are joining to present a city-wide exposition of Christmas Gifts starting tomorrow

The glittering contents of Santa's gifts bag have been spread over the counters and shelves of the stores, against a brilliant background of Yuletide decorations for all to see Doors of the stores will swing wide at the beginning of the business day to welcome young and old

There's a special invitation for youngsters to come in and inspect the new and marvelous wonders of Toyland, 1956

Banks of the city, too, will be bedecked for the occasion and their personnel on the job to offer help in terms of Christmas Club plans and financing arrangements, all designed to make it possible for everyone to fulfill their fondest notions of modern giving. Stores also will offer convenient budget plans to help you finance your giving

This special Christmas Gifts Section is presented as an aid to more successful gift giving.

It is planned, at one and the same time, as a preview of the broad sweeping array of gifts that go on display tomorrow, and as a guide to help you start your choosing

This Year's Keynote

"Christmas belongs to everyone," is really the keynote of this year's gifting, with virtually everything that's designed to make life more enjoyable now listed in the modern category of gifts

The trend among members of families to get together for purchase of major gifts all will enjoy over a long period of time surges forward this year.

Such gifts can range from an outboard motor to wall carpeting for the living room, from a new color-television set to a completely finished recreation room Or it can be as simple as a collection of games the family may join in playing.

The trend toward multiple gift giving also is burgeoning beyond the simple idea of giving the children several toys. It spills over with joyous persistency into the adult age groups where the gift of a razor is accompanied by some shaving cream; the gift of a camera is accompanied by some film

Handsome To Behold

The joy of opening more than one gaily bedecked gift package, some small, some large, but all contributing to the gaiety of the occasion, and the message of affection presents convey, is an important part of the Christmas program

The range of suitable gifts is as broad as the range of human interests now that designers have made even pots and pans handsome to behold Almost every category of gift giving now offers items ranging from piggy bank prices to major investments.

There are wearable gifts, ranging from a tie to a sports jacket and beyond, for men; from scarfs and cosmetics to exciting furs, for women. There are useful and now beautiful practical gifts encompassing the homemaking activities of women, from a set of pot holders to a fine new automatic range.

There are play gifts for the grown-ups as well as the children, to be chosen to fit hobby or sports interests, from an inexpensive set of fish hooks to a fine set of golf clubs And for the children, an inspection of the 1956 Toyland, with its vast selection of playthings as new as today's news, is a must.

Treasured And Unique

There are gifts to treasure, such as the enduring beauty of fine silver and jewelry, a watch, a child's first locket.

There are unique gifts such as a tape recorder, with which to make an ever living thing of the delightful peals of joy that welcome Christmas morning surprises, or simple to operate photographic equipment to preserve the scene in color.

The Christmas scene is important too, for it is the spirit of the Yule reflected by the home, both indoors and out, that helps make the season so joyous.

Dad, usually the proud planner of exterior illumination, will find new and improved equipment and plans on display in the stores. Mother, usually responsible for interior decor, will want to consult with the florist, and also probably invent schemes of her own, her own

EVERYBODY'S HAPPY when Santa brings gifts for the home, for such presents bring pleasure that all can share. Daughter proves this by putting the home gift of a sofa to practical use right away, as she sits down to open her Christmas packages. Shown here, French provincial International sofa.

Here's Guide To Delicious Turkey For Holiday Feast

Whether you are a bride who is cooking her first holiday meal, or an experienced homemaker, you will find the following information furnished by the Gas Appliances Manufacturers Association a handy guide when you get ready to roast it for the festive meal.

The size bird you order will, of course, depend upon the number of people you plan to serve Weighed ready-to-cook, you should figure at least a pound a person

The experts suggest that you buy a bird one and a half times as large as you need, in order to have plenty left over to satisfy the family.

Prepare stuffing according to the weight of the bird. This table tells you how much for a turkey weighing—

8-12 lbs.—2½ quarts (10 cups)
12-16 lbs.—3½ quarts (14 cups)
16-20 lbs.—4½ quarts (18 cups)
20-25 lbs.— 6 quarts (24 cups)

RECOMMENDED ROASTING TIME, using the open-pan method for a stuffed turkey, with oven temperature set at 300 degrees, is given here in minutes per pound:

7-10 lbs. approx. 30 min. per lb.
10-15 lbs. approx. 20 min per lb.
15-18 lbs. approx. 18 min. per lb.
18-20 lbs. approx. 15 min. per lb.
20-25 lbs. approx. 12 min. per lb.

Care should be taken to baste the turkey properly during the roasting time.

RECOMMENDED ROASTING TIME for turkeys that are foil wrapped without stuffing, and with oven temperature set at 450 degrees, is given here in minutes per pound:

7-10 lbs. approx. 17 min. per lb.
10-15 lbs. approx. 15 min. per lb.
158-18 lbs. approx. 12 min. per lb.
18-20 lbs. approx. 11 min. per lb.
20-25 lbs. approx. 10 min. per lb.

Be sure to open foil 20 minutes to half an hour before end of roasting time to allow juice to escape into roaster.

TEST FOR DONENESS is the same for both methods. The bird is done when the drumstick can be moved easily and the thick portion feels very soft when pinched.

Holiday Table Is Sure To Be Gifted

Decking the festive board on Christmas day, gifts of china, glassware, silver and table ornaments speedily prove their beauty and usefulness, for the woman who unwraps a gift for her table will want to enjoy it and display it right away

A gleaming silver coffee service or a milk glass punch bowl, complete with cups, gets proud use when friends drop in with holiday greetings Dinnerware and flatware, whether in the form of a complete service or additional place settings, makes its appearance at Christmas dinner or buffet.

A silver well and tree platter can be the highlight of the Christmas feast for her.

She likes gifts with more than one use, too—for instance, a salad bowl that can also serve as part of a centerpiece.

And she'll find time, in the midst of her party preparations, to experiment with attractive arrangements of glass or silver table ornaments.

Television Developments Broaden Gift Selections

Two new developments in the field of television promise substantial help for generous Santas this year One is the portable TV receiver and the other is progress in providing sets for reception of telecasts in color

Small, smartly styled, rugged portable TV receivers already have proven their popularity in homes and offices. In a sense, they represent the completion of a cycle in television viewing

It was only a short time ago that the public was clamoring for larger and larger screens, which they still want for living rooms. But now, with the mounting popularity of television as a form of entertainment, the demand grows for portability and personalized sets.

Easily Carried About

And as a result, practically all of the major producers of TV receivers, including such manufacturers as RCA Victor, General Electric, Zenith, Admiral and Emerson, are producing models in sizes so small they can be placed on a desk, or easily carried about by a child

Portability and small size of the personal-type sets is what makes them so desirable for Christmas giving. Among candidates for these gifts are dad, who will like one for his office, mother, who can move it easily from kitchen to bedroom, wherever her chores take her, without missing a scene of her favorite programs; obviously for children and for the sick Above all they are the most convenient as second sets for the home

This Christmas, also, it appears, color television will really be zooming

Interest Runs High

Spokesmen for the Radio Corporation of America actually feel that color receivers may be in short supply during the height of the Christmas season, so rapidly is the interest mounting

Color receivers, which also pick up regular black and white programs are now perfected and are available nationally at prices slightly under $500. Nationwide networks are increasing color programs and more local stations are being equipped for color-casting.

It all adds up to the opportunity for a gay and colorful Christmas for many this year

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Lingerie Gifts Are Pretty, Practical

Lovely lingerie and sleepwear make gifts that are as practical as they are glamourous, a combination that never fails to appeal to feminine hearts.

A bouffant petticoat to wear under her favorite full-skirted fashions is sure to delight any teen-ager on your list, while the more mature woman will be flattered by your choice of a slim Empire slip, lavished with lace and embroidery. These look elegantly fragile, but may be had in nylon and other miracle fabrics that are a breeze to care for —an added factor all women will appreciate!

Warm and cozy sleepwear is always welcome, and this year there is an especially wide selection of colorful styles.

Other than for use in buildings, Vermont marble is also used in toothpaste, paint and rouge.

Selections Geared To All Budgets

Beautiful and memorable Christmas gifts for everyone in the family are to be found in your jewelry store, its shelves, and counters now shining with a gala variety of interesting choices in a wide price range for every age group.

Christmas shopping can indeed be a pleasure when it is done, most of it, in one spot and under the trained guidance of your jeweler, who is an expert at suggesting gifts that combine sentiment and beauty with usefulness and durability.

Starting with the distaff side of your gift list, what woman would not welcome jewelry, especially if it is an exquisite dress watch, strand of pearls, diamond or colored-stone ring, or any one of the many beautiful necklaces, earrings, bracelets and other pieces on display at the jeweler's? There is a design to please every woman at a price to please her Santa.

Gifts Of Silver

Silver too, either holloware or flatware, is a fortunate gift choice, equally welcome to the established homemaker and the younger woman, just starting or planning a home of her own.

China starter sets are becoming popular as gifts for young matrons, enabling a girl to begin a coordinated collection of fine table appointments.

A man's gift in jewelry is easy to choose, for there are sure to be many accessories he would like to own but probably hesitates to buy for himself — a sports watch, for example, an efficient carving set, a slim cigarette case or emblematic jewelry. His cuff link wardrobe may need refreshing for a new year and his pocket accessories may be ready for replacement.

TOPS IN HOME ENTERTAINMENT FOR CHRISTMAS giving this year is made possible by color television sets at new low prices, portable record players and radio receivers, which a modern Santa presents here from among RCA Victor's line-up for the yule season.

For the small fry, there are silver cups, porringers and feeding spoons, in sterling or silver plate, and also silver-backed brushes, combs, rattles and teething rings. Tiny lockets, rings, bracelets, hair clasps and diminutive silver thimbles are to be seen, too, for a very young lady.

For older children, the jeweler has a complete selection of appropriate jewelry items especially tailored to young tastes. Birthstone rings are popular with both boys and girls, and the array of gleaming colored stones should be a tempting one for any shopper with teen-agers on his list.

A first watch is another gift that is sure to rate as a favorite this Christmas. Watches for young people are as sturdy and dependable as they are reasonable in price, and are styled simply, in the way youngsters prefer their jewelry and accessories.

Favored By Girls

The choice of jewelry for young girls is a generous one, including such favorites as lockets, crosses and chains, link bracelets and charms. The start of a charm bracelet now, with perhaps a tiny golden Christmas tree, will provide timely gift ideas for years to come.

Girls often begin their silver flatware collections during their early teens, offering another gift idea that can grow with the years.

Shoppers who have always thought young boys present special gift problems will do well to see their jeweler's suggestions. Among them are pen and pencil sets, tie clasps and cuff links, identification bracelets, billfolds, watches, watch bands, military brushes and pocket comb-and-file sets.

Older boys, perhaps looking forward to college next fall, will appreciate a set of evening jewelry all their own.

Also suggested are travel clocks, picture frames, pocket knives, money clips, watch bands and novelty cuff links with a sports motif or colorful design. One good pair of cuff links, in silver, karat gold or gold filled, and a wrist watch, if he does not have one, are gift classics for any young man.

Family Can Help Pick, Share, Use

Thoughts of home are uppermost in the minds of most folks this Christmas season, and on gift lists, too, home takes a top position. Whether chosen for all to share or for individual use, presents for the home are a way to make sure that the Christmas gift choice will give pleasure the year around.

Mom, Dad, Sitser and Brother can band together in choosing a home gift that everyone will enjoy — a living room suite or sofa, a rug, television set, or perhaps the basic equipment for a hobby or recreation room. For the family's collective use, too, are many smaller items such as lamps, tables, scatter rugs and pictures.

Many a home gift will also be a personal present. An easy chair for Dad is one of the favorite choices, and one that he'll value. If Dad's an amateur chef or tends bar when the family entertains, his gift might be a rotisserie or portable bar.

To Thrill Mom

For Mom, the home gift opportunities are many, since she'll be thrilled by anything that contributes to the beauty of the home and the comfort of her household.

If she likes to sew and does a lot of the family paper work, the selection could be a new sewing machine that doubles as a desk and is also a handsome piece of furniture. A set of bridge table and chairs would be another good possibility.

Gifts that help to save time and work are suggested for the Mom who is a career girl as well as a homemaker. Here, the choice includes electric appliances from mixers to vacuum cleaners, as well as a variety of other items, such as a serving cart that rolls easily from room to room.

Give Personal Touch

These, gifts can be given a warm personal touch if they're accompanied by signed pledges from Dad and the kids, agreeing to take over specific household tasks during the coming year.

Present to please the daughter who's just entering her teens is a dressing table, and this gift will encourage her to take pride in good grooming. And every daughter will like a gift for her own room whether it's a folding screen, a headboard for her bed or convertible sofa to turn her bedroom into a sitting room, too.

If Sister or Brother—or both—is in school, a gift of a desk for homework will be appreciated.

Brother's Flattered

Brother will be flattered by gift of his own easy chair, like Dad's, to use in his room or the living room. Shelves or storage cabinets for his hobby and shorts equipment are other suggestions.

Home gifts from one family to another can follow along the same lines, but care should be taken to make sure that the gift will be appropriate to the decor of the home.

Gifts Of Jewelry Hold Real Thrill For All Children

Most youngsters know that "good things come in small packages," especially if Santa sees to it that they receive a gift from the jeweler's at Christmas. Chances are this is the gift they will keep and use for years to come.

Most girls admit to a fondness for fine jewelry. Therefore, it's never too early to begin contributing to a young lady's jewelry wardrobe. A cultured pearl necklace, for instance, may be started at an early Christmas in her life, adding a few pearls at a time on special occasions through the year.

Birthstone jewelrry, with its colorful legendary history, is a particular favorite with young people. There are handsome rings for boys, and for girls, other attractive pieces of jewelry such as pins and bracelets, in addition to rings. There is an appropriate stone, often with an alternate, for each month of the year, available in genuine stones or synthetics.

Though wrist watches are popular and traditional as graduation gifts, many a wise Santa is discovering that they make good gifts for younger children, too.

For boys there are also pen and pencil sets, cuff links and tie bars, key chains, identification bracelets, wallets and pocket knives. For the girls, hair clasps, charms, bracelets, compacts, dresser sets and starting pieces of silver flatware.

Television Influences Gift Of Hanky For Men

The popular TV-fold manner of wearing the breast pocket handkerchief has given new importance to this masculine dress accessory. Embroidered initials add a touch of smart individuality. This is an excellent gift idea, but you should order early, if monogramming is involved.

That 'Extra Little Thing' Puts A Thrill In Gifting

The old observation that "it's the little things that count" might well have been written about the small surprises hat can go into a Christmas stocking.

No matter how many big presents are under the tree there is always a special thrill for the small fry digging down to find out what's behind those bulges. The adults in the family will also have fun with their Christmas stockings if the small gifts are selected with thought.

For the sports-minded youngster there might be a box of flies, hooks, a baseball or tennis balls. Little Sister's homemaking instincts might be gratified with a small iron that works, miniature pots and pans in which she could cook, a sewing kit and similar items.

Mom could make the children's Christmas stockings her allies for clean teeth with toothbrushes marked with the youngsters' names and tubes of toothpaste in their favorite flavor.

If Dad likes to putter around the house his stocking might contain a box of nails, fold-up metal tubes of adhesive and various types of repair materials now neatly packaged in these containers. For his entertainment bar there are all sorts of small gadgets which would be welcome—amusing bottle openers, muddlers, coasters with gay decorations and decorative bottle tops.

For the knitters and sewers in the family such things as decorative corks to safeguard a row of stitches, various-size knitting needles, an assortment of threads, small scissors and tapes in decorative holders should be welcome.

Grooming items would undoubtedly be acceptable to Mom and big Sister — lipsticks in jeweled cases, matching combs, vanity cases, eyelash kits with tiny brush and mascara in an easy-to-use tube.

Put the small gifts in gay wrappings so that opening them will contribute to the fun of the Christmas stocking ceremony.

New Handbags To Bring Bagsful Of Christmas Delight

If the minutes a woman spends hunting through her handbag were totalled at the end of the year, they might amount to an extra week's vacation.

So she'll have a warm holiday feeling for the man who gives her a new handbag that's easy to organize and a set of accessories to go with it.

To be sure of pleasing her, choose a handbag that's a little more luxurious than the ones she buys for herself. That's easy to do this season — the stores are full of bags in rich-looking leather textures and color combinations.

Some of the sumptuous choices include a long pouch of leather embossed like fur and ornamented with a suede "brooch," or a fine-grained black alligator bag lined in white leather with gold piping on the outside pockets.

The fur-looking synthetic piles make their appearance in slim, luxurious satchel-type bags, while tweed or corduroy handbags in a variety of shapes meet her need for a smart, casual accessory.

To help her keep her handbag well organized, there are leather accessories such as French purses, wallets, eyeglass, key and cigarette cases.

Men Welcome Leather Gifts

There's something luxurious and unmistakably masculine about good leather that appeals strongly to most men. This makes well chosen gifts of leather especially appropriate for a man's Christmas.

Starting with a man's pocket, there is a wide array of smooth and richly textured leather wallets, pocket secretaries and key containers, many of which are available in matched sets; also tobacco pouches and leather-encased lighters.

If he does any traveling, leather luggage offers a wealth of gift suggestions, ranging from an overnight bag to a capacious two-suiter for longer jaunts. For his toiletries, there are compact leather kits, waterproof-lined, that zip open and closed.

For his desktop at home or office, there are individual items and matched sets in leather.

To carry his business papers there are sleek leather brief cases, either envelope type or with handles, as well as the popular new attache cases.

Overheating Can Be A Holiday Hazard Like Overeating, But You Can Beat It

Overheating is as much a holiday hazard as overeating.

It's the rigorous round of too-crowded parties and the hot, stuffy rooms that cause as many cases of "holiday-itis" as the spicy foods, the rich desserts and the extra "spirits."

To avoid the usual post-holiday letdown, it's wise to protect the comfort and health of your family and guests by keeping your home well ventilated and pleasantly warm — not hot.

If you're expecting a group for a party, turn the thermostat setting down a few degrees as soon as the numbers begin to increase, warn Minneapolis-Honeywell heating experts. Body heat provided by the guests will contribute plenty of warmth — too much if the room is hot at the start.

By just standing around chatting, experts point out, a person generates almost as much heat as a 200-watt bulb, and in a stuffy room the heat literally has no place to go. The results: A feeling of lethargy and fatigue.

Keep the thermostat setting at 68 degrees while the party is in progress, then as the crowd dwindles and finally departs, reset the dial to the degree you find the most comfortable for relaxing.

Fresh, sufficiently moist air also is a must if you're entertaining a large group, according to the experts. Open the window wide for a moment or two to let the clean air in. To keep it healthfully moist, placing pans of water on a radiator top will help or arrange flowers and green leaves in deep bowls of water.

KEYED TO GIFTEE

Glassware gift that's keyed to the interests of the giftee is a set of glasses decorated in gold and black. Designs include small figures of golfers, baseball and tennis players for the sports enthusiast, and caricatures of famous actors and actresses, for the drama lover.

FINE FOR ALL

"To all of you from all of us" are game gifts such as sets of cards, books of crossword puzzles, word games or chess sets. "Big" gift idea along the same lines is a game table or a complete group of card table and chairs for the recreation room.

Hi-Fi Spurs Return Of Console Combination To Living Room

The minor revolution that has occurred during recent years in homes of those who love good music faithfully reproduced, opens wide the door for smartly intelligent Christmas gift giving this year.

The revolution embraces the tremendous growth of interest in Hi-Fi, the sound reproduction systems now embodied in fine record players and also in radio recievers and combination sets, to insure purity of tone for better "educated ears."

Gifts of Elements

Many who have become Hi-Fi —which is short for High Fidelity —hobbyists may prefer gifts of elements for systems they have built themselves, rather than the handsome, complete sets now available. Many of these hobbyists are interested in amplifications and adjustment of their systems.

But, unless you are technically well versed in the subject yourself, better seek expert advice before choosing such a gift.

For the countless thousands who will join the growing ranks of Hi-Fi enthusiasts, just for the sheer love of the best in sound reproduction, today's handsome cabinets of assembled sets are the answer. Now you can choose for beauty of appearance as well as beauty of sound from any number of furniture styles, and thus give ready-to-plug-in systems.

Virtually every manufacturer of record playing equipment now produces packaged Hi-Fi systems in a wide variety of price ranges, performance characteristics and cabinet finishes. The range includes both table models and console models.

Relaxing Quality

As a matter of fact, while the advent of television pushed the large radio-phonograph combination console out of the living room after World War II, popularity of High Fidelity is now bringing it back.

More and more, as people are discovering the relaxing qualities of fine music through High Fidelity, console combinations are returning to serve as the home music center.

GET WARM WELCOME

For the home with a fireplace, accessories such as andirons, fire screens and baskets for kindling will rate warm thanks. Fine little gift is package of a preparation to make the fire dance with color.

REMEMBER CANDLES

With a present of candleholders, the thoughtful giver will include gala holiday candles. Then the gift can shine on a Christmas, from table or mantel.

Selections Geared To All Budgets

Beautiful and memorable Christmas gifts for everyone in the family are to be found in your jewelry store, its shelves, and counters now shining with a gala variety of interesting choices in a wide price range for every age group.

Christmas shopping can indeed be a pleasure when it is done, most of it, in one spot and under the trained guidance of your jeweler, who is an expert at suggesting gifts that combine sentiment and beauty with usefulness and durability.

Starting with the distaff side of your gift list, what woman would not welcome jewelry, especially if it is an exquisite dress watch, strand of pearls, diamond or colored-stone ring, or any one of the many beautiful necklaces, earrings, bracelets and other pieces on display at the jeweler's? There is a design to please every woman at a price to please her Santa.

Gifts Of Silver

Silver too, either holloware or flatware, is a fortunate gift choice, equally welcome to the established homemaker and the younger woman, just starting or planning a home of her own.

China starter sets are becoming popular as gifts for young matrons, enabling a girl to begin a coordinated collection of fine table appointments.

A man's gift in jewelry is easy to choose, for there are sure to be many accessories he would like to own but probably hesitates to buy for himself — a sports watch, for example, an efficient carving set, a slim cigarette case or emblematic jewelry. His cuff link wardrobe may need refreshing for a new year and his pocket accessories may be ready for replacement.

TOPS IN HOME ENTERTAINMENT FOR CHRISTMAS giving this year is made possible by color television sets at new low prices, portable record players and radio receivers, which a modern Santa presents here from among RCA Victor's line-up for the yule season.

For the small fry, there are silver cups, porringers and feeding spoons, in sterling or silver plate, and also silver-backed brushes, combs, rattles and teething rings. Tiny lockets, rings, bracelets, hair clasps and diminutive silver thimbles are to be seen, too, for a very young lady.

For older children, the jeweler has a complete selection of appropriate jewelry items especially tailored to young tastes. Birthstone rings are popular with both boys and girls, and the array of gleaming colored stones should be a tempting one for any shopper with teen-agers on his list.

A first watch is another gift that is sure to rate as a favorite this Christmas. Watches for young people are as sturdy and dependable as they are reasonable in price, and are styled simply, in the way youngsters prefer their jewelry and accessories.

Favored By Girls

The choice of jewelry for young girls is a generous one, including such favorites as lockets, crosses and chains, link bracelets and charms. The start of a charm bracelet now, with perhaps a tiny golden Christmas tree, will provide timely gift ideas for years to come.

Girls often begin their silver flatware collections during their early teens, offering another gift idea that can grow with the years.

Shoppers who have always thought young boys present special gift problems will do well to see their jeweler's suggestions. Among them are pen and pencil sets, tie clasps and cuff links, identification bracelets, billfolds, watches, watch bands, military brushes and pocket comb-and-file sets.

Older boys, perhaps looking forward to college next fall, will appreciate a set of evening jewelry all their own.

Also suggested are travel clocks, picture frames, pocket knives, money clips, watch bands and novelty cuff links with a sports motif or colorful design. One good pair of cuff links, in silver, karat gold or gold filled, and a wrist watch, if he does not have one, are gift classics for any young man.

Family Can Help Pick, Share, Use

Thoughts of home are uppermost in the minds of most folks this Christmas season, and on gift lists, too, home takes a top position. Whether chosen for all to share or for individual use, presents for the home are a way to make sure that the Christmas gift choice will give pleasure the year around.

Mom, Dad, Sister and Brother can band together in choosing a home gift that everyone will enjoy — a living room suite or sofa, a rug, television set, or perhaps the basic equipment for a hobby or recreation room. For the family's collective use, too, are many smaller items such as lamps, tables, scatter rugs and pictures.

Many a home gift will also be a personal present. An easy chair for Dad is one of the favorite choices, and one that he'll value. If Dad's an amateur chef or tends bar when the family entertains, his gift might be a rotisserie or portable bar.

To Thrill Mom

For Mom, the home gift opportunities are many, since she'll be thrilled by anything that contributes to the beauty of the home and the comfort of her household.

If she likes to sew and does a lot of the family paper work, the selection could be a new sewing machine that doubles as a desk and is also a handsome piece of furniture. A set of bridge table and chairs would be another good possibility.

Gifts that help to save time and work are suggested for the Mom who is a career girl as well as a homemaker. Here, the choice includes electric appliances from mixers to vacuum cleaners, as well as a variety of other items, such as a serving cart that rolls easily from room to room.

Give Personal Touch

These, gifts can be given a warm personal touch if they're accompanied by signed pledges from Dad and the kids, agreeing to take over specific household tasks during the coming year.

Present to please the daughter who's just entering her teens is a dressing table, and this gift will encourage her to take pride in good grooming. And every daughter will like a gift for her own room whether it's a folding screen, a headboard for her bed or convertible sofa to turn her bedroom into a sitting room, too.

If Sister or Brother—or both—is in school, a gift of a desk for homework will be appreciated.

Brother's Flattered

Brother will be flattered by gift of his own easy chair, like Dad's, to use in his room or the living room. Shelves or storage cabinets for his hobby and shorts equipment are other suggestions.

Home gifts from one family to another can follow along the same lines, but care should be taken to make sure that the gift will be appropriate to the decor of the home.

Gifts Of Jewelry Hold Real Thrill For All Children

Most youngsters know that "good things come in small packages," especially if Santa sees to it that they receive a gift from the jeweler's at Christmas. Chances are this is the gift they will keep and use for years to come.

Most girls admit to a fondness for fine jewelry. Therefore, it's never too early to begin contributing to a young lady's jewelry wardrobe. A cultured pearl necklace, for instance, may be started at an early Christmas in her life, adding a few pearls at a time on special occasions through the year.

Birthstone jewelrry, with its colorful legendary history, is a particular favorite with young people. There are handsome rings for boys, and for girls, other attractive pieces of jewelry such as pins and bracelets, in addition to rings. There is an appropriate stone, often with an alternate, for each month of the year, available in genuine stones or synthetics.

Though wrist watches are popular and traditional as graduation gifts, many a wise Santa is discovering that they make good gifts for younger children, too.

For boys there are also pen and pencil sets, cuff links and tie bars, key chains, identification bracelets, wallets and pocket knives. For the girls, hair clasps, charms, bracelets, compacts, dresser sets and starting pieces of silver flatware.

Television Influences Gift Of Hanky For Men

The popular TV-fold manner of wearing the breast pocket handkerchief has given new importance to this masculine dress accessory. Embroidered initials add a touch of smart individuality. This is an excellent gift idea, but you should order early, if monogramming is involved.

New Christmas Cards Double As Tree Ornaments And Toys

Christmas cards, traditional ambassadors bearing "season's greetings," will enact several additional roles during the coming Yule season.

As a result of the ever increasing ingenuity of their designers in producing brilliant effects and intriguing, almost game-like folds, many will serve as tree ornaments, as decorations for mantel and door and table, and even as toys for youngsters.

So universal has become the custom of exchanging Christmas greetings cards, they are now sent to friends and relatives who normally receive gifts, as well as those who do not.

And in some instances, especially for children, there are many new cards that actually incorporate the gift feeling in concrete fashion, as well as clever greetings.

Brilliance of the 1956 assortment is greater than ever with simulated gems being used in some instances while other cards are made to glisten with silver and gold treatments.

A series of eight mobiles, specifically designed to serve as tree decorations as well as greetings, have been presented by Hallmark.

Another that also may be put to good use is a two-foot high paper Santa Claus, weatherproofed for permanence. It is at one and the same time a greeting card and an outside door decoration.

Among cards for children is one that carries with it a supply of decorated note paper and envelopes, which little girls will like. For boys, there is a card that can be transformed into a periscope. And among others is a money tree design with branches that may be filled with dimes. Still another is really a kit of magic tricks.

Most important to assured exchange of Christmas greetings cards before the arrival of the holiday is an early selection. Time also must be allowed for imprinting them if your list is long.

Even is imprinted, there's still an opportunity for scribbling a personal message on the card, if you start your addressing early enough.

All of your cards should be mailed at least two weeks before Christmas.

Lay-Away A Gift Each Day

Simplest, easiest way of making certain that everyone on your Christmas Gift Giving list is cared for by the time the joyous holiday arrives is to use some version of the universally popular "lay-away" plan.

For many, a major phase of this plan can be interpreted in terms that will help the gift giving budget.

Choose gifts you want to give, make a small deposit, ask the store to "lay-away" the gift until you've paid for it on convenient terms. Then pick it up for presentation just before the holiday.

For others who have no budget problem, the basic principle of the "lay-away" plan can help immeasurably.

For them it becomes a program for solving at least one gift giving problem each day before Christmas, and then putting the solution away in a secret place at home, until the time arrives to spring the surprises.

The British expedition which climbed Mt. Everest, world's highest peak, carried food in tubes. They lived on tubes of milk, honey and bouillon.

THE PLEASURE IS MUTUAL when watch gifts are exchanged on Christmas morning by a loving twosome. Shown here, her watch is a truly feminine timepiece, encrusted with diamonds; his is a handsome masculine model with five diamond markers. By Hamilton.

Little Fashion Extras Count Big As Christmas Presents

Fashion accessories are an especially gifted solution to the problem of what to give her for Christmas this year. No woman ever has too many of them, and they are now most glamorous, more elegant — and more welcome — than ever before!

All love costume jewelry, and the new designs full capture the glow of Christmas with gleaming gold-colored metal and richly colored stones. Also sure to brighten her life — and her wardrobe — are such gifts as gay scarves, little wool and leather tie-on collars and hankies.

College and career girls love them for their wardrobe-stretching versatility, and all fashion-conscious women appreciate an "extra" touch of elegance for their costumes.

For someone "special," an extra-special gift choice sure to be a hit this year is a fur muff. They are enjoying a big revival and offer luxury without too great a strain on your budget.

If she's a romantic, she'll love a gift of one of the new "hattier" hats. They're lushly elegant with rich materials and trims of jewelry and feathers.

New gloves are on hand for gifts which happily combine the pretty and the practical in leathers that are fully washable. You can cater to her love of the unusual with novelty shorties and pull-ons with such features as scalloped suffs and asymmetrical shirring or flares. For an especially glamourous gift, you might choose one of the new dressy gloves with dainty cut-out embroideries.

Rich colors and luxurious textures in the new handbags make them welcome gifts. Plush little evening bags are always a good choice, and any busy woman would appreciate a leather duffle or tote bag with outside pockets into which handbag contents can be easily transferred.

Belts, festive evening shrugs and stoles, and warm head-hugging caps also make welcome gifts. Selection is practically unlimited as to colors, styles and prices, so you're bound to find something to delight every lady on your list.

One Out Of Every Four Toys A Doll

A recent survey by the Toy Manufacturers of the U.S.A. reveals that one out of every four toys sold this year will be some type of doll.

Thus dolls become Number One among the vast variety of playthings available on the gift parade for youngsters.

The ever rising demand for dolls is by no means entirely due to the constantly rising child population of the nation, with its fair measure of little girls.

It is traceable also to the skill with which manufacturers have produced dolls so lifelike and in such great variety, that they are almost irresistible. As a matter of fact, there is a strong trend among little girls, wisely encouraged by their parents, to collect "families" of dolls.

Helpful to Rearing

Psychologists also view this trend as a good one because they consider it helpful to the rearing of children who eventually will become the parents of the future.

Doll makers have seized upon the miracles of modern science to endow their products with the life-like attributes which endear them to the youngsters. Even electronics play a part. For there actually are dolls available today equipped with sound devices which enable them to "talk" with their little mothers, and say prayers, as well as cry. Similarly there are dolls that can drink and wet themselves for a diaper change, and walk under their own power.

Yet perhaps most important of all to the lifelike nature of the new dolls is the development of bodies and heads out of new materials that give them the feel of human skin as well as its plasticity. They can be bathed.

Dolls now available for Christmas gift giving can be had with hair, sometimes real and washable, to match that of any little girl, be she blonde, brunette or red headed.

Almost every occupation and profession is reflected among the members of the doll world, in addition to "baby dolls." They range from ballerinas to nuns. And recently a trend toward acceptance of the doll that so remarkably duplicates the teen ager who is budding into womanhood has been noted.

Reflect Fashion Trends

Dolls reflect the current trends in fashions. For many there are complete wardrobes in wide variety.

And finally, since most families have more than one child, today's dolls have acquired relatives, and, of course, twins are available too.

Another interesting fact about today's doll world is that with the family spirit so strong in our mid-century mode of life, boys too are showing more interest in them.

Hostess Gifts Get Welcome

Desirable gifts for holiday hostesses place high on the lists of all Christmas shoppers, and the cue for these gifts is taken from the hostesses themselves.

Because she loves to entertain, the hostess will greet with glee gifts to use when she welcomes guests. Fruit and cheese knives, guest towels, canape trays and glassware are some of the many possibilities.

For the guest who wants his gift to serve both as hostess gift and regular Christmas present, a look at the more substantial entertainment items is in order. Recommended as a very special gift to the hostess who likes to entertain with gracious formality is a centerpiece with candleholders of milk glass.

This will add charm and elegance around Christmas. And what could be more appropriate for formal entertaining — and for a gift — than a lace tablecloth in white or ivory.

For the hostess who enjoys entertaining informally, a portable barbecue or a silver chafing dish would make an ideal extra-special gift.

Whether she prefers to entertain formally or casually, a great-help gift for the hostess is a butler with matching ashtrays.

Individual casseroles or carafes, ice buckets, coasters, cocktail napkin holders — the range of gifts is wide and offers something to suit every purse and please every hostess.

"Operation Snowflake" Will Make Christmas A Real Family Affair

NEW ELECTRIC WATER HEATER DOES BIG JOB

Next to the housewife, the hardest-working occupant of any home is the water heater.

Day and night it labors away, producing hot water for hundreds of personal and household uses. If you have one of the new electric water heaters, you're in luck

It has complete thermal insulation — top, bottom and sides. This reduces operation costs and avoids heating up the area in which it is installed.

And you can install your water heater anywhere because there is no flue or vent connection needed. A counter-high model can be placed right next to the dishwasher, sink or clothes washer where much hot water is used. This is a practical spot for the heater, incidentally, because the water will stay hotter if it doesn't have to travel so far through the pipes to get where it's going.

Quick Recovery Units

Electric water heaters are available with quick recovery heating units. These supply hot water after draw-off at a faster rate and so provide increased hot water service from the same size tank. For best results to fit your needs consult your local utility or electrical contractor.

In addition to their dependability and thrift, electric water heaters are now shaped to fit in with washers and dryers in laundry rooms or in the kitchen. They match in color and in height, providing extra counter space. And no housewife ever has too much of that.

The water heater, which most people have taken for granted until then shower water suddenly turned ice cold, is perhaps the most important appliance in your home.

For many a family, the best White Christmas gift it could give itself would be an electric water heater.

PROMPT DELIVERY

Delivery of appliances in time for Christmas can be arranged with dealers. And if the budget is of concern, there are any number of financing plans that will allow up to 36 months to pay for them.

Banks too, are prepared to make loans for buying new major appliances. They figure people who buy them are sound citizens and therefore good risks.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

DREAM KITCHEN — This a is a practical reality in the average American home. Electric appliances, finished here in fashionable pink, include a 30-inch electric range with French doors, mixing center, dishwasher and built-in refrigerator. Automatic washer and dryer are along the right wall. Kitchen decor in this case is off-white and gray.

KEEP THEM LOW

Remember to keep Christmas dinner table centerpieces low—below eye-level—so that guests can see each other over the arrangement. Save the long-stemmed roses and magnificent gladioli for the buffet table or console table.

Guinea pigs are not pigs. They are rodents.

HORSEPOWER IS AMONG HOME'S BIG FEATURES

In the excitement of planning your new home you may have overlooked thinking about its horsepower or electrical capacity

Yet in terms of day-to-day living horsepower is among your home's most important features — as important say, as the quality of construction, or the size of the rooms or the color of paint or wallpaper.

Electrical industry experts and economists say that in 10 years you likely will be using three times the amount of electricity you are using today This is all part of your effort — as a home owner — to live better electrically.

What About Future?

Surveys point up the 10-year prediction, and so do the growing rate of appliance purchasing and the many new types of appliances now on the manufacturers' drawing boards.

In spite of all this, the prospective home buyer usually neglects to look into the housepower of his dream house. He doesn't find out if there's enough wiring or if there's a sufficient number of circuits of the proper size and capacity to give him all the electricity he needs for his appliances, lights and other electrical equipment he's set his heart on

Many new homes barely have enough wiring to carry the electrical load required today. There are any number of homes built only five or seven years ago that are getting along with 30 or 60 ampere service. Yet even 100 amps are barely sufficient today.

What are these home owners going to do in five or ten years?

When housepower is low, fuses blow at the plugging in of a toaster, and circuit breakers — sort of automatic fuses that don't have to be replaced — they trip with disconcerting frequency. Lights dim or the TV picture flickers when the refrigerator turns on or another appliance is plugged in. The refrigerator starts with an asthmatic wheeze, toasters take an eternity to toast, mixers don't mix as fast as they should.

Better Make Sure

So if you're looking at a new house, question the salesman closely about its housepower. Be sure there is sufficient wiring to take care of both present and future needs.

Here are five points to ask about:

1. Are outlets or plug receptacles of the proper types conveniently placed, so that need for the "octopus" (cube taps inserted into a single plug outlet) is eliminated?

2. Is each circuit capable of supplying the full current for which it is rated? (Also, each circuit should have 20 per cent spare capacity over and above the probable maximum load. On general-purpose circuits — from which smaller portable appliances are operated — the load shouldn't exceed 50 per cent of rated capacity to leave room for temporary portable equipment.)

3. Does each major automatic appliance — range, dryer, refrigerator — have a separate and individual circuit?

4. Does the wiring system comply with the safety provisions of the National Electrical Code? (Even with allowance for load growth, the "load-matched" wiring adds a safety plus to the system.)

5. Are switches and outlets and other on-off controls positioned carefully and in sufficient numbers to fit the family's living habits?

It's Worth It!

Perhaps your insistence on these demands will cost a little extra money. You can figure it's worth it. At the time of construction, putting in extra wiring circuits costs little. If you wait for a few years until the need is urgent, the cost of rewiring could run into hundreds of dollars.

LOOK FOR "UL" ON APPLIANCE

When the homemaker receives her White Christmas gift of an electric kitchen appliance, she should look to make sure it is "UL" label is attached

These two initials stand for Underwriters' Laboratories Inc. And the label means the product has reasonably safe as science and engineering skill can make it

To win the label, an appliance has to pass a series of exacting tests. The laboratories want to make sure the appliance can be operated safely, that it won't create a fire hazard or electric shock hazard

Manufacturers of portable appliances furnish them with Underwriters' "Flag Labeled" cord sets and power supply cords. A small blue or green paper label on the cord signifies that the cord, connecting devices and their assembly comply with "UL" safety requirements.

Established more than 60 years ago the laboratories are non-profit and sponsored by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. It is your assurance of safety for your whole family

GIVE A "SPARE"

A "second" watch, one that is perhaps shock and water resistant, is almost a necessity in a man jewelry wardrobe It can "punch in" for everyday watch that is been cleaned checked or repaired and can keep perfect time during busier parts activities.

MOM is sure to appreciate the extra hours of loisure our famous name electrical appliances give her.

ELECTRIC FREEZER

SHE'S a wonderful wife — and this Christmas you want HER gift to be something SPECIAL . . . something that will make 1957 and the years to come easier and more pleasant.

Well, the answer is a big, "something-she's-always-wanted" electric appliance. Just think how many hours of extra time a modern, automatic Dishwasher could give her—or the pride she'd take in an Electric Freezer or a Combination Refrigerator chock full of good things to eat.

Or it might be a new automatic Range—gleaming, precise and Electric that will bring a sparkle to her eyes. And for the laundry . . . it could be a new automatic Washer or an Electric Clothes Dryer to make those "50 plus" washings a year easy as pie. A safe, clean, automatic Water Heater and an easy-to-use ironer make a complete all-electric laundry.

Whatever electric appliance you choose, it will serve her and all the family safely, dependably and economically for years to come. It will help her to do her work more quickly and easily—and allow more time for a happier life.

Take her on a tour of your Reddy Appliance Dealers' now and select the gift to be hers this Christmas morning . . . a Major Electric Appliance so she and ALL the family can LIVE BETTER . . . *Electrically.

WASHER - DRYER VERY EFFECTIVE

Lots of smart housewives who want to stay young find that owning an electric washer-dryer combination is just about as effective as having a weekly facial

Instead of the back-breaking washday chores they used to suffer through every Blue Monday, they toss load on the weekly wash, add detergent, push a button — and go off to shop, to visit or see a movie.

Refreshed from the outing they return to find clean, dry clothes waiting for them

"Operation Snowflake" Will Make Christmas A Real Family Affair

NEW ELECTRIC WATER HEATER DOES BIG JOB

Next to the housewife, the hardest-working occupant of any home is the water heater.

Day and night it labors away, producing hot water for hundreds of personal and household uses. If you have one of the new electric water heaters, you're in luck.

It has complete thermal insulation — top, bottom and sides. This reduces operation costs and avoids heating up the area in which it is installed.

And you can install your water heater anywhere because there is no flue or vent connection needed. A counter-high model can be placed right next to the dishwasher, sink or clothes washer where much hot water is used. This is a practical spot for the heater, incidentally, because the water will stay hotter if it doesn't have to travel so far through the pipes to get where it's going.

Quick Recovery Units

Electric water heaters are available with quick recovery heating units. These supply hot water after draw-off at a faster rate and so provide increased hot water service from the same size tank. For best results to fit your needs consult your local utility or electrical contractor.

In addition to their dependability and thrift, electric water heaters are now shaped to fit in with washers and dryers in laundry rooms or in the kitchen. They match in color and in height, providing extra counter space. And no housewife ever has too much of that.

The water heater, which most people have taken for granted until their shower water suddenly turned ice cold, is perhaps the most important appliance in your home.

For many a family, the best White Christmas gift it could give itself would be an electric water heater.

PROMPT DELIVERY

Delivery of appliances in time for Christmas can be arranged with dealers. And if the budget is of concern, there are any number of financing plans that will allow up to 36 months to pay for them.

Banks too, are prepared to make loans for buying new major appliances. They figure people who buy them are sound citizens and therefore good risks.

DREAM KITCHEN — This a is a practical reality in the average American home. Electric appliances, finished here in fashionable pink, include a 30-inch electric range with French doors, mixing center, dishwasher and built-in refrigerator. Automatic washer and dryer are along the right wall. Kitchen decor in this case is off-white and gray.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

KEEP THEM LOW

Remember to keep Christmas dinner table centerpieces low—below eye-level—so that guests can see each other over the arrangement. Save the long-stemmed roses and magnificent gladioli for the buffet table or console table.

Guinea pigs are not pigs. They are rodents.

HORSEPOWER IS AMONG HOME'S BIG FEATURES

In the excitement of planning your new home you may have overlooked thinking about its housepower or electrical capacity.

Yet in terms of day-to-day living housepower is among your home's most important features — as important, say, as the quality of construction, or the size of the rooms or the color of paint or wallpaper.

Electrical industry experts and economists say that in 10 years you likely will be using three times the amount of electricity you are using today. This is all part of your effort — as a home owner — to live better electrically.

What About Future?

Surveys point up the 10-year prediction, and so do the growing rate of appliance purchasing and the many new types of appliances now on the manufacturers' drawing boards.

In spite of all this, the prospective home buyer usually neglects to look into the housepower of his dream house. He doesn't find out if there's enough wiring or if there's a sufficient number of circuits of the proper size and capacity to give him all the electricity he needs for his appliances, lights and other electrical equipment he's set his heart on.

Many new homes barely have enough wiring to carry the electrical load required today. There are any number of homes built only five or seven years ago that are getting along with 30 or 60 ampere service. Yet even 100 amps are barely sufficient today.

What are these home owners going to do in five or ten years?

When housepower is low, fuses blow at the plugging in of a toaster, and circuit breakers — sort of automatic fuses that don't have to be replaced — they trip with disconcerting frequency. Lights dim or the TV picture flickers when the refrigerator turns on or another appliance is plugged in. The refrigerator starts with an asthmatic wheeze, toasters take an eternity to toast, mixers don't mix as fast as they should.

Better Make Sure

So if you're looking at a new house, question the salesman closely about its housepower. Be sure there is sufficient wiring to take care of both present and future needs.

Here are five points to ask about:

1. Are outlets or plug receptacles of the proper types conveniently placed, so that need for the "octopus" (cube taps inserted into a single plug outlet) is eliminated?

2. Is each circuit capable of supplying the full current for which it is rated? (Also, each circuit should have 20 per cent spare capacity over and above the probable maximum load. On general-purpose circuits — from which smaller portable appliances are operated — the load shouldn't exceed 50 per cent of rated capacity to leave room for temporary portable equipment.)

3. Does each major automatic appliance — range, dryer, refrigerator — have a separate and individual circuit?

4. Does the wiring system comply with the safety provisions of the National Electrical Code? (Even with allowance for load growth, the "load-matched" wiring adds a safety plus to the system.)

5. Are switches and outlets and other on-off controls positioned carefully and in sufficient numbers to fit the family's living habits?

It's Worth It!

Perhaps your insistence on these demands will cost a little extra money. You can figure it's worth it. At the time of construction, putting in extra wiring circuits costs little. If you wait for a few years until the need is urgent, the cost of rewiring could run into hundreds of dollars.

LOOK FOR "UL" ON APPLIANCE

When the homemaker receives her White Christmas gift of an electric kitchen appliance, she should look to make sure a "UL" label is attached.

These two initials stand for Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc. And the label means the product is as reasonably safe as science and engineering skill can make it.

To win the label, an appliance has to pass a series of exacting tests. The laboratories want to make sure the appliance can be operated safely, that it won't create a fire hazard or electric shock hazard.

Manufacturers of portable appliances furnish them with Underwriters' "Flag Labeled" cord sets and power supply cords. A small blue or green paper label on the cord signifies that the cord, connecting devices and their assembly comply with "UL" safety requirements.

Established more than 60 years ago, the laboratories are non-profit and sponsored by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. It is your assurance of safety for your whole family.

GIVE A "SPARE"

A "second" watch, one that is perhaps shock and water resistant, is almost a necessity in a man's jewelry wardrobe. It can "pinch-hit" for an everyday watch that is being cleaned, checked or repaired and can keep perfect time during rugged sports activities.

WASHER - DRYER VERY EFFECTIVE

Lots of smart housewives who want to stay young find that owning an electric washer-dryer combination is just about as effective as having a weekly facial.

Instead of the back-breaking washday chores they used to suffer through every Blue Monday, they now load in the weekly wash, add detergent, push a button — and go off to shop, to visit or see a movie.

Refreshed from the outing, they return to find clean, dry clothes waiting for them.

Time To Live

The time they used to spend hanging the wash out on the line and then watching to see if it would rain or blow up a duststorm — now all that precious time is theirs to spend on better living. Some homemakers load the washer at night and find the dry clothes ready when they get up in the morning.

The electric washer-dryer combinations wash, rinse and fluff-dry (or damp-dry) in one continuous operation. Some even choose the correct amount of water necessary to wash each load efficiently.

New Christmas Cards Double As Tree Ornaments And Toys

Christmas cards, traditional ambassadors bearing "season's greetings," will enact several additional roles during the coming Yule season

As a result of the ever increasing ingenuity of their designers in producing brilliant effects and intriguing, almost game-like folds, many will serve as tree ornaments, as decorations for mantel and door and table, and even as toys for youngsters

So universal has become the custom of exchanging Christmas greetings cards, they are now sent to friends and relatives who normally receive gifts, as well as those who do not

And in some instances, especially for children, there are many new cards that actually incorporate the gift feeling in concrete fashion, as well as clever greetings

Brilliance of the 1956 assortment is greater than ever with simulated gems being used in some instances while other cards are made to glisten with silver and gold treatments

A series of eight mobiles, specifically designed to serve as tree decorations as well as greetings, have been presented by Hallmark

Another that also may be put to good use is a two-foot high paper Santa Claus, weatherproofed for permanence It is at one and the same time a greeting card and an outside door decoration

Among cards for children is one that carries with it a supply of decorated note paper and envelopes, which little girls will like. For boys, there is a card that can be transformed into a periscope And among others is a money tree design with branches that may be filled with dimes Still another is really a kit of magic tricks

Most important to assured exchange of Christmas greetings cards before the arrival of the holiday is an early selection Time also must be allowed for imprinting them if your list is long

Even is imprinted, there's still an opportunity for scribbling a personal message on the card, if you start your addressing early enough

All of your cards should be mailed at least two weeks before Christmas

Lay-Away A Gift Each Day

Simplest, easiest way of making certain that everyone on your Christmas Gift Giving list is cared for by the time the joyous holiday arrives is to use some version of the universally popular "lay-away" plan.

For many, a major phase of this plan can be interpreted in terms that will help the gift giving budget

Choose gifts you want to give, make a small deposit, ask the store to "lay-away" the gift until you've paid for it on convenient terms. Then pick it up for presentation just before the holiday

For others who have no budget problem, the basic principle of the "lay-away" plan can help immeasurably

For them it becomes a program for solving at least one gift giving problem each day before Christmas, and then putting the solution away in a secret place at home, until the time arrives to spring the surprises

Little Fashion Extras Count Big As Christmas Presents

Fashion accessories are an especially gifted solution to the problem of what to give her for Christmas this year No woman ever has too many of them and they are now most glamorous, more elegant — and more welcome — than ever before!

All love costume jewelry, and the new designs full capture the glow of Christmas with gleaming gold-colored metal and richly colored stones Also sure to brighten her life — and her wardrobe — are such gifts as gay scarves, little wool and leather tie-on collars and hankies

College and career girls love them for their wardrobe-stretching versatility, and all fashion-conscious women appreciate an "extra" touch of elegance for their costumes.

For someone "special," an extra-special gift choice sure to be a hit this year is a fur muff They are enjoying a big revival and offer luxury without too great a strain on your budget

If she's a romantic, she'll love a gift of one of the new "hattier" hats They're lushly elegant with rich materials and trims of jewelry and feathers

New gloves are on hand for gifts which happily combine the pretty and the practical in leathers that are fully washable You can cater to her love of the unusual with novelty shorties and pull-ons with such features as scalloped cuffs and asymmetrical shirring or flares For an especially glamourous gift, you might choose one of the new dressy gloves with dainty cut-out embroideries

Rich colors and luxurious textures in the new handbags make them welcome gifts Plush little evening bags are always a good choice, and any busy woman would appreciate a leather duffle or tote bag with outside pockets into which handbag contents can be easily transferred

Belts, festive evening shrugs and stoles, and warm head-hugging caps also make welcome gifts Selection is practically unlimited as to colors, styles and prices so you're bound to find something to delight every lady on your list

One Out Of Every Four Toys A Doll

A recent survey by the Toy Manufacturers of the U S A. reveals that one out of every four toys sold this year will be some type of doll.

Thus dolls become Number One among the vast variety of playthings available on the gift parade for youngsters

The ever rising demand for dolls is by no means entirely due to the constantly rising child population of the nation, with its fair measure of little girls.

It is traceable also to the skill with which manufacturers have produced dolls so lifelike and in such great variety, that they are almost irresistible As a matter of fact, there is a strong trend among little girls, wisely encouraged by their parents, to collect "families" of dolls

Helpful to Rearing

Psychologists also view this trend as a good one because they consider it helpful to the rearing of children who eventually will become the parents of the future.

Doll makers have seized upon the miracles of modern science to endow their products with the life-like attributes which endear them to the youngsters. Even electronics play a part For there actually are dolls available today equipped with sound devices which enable them to "talk" with their little mothers, and say prayers, as well as cry Similarly there are dolls that can drink and wet themselves for a diaper change, and walk under their own power.

Yet perhaps most important of all to the lifelike nature of the new dolls is the development of bodies and heads out of new materials that give them the feel of human skin as well as its plasticity. They can be bathed

Dolls now available for Christmas gift giving can be had with hair, sometimes real and washable, to match that of any little girl, be she blonde, brunette or red headed

Almost every occupation and profession is reflected among the members of the doll world. In addition to "baby dolls." They range from ballerinas to nuns. And recently a trend toward acceptance of the doll that so remarkably duplicates the teen ager who is budding into womanhood has been noted.

Reflect Fashion Trends

Dolls reflect the current trends in fashions. For many there are complete wardrobes in wide variety.

And finally, since most families have more than one child, today's dolls have acquired relatives, and, of course, twins are available too

Another interesting fact about today's doll world is that with the family spirit so strong in our mid-century mode of life, boys too are showing more interest in them.

Hostess Gifts Get Welcome

Desirable gifts for holiday hostesses place high on the lists of all Christmas shoppers, and the cue for these gifts is taken from the hostesses themselves.

Because she loves to entertain, the hostess will greet with glee gifts to use when she welcomes guests. Fruit and cheese knives, guest towels, canape trays and glassware are some of the many possibilities

For the guest who wants his gift to serve both as hostess gift and regular Christmas present, a look at the more substantial entertainment items is in order Recommended as a very special gift to the hostess who likes to entertain with gracious formality is a centerpiece with candleholders of milk glass

This will add charm and elegantly around Christmas And what could be more appropriate for formal entertaining — and for a gift — than a lace tablecloth in white or ivory

For the hostess who enjoys entertaining informally, a portable barbecue or a silver chafing dish would make an ideal extra-special gift

Whether she prefers to entertain formally or casually, a great help gift for the hostess is a butler with matching ashtrays.

Individual casseroles or carafes, ice buckets, coasters, cocktail napkin holders — the range of gifts is wide and offers something to suit every purse and please every hostess

Better Living Is Always Built Into Every All-Electric Kitchen

All-Electric Kitchen Is Wonderful Christmas Gift

If you plan to make it a white Christmas with an all-electric kitchen, you're switching on the current to better living for your whole family.

There's automation beyond belief. There's beauty, too—and thrift.

Do you know just what you're getting in an electric kitchen? Designers and engineers have improved today's electric kitchen appliances so greatly that they are far ahead of what went into kitchens just a few years ago.

Take electric ranges. They offer clean fast dependable automatic cooking. New built-in models lend themselves to aesthetic kitchen design—a much wanted feature in today's homes. The oven can be installed in one location and the surface units in another, wherever most efficient and desirable.

Many New Features

Electric ranges now come with many other hitherto unheard of features—such as oven in which baking and broiling can be done at the same time, oven equipped with rotisseries in addition to their automatic, controlled heat features, surface units that fold back into the wall when not in use, ovens that can be raised or lowered mechanically to suit the height of the users.

There are remarkable innovations too in electric refrigerators: Models which are installed on the wall and sectional models where the refrigerator and freezer section in separate units may be installed waist-high at counter level, mounted atop each other or beneath a work surface.

In addition, electric refrigerators now offer sliding and turning shelves for easy access to foods, built-in water and fruit juices dispensers and other handy items.

Electric Water Heater

For all the household utilities requiring hot water—and the figure is practically astronomical—there's the electric water heater. It supplies all the hot water you need, with safety, dependability and economy. It's easy to install and may be placed wherever is most convenient.

Coming in various shapes, sizes and colors, the water heater is an attractive—and necessary—addition to your kitchen or laundry center.

Speaking of laundry, the trend is toward making the laundry a part of the kitchen. Some kitchens combine a range, dishwasher, a food waste disposer and a combination washer-dryer, all under one seamless stainless-steel counter top. In others, the washer-dryer and hot water heater are placed side by side to give extra counter space.

Washers and dryers come separately or as a unit—attractive, easily operated time savers for the busy housewife.

When you think over just what your new electric kitchen will mean to you and your family in happier, healthier, better living, you'll be glad you made your white Christmas electric.

Just the thing to top off a man's casual outfits is one of the new Ivy League type caps, now so popular. Cut smaller, usually with a strap and buckle at back, these appear in handsome tweeds and herringbones as well as in blazer stripes and printed corduroys.

'57 ELECTRIC OVEN BAKES IN FAST TIME

Modern science already has made changes in your kitchen that would leave your grandmother gasping in amazement, but even more wonders are in store for the American housewife.

Right now, in fact, the marvel-studded field of electronics has entered the realm of kitchen science by making possible what is probably the greatest single advance in food preparation seen in the 20th century: Electronic cooking.

To give you some idea of how revolutionary this newest child of America's advanced research laboratories is, it can accomplish such time-saving miracles as these:

Bake a potato in just five minutes.
Broil bacon on a paper plate in two minutes.
Cook a 10-pound beef roast in 30 minutes.
Bake a two-layer cake in six minutes.

And, most spectacular of all, this is done electronically while heating nothing but the food itself. The oven sides, doors, even the plates or cooking utensils themselves do not become hot.

Homemakers who have used electronic ovens in pre-production field tests, as well as those who have recently bought them, have found that electronic cooking—although it sounds mysterious and complicated—is really very simple.

The remarkable speed of electronic cooking comes from the fact that it uses high frequency microwaves to produce heat immediately deep inside the food. The food get hot because of the friction created by the food molecules as they rearrange themselves under the influence of microwaves. Although this reaction is quite complex, it does not create any physical changes in the food except those normally produced by plain heat.

The sides of the oven and the cooking dishes are not affected by the microwaves because they simply reflect the microwaves or permit them to pass through. Only the food absorbs them.

Electronic ovens are simple to operate. A few seconds are needed for the magnatron tube which generates the microwaves to warm up—approximately the same time it takes for a television set.

After the warmup time a timing dial is set. The oven door is opened, the food placed within. When the door is closed, the microwaves begin their work. The food within the oven can be observed through a metal screen in the door, so one actually can see one layer of cake, prepared from a mix, rise and get done in five minutes.

TV A LA CARTE

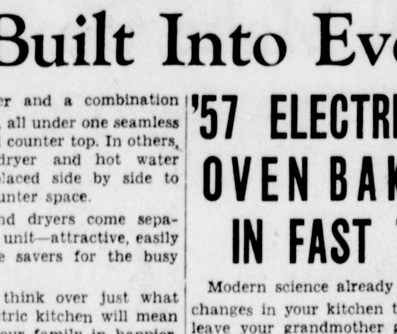

How about one of the new "personal" size or portable TV sets for a man's den, so that he can enjoy his favorite sports programs without argument from the rest of the family?

"Do it yourself" gifts of home made candy or cookies can be enhanced by the choice of a container that can be used again. Pack the gift in a small straw basket or in waxboard containers designed for use in freezer or refrigerator.

Modern Electric Appliances Will Please Everyone In Your Home

Make Her Day A Merry One, Give Her A Dishwasher Gift

Hey Pop! This story is for you.

Do you feel a vague uneasiness every night right after dinner and just when you settle down in an easy chair to read the paper?

Do you know why? Your conscience is bothering you.

Even though she never complains, you know your wife out there in the kitchen is dog tired.

Deep down in your heart you know you ought to be out there helping her That's why you can't really enjoy taking it easy in a soft chair reading the paper.

The obvious answer is an automatic dishwasher.

Now before you can sell your wife on the idea there are important questions to answer. Just how much time will an electric dishwasher save? Will it get the dishes cleaner and more sanitary than hand washing? Does it step up water consumption?

You can tell her that these and a horde of other questions were answered by a study of hand versus automatic electric dishwashing methods known as the Ohio Study, made by the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, Wooster, Ohio, and sponsored by leading dishwasher manufacturers who are members of the Household Sink Units Section of the National Electrical Manufacturers Assn.

Most dramatic finding of the Ohio Study was that an automatic electric dishwasher cuts dishwashing time by about half—from about an hour and a quarter to an average of 35 minutes a day.

You might add that dishes washed in a dishwasher were found definitely to be more sanitary than those washed by hand, with a much lower bacteria count, indicating an important contribution to family health. This is because recommended water temperatures for household dishwashers are hotter than the hands can stand in the dishpan.

Another finding of the Ohio Study indicated that there is less dish breakage with an automatic electric dishwasher. As far as water consumption is concerned, it was found that about eight gallons a day are used in a dishwasher. This is less than needed to fill a deep sink.

Increased Capacity

As an added point, remind your wife that automatic electric dishwashers have come a long way to reach their present efficiency of action and attractive appearance.

As a clincher, tell your wife that today's dishwashers show increased capacity—many models will hold complete service for eight. Improved drain devices and automatic timers assure longer service and better operation. Modern automatic electric dishwashers take most dirty dishes without pre-rinsing, and with the use of the proper detergent will get dishes and table silver sparkling clean. These machines do pots and pans, too, with a minimum of preparation.

You can show her models to suit any need and colors and finishes to match and decor. Enlist the aid of a dealer to help your wife decide whether a combination dishwasher and sink, a built-in under-counter model, or one of the new free standing types is best for your home.

And after the dishwasher she finally picks out is busily handling the after-dinner chores in your kitchen — and your wife is curled up on the living room sofa — you can read the sports news with an easy conscience.

MOST WELCOME — A gaily beribboned mobile dishwasher under your Christmas tree means a year-round holiday from laborious dishwashing chores. Since it's portable, it saves installation bill and can be rolled around the room like a serving cart to pick up dirty dishes.

FINE IDEAS IN NEW ELECTRIC REFRIGERATORS

Modern electric refrigerators combine mechanical perfection with convenient, ample storage to give the housewife food preservation beyond her fondest hopes.

There's beauty, too, with attractive styles and colors to harmonize with any decor.

Every year, new features are added or old tried-and-true features rearranged to provide greater health and happiness for the whole family.

New designing has given the refrigerator greater flexibility as kitchen furniture. It can be free-standing, built-in or stacked-on. It can, in short, be placed anywhere

Many homemakers like their refrigerators set flush in the wall for a more spacious kitchen. Sectional models of refrigerator and freezer units may be placed side by side at counter level, mounted on top of each other or put beneath a work surface.

A combination refrigerator-freezer can provide adequate space for both refrigeration and frozen foods in the space formerly needed for the refrigerator alone. This is made possible by technological improvements, such as more effective insulation resulting in thinner cabinet walls.

Sizes range from small models for one or two persons to the huge installations for large families or people who live in the suburbs and don't shop too often.

Most manufacturers offer important features like automatic defrosting, choice of color and freezer compartment in the refrigerator. In most of them, too, you can usually find butter-keepers, egg racks, vegetable crisper, roll-out and swing-down baskets and shelves. The freezing unit may be in the bottom, to make more frequently used items easier to reach.

There are all sorts of accessories like cold-water dispensers which operate without opening the door, twin juice fountains and ice-ejector assemblies where the ice try is inserted in the slot and the cubes drop free into a server bin below.

IRONER ENABLES DAD TO PRESS HIS CLOTHES

Many housewives are so bedazzled by the automatic efficiency of the electric washer and dryer in their laundryroom they have forgotten that ironing plays a big part in gracious living.

Who can deny that a bed made with freshly ironed sheets has a look of luxury obtained in no other way? How much prouder do you feel when your guest towels have the crispness only ironing can give them?

You may be surprised to know that these symbols of a truly distinguished home can be obtained without a return to the drudgery that once was associated with them. A homemaker who is determined to retain graciousness while protecting her own precious time can find the answer she searches for in an automatic electric washer.

Few Minutes Work

With an ironer, she can enjoy smooth linens and towels throughout the house with only a few minutes of extra work. These are flatwork items, which even a beginner can do quickly and perfectly on an ironer.

It is important to remember that flatwork can represent 70 per cent of a load of ironing in the average home.

For those who are willing to acquire a new skill, there is the further reward of being able to give all the family's clothing a professional finish with a minimum of work.

The most popular ironer is the cabinet style, with clean-looking white enamel finish. Some have height casters adjustable to the height of the user. It is easy as pie to tilt back the hinged cover and swing out the ironing unit from its storage space.

Lap Panels

Cabinet-style ironers have lap panels to support dampened articles before they go through the roll and one or two extension shelves for stacking folded items after finishing.

Also on the market is an ironer adaptable for use anywhere in the home. Of console design, this model comes in red mahogany or limed oak and has graceful wrought-iron legs.

Portable models, which can be rolled into storage spots when not in use, and table models also are available. Table models take little storage space, but must be carried and lifted to the table where they are to be used.

Modern Electric Appliances Will Please Everyone In Your Home

Make Her Day A Merry One, Give Her A Dishwasher Gift

Hey Pop! This story is for you.

Do you feel a vague uneasiness every night right after dinner and just when you settle down in an easy chair to read the paper?

Do you know why? Your conscience is bothering you.

Even though she never complains, you know your wife out there in the kitchen is dog tired.

Deep down in your heart you know you ought to be out there helping her. That's why you can't really enjoy taking it easy in a soft chair reading the paper.

The obvious answer is an automatic dishwasher.

Now before you can sell your wife on the idea there are important questions to answer. Just how much time will an electric dishwasher save? Will it get the dishes cleaner and more sanitary than hand washing? Does it step up water consumption?

You can tell her that these and a horde of other questions were answered by a study of hand versus automatic electric dishwashing methods known as the Ohio Study, made by the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, Wooster, Ohio, and sponsored by leading dishwasher manufacturers who are members of the Household Sink Units Section of the National Electrical Manufacturers Assn.

Bost dramatic finding of the Ohio Study was that an automatic electric dishwasher cuts dishwashing time by about half—from about an hour and a quarter to an average of 35 minutes a day.

You might add that dishes washed in a dishwasher were found definitely to be more sanitary than those washed by hand, with a much lower bacteria count, indicating an important contribution to family health. This is because recommended water temperatures for household dishwashers are hotter than the hands can stand in the dishpan.

Another finding of the Ohio Study indicated that there is less dish breakage with an automatic electric dishwasher. As far as water consumption is concerned, it was found that about eight gallons a day are used in a dishwasher. This is less than needed to fill a deep sink.

Increased Capacity

As an added point, remind your wife that automatic electric dishwashers have come a long way to reach their present efficiency of action and attractive appearance.

As a clincher, tell your wife that today's dishwashers show increased capacity—many models will hold complete service for eight. Improved drain devices and automatic timers assure longer service and better operation. Modern automatic electric dishwashers take most dirty dishes without pre-rinsing, and with the use of the proper detergent will get dishes and table silver sparkling clean. These machines do pots and pans, too, with a minimum of preparation.

You can show her models to suit any need and colors and finishes to match and decor. Enlist the aid of a dealer to help your wife decide whether a combination dishwasher and sink, a built-in under-counter model, or one of the new free standing types is best for your home.

And after the dishwasher she finally picks out is busily handling the after-dinner chores in your kitchen — and your wife is curled up on the living room sofa — you can read the sports news with an easy conscience.

MOST WELCOME — A gaily beribboned mobile dishwasher under your Chrismas tree means a year-round holiday from laborious dishwashing chores. Since it's portable, it saves installation bill and can be rolled around the room like a serving cart to pick up dirty dishes.

IRONER ENABLES DAD TO PRESS HIS CLOTHES

Many housewives are so bedazzled by the automatic efficiency of the electric washer and dryer in their laundryroom they have forgotten that ironing plays a big part in gracious living.

Who can deny that a bed made with freshly ironed sheets has a look of luxury obtained in no other way? How much prouder do you feel when your guest towels have the crispness only ironing can give them?

You may be surprised to know that these symbols of a truly distinguished home can be obtained without a return to the drudgery that once was associated with them. A homemaker who is determined to retain graciousness while protecting her own precious time can find the answer she searches for in an automatic electric washer.

Portable models, which can be rolled into storage spots when not in use, and table models also are available. Table models take little storage space, but must be carried and lifted to the table where they are to be used.

FINE IDEAS IN NEW ELECTRIC REFRIGERATORS

Modern electric refrigerators combine mechanical perfection with convenient, ample storage to give the housewife food preservation beyond her fondest hopes.

There's beauty, too, with attractive styles and colors to harmonize with any decor.

Every year, new features are added or old tried-and-true features rearranged to provide greater health and happiness for the whole family.

New designing has given the refrigerator greater flexibility as kitchen furniture. It can be freestanding, built-in or stacked-on. It can, in short, be placed anywhere.

Many homemakers like their refrigerators set flush in the wall for a more spacious kitchen. Sectional models of refrigerator and freezer units may be placed side by side at counter level, mounted on top of each other or put beneath a work surface.

A combination refrigerator-freezer can provide adequate space for both refrigeration and frozen foods in the space formerly needed for the refrigerator alone. This is made possible by technological improvements, such as more effective insulation resulting in thinner cabinet walls.

Sizes range from small models for one or two persons to the huge installations for large families or people who live in the suburbs and don't shop too often.

Most manufacturers offer important features like automatic defrosting, choice of color and freezer compartment in the refrigerator. In most of them, too, you can usually find butter-keepers, egg racks, vegetable crisper, roll-out and swing-down baskets and shelves. The freezing unit may be in the bottom, to make more frequently used items easier to reach.

There are all sorts of accessories like cold-water dispensers which operate without opening the door, twin juice fountains and ice-ejector assemblies where the ice try is inserted in the slot and the cubes drop free into a server bin below.

Better Living Is Always Built Into Every All-Electric Kitchen

All-Electric Kitchen Is Wonderful Christmas Gift

If you plan to make it a white Christmas with an all-electric kitchen, you're switching on the current to better living for your whole family.

There's automation beyond belief. There's beauty, too—and thrift.

Do you know just what you're getting in an electric kitchen? Designers and engineers have improved today's electric kitchen appliances so greatly that they are far ahead of what went into kitchens just a few years ago.

Take electric ranges. They offer clean fast dependable automatic cooking. New built-in models lend themselves to aesthetic kitchen design—a much wanted feature in today's homes. The oven can be installed in one location and the surface units in another, wherever most efficient and desirable.

Many New Features

Electric ranges now come with many other hitherto unheard of features—such as oven in which baking and broiling can be done at the same time, oven equipped with rotisseries in addition to their automatic, controlled heat features, surface units that fold back into the wall when not in use, ovens that can be raised or lowered mechanically to suit the height of the users.

There are remarkable innovations too in electric refrigerators: Models which are installed on the wall and sectional models where the refrigerator and freezer section in separate units may be installed waist-high at counter level, mounted atop each other or beneath a work surface.

In addition, electric refrigerators now offer sliding and turning shelves for easy access to foods, built-in water and fruit juices dispensers and other handy items.

Electric Water Heater

For all the household utilities requiring hot water—and the figure is practically astronomical—there's the electric water heater. It supplies all the hot water you need, with safety, dependability and economy. It's easy to install and may be placed wherever is most convenient.

Coming in various shapes, sizes and colors, the water heater is an attractive—and necessary—addition to your kitchen or laundry center.

Speaking of laundry, the trend is toward making the laundry a part of the kitchen. Some kitchens combine a range, dishwasher, a food waste disposer and a combination washer-dryer, all under one seamless stainless-steel counter top. In others, the washer-dryer and hot water heater are placed side by side to give extra counter space.

Washers and dryers come separately or as a unit—attractive, easily operated time savers for the busy housewife.

When you think over just what your new electric kitchen will mean to you and your family in happier, healthier, better living, you'll be glad you made your white Christmas electric.

Just the thing to top off a man's casual outfits is one of the new Ivy League type caps, now so popular. Cut smaller, usually with a strap and buckle at back, these appear in handsome tweeds and herringbones as well as in blazer stripes and printed corduroys.

'57 ELECTRIC OVEN BAKES IN FAST TIME

Modern science already has made changes in your kitchen that would leave your grandmother gasping in amazement, but even more wonders are in store for the American housewife.

Right now, in fact, the marvel-studded field of electronics has entered the realm of kitchen science by making possible what is probably the greatest single advance in food preparation seen in the 20th century: Electronic cooking.

To give you some idea of how revolutionary this newest child of America's advanced research laboratories is, it can accomplish such time-saving miracles as these:

Bake a potato in just five minutes.
Broil bacon on a paper plate in two minutes.
Cook a 10-pound beef roast in 30 minutes.
Bake a two-layer cake in six minutes.

And, most spectacular of all, this is done electronically while heating nothing but the food itself. The oven sides, doors, even the plates or cooking utensils themselves do not become hot.

Homemakers who have used electronic ovens in pre-production field tests, as well as those who have recently bought them, have found that electronic cooking—although it sounds mysterious and complicated—is really very simple.

The remarkable speed of electronic cooking comes from the fact that it uses high frequency microwaves to produce heat immediately deep inside the food. The food get hot because of the friction created by the food molecules as they rearrange themselves under the influence of microwaves. Although this reaction is quite complex, it does not create any physical changes in the food except those normally produced by plain heat.

The sides of the oven and the cooking dishes are not affected by the microwaves because they simply reflect the microwaves or permit them to pass through. Only the food absorbs them.

Electronic ovens are simple to operate. A few seconds are needed for the magnatron tube which generates the microwaves to warm up—approximately the same time it takes for a television set.

After the warmup time a timing dial is set. The oven door is opened, the food placed within. When the door is closed, the microwaves begin their work. The food within the oven can be observed through a metal screen in the door, so one actually can see one layer of cake, prepared from a mix, rise and get done in five minutes.

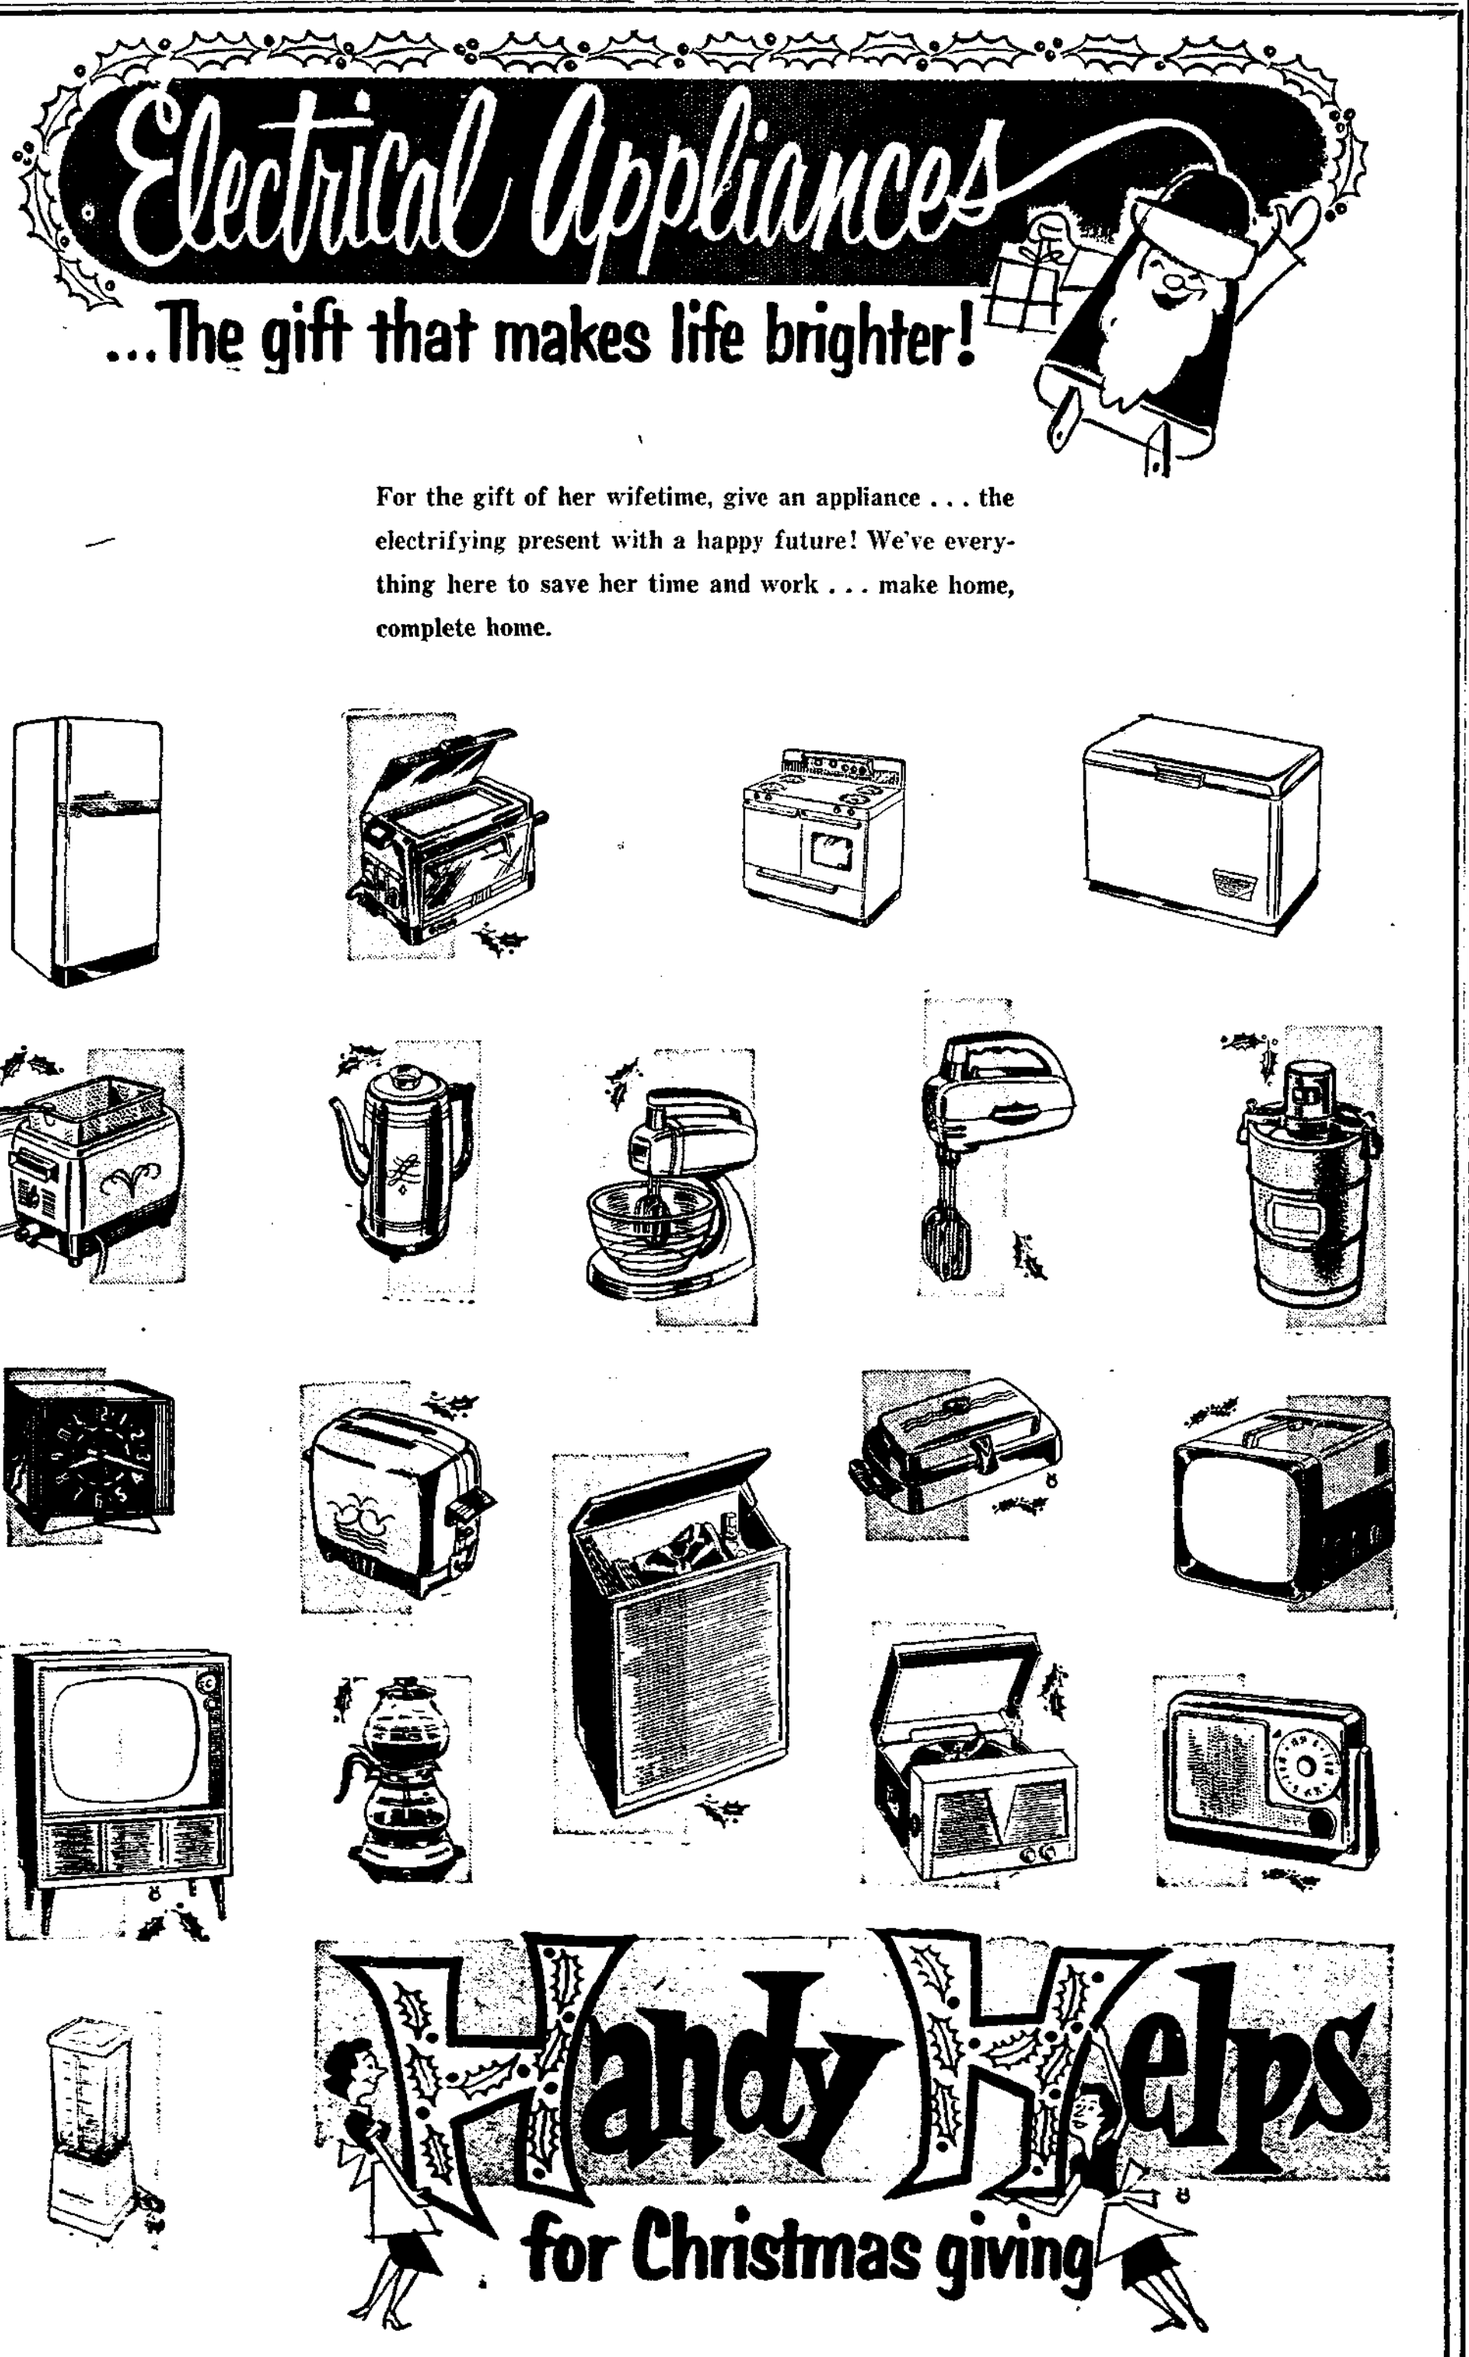

TV A LA CARTE

How about one of the new "personal" size or portable TV sets for a man's den, so that he can enjoy his favorite sports programs without argument from the rest of the family?

"Do it yourself" gifts of home made candy or cookies can be enhanced by the choice of a container that can be used again. Pack the gift in a small straw basket or in waxboard containers designed for use in freezer or refrigerator.

CRUSHED ICE ADDS ZING TO HOLIDAY MEALS

The weather man may not be able to provide a White Christmas out-of-doors. But clever homemakers can add the seasonal White Christmas touch to their holiday dinners with crushed ice.

The gas refrigerator of today, ready and able to supply this ice quickly and abundantly, joins with the range in helping mom prepare the holiday meal.

"Ice can make an old-fashioned Christmas dinner sparkle with new eye appeal and appetite appeal.", says the home economics institute of a leading concern. Their suggestions for use of ice are contained in the following menu they have prepared for the holiday feast:

Frozen Fruit Juice Appetizer
Roast Tom Turkey
Walnut Dressing
Savory Gravy
Orange Candied Sweet Potatoes
New England Browned Potatoes
Broccoli with Parmesan Cheese
Spiced and Stuffed Relishes
Cranberry Salad Stars
Santa's Sundae-Special

The home economists suggest you use your favorite recipes for the turkey, dressing, potatoes, gravy and broccoli. Then use the following recipes for preparing and serving the other items on the menu:

Frozen Fruit Juice Appetizer — Combine equal amounts of unsweetened grapefruit juice, orange juice and pineapple juice. Pour into shallow container and place in freezing unit of refrigerator for one hour, stirring every 20 minutes. Serve in fruit juice glases from a deep tray filled with frosty crushed ice.

Relishes Recipe

Spiced and Stuffed Relishes — Spiced apples, prunes or pears, watermelon pickles, sweet cucumber pickles and olives speared on toothpicks and tucked into a mound of crushed ice cubes or served on an ice-chilled platter make a different and delightful relish plate. For variety, add prunes or apricots stuffed with cream cheese and pineapple bits, olives stuffed cheese or nuts, and celery stuffed with peanut butter.

Cranberry Salad Stars — Wash two cups cranberries. Add one cup cold water. Cook until tender. Add one cup sugar. Cook for five minutes. Soften in ½ cup cold water one tablespoon unflavored gelatin. Dissolve in hot cranberries. Add ¼ teaspoon salt. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Add ½ cup chopped pecans and ¾ cup diced celery. Mix thoroughly. Pour into individual star-shaped molds, lightly oiled, and chill in refrigerator until firm. Unmold on lettuce cups. Serve on salad plates or dessert dishes set in deep serving dishes of crushed ice.

Sundae Special

Santa's Sundae-Special — a perfect dessert for topping off this White Christmas dinner. It's snow-white vanilla ice cream dressed up in red and green, and crowned with confectioners' tiny silver candy pellets. It's served in an icer surrounded by crushed ice cubes so that you can dish it ready for serving at the table before you sit down to dinner. Here's how you make the two sundae sauces:

For the Red Cherry Sauce, strain juice from 8-ounce can of dark red pitted cherries and add water to make ½ cup. Stir in 1½ teaspoons cornstarch and 1½ teaspoons sugar and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Cook over low flame 10 minutes, then add cherries.

Mint Sauce Recipe

For the green Pineapple-Mint Sauce, drain two cups canned sweetened crushed pineapple and set fruit aside. Cook together over medium heat drained pineapple juice, one tablespoon cornstarch, ⅛ teaspoon salt, stirring constantly until thick and smooth. Remove from heat. Stir in crushed pineapple and one tablespoon lemon juice. Chill in bowl of ice water, stirring frequently until completely cold. Add a few drops peppermint extract and green food coloring.

DISGUISE LARGE XMAS PRESENTS; IDEAS OFFERED

For years father and the youngsters have been baffled about how to present mother with a White Christmas gift of a major gas appliance and wrap it so it would come as a huge surprise.

The problem of how to disguise these gleaming gifts has been solved this season in some imaginative ways by Dennison stylists.

Here are some suggestions that may be just what you're looking for:

The new gas refrigerator can be turned into happy Santa by covering the entire appliance with red crepe paper. An easy way to do it is to wind the paper in layers around the refrigerator horizontally, securing the ends with tape.

How To Do It

Make Santa's belt by folding black crepe paper and placing it around the middle of the appliance, taping it down in back. The buckle is a large square of gold foil taped on the black belt.

Use a real mitten or cut a mitten shape from green paper and tape it to the front, sticking a candy cane in it.

For Santa's face: Tape on a table tennis ball or a large tree ball for the nose, use large gummed stars or round notary seals for the eyes, black masking tape or black pipe cleaner for the mouth. Stick on cotton for eyebrows and beard.

To make Santa's cap, cover a large cardboard carton with more red crepe, bringing it to a point at the top. Add a wad of cotton for a pompon, and stick it at a jaunty angle on Santa's head.

Disguise the new ironer as a fireplace. You can do this by covering it completely with brick-patterned crepe paper. Use cellophane tape to hold the paper in place. Mass greens and pine cones on top. Pile the family's presents in the opening. Andirons and other fireplace equipment — if you have it on hand — will add a realistic touch.

For the new washer let the whole family share in the fun of decorating. Cut two tree shapes from green construction paper. Staple together down the center. Fold one side forward, the other back. Tape to one corner of the washer.

Drape two lengths of red cord or tinsel rope across the front, hanging small mitts and Christmas stockings on them. Tuck lollipops into them. The mitts and stockings can be cut from double thickness of colorful crepe, then the sides stitched together.

Trim With Snowflakes

Snowflakes printed on midnight blue crepe make a perfect cover-up for that freezer. Get packaged pre-cut crepe icicles and tape them around the top.

For a humorous touch, blow up a yellow balloon — or find last summer's beach ball — and with plastic tape make slant eyes and smiling mouth of an Eskimo boy on it. Tape on cotton for a hood. Add a wreath of greens at the neck. Clever?

Hard water reveals that the soil through which it passes is very fertile. Hard water is caused because it picks up minerals.

CRUSHED ICE ADDS ZING TO HOLIDAY MEALS

The weather man may not be able to provide a White Christmas out-of-doors. But clever homemakers can add the seasonal White Christmas touch to their holiday dinners with crushed ice.

The gas refrigerator of today, ready and able to supply this ice quickly and abundantly, joins with the range in helping mom prepare the holiday meal.

"Ice can make an old-fashioned Christmas dinner sparkle with new eye appeal and appetite appeal," says the home economics institute of a leading concern. Their suggestions for use of ice are contained in the following menu they have prepared for the holiday feast:

Frozen Fruit Juice Appetizer
Roast Tom Turkey
Walnut Dressing
Savory Gravy
Orange Candied Sweet Potatoes
New England Browned Potatoes
Broccoli with Parmesan Cheese
Spiced and Stuffed Relishes
Cranberry Salad Stars
Santa's Sundae-Special

The home economists suggest you use your favorite recipes for the turkey, dressing, potatoes, gravy and broccoli. Then use the following recipes for preparing and serving the other items on the menu:

Frozen Fruit Juice Appetizer — Combine equal amounts of unsweetened grapefruit juice, orange juice and pineapple juice. Pour into shallow container and place in freezing unit of refrigerator for one hour, stirring every 20 minutes. Serve in fruit juice glases from a deep tray filled with frosty crushed ice.

Relishes Recipe

Spiced and Stuffed Relishes — Spiced apples, prunes or pears, watermelon pickles, sweet cucumber pickles and olives speared on toothpicks and tucked into a mound of crushed ice cubes or served on an ice-chilled platter make a different and delightful relish plate. For variety, add prunes or apricots stuffed with cream cheese and pineapple bits, olives stuffed cheese or nuts, and celery stuffed with peanut butter.

Cranberry Salad Stars — Wash two cups cranberries. Add one cup cold water. Cook until tender. Add one cup sugar. Cook for five minutes. Soften in ½ cup cold water one tablespoon unflavored gelatin. Dissolve in hot cranberries. Add ¼ teaspoon salt. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Add ½ cup chopped pecans and ¾ cup diced celery. Mix thoroughly. Pour into individual star-shaped molds, lightly oiled, and chill in refrigerator until firm. Unmold on lettuce cups. Serve on salad plates or dessert dishes set in deep serving dishes of crushed ice.

Sundae Special

Santa's Sundae-Special — a perfect dessert for topping off this White Christmas dinner. It's snow-white vanilla ice cream dressed up in red and green, and crowned with confectioners' tiny silver candy pellets. It's served in an icer surrounded by crushed ice cubes so that you can dish it ready for serving at the table before you sit down to dinner. Here's how you make the two sundae sauces:

For the Red Cherry Sauce, strain juice from 8-ounce can of dark red pitted cherries and add water to make ½ cup. Stir in 1½ teaspoons cornstarch and 1½ teaspoons sugar and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Cook over low flame 10 minutes, then add cherries.

Mint Sauce Recipe

For the green Pineapple-Mint Sauce, drain two cups canned sweetened crushed pineapple and set fruit aside. Cook together over medium heat drained pineapple juice, one tablespoon cornstarch, ⅛ teaspoon salt, stirring constantly until thick and smooth. Remove from heat. Stir in crushed pineapple and one tablespoon lemon juice. Chill in bowl of ice water, stirring frequently until completely cold. Add a few drops peppermint extract and green food coloring.

DISGUISE LARGE XMASPRESENTS; IDEAS OFFERED

For years father and the youngsters have been baffled about how to present mother with a White Christmas gift of a major gas appliance and wrap it so it would come as a huge surprise.

The problem of how to disguise these gleaming gifts has been solved this season in some imaginative ways by Dennison stylists.

Here are some suggestions that may be just what you're looking for:

The new gas refrigerator can be turned into happy Santa by covering the entire appliance with red crepe paper. An easy way to do it is to wind the paper in layers around the refrigerator horizontally, securing the ends with tape.

How To Do It

Make Santa's belt by folding black crepe paper and placing it around the middle of the appliance, taping it down in back. The buckle is a large square of gold foil taped on the black belt.

Use a real mitten or cut a mitten shape from green paper and tape it to the front, sticking a candy cane in it.

For Santa's face: Tape on a table tennis ball or a large tree ball for the nose, use large gummed stars or round notary seals for the eyes, black masking tape or black pipe cleaner for the mouth. Stick on cotton for eyebrows and beard.

To make Santa's cap, cover a large cardboard carton with more red crepe, bringing it to a point at the top. Add a wad of cotton for a pompon, and stick it at a jaunty angle on Santa's head.

Disguise the new ironer as a fireplace. You can do this by covering it completely with brick-patterned crepe paper. Use cellophane tape to hold the paper in place. Mass greens and pine cones on top. Pile the family's presents in the opening. Andirons and other fireplace equipment — if you have it on hand — will add a realistic touch.

For the new washer let the whole family share in the fun of decorating. Cut two tree shapes from green construction paper. Staple together down the center. Fold one side forward, the other back. Tape to one corner of the washer.

Drape two lengths of red cord or tinsel rope across the front, hanging small mitts and Christmas stockings on them. Tuck lollipops into them. The mitts and stockings can be cut from double thickness of colorful crepe, then the sides stitched together.

Trim With Snowflakes

Snowflakes printed on midnight blue crepe make a perfect cover-up for that freezer. Get packaged pre-cut crepe icicles and tape them around the top.

For a humorous touch, blow up a yellow balloon — or find last summer's beach ball — and with plastic tape make slant eyes and smiling mouth of an Eskimo boy on it. Tape on cotton for a hood. Add a wreath of greens at the neck. Clever?

Hard water reveals that the soil through which it passes is very fertile. Hard water is caused because it picks up minerals.

2 NATIONS WANT "ON-THE-SPOT" HUNGARY CHECK

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — India and two other Asian neutrals—Ceylon and Indonesia—have unexpectedly backed U.N. moves to make an on-the-spot check in Hungary.

The three nations, which had kept aloof from the Hungarian dispute, put in a resolution calling on Hungary's Communist government to grant Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's request to let in U.N. observers.

Hungary's puppet regime has refused to admit U.N. political observers but has said it would allow relief supplies with U.N. representatives to enter Hungary. However, it has evaded a request from Hammarskjold that he be admitted as head of the relief mission.

The Assembly on Monday debated Cuba's call for the Soviet Union to stop deportations of Hungarians, but V. K. Krishna Menon of India reportedly asked that the proposal by the three Asian powers be given priority.

Reds Are Perturbed

Informed sources said the Russians were perturbed over the sudden move by the three Asian nations, whom they had expected to keep silent during the debate. But Indian Prime Minister Nehru, after insistent prodding by opposition Socialists and some newspapers, told the Indian Parliament yesterday that Soviet troops were camped in Hungary against the wishes of the Hungarian people.

Nehru declared the bitter resistance of Hungarian workers had "powerfully affected" Russia's prestige in Eastern Europe and elsewhere. He said U.N. observers should be admitted to determine the actual situation.

During the debate on the Cuban resolution, Chief U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. said the United States had information that Russia has deported 16,000 persons in boxcars from Budapest alone.

Many Will Die

"It is inevitable," Lodge declared, "that many of the men . . . will die from cold and exposure —just as the unfortunate victims of the Nazi concentration camps died."

Lodge said these reports made even more urgent the need for compliance with previous Assembly resolutions calling for withdrawal of all Soviet troops from Hungary and U.N. observers on the scene.

Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov earlier had accused the United States and other non-Communist nations of touching off the Hungarian crisis. Shepilov and Hungarian Foreign Minister Imre Horvath termed the reports of mass deportations "lies."

The Soviet diplomat warned that any move to send a U.N. police force to Hungary would endanger peace. He said the Hungarian situation was returning to normal and that the U.N. should keep its hands off.

NORSTAD TAKES NATO COMMAND

PARIS (AP) — Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther handed over the supreme command of the 15-nation Atlantic Pact forces in Europe Tuesday to U.S Air Force Gen. Lauris Norstad.

The new commander said he took over the post "with a firm belief that NATO is, if anything, more important than ever before."

"The Soviets have again, and perhaps more wantonly and brutally than ever before, demonstrated that they understand only force," Norstad said. "It is clear that our peaceful aims can be achieved only by maintaining our strength."

Changee Of Command

Troops representing all the NATO nations — except Iceland, which has no armed forces — paraded without arms as the command changed hands at Supreme Allied Headquarters near Paris.

Granted a wish, Gruenther said, some people might want to double NATO's military strength, some might want to strengthen it in the political field, and some "might wish that Khrushchev would abstain for a while from going to those cocktail parties in the Kremlin."

For his part, he added, he wished the 450 million people of the NATO countries should have an abiding faith in their alliance.

Two Youths Admit Holdups In Camden

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP) — Two 15-year old boys from Philadelphia have admitted taking part in four Saturday night holdups in Camden, police report.

Police said on Monday that the youths, whose names were withheld, had been arrested after taking $19 from a street corner newsboy. They were held for juvenile authorities.

J. Roosevelt Womak, 18, of Philadelphia was held in $5,000 bail for the county grand jury on charges of helping rob the newsboy last Saturday.

GIRL DECLARES ACID THROWER KNEW VICTIM

NEW YORK (AP)—The petite girl friend of slain hoodlum Abe Telvi says he told her he called Victor Riesel by name as he flung the acid that blinded the labor columnist.

The testimony by Mrs. Olga De La Cruz flatly contradicted statements by an earlier witness that Telvi had no idea who his victim was until he read about it in the newspapers.

Mrs. De La Cruz, 20-year-old divorced mother of two and expecting a third child, testified on Monday at the federal court trial of three alleged conspirators in the Riesel assault.

The columnist was blinded April 5 shortly after he left a Broadway restaurant. The attack allegedly was designed to scare him out of testifying at a grand jury probe of labor racketeering.

Had Burns On Face

Mrs. De La Cruz said Telvi came to her apartment the night of the Riesel attack with acid burns on his face. He stayed there for 10 days to two weeks.

She said Telvi's brother brought medicine and a sunlamp in hope of healing or hiding the acid scars. Telvi had splashed some of the acid on himself during the attack.

The hoodlum was found shot to death on the lower East Side July 28, presumably partly because the acid scars made him living evidence of the attack.

Authorities also have said that a motive for the murder was a demand by Telvi for a higher fee for the acid job when he learned Riesel's identity.

"I Threw The Acid"

Mrs. De La Cruz said that while he was still at her apartment he suddenly blurted out:

"I did it. I threw the acid in the guy's face. I don't want you to tell anybody, not even your mother, because you might get hurt and I might get hurt too."

Then, she said, he told her that "when Riesel came out of the restaurant, he (Telvi) called his name and he threw the acid in his face."

The government's first witness, Joseph P Carlino, had testified that it wasn't until Telvi read a paper the next day that he knew the identity of his victim. Carlino has pleaded guilty to conspiracy.

The present trial involves charges of conspiracy against Gondolfo Miranti, Domenico Bando and Leo Telvi, Abe's brother. The government says it is only trying to prove the three acted as go-betweens and harbored Telvi after the attack.

Also indicted in the alleged conspiracy are labor racketeer John (Johnny Dio) Dioguardi and three others. They will be tried later.

East Berlin

EAST BERLIN — St. Paul's Union Church Council will meet in the church at 8 p.m. on Monday.

GIRL DECLARES ACID THROWER KNEW VICTIM

NEW YORK (AP)—The petite girl friend of slain hoodlum Abe Telvi says he told her he called Victor Riesel by name as he flung the acid that blinded the labor columnist.

The testimony by Mrs. Olga De La Cruz flatly contradicted statements by an earlier witness that Telvi had no idea who his victim was until he read about it in the newspapers.

Mrs. De La Cruz, 20-year-old divorced mother of two and expecting a third child, testified on Monday at the federal court trial of three alleged conspirators in the Riesel assault.

The columnist was blinded April 5 shortly after he left a Broadway restaurant. The attack allegedly was designed to scare him out of testifying at a grand jury probe of labor racketeering.

Had Burns On Face

Mrs. De La Cruz said Telvi came to her apartment the night of the Riesel attack with acid burns on his face. He stayed there for 10 days to two weeks.

She said Telvi's brother brought medicine and a sunlamp in hope of healing or hiding the acid scars. Telvi had splashed some of the acid on himself during the attack.

The hoodlum was found shot to death on the lower East Side July 28, presumably partly because the acid scars made him living evidence of the attack.

Authorities also have said that a motive for the murder was a demand by Telvi for a higher fee for the acid job when he learned Riesel's identity.

"I Threw The Acid"

Mrs. De La Cruz said that while he was still at her apartment he suddenly blurted out:

"I did it. I threw the acid in the guy's face. I don't want you to tell anybody, not even your mother, because you might get hurt and I might get hurt too."

Then, she said, he told her that "when Riesel came out of the restaurant, he (Telvi) called his name and he threw the acid in his face."

The government's first witness, Joseph P. Carlino, had testified that it wasn't until Telvi read a paper the next day that he knew the identity of his victim. Carlino has pleaded guilty to conspiracy.

The present trial involves charges of conspiracy against Gondolfo Miranti, Domenico Bando and Leo Telvi, Abe's brother. The government says it is only trying to prove the three acted as go-betweens and harbored Telvi after the attack.

Also indicted in the alleged conspiracy are labor racketeer John (Johnny Dio) Dioguardi and three others. They will be tried later.

East Berlin

EAST BERLIN — St. Paul's Union Church Council will meet in the church at 8 p.m. on Monday.

Mt. Olivet's Women's Guild and Consistory will meet in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bosserman Jr. at 8 p.m. on Tuesday.

St. Paul's will hold its annual Congregational Meeting in the church beginning with a pot-luck supper at 6:30 p.m. on Friday, November 30.

Preparations are being made for Zwingli Reformed Church's annual Thanksgiving Day dinner and supper. All members who wish to help can do so by coming to the church today and Wednesday evenings and all day Thursday.

Brownie Troop No. 38 and Girl Scout Troop No. 5 are planning to attend the Thanksgiving services which will be held in Trinity Lutheran Church Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. Rev. Robert Rezash will deliver the evening message and the union choir will provide the special music for the service. All parents are invited to join their daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. John Topper announce the birth of a son, Stephen John, on November 16 at 6:34 a.m. Mrs. Topper was the former Jane Knigge, Yorktown Heights, New York.

GREAT LAKES, Ill. (AP)—The bodies of two Navy petit officers who set out Friday on an ill-fated duck hunt were recovered in Lake Michigan on Monday.

A Navy spokesman said the bodies of Edward E. Payne, 25, and Joseph E. Fornicola, 30, were found with grappling hooks about 1,000 yards from the dock where they set out in a 20-foot dinghy in pre-dawn darkness.

2 NATIONS WANT "ON-THE-SPOT" HUNGARY CHECK

UNITED NATIONS, N Y (AP) — India and two other Asian neutrals—Ceylon and Indonesia—have unexpectedly backed U N moves to make an on-the-spot check in Hungary.

The three nations, which had kept aloof from the Hungarian dispute, put in a resolution calling on Hungary's Communist government to grant Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's request to let in U N observers

Hungary's puppet regime has refused to admit U N political observers but has said it would allow relief supplies with U N. representatives to enter Hungary. However it has evaded a request from Hammarskjold that he be admitted as head of the relief mission

The Assembly on Monday debated Cuba's call for the Soviet Union to stop deportations of Hungarians, but V. K Krishna Menon of India reportedly asked that the proposal by the three Asian powers be given priority

Reds Are Perturbed

Informed sources said the Russians were perturbed over the sudden move by the three Asian nations, whom they had expected to keep silent during the debate. But Indian Prime Minister Nehru, after insistent prodding by opposition Socialists and some newspapers, told the Indian Parliament yesterday that Soviet troops were camped in Hungary against the wishes of the Hungarian people

Nehru declared the bitter resistance of Hungarian workers had "powerfully affected" Russia s prestige in Eastern Europe and elsewhere He said U N observers should be admitted to determine the actual situation.

During the debate on the Cuban resolution, Chief U.S Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr said the United States had information that Russia has deported 16,000 persons in boxcars from Budapest alone.

Many Will Die

"It is inevitable," Lodge declared, "that many of the men will die from cold and exposure —just as the unfortunate victims of the Nazi concentration camps died"

Lodge said these reports made even more urgent the need for compliance with previous Assembly resolutions calling for withdrawal of all Soviet troops from Hungary and U N. observers on the scene

Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov earlier had accused the United States and other non-Communist nations of touching off the Hungarian crisis Shepilov and Hungarian Foreign Minister Imre Horvath termed the reports of mass deportations "lies"

The Soviet diplomat warned that any move to send a U N. police force to Hungary would endanger peace. He said the Hungarian situation was returning to normal and that the U N should keep its hands off.

NORSTAD TAKES NATO COMMAND

PARIS (AP) — Gen Alfred M Gruenther handed over the supreme command of the 15-nation Atlantic Pact forces in Europe Tuesday to U S Air Force Gen. Lauris Norstad.

The new commander said he took over the post "with a firm belief that NATO is, if anything more important than ever before."

"The Soviets have again, and perhaps more wantonly and brutally than ever before, demonstrated that they understand only force." Norstad said "It is clear that our peaceful aims can be achieved only by maintaining our strength"

Changee Of Command

Troops representing all the NATO nations — except Iceland, which has no armed forces — paraded without arms as the command changed hands at Supreme Allied Headquarters near Paris

Granted a wish, Gruenther said, some people might want to double NATO's military strength, some might want to strengthen it in the political field, and some "might wish that Khrushchev would abstain for a while from going to those cocktail parties in the Kremlin."

For his part, he added, he wished the 450 million people of the NATO countries should have an abiding faith in their alliance.

Two Youths Admit Holdups In Camden

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP) — Two 15-year old boys from Philadelphia have admitted taking part in four Saturday night holdups in Camden, police report

Police said on Monday that the youths, whose names were withheld, had been arrested after taking $19 from a street corner newsboy They were held for juvenile authorities

J Roosevelt Womak, 18 of Philadelphia was held in $5,000 bail for the county grand jury on charges of helping rob the newsboy last Saturday.

2 FULL YEARS TO PAY

Rising Interest Of Amateur Photographer In Color, Brightens Gifts Giving Picture

The surging popularity of the "miniature" camera among amateurs, obviously stimulated by growing interest in color photography, is being matched this year by mounting interest in flash light and speed light eqoipment.

And this seems most appropriate as Christmas approaches because, on the one hand, it is the most colorful season of the year, and on the other, modern flash and speed light equipment mean that all of the action filled joy of the Yule can be captured with never a pause for posing.

Just focus and fire away. Only a minimum of instruction is required for the beginner to learn how to handle the simple, almost fool-proof equipment.

Photo equipment makers, responding to the growing trend, are offering many new camera-flash combination sets for Christmas giving this year. Some come with a supply of bulbs and film as well, which means the happy recipient is equipped to make 'round the tree pictures indoors the moment the gift is unwrapped.

The electronic speed light, once for the professional only, is now available in lightweight but sufficiently powerful models for all amateur work, and priced that way too. It differs from the flash light in that bulbs are not necessary.

It has its own light and power pack to furnish hundreds of flashes without replenishment. What a gift for any photographer.

These days, a photographic gift for everyone is a sure fire gift. For who isn't an amateur photographer today. Choosing the right photographic gift for the person you have in mind is not difficult, and assistance is available from the experts in the stores.

For young beginners there are inexpensive box cameras also with flash attachment.

For the man or woman who owns a modest camera now, a better one will be a cherished gift.

For the man or woman who makes photography a major hobby, the camera world is full of accessories to help him and her improve their skills.

Diamonds Now A "Family Affair" For Xmas Gifting

Because a diamond is "forever," it is the universally accepted symbol of love. What gift, then, could more eloquently express your love for members of your family at Christmas than one of diamonds?

HOLIDAY CORSAGE for wear through the season, designated by Alyn Wayne, features needled pine holly and miniature cones with red berries and ribbon.

As a matter of fact, with each passing year, diamonds have become more and more of a "family affair" at Yuletide.

In some cases, the whole family group will combine their gift funds in one supreme and enduring gift of diamonds to make a particular Christmas forever memorable for dad, mom, sister or brother.

In other instances, advantage is taken of the fact that manufacturers are designing more jewelry with smaller diamonds at modest prices for every member of the family. Small diamonds if properly cut and polished have the same fire and brilliance as large ones and are equally as beautiful.

The current availability of diamonds in such a wide range of sizes and prices makes them an entirely feasible choice for individual gifts, even on limited budgets.

For mother, there are beautiful diamond earrings, cocktail rings, diamond watches, brooches, bracelets. Sister comes into her own with charms, lockets, pendants, all beautifully enriched with sparkling diamonds.

For dad and brother, you'll find handsome diamond rings, tie tacks, tie bars and cuff links with diamonds or diamond initials.

And let's not forget baby, for whom you can buy, so inexpensively, a lovely baby diamond ring.

Diamonds set in gold or silver are an everlasting token of your affection, regardless of their size. They can be reset into other jewelry over and over again, and they can be handed down from one generation to another.

MISSION BELLS with matched tones and keyboard bring creative music into the lives of little ones with this Kampanile set. It's a Toy Guidance Prestige selection.

Rising Interest Of Amateur Photographer In Color, Brightens Gifts Giving Picture

The surging popularity of the "miniature" camera among amateurs, obviously stimulated by growing interest in color photography, is being matched this year by mounting interest in flash light and speed light eqoipment.

And this seems most appropriate as Christmas approaches because, on the one hand, it is the most colorful season of the year, and on the other, modern flash and speed light equipment mean that all of the action filled joy of the Yule can be captured with never a pause for posing.

Just focus and fire away. Only a minimum of instruction is required for the beginner to learn how to handle the simple, almost fool-proof equipment.

Photo equipment makers, responding to the growing trend, are offering many new camera-flash combination sets for Christmas giving this year. Some come with a supply of bulbs and film as well, which means the happy recipient is equipped to make 'round the tree pictures indoors the moment the gift is unwrapped.

The electronic speed light, once for the professional only, is now available in lightweight but sufficiently powerful models for all amateur work, and priced that way too. It differs from the flash light in that bulbs are not necessary.

It has its own light and power pack to furnish hundreds of flashes without replenishment. What a gift for any photographer.

These days, a photographic gift for everyone is a sure fire gift. For who isn't an amateur photographer today. Choosing the right photographic gift for the person you have in mind is not difficult, and assistance is available from the experts in the stores.

For young beginners there are inexpensive box cameras also with flash attachment.

For the man or woman who owns a modest camera now, a better one will be a cherished gift.

For the man or woman who makes photography a major hobby, the camera world is full of accessories to help him and her improve their skills.

Diamonds Now A "Family Affair" For Xmas Gifting

Because a diamond is "forever," it is the universally accepted symbol of love. What gift, then, could more eloquently express your love for members of your family at Christmas than one of diamonds?

HOLIDAY CORSAGE for wear through the season, designated by Alyn Wayne, features needled pine holly and miniature cones with red berries and ribbon.

As a matter of fact, with each passing year, diamonds have become more and more of a "family affair" at Yuletide.

In some cases, the whole family group will combine their gift funds in one supreme and enduring gift of diamonds to make a particular Christmas forever memorable for dad, mom, sister or brother.

In other instances, advantage is taken of the fact that manufacturers are designing more jewelry with smaller diamonds at modest prices for every member of the family. Small diamonds if properly cut and polished have the same fire and brilliance as large ones and are equally as beautiful.

The current availability of diamonds in such a wide range of sizes and prices makes them an entirely feasible choice for individual gifts, even on limited budgets.

For mother, there are beautiful diamond earrings, cocktail rings, diamond watches, brooches, bracelets. Sister comes into her own with charms, lockets, pendants, all beautifully enriched with sparkling diamonds.

For dad and brother, you'll find handsome diamond rings, tie tacks, tie bars and cuff links with diamonds or diamond initials.

And let's not forget baby, for whom you can buy, so inexpensively, a lovely baby diamond ring.

Diamonds set in gold or silver are an everlasting token of your affection, regardless of their size. They can be reset into other jewelry over and over again, and they can be handed down from one generation to another.

MISSION BELLS with matched tones and keyboard bring creative music into the lives of little ones with this Kampanile set. It's a Toy Guidance Prestige selection.

Collection Of Dolls Is Geared To Instruct As Well As Delight

PLEASING LITTLE MOTHERS WITH BABY DOLLS for this Christmas will not be difficult at all since the selection is so wide and everyone so adorable. Witness the reactions here, to left, Terrie-Lee; center, Bannister Baby, and, right, Toodles, as tested on three little girls by The Toy Manufacturers of the U. S. A.

Santa's wonderful p a c k f u l of dolls is geared this Christmas to instruct as well as amaze.

America's designing genius has come up with new devices that equip the dolls of 1956 with muscular flexibility that's more like "real people" than ever.

The perfection of rooted synthetic hair has provided "crowning glory" for a wide price range of dolls in all sizes that is much more durable than human hair. Even miniature dolls walk—many have talent for feeding, weeping and even nose blowing.

But, over and above this impressive array of almost human precociousness, dolls of 1956 will score high as inspiration in acquiring good grooming habits, interest in good nutrition and enthusiasm for keeping apple pie order in the wardrobe department, according to Toy Guidance Council.

Among the 1956 educator approved prentige toys there's a strong trend to miniature dolls. Even 8 inchers now are quite as talented as their larger sisters and are endowed with fully accessorized wardrobes, as well as rooted hair that can be shampooed and waved over and over again.

Trend To Miniatures

Special kits provide tools for tooth and skin care as well as the latest coiffeur aids. Wardrobe closets have streamlined designs that encourage stowing away everything — slippers — hats—costume jewelry — belts and gowns. A new phenomenon in doll house furniture is scaled to the 8 inch doll.

Summa cum laude honors for future baby sitters are assured, by up-to-the-minute accessories for infant care that accompany infant dolls with instructions emphasizing the need for scrupulous cleanliness, careful burping and proper nutritional balance for formulas.

To help p a r e n t s encourage youngsters to go willingly to bed, there's a line of new sleepy time dolls with eyes that are tightly closed. Made of cuddlesome vinyl, these new dolls are dressed in blanket material that psychologically aids the cause of sleep.

Chefs An Ballerinas

Cherubic little chef dolls, inspired by the Campbell Kids, tie in with the vogue for fun with food toys. The Kewpie doll, a top favorite half a century ago, reappears this season with vinyl head and a body of crush resistant plush.

Top contender for flexible muscle honors is Nadia, the ballerina whose talents not only include bends and splits but also the ability to walk and turn her head in an almost human manner.

Newest addition to realism in the doll world is a series of dolls with candy colored hair inspired by the exotic tints modern science has made available to milady. Each doll is equipped with a package of lifesavers that match her shade of hair.

Fragrance now plays a starring role with Jaci, a sweetly scented all-vinyl, 11 inch doll, who also is equipped with a high style wardrobe.

Separate fingers and toes give extra fascination to Ruthie, a soft all-vinyl doll, voted an outstanding example of American toy production in 1956 by Toy Guidance Council. Ruthie has jointed arms and legs and a swivel head to assure almost human flexibility.

Humpty Dumpty, Too

A bigger than ever armful of joy is provided by a new gay version of egg-shaped Humpty-Dumpty stuffed with soft feather foam.

There's a nostalgic trend, too, to fashions of long ago. Inspired by the Mardi Gras belles of New Orleans, a new glamor doll has a lace and velvet ball gown propped by billowing starched crinolines.

BELL RINGER

Attractive way to decorate the door for Christmas is with a chain of bells, which can be hung above or beside the front entrance to chime whenever the door is opened.

NEW TREND IN LAND OF DOLLS brings the "eight inchers" with perfectly scaled furniture and fashion wardrobes, making way for development of families, recommended by Toy Guidance Council. Dolls shown here by Horsman; furniture by Strombeck-Becker.

3,400 Pages Filled By PUC Testimony

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Public Utility Commission today closed the books on 3,400 pages of testimony in the 36 million dollar rate increase case of the Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania.

At the 28th hearing over an 8-month period, lawyers for the utility and four protestants, including the cities of Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Scranton presented final arguments on the record in the case.

An order in the case is expected shortly before Dec. 14, expiration of the commission's suspension of the proposed rates.

The company seeks to raise monthly r e s i d e n t i a l rates in amounts ranging from 60 cents to $1.35 and b u s i n e s s rates in amounts ranging from $1.50 to $3.

The United States is largely fed by products from about 3.8 million farms which are home to some 15 million people, says the population Reference Bureau.

EISENHOWERS IN D. C. FOR HOLIDAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Tuesday cancelled his weekly news conference, set a and gave out word there may be some special kind of White House conference on Friday.

Announcing this, presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty was deliberately vague — and fended off questions — about the possible Friday meeting.

He did say that if held it would not involve the Cabinet or bringing in congressional leaders. But he was silent on the purpose and on whether it would deal with domestic or international problems.

Ordinarily, the presidential news c o n f e r e n c e is held on Wednesday and the Cabinet meets on Friday. In addition to holding a Cabinet session Hagerty said Eisenhower, today also will have a meeting wih Prime Minister Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia.

Eisenhower plans to spend the holiday weekend in Washington. He arranged for a round of golf this afternoon at Burning Tree Club in nearby Maryland.

On Thanksgiving Day, the President and Mrs. Eisenhower will attend 11 a.m. EST services at National Presbyterian Church.

WASHINGTON (AP)—So many offers to sponsor Hungarian refugees are pouring into the State Department all 5,000 persons to be admitted under the emergency program may already be assured of jobs.

State Department officials who reported this "e n o r m o u s response" said they are checking private welfare agencies cooperating in the project to determine definitely whether the program already has gone over the top.

WELCOME FOR REFUGEES AT CAMP KILMER

By ANDREW MEISELS

CAMP KILMER, N.J. (AP)—This sprawling Army camp is ready to extend a warm welcome on this eve of Thanksgiving to 62 Hungarian refugees from Soviet terror. Posted over its gates is a huge sign in Hungarian reading "God has brought you."

The refugees were expected to arrive at McGuire Air Force Base today aboard a four-engine DC4 chartered from the Flying Tiger Airlines by the Intergovernmental Committee for European Migration.

They are the first of 5,000 to come here for permanent resettlement under orders of President Eisenhower. Four other planeloads are expected Thanksgiving Day and Friday.

Should Admit 17,000

Rep. Francis Walter (D-Pa), co-author of the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act, said in an interview in Vienna yesterday that America should admit 17,000 Hungarians, not just 5,000.

"I don't know where that 5,000 figure came from," he said. "My information is that as many as 17,000 could legally be admitted as 'escapees' — and they should be."

In Austria, meanwhile, the flight of refugees across the border from Hungary continued at the rate of more than 3,500 a day — three or four times as fast as they can be resettled.

Many Offers

Thirteen nations have offered to resettle 27,500 and Canada has said it will take as many as want to come. But more than 40,000 Hungarians were already in Austria last night, most of them living in uncomfortable transit camps.

In Washington, the White House announced that the American people have responded to the relief needs of the refugees with more than five million dollars of food, blankets and medical and other supplies.

Most of these supplies already are in Austria with more on the way, a White House statement said.

40 Men, 22 Women

It said all such help will continue to be channeled to Hungary through the International Red Cross.

The refugee group flying here today consists of 40 men and 22 women comprising 28 families. Of these, 16 are under 12 years of age and four are over 54. There are no unaccompanied children in this first group.

Today's arrivals will be housed in three temporary barracks. They will stay in these buildings for 72 hours, by which time Army authorities expect many of them to have left the reception center. Those who remain past the three-day period will be transferred to semipermanent quarters elsewhere in the camp.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The head of the American Farm Bureau federation says farmers have learned that prosperity cannot be bought for American agriculture.

At the same time, Charles B. Shuman, Chicago, declared on Monday that the farmer also found that economic laws are not replaceable with political laws. He spoke at the 6th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Farmers' Assn.

The two-day meeting closes today with discussion of the group's legislative program for next year.

MAKE HER CHRISTMAS MERRY with many presents — for example, a big gift of a little fur and a little but mightily appreciated present of perfume or cosmetics. Christmas belle above is doubly delighted by pastel mink jacket and gift package of Renoir perfume.

TAX COLLECTION IS $75 BILLIONS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal tax collections totaled $75,113,000,000 for the year ended June 30, 1956, an increase of $8,824,000,000 or about 13 per cent, over the total for the preceding fiscal year.

Insurance, unemployment insurance and railroad retirement taxes, set a new record. The previous record was $69,935,000,000 collected in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1954.

This was reported today by Russell C. Harrington, commissioner of Internal Revenue. He attributed the increase largely to higher levels of personal income, corporate earnings and business activity.

The collections by regions, broken down by states, for the year ending June 30, 1956, with comparative figure for 1955 in brackets, include:

Philadelphia region, $10,351,843,000 ($9,338,354,000); New Jersey — $2,190,829,000 ($2,016,232,000); Pennsylvania — $5,463,877,000 ($4,657,505,000).

PINE GROVE TO ENTERTAIN 20 OVER HOLIDAY

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Residents of Pine Grove, Schuylkill County again will share the Thanksgiving holidays with students from other lands.

Twenty overseas students at the Pennsylvania State University will go this afternoon by bus to Pine Grove and return on Sunday afternoon. Their bus fare has been provided by the Noary Club of Pine Grove and the Woman's Club of Pine Grove has arranged for entertaining the visiting students.

The idea originated last year when 12 Penn State students spent the holidays in Pine Grove, an industrial community of 2,200 near Pottsville.

Mrs. Horace Hess, who is arranging the program this year, said that Thursday the students will have the traditional Thanksgiving dinner in the homes to which they have been invited for the weekend. A trip to the Hershey Chocolate Corp., Hershey, has been arranged for Friday while Friday night high school students in Pine Grove will entertain the visitors with a square dance, known as "a hoe down."

A community pot-luck supper is on the schedule for Saturday and the return trip will be made Sunday afternoon, after church services and Sunday dinner.

Austria recently began compulsory drafting of a new army, the draftees being obliged to serve a minimum of nine months.

Hosiery Gifts Save Legwork

Santa's helpers can save legwork by stepping up to the hosiery counter and selecting Christmas stockings for every feminine name on the gift list. Always needed, hosiery belongs in the "sure to please" category and also offers opportunity to choose gifts with a touch of frivolity and an air of luxury.

Such wardrobe standbys as daytime and evening sheers in seamed, seamless or sandalfoot styles, would be welcomed.

Aside from these basics, there are country and casual stockings, colorful knee highs and party nylons that can make the hosiery gift seem a very special one though the expenditure is moderate.

Matching the present to the wishes and personality of the giftee is easy, too. For instance, a first pair of hose is a gift to make the growing-up girl squeal with delight and several pair are even better!

For the college or career girl there are iridescent nylons in shimmering two-tone effects to wear on party nights. Bright-hued cotton, facquard stockings please the sports-minded miss or Mrs.

And a good way to tell a busy young wife and mother that she's still a glamour girl is to give her knee-high nylons for lounge wear in festive hues of red, blue or green.

Stocking stuffer for the gal in business can be an extra pair of hose. She always needs them.

LESSONS IN GIFTS

A sturdy watch cannot only become a youngster's proudest possession, but can provide a day-long, year-round lesson in punctuality, as well as respect for personal property.

GIFTS THAT GROW

For a young girl, consider the gift of a pendant with a single or extra pearl with a view to adding others with each succeeding Christmas, birthday or other gifting occasion.

WELCOME FOR REFUGEES AT CAMP KILMER

By ANDREW MEISELS

CAMP KILMER, N.J. (AP)—This sprawling Army camp is ready to extend a warm welcome on this eve of Thanksgiving to 62 Hungarian refugees from Soviet terror. Posted over its gates is a huge sign in Hungarian reading "God has brought you."

The refugees were expected to arrive at McGuire Air Force Base today aboard a four-engine DC4 chartered from the Flying Tiger Airlines by the Intergovernmental Committee for European Migration.

They are the first of 5,000 to come here for permanent resettlement under orders of President Eisenhower. Four other planeloads are expected Thanksgiving Day and Friday.

Should Admit 17,000

Rep. Francis Walter (D-Pa), co-author of the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act, said in an interview in Vienna yesterday that America should admit 17,000 Hungarians, not just 5,000.

"I don't know where that 5,000 figure came from," he said. "My information is that as many as 17,000 could legally be admitted as 'escapees' — and they should be."

In Austria, meanwhile, the flight of refugees across the border from Hungary continued at the rate of more than 3,500 a day — three or four times as fast as they can be resettled.

Many Offers

Thirteen nations have offered to resettle 27,500 and Canada has said it will take as many as want to come. But more than 40,000 Hungarians were already in Austria last night, most of them living in uncomfortable transit camps.

In Washington, the White House announced that the American people have responded to the relief needs of the refugees with more than five million dollars of food, blankets and medical and other supplies.

Most of these supplies already are in Austria with more on the way, a White House statement said.

40 Men, 22 Women

It said all such help will continue to be channeled to Hungary through the International Red Cross.

The refugee group flying here today consists of 40 men and 22 women comprising 28 families. Of these, 16 are under 12 years of age and four are over 54. There are no unaccompanied children in this first group.

Today's arrivals will be housed in three temporary barracks. They will stay in these buildings for 72 hours, by which time Army authorities expect many of them to have left the reception center. Those who remain past the three-day period will be transferred to semipermanent quarters elsewhere in the camp.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The head of the American Farm Bureau federation says farmers have learned that prosperity cannot be bought for American agriculture.

At the same time, Charles B. Shuman, Chicago, declared on Monday that the farmer also found that economic laws are not replaceable with political laws. He spoke at the 6th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Farmers' Assn.

The two-day meeting closes today with discussion of the group's legislative program for next year.

MAKE HER CHRISTMAS MERRY with many presents — for example, a big gift of a little fur and a little but mightily appreciated present of perfume or cosmetics. Christmas belle above is doubly delighted by pastel mink jacket and gift package of Renoir perfume.

TAX COLLECTION IS $75 BILLIONS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal tax collections totaled $75,113,000,000 for the year ended June 30, 1956, an increase of $8,824,000,000 or about 13 per cent, over the total for the preceding fiscal year.

surance, unemployment insurance and railroad retirement taxes, set a new record. The previous record was $69,935,000,000 collected in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1954.

This was reported today by Russell C. Harrington, commissioner of Internal Revenue. He attributed the increase largely to higher levels of personal income, corporate earnings and business activity.

The collections by regions, broken down by states, for the year ending June 30, 1956, with comparative figure for 1955 in brackets, include:

Philadelphia region, $10,351,843,000 ($9,338,354,000), New Jersey — $2,190,829,000 ($2,016,232,000); Pennsylvania — $5,463,877,000 ($4,657,505,000).

PINE GROVE TO ENTERTAIN 20 OVER HOLIDAY

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Residents of Pine Grove, Schuylkill County again will share the Thanksgiving holidays with students from other lands.

Twenty overseas students at the Pennsylvania State University will go this afternoon by bus to Pine Grove and return on Sunday afternoon. Their bus fare has been provided by the Noary Club of Pine Grove and the Woman's Club of Pine Grove has arranged for entertaining the visiting students.

The idea originated last year when 12 Penn State students spent the holidays in Pine Grove, an industrial community of 2,200 near Pottsville.

Mrs. Horace Hess, who is arranging the program this year, said that Thursday the students will have the traditional Thanksgiving dinner in the homes to which they have been invited for the weekend. A trip to the Hershey Chocolate Corp., Hershey, has been arranged for Friday while Friday night high school students in Pine Grove will entertain the visitors with a square dance, known as "a hoe down."

A community pot-luck supper is on the schedule for Saturday and the return trip will be made Sunday afternoon, after church services and Sunday dinner.

Austria recently began compulsory drafting of a new army, the draftees being obliged to serve a minimum of nine months.

Hosiery Gifts Save Legwork

Santa's helpers can save legwork by stepping up to the hosiery counter and selecting Christmas stockings for every feminine name on the gift list. Always needed, hosiery belongs in the "sure to please" category and also offers opportunity to choose gifts with a touch of frivolity and an air of luxury.

Such wardrobe standbys as daytime and evening sheers, in seamed, seamless or sandalfoot styles, would be welcomed.

Aside from these basics, there are country and casual stockings, colorful knee-highs and party nylons that can make the hosiery gift seem a very special one, though the expenditure is moderate.

Matching the present to the wishes and personality of the giftee is easy, too. For instance, a first pair of hose is a gift to make the growing-up girl squeal with delight, and several pairs are even better!

For the college or career girl, there are iridescent nylons in shimmering two-tone effects to wear on party nights. Bright-hued cotton jacquard stockings please the sports-minded miss or Mrs.

And a good way to tell a busy young wife and mother that she's still a glamour girl is to give her knee-high nylons for lounge wear in festive hues of red, blue or green.

Stocking stuffer for the gal in business can be an extra pair of hose. She always needs them.

LESSONS IN GIFTS

A sturdy watch cannot only become a youngster's proudest possession, but can provide a day-long, year-round lesson in punctuality, as well as respect for personal property.

GIFTS THAT GROW

For a young girl, consider the gift of a pendant with a single oriental pearl, with a view to adding others with each succeeding Christmas, birthday or other gifting occasion.

Collection Of Dolls Is Geared To Instruct As Well As Delight

PLEASING LITTLE MOTHERS WITH BABY DOLLS for this Christmas will not be difficult at all since the selection is so wide and everyone so adorable. Witness the reactions here, to left, Terrie-Lee; center, Bannister Baby, and, right, Toodles, as tested on three little girls by The Toy Manufacturers of the U. S. A.

Santa's wonderful packful of dolls is geared this Christmas to instruct as well as amaze.

America's designing genius has come up with new devices that equip the dolls of 1956 with muscular flexibility that's more like "real people" than ever.

The perfection of rooted synthetic hair has provided "crowning glory" for a wide price range of dolls in all sizes that is much more durable than human hair. Even miniature dolls walk—many have talent for feeding, weeping and even nose blowing.

But, over and above this impressive array of almost human precociousness, dolls of 1956 will score high as inspiration in acquiring good grooming habits, interest in good nutrition and enthusiasm for keeping apple pie order in the wardrobe department, according to Toy Guidance Council.

Among the 1956 educator approved prestige toys there's a strong trend to miniature dolls. Even 8 inchers now are quite as talented as their larger sisters and are endowed with fully accessorized wardrobes, as well as rooted hair that can be shampooed and waved over and over again.

Trend To Miniatures

Special kits provide tools for tooth and skin care as well as the latest coiffeur aids. Wardrobe closets have streamlined designs that encourage stowing away everything — slippers — hats—costume jewelry — belts and gowns. A new phenomenon in doll house furniture is scaled to the 8 inch doll.

Summa cum laude honors for future baby sitters are assured, by up-to-the-minute accessories for infant care that accompany infant dolls with instructions emphasizing the need for scrupulous cleanliness, careful burping and proper nutritional balance for formulas.

To help parents encourage youngsters to go willingly to bed, there's a line of new sleepy time dolls with eyes that are tightly closed. Made of cuddlesome vinyl, these new dolls are dressed in blanket material that psychologically aids the cause of sleep.

Chefs An Ballerinas

Cherubic little chef dolls, inspired by the Campbell Kids, tie in with the vogue for fun with food toys. The Kewpie doll, a top favorite half a century ago, reappears this season with vinyl head and a body of crush resistant plush.

Top contender for flexible muscle honors is Nadia, the ballerina whose talents not only include bends and splits but also the ability to walk and turn her head in an almost human manner.

Newest addition to realism in the doll world is a series of dolls with candy colored hair inspired by the exotic tints modern science has made available to milady. Each doll is equipped with a package of lifesavers that match her shade of hair.

Fragrance now plays a starring role with Jaci, a sweetly scented all-vinyl, 11 inch doll, who also is equipped with a high style wardrobe.

NEW TREND IN LAND OF DOLLS brings the "eight inchers" with perfectly scaled furniture and fashion wardrobes, making way for development of families, recommended by Toy Guidance Council. Dolls shown here by Horsman; furniture by Strombeck-Becker.

Separate fingers and toes give extra fascination to Ruthie, a soft all-vinyl doll, voted an outstanding example of American toy production in 1956 by Toy Guidance Council. Ruthie has jointed arms and legs and a swivel head to assure almost human flexibility.

Humpty Dumpty, Too

A bigger than ever armful of joy is provided by a new gay version of egg-shaped Humpty-Dumpty stuffed with soft feather foam.

There's a nostalgic trend, too, to fashions of long ago. Inspired by the Mardi Gras belles of New Orleans, a new glamor doll has a lace and velvet ball gown propped by billowing starched crinolines.

BELL RINGER

Attractive way to decorate the door for Christmas is with a chain of bells, which can be hung above or beside the front entrance to chime whenever the door is opened.

3,400 Pages Filled By PUC Testimony

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Public Utility Commission today closed the books on 3,400 pages of testimony in the 36 million dollar rate increase case of the Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania.

At the 28th hearing over an 8-month period, lawyers for the utility and four protestants, including the cities of Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Scranton presented final arguments on the record in the case.

An order in the case is expected shortly before Dec. 14, expiration of the commission's suspension of the proposed rates.

The company seeks to raise monthly residential rates in amounts ranging from 60 cents to $1.35 and business rates in amounts ranging from $1.50 to $3.

The United States is largely fed by products from about 3.8 million farms which are home to some 15 million people, says the population Reference Bureau.

EISENHOWERS IN D. C. FOR HOLIDAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Tuesday cancelled his weekly news conference, set a and gave out word there may be some special kind of White House conference on Friday.

Announcing this, presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty was deliberately vague — and fended off questions — about the possible Friday meeting.

He did say that if held it would not involve the Cabinet or bringing in congressional leaders. But he was silent on the purpose and on whether it would deal with domestic or international problems.

Ordinarily, the presidential news conference is held on Wednesday and the Cabinet meets on Friday. In addition to holding a Cabinet session Hagerty said Eisenhower, today also will have a meeting wih Prime Minister Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia.

Eisenhower plans to spend the holiday weekend in Washington. He arranged for a round of golf this afternoon at Burning Tree Club in nearby Maryland.

On Thanksgiving Day, the President and Mrs. Eisenhower will attend 11 a.m. EST services at National Presbyterian Church.

WASHINGTON (AP)—So many offers to sponsor Hungarian refugees are pouring into the State Department all 5,000 persons to be admitted under the emergency program may already be assured of jobs.

State Department officials who reported this "enormous response" said they are checking private welfare agencies cooperating in the project to determine definitely whether the program already has gone over the top.

Santa's On Way To Deliver Yule Bliss For The Newlyweds

The range of Christmas gifts for a newly married young couple is practically limitless, especially if they are furnishing their new home gradually, as so many are.

A really impressive gift, such as furniture or a rug, needn't put a big dent in your budget if you buy it on a "pool" basis with several other friends or relatives of the young couple.

New furnishings appropriate to every taste and need are widely available, and you can choose from a variety of designs—American and European Provincials, modern pieces, new interpretations of traditional styles and versatile transitional furniture.

First, of course, you'll want to find out how the newlyweds are furnishing their home. Is the decorating scheme modern, traditional or contemporary? It shouldn't be too difficult to discover their preferences.

Furniture that does double duty is always a wise choice, and much is available. Convertible sofas and expandable tables will be appreciated by young-marrieds cramped for living space, while such pieces as a dining room sideboard that looks equally at home as a bedroom dresser come in handy if they decide to move or redecorate in the future.

If the bride is in doubt about her decorating scheme, a tweed carpet is a safe buy, and today the choice of tweeds is bigger and better than ever! She'll like the practicality of tweed and the way its multicolor effect makes decoration easy.

Draperies for their new home are available in a wide choice of original, fresh designs. Lace curtains, in lovely new styles, are sure to make a hit because they combine beauty with a light, airy effect.

Accessories, ranging from bookends to throw-pillows, are bound to be welcomed. One of the newly elegant lamp designs, sparkling with gold, silver or crystal, would make an especially festive, yet practical, gift.

Another sure way to delight the bride is with gifts of electrical appliances to lighten her chores. And she's certain to love personalized gifts, such as stationery, towels, even ashtrays, that show off her new monogram.

A bit of thought will call to mind countless "little" gifts bound to go over big with newlyweds—everything from cookbooks and carafes to bedspreads and bathmats. And you may be confident that almost anything you give will be a present with a future!

THE WHOLE FAMILY gets into the diamond picture at Christmas via stunning gifts like these: For sister, a charm (that doubles as a pendant) embellished with diamond studded fish; for dad, cuff links, each with a curved bar of diamonds; for mom, lovely earrings with four round and two tapered baguette diamonds; for brother, a diamond tie bar; and as an alternate suggestion for dad, a diamond ring in smart masculine styling. Baumgold Brothers, Inc.

Furs For Her Are Surest Way To Holiday Happiness

A gift of fur is one of the most thrilling and enduring gifts that you can give for Christmas, and this year the selection is bigger and better than ever, with furs, styles and shades to suit every taste, every purse.

Any woman who loves luxury would love one of the newly elegant formal furs. They range from beaver to chinchilla, for opulent theater and opera coats, evening jackets and wraps. These look doubly exciting when two lovely furs are combined in one stunning fashion, such as Persian lamb trimmed with mink.

However, fur luxury may also be had on a more limited budget. For that favorite college or career girl on your list, there is a wide range of casual fur fashions to choose from.

These combine beauty and practicality in many moderately priced furs, including such revived old favorites as calf, pony, Canadian hair seal and river otter.

While the full length coat is still the top favorite, you're bound to make a big hit with any one of the new styles. They're beautifully designed to please the most fashion-conscious lady in your life, with such couturier touches as Empire styling, panels, pleats, belts, larger pockets and collars, more buttons, bloused backs.

Capes have made a big comeback in three-quarter to full lengths, and evening wraps look especially new in a "barrel" silhouette reminiscent of the currently popular 1912 look—narrow at the top and bottom with curved side fullness. Many versatile jackets are designed so that they may be worn wrapped close for warmth or thrown casually back over her shoulders.

If she still has her heart set on a mink coat, you can thrill her with this year's most popular version — narrower looking, but gracefully fluid, with inverted side pleats or vents for ease over all skirt widths.

Colors now range from palest white to warm golds and apricots to darkest blacks. The choice is up to you — and it's almost impossible not to pick a winner!

TO MEASURE DISTANCE

A pedometer that hooks on the belt is a novel gift idea for the hunter, hiker, golfer or just any man who'd like to know how far he has walked in the course of a day or a trip.

State Wants To Eliminate 67 County School Heads; Set Up 37 "Regional Areas"

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Public Instruction Department has a far-reaching reorganization proposal for the administrative structure of the state's school system which it hopes will make its way to the coming General Assembly for consideration.

The propoosal, announced on Monday would replace the current 67 county administrative units headed by county superintendents with a minimum of 37 "regional school service areas."

The proposed units would cross county lines under the directorship of regional school service area boards and regional service area superintendents.

The 1955 Legislature directed that the new plan be drafted after several school reorganization plans were offered but none was accepted.

SCE Meets Nov. 28

Dr. Clarence E. Ackley, deputy superintendent of public instruction, directed formulation of the proposal.

First step in possible final adoption of the proposal will be taken Nov. 28 when it will be considered by the State Council of Education.

If approved, it then will be submitted to the Joint State Government Commission and the governor.

After that it would be sent to the General Assembly in the form of a bill.

Gov. Leader has repeatedly contended some form of school reorganization was "long overdue" in Pennsylvania.

A feature contained in a rough draft of the new proposal would establish a minimum salary of either $11,000 or $12,500 for regional superintendents compared with between $8,000 and $10,000 now being paid county superintendents.

To Aid Expansion

The department said the new plan is designed to aid the expansion and development of educational services in the state by:

1. Facilitating cooperation between local administrative units and the state.

2. Implementing local control and responsibility.

Dr. Ackley said under the present system, more than 600 of the 1,390 local administrative units in the state operate only at elementary school level.

The changes contained in the new plan, he said, would provide assistance to the weaker units without affecting the structure of the stronger units.

Cite Requirements

He described the plan as one "based on hard facts as well as the opinion of educated leaders."

Any county, part of a county or groups of counties would have to meet at least three of five requirements set up by the system before they could establish a regional area.

The requirements are: A minimum population of 75,000; minimum market value of taxable property not less than 150 million dollars; maximum area of 1,000 square miles; 15,000-pupil minimum enrollment; and a minimum of 500 professional employes.

The state council would designate the boundries of each regional service area.

Include All Districts

Such areas would include all school districts now under supervision of a county superintendent; all union and merged districts, all third and fourth class district employing district superintendent; all districts under a county superintendent on the first Monday of July 1955, any district employing a superintendent which elects to become part of the system, all districts of other counties that have joined with one or more districts of the county, and all districts of other counties that do not operate any school within its boundaries and whose students have been assigned a school in a district of the county forming the regional area.

Effective In 1958

One section of the proposed law states that it will be the duty of each county superintendent and members of his staff "to disseminate accurate and unbiased information on the proposal."

If it becomes law as proposed the plan would be effective May, 1958.

Counties already meeting three of the necessary requirements for formation of a regional service area are: Allegheny, Armstrong, Beaver, Berks, Bucks, Butler, Cambria, Chester, Clearfield, Crawford, Cumberland, Dauphin, Delaware, Erie, Fayette, Franklin, Indiana, Lackawanna, Lancaster, Lehigh, Luzerne, Mercer, Montgomery, Northampton, Northumberland, Schuylkill, Somerset, Washington, Westmoreland and York.

Man Is Killed When His Car Hits Train

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — A Wilkes-Barre Township motorist was killed Tuesday when his automobile ran into the side of a moving freight train near his home.

The victim, Michael Yapsuga, 58, was pronounced dead in Mercy Hospital.

Township police Chief Michael Skuba said Yapsuga was en route home from his duties as a theater night watchman when his car struck the side of an Erie Railroad freight train going from Avoca to Ashley. A. C. Lybolt, Scranton, was engineer, and J. A. Doorer of Avoca was conductor on the train.

Skuba said Yapsuga's car struck a car of the train, and he was crushed between his own machine and the freight car.

Shoes Join Slippers Among The Choice Christmas Gifts

There will be footprints in the snow under many a Christmas tree as shoes and slippers bound to the top of the gift list. There are hundreds of styles for men and women that have the sure comfort of a leather sole as well as uppers to bring warmth to cold feet and keep feet cool in steam-heated rooms.

With American men spending more of their leisure time out of doors almost any one of them can use one more pair of casuals. Popular types are the moccasin toe in one and two eyelet versions, and the slip-ons in plain and moccasin toe treatments. The latter often have elasticized gored sides, and come in shag and grained as well as smooth leather.

Oriental Influence

Another style is the low-cut turf-boot, which is a one-or-two-eyelet adaptation of the Jodphur. The desert-type chukka with leather sole is a sign of the season and comes with such style points as kiltie fringes stitched to the lower part of the tongue and leash-type fasteners.

Others, showing the oriental influence, have a straight-across plain moc toe and side straps running through the counter at the back.

And for indoor wear you can choose among four types of slippers—of which every man should have at least two. These are pullman slippers for travel, a pair with thin flexible sole leather on the bottom, self-soled ones in buckskin or glove leather, and a pair of shearling lined ones.

Every woman loves to indulge in all-out elegance in her at-home or hostess costumes, and the styles in stiletto-heeled mules give free rein to her wildest wishes. Some are beautifully embossed in gold or silver. Others in glove-soft leather to match her hostess pajamas and are printed in multi-colored floral or abstract designs.

Harlequin Slipper

One new style carries out the Empire theme in a high riding, swather vamp above an open toe with gold insets at top and bottom. In another open-heeled model, the entire vamp is formed of diamond appliques of alternating gold and silver.

A harlequin slipper in gay colored leather is curled back at the four corners and each corner fastened down with bells.

For mornings and other occasions, however, she'll want lower heeled, more practical leather slippers. It's important to select ones that have leather soles and give good support to the feet. Be sure that the insoles are firmly attached so she can slip into them in her bare feet.

She may want one pair that are low-cut of light-weight glove leather for hot weather and a pair that are cut higher and are of heavier leather for colder days—perhaps she, too, would like a pair that are shearling lined. And she could use a pair of pullman slippers in a case for traveling.

Many Bright Versions

The lounger that serves for around-the-house, patio entertaining and a trip to the grocery or the neighborhood movie comes in many eye-catching versions. One is a black calf moc with a turned-up toe and a rounded insert of white calf forming the vamp. Others are in reversed calf, or two-way suede leather with smooth leather trim.

All casuals come in longer, slimmer lasts and flats with ½-inch heels this year. For even here the dressier look of the season prevails.

FOR GRANDMOTHER

To gratify grandmother, stay away from "grandmotherly" gifts. Giver her glamour, in the form of a velvet stole, a bottle of perfume or a pair of pretty as well as comfortable slippers.

SAYING THANKS

Kitchen glorifiers that make good hostess gifts are corkscrews and bottle openers in a variety of unique designs.

Stocking stuffer for the picture maker can be a "sleeve" of flashlight bulbs.

MARCHING TO THE TOP FOR YULE GIFTING, along with slippers for bedroom wear, are the wonderful new lounger type shoes for him, and glamourous leisure time footwear for her, such as the above. For him: left to right, a pull-on chukka boot in glove leather which makes it suitable for outdoor or indoor use, by Evans; another double-duty shoe, a slip-on in polished black leather and something new for the male . . . an open-toed scuff in dark red leather, both by Daniel Green. For her: an open-toed slip-on with the style of a dress shoe and the comfort of a slipper, in dark red, and a sling-back in very soft pastel leather, both by Daniel Green; and for dress-up-occasions . . . indoors or outdoors, a gleaming gold kid mule with gold leather lacing, by I. Miller.

BRUSH BLAZE IS SPREADING

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — Treacherous winds pushed a spreading brush fire through the foothills of the San Bernardino flames dangerously close to citrus groves and ranch houses.

Five homes scattered through the brush have been reported destroyed by the fire in its erratic course over 4,000 acres of hilly terrain. Four fire fighters have been burned, one critically.

On one of its flanks, the fire is only half a mile from the black scar left in the mountains by the devastating Lake Arrowhead fire of last September.

The fire started yesterday near the community of Highland and was turned almost instantly into a rampaging blaze by the fierce winds that scoured southern California all day. A gust of 100 m.p.h. was clocked on a mountain top, and winds up to 65 m.p.h. kicked up blinding sand and dust storms along desert roads.

No communities are believed to be endangered by the flames, but extensive damage has been reported from heat and smoke in the lush orange groves terraced along the lower edge of the foothills.

Your Man's Hobby Presents Clues To Successful Gifting

Easiest of all men to gift is the hobbyist. All you have to do is to gear your gift to his favorite "off hours" interest, and you're almost certain to be right on the target of his heart's desire.

If he collects things, he'll welcome new specimens in whatever realm he specializes, from stamps to tropical fish and from old coins to phonograph records.

If he's keen on gardening, he'll turn a glad eye on anything that will make this activity more pleasurable or beautiful. Suitable gifts range from such basic tools as pruning shears and spades to a wide array of new power equipment such as lawn mowers, hedge trimmers and cultivators.

Perhaps he's following the avocation of a "week-end painter." Then, easels, palettes, portable painting kits, brushes and tubes of oil colors are just a few of many appropriate gift possibilities.

If he likes to sculpt or work in metal or leather, you can please him with tools or materials for any of these crafts.

Model making is another popular interest, and there are complete kits for making everything from replicas of ancient automobiles and windjammers to jet plans and submarines.

Santa's On Way To Deliver Yule Bliss For The Newlyweds

The range of Christmas gifts for a newly married young couple is practically limitless, especially if they are furnishing their new home gradually, as so many are

A really impressive gift, such as furniture or a rug, needn't put a big dent in your budget if you buy it on a "pool" basis with several other friends or relatives of the young couple.

New furnishings appropriate to every taste and need are widely available, and you can choose from a variety of designs—American and European Provincials, modern pieces, new interpretations of traditional styles and versatile transitional furniture

First, of course, you'll want to find out how the newlyweds are furnishing their home Is the decorating scheme modern, traditional or contemporary? It shouldn t be too difficult to discover their preferences

Furniture that does double duty is always a wise choice, and much is available Convertible sofas and expandable tables will be appreciated by young-marrieds cramped for living space, while such pieces as a dining room sideboard that looks equally at home as a bedroom dresser come in handy if they decide to move or redecorate in the future.

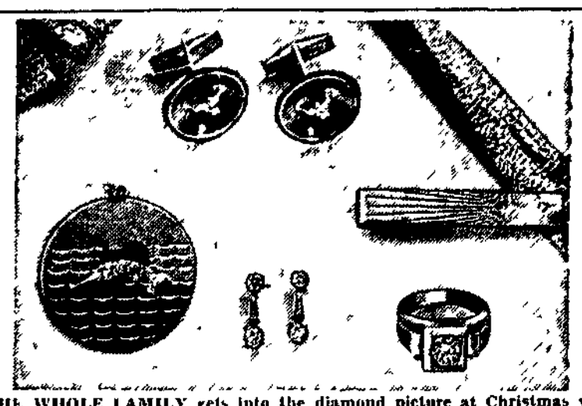

If the bride is in doubt about her decorating scheme, a tweed carpet is a safe buy, and today the choice of tweeds is bigger and better than ever! She'll like the practicality of tweed and the way its multicolor effect makes decoration easy.

Draperies for their new home are available in a wide choice of original, fresh designs Lace curtains in lovely new styles, are sure to make a hit because they combine beauty with a light, airy effect

Accessories, ranging from bookends to throw-pillows, are bound to be welcomed One of the newly elegant lamp designs, sparkling with gold, silver or crystal would make an especially festive yet practical, gift.

Another sure way to delight the bride is with gifts of electrical appliances to lighten her chores And she's certain to love personalized gifts, such as stationery, towels, even ashtrays, that show off her new monogram

A bit of thought will call to mind countless "little" gifts bound to go over big with newlyweds—everything from cookbooks and carafes to bedspreads and bathmats And you may be confident that almost anything you give will be a present with a future!

THE WHOLE FAMILY gets into the diamond picture at Christmas via stunning gifts like these: For sister, a charm (that doubles as a pendant) embellished with diamond studded fish; for dad, cuff links, each with a curved bar of diamonds, for mom, lovely earrings with four round and two tapered baguette diamonds; for brother, a diamond tie bar; and as an alternate suggestion for dad, a diamond ring in smart masculine styling. Baumgold Brothers, Inc

A gift of fur is one of the most thrilling and enduring gifts that you can give for Christmas, and this year the selection is bigger and better than ever, with furs, styles and shades to suit every taste every purse

Any woman who loves luxury would love one of the newly elegant formal furs They range from beaver to chinchilla, for opulent theater and opera coats, evening jackets and wraps These look doubly exciting when two lovely furs are combined in one stunning fashion, such as Persian lamb trimmed with mink

However fur luxury may also be had on a more limited budget For that favorite college or career girl on your list, there is a wide range of casual fur fashions to choose from

These combine beauty and practicality in many moderately priced furs, including such revived old favorites as calf, pony, Canadian hair seal and river otter

While the full length coat is still the top favorite, you're bound to make a big hit with any one of the new styles They're beautifully designed to please the most fashion-conscious lady in your life, with such couturier touches as Empire styling, panels, pleats belts, larger pockets and collars, more buttons, bloused backs

Capes have made a big comeback in three-quarter to full lengths, and evening wraps look especially new in a 'barrel' silhouette reminiscent of the currently popular 1912 look—narrow at the top and bottom with curved side fullness Many versatile jackets are designed so that they may be worn wrapped close for warmth or thrown casually back over her shoulders

If she still has her heart set on a mink coat, you can thrill her with this year's most popular version — narrower looking, but gracefully fluid, with inverted side pleats or vents for ease over all skirt widths

Colors now range from palest white to warm golds and apricots to darkest blacks The choice is up to you — and it's almost impossible not to pick a winner!

TO MEASURE DISTANCE

A pedometer that hooks on the belt is a novel gift idea for the hunter, hiker, golfer or just any man who'd like to know how far he has walked in the course of a day or a trip.

State Wants To Eliminate 67 County School Heads; Set Up 37 "Regional Areas"

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Public Instruction Department has a far-reaching reorganization proposal for the administrative structure of the state's school system which it hopes will make its way to the coming General Assembly for consideration.

The propoosal, announced on Monday would replace the current 67 county administrative units headed by county superintendents with a minimum of 37 "regional school service areas"

The proposed units would cross county lines under the directorship of regional school service area boards and regional service area superintendents

The 1955 Legislature directed that the new plan be drafted after several school reorganization plans were offered but none was accepted

SCE Meets Nov. 28

Dr Clarence E. Ackley, deputy superintendent of public instruction directed formulation of the proposal

First step in possible final adoption of the proposal will be taken Nov 28 when it will be considered by the State Council of Education

If approved, it then will be submitted to the Joint State Government Commission and the governor

After that it would be sent to the General Assembly in the form of a bill

Gov Leader has repeatedly contended some form of school reorganization was "long overdue" in Pennsylvania

A feature contained in a rough draft of the new proposal would establish a minimum salary of either $11 000 or $12 500 for regional superintendents compared with between $8,000 and $10,000 now being paid county superintendents

To Aid Expansion

The department said the new plan is designed to aid the expansion and development of educational services in the state by.

1 Facilitating cooperation between local administrative units and the state

2 Implementing local control and responsibility

Dr Ackley said under the present system, more than 600 of the 1,390 local administrative units in the state operate only at elementary school level

The changes contained in the new plan, he said, would provide assistance to the weaker units without affecting the structure of the stronger units.

Cite Requirements

He described the plan as one "based on hard facts as well as the opinion of educated leaders"

Any county, part of a county or groups of counties would have to meet at least three of five requirements set up by the system before they could establish a regional area

The requirements are: A minimum population of 75,000, minimum market value of taxable property not less than 150 million dollars, maximum area of 1,000 square miles, 15,000-pupil minimum enrollment, and a minimum of 500 professional employes

The state council would designate the boundries of each regional service area

Include All Districts

Such areas would include all school districts now under supervision of a county superintendent, all union and merged districts, all third and fourth class district employing district superintendent; all districts under a county superintendent on the first Monday of July 1955, any district employing a superintendent which elects to become part of the system, all districts of other counties that have joined with one or more districts of the county, and all districts of other counties that do not operate any school within its boundaries and whose students have been assigned a school in a district of the county forming the regional area

Effective In 1958

One section of the proposed law states that it will be the duty of each county superintendent and members of his staff "to disseminate accurate and unbiased information on the proposal"

If it becomes law as proposed the plan would be effective May, 1958

Counties already meeting three of the necessary requirements for formation of a regional service area are Allegheny, Armstrong, Beaver, Berks, Bucks, Butler, Cambria, Chester, Clearfield, Crawford, Cumberland Dauphin, Delaware, Erie Fayette, Franklin, Indiana, Lackawanna, Lancaster Lehigh, Luzerne Mercer, Montgomery, Northampton, Northumberland, Schuylkill, Somerset, Washington, Westmoreland and York.

Man Is Killed When His Car Hits Train

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — A Wilkes-Barre Township motorist was killed Tuesday when his automobile ran into the side of a moving freight train near his home.

The victim Michael Yapsuga, 58, was pronounced dead in Mercy Hospital

Township police Chief Michael Skuba said Yapsuga was en route home from his duties as a theater night watchman when his car struck the side of an Erie Railroad freight train going from Avoca to Ashley A C. Lybolt, Scranton, was engineer, and J A. Doorer of Avoca was conductor on the train

Skuba said Yapsuga's car struck a car of the train, and he was crushed between his own machine and the freight car

SLAYER DIES IN PHILA. HOSPITAL

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The confessed slayer of a Philadelphia real estate man died last night in Philadelphia General Hospital.

He was Edward H. Maddox, 21, who was arrested last Thursday as he hid in an unused section of a factory building, where he had cut his wrists and taken poison in a suicide attempt.

Maddox, a Negro, was charged with the holdup slaying of Joseph Langman, 75, on Nov. 8. Police began searching for Maddox last week after his parents notified authorities he had confessed the slaying to them.

Maddox had appeared to be recovering. A bedside hearing scheduled yesterday for Maddox and Eddie Coger Jr., 23, was called off, however. Coger was held without bail on charges of conspiracy and being an accessory. Police said Maddox told them he and Coger planned the robbery but that he, Maddox, committed the crime alone. Coger is accused of owning the gun which killed Langman.

The hospital said an autopsy would be performed on Maddox.

Hammarskjold Reported To Favor Egypt In Canal Fuss

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Egypt was reported Tuesday to have the general support of U.N. Secretary Dag Hammarskjold in its demand that the U.N. police force leave the Suez Canal zone after a British-French withdrawal.

With Britain, France and Israel standing firm in their opposition, U.N. diplomats were said to be seriously concerned over the delay in finding a formula to resolve the deadlock.

Makes Report

Hammarskjold's view of the function of the police force, based on his interpretation of resolutions adopted by the General Assembly, was reported to include possible security duty during the clearing of the blocked waterway. A U.N. spokesman said such "security arrangements" would be subject to negotiation.

The secretary general, who returned on Monday from a trouble-shooting trip to Egypt, submitted two reports to the Assembly Tuesday. A U.N. spokesman said one centered on the operation to clear the canal, in which Hammarskjold agreed the U.N. would help, and the other on the U. N. police force.

47 Ships Block Canal

Egypt has demanded that Britain, France and Israel immediately withdraw their troops from Egyptian territory seized in their offensive. Britain and France have insisted they will pull their forces out of the northern third of the canal zone only if the positions are taken over by U.N. police troops. Israel has indicated it will try to hang on to the Gaza Strip and so far has not moved to withdraw from Egypt's Sinal Peninsula.

The U.N. spokesman said clearance of the canal, blocked by the wreckage of two bridges and 47 sunken ships, would be undertaken as authorized by the U.N., with the organization arranging with "a number of firms" to do the work. He added, "The negotiations for the undertaking might also have to cover security arrangements."

"The U.N. emergency force will carry out the functions assigned to it by the General Assembly for the supervision of the cease-fire and the withdrawal of the British-French and Israeli forces," the spokesman continued.

"In so doing," he said, "the U.N. emergency force will contribute to the re-establishment of conditions in which the clearance of the canal can be carried through successfully. No one can at present forecast exactly how long the operation will take."

Earlier estimates have said the clearance job may take six months.

Meets Briton, Frenchman

Hammarskjold's first conferences after his return here included sessions with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau. Both were understood to have insisted that their governments will not withdraw their troops from Egypt unless the U.N. force polices the canal area.

Egypt in turn stood firm on its demand — backed by the Soviet Union — that the U.N. troops must take up positions along the 1949 Egyptian - Israeli armistice line after a speedy withdrawal of British, French and Israeli forces.

Dispatches from Cairo said Egypt was becoming increasingly restive over the delay in the demanded withdrawal. Wing Cmdr. Ali Sabry, chief political adviser to Egyptian President Nasser, told a reporter Egypt expects the withdrawal to begin this week if possible.

Needed Assembly Approval

The question of U.N. assistance in removing the ships and bridges blocking the canal will require approval of the General Assembly, but U.N. officials foresaw no difficulty on this. Hammarskjold already has begun negotiations with Danish and Dutch salvage companies to take over the job.

The commander of the U.N. police force, Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Burns, flew back to the Middle East after a series of talks here with military representatives of some of the nations contributing troops to the force. More than 600 troops of the U.N. force already were in the canal zone, standing by in barracks behind the Egyptian lines. The first contingent of Indian soldiers took off from the staging area near Naples at dawn. They were Asia's first contribution to the police force.

INDIGNATION AT DEPORTATIONS MOUNTS BUT NO SIGN OF CHANGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A rising tide of indignation over deportation of Hungarian patriots appeared today to assure overwhelming U.N. support for renewed pressure on the Soviet Union to change its policy in Hungary.

But a high Russian source indicated the Soviets were not planning to back down on their stand that events in Hungary are none of the U.N.'s business.

Indian Delegate V. K. Krishna Menon was scheduled to take the General Assembly floor on behalf of the proposal by neutral Asians seeking to break down Hungary's rejection of a U.N. observer team. A high Soviet source said this resolution was not acceptable.

Voices Grow Louder

Anti-Communist voices in the Assembly grew louder, and cautious Asian and African nations were discarding their earlier aloofness. The result was expected to mean heavy majorities for anti-Soviet resolutions.

Throughout the second day of continuous debate on Hungary the Soviet Union and Hungary were repeatedly asked why they objected to observers if they had nothing to hide.

An urgent plan was presented to the Assembly to meet the immediate needs of thousands of refugees streaming westward into neighboring Austria. It came from Argentina, Belgium, Denmark and the United States.

The resolution urged governments and nongovernmental organizations to make contributions for refugees to the secretary general, the U.N. high commissioner for refugees, or other agencies.

Harrisburg Hospital Plans Expansion

HARRISBURG (AP)—The head of the building committee for Harrisburg Hospital said plans are underway for a $3,100,000 expansion program at the riverfront institution.

Gen. E. J. Stackpole, chairman of the hospital building and lands committee, told some 200 persons at a dinner last night that 2¼ million dollars will be sought by public subscription and the balance already is on hand.

A major portion of the program will be construction of an 11-story nurses' school and residence near the hospital on Front Street a few blocks from the center of Harrisburg.

At the same time, Stackpole said, plans call for turning the present 'nurses' quarters and a solarium into rooms for 139 patients.

The hospital now has beds for 492 patients.

Brings Witness To Prove His Point

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—"I just didn't see that other car coming," the defendant explained to City traffic judge James Demopolos.

The speaker was charged with failure to yield the right of way from a stop sign.

To prove his point, the defendant declared, "I've brought along a witness."

"He's right, Judge," said the witness a pedestrian standing at the intersection when the two cars hit. "I didn't see that other car coming either."

Hungarian Student To Return To Fight

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A 21-year old Hungarian student who says he helped lead the Hungarian revolt against the Russians says he believes his countrymen ultimately will be successful.

The student, using the name "Istvan Laszlo" to prevent possible reprisals against relatives in Hungary, said last night the revolt is not over and that he expects to return to his country within two weeks. He'll fight "underground" if necessary, he told a meeting of Hungarian sympathizers.

Fugitives Sue For Cash Left In Jail

RENO, Nev. (AP)—In District Attorney A. D. Jensen's mind, six prisoners who broke out of the Washoe County Jail Oct. 28 went a little far trying to get ahead of the law.

Captured and held for Federal action at Sacramento, Calif., the six wrote asking return of $199 they had left behind in the jail.

The request prompted Jensen to file a small claims damage suit for the hole the escaping prisoners cut in the wall.

The amount of damage: $199.

2 RESIGNATIONS ACCEPTED BY IKE

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower accepted two more resignations Tuesday and the White House let it be known he is considering bringing Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts into his administration.

Herter's term as governor ends in January and presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said "I would hope" that Herter's services can be used in some capacity by the federal government.

The resignations accepted were those of Roswell B. Perkins as assistant secretary of health, education and welfare, and William H. Jackson as presidential assistant for national security affairs.

Perkins was only 27 when he was appointed an assistant secretary on March 1, 1954, one of the youngest officials in the government. He said he was submitting his resignation, effective not later than Nov. 30, to return to law practice.

In a letter accepting the resignation, Eisenhower said Perkins' "talented service" had "demonstrated that young men can contribute significantly to the effective conduct of governmental affairs" and should encourage many more young Americans to aspire to highly responsible positions in government.

Automatic Railroads Foreseen In Future

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Grownup railroaders someday may run their trains the same as children; from one room. That's the word of Joseph A. Fisher, president of the Reading Railroad, who says, "We have the basic elements now for the virtually automatic railroad." It would depend primarily on radio and remote control.

Slum Clearance Plans Being Laid

HARRISBURG (AP)—Harrisburg's Redevelopment Authority considered plans today to start a 6-year-old slum clearance program on the strength of a $567,009 state grant for the project.

The federal government has approved a $4,645,125 loan-grant for rebuilding a 36-acre zone in the general vicinity of the State Capitol buildings. The State Department of Commerce made the state grant yesterday.

Chairman Milton M. Cohen said the first step would be to appraise the properties taken over for the redevelopment. Cohen said 726 families now live in the area but that the project will be conducted in easy stages so that a minimum of families will be relocated at one time.

The authority plans to build some 250 housing units with a portion set aside for a school and commercial and industrial projects.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A 21-year old Hungarian student who says he helped lead the Hungarian revolt against the Russians says he believes his countrymen ultimately will be successful.

The student, using the name "Istvan Laszlo" to prevent possible reprisals against relatives in Hungary, said last night the revolt is not over and that he expects to return to his country within two weeks. He'll fight "underground" if necessary, he told a meeting of Hungarian sympathizers.

Fugitives Sue For Cash Left In Jail

RENO, Nev. (AP)—In District Attorney A. D. Jensen's mind, six prisoners who broke out of the Washoe County Jail Oct. 28 went a little far trying to get ahead of the law.

Captured and held for Federal action at Sacramento, Calif., the six wrote asking return of $199 they had left behind in the jail.

The request prompted Jensen to file a small claims damage suit for the hole the escaping prisoners cut in the wall.

The amount of damage: $199.

2 RESIGNATIONS ACCEPTED BY IKE

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower accepted two more resignations Tuesday and the White House let it be known he is considering bringing Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts into his administration.

Herter's term as governor ends in January and presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said "I would hope" that Herter's services can be used in some capacity by the federal government.

The resignations accepted were those of Roswell B. Perkins as assistant secretary of health, education and welfare, and William H. Jackson as presidential assistant for national security affairs.

Perkins was only 27 when he was appointed an assistant secretary on March 1, 1954, one of the youngest officials in the government. He said he was submitting his resignation, effective not later than Nov. 30, to return to law practice.

In a letter accepting the resignation, Eisenhower said Perkins' "talented service" had "demonstrated that young men can contribute significantly to the effective conduct of governmental affairs" and should encourage many more young Americans to aspire to highly responsible positions in government.

Automatic Railroads Foreseen In Future

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Grownup railroaders someday may run their trains the same as children: from one room. That's the word of Joseph A. Fisher, president of the Reading Railroad, who says, "We have the basic elements now for the virtually automatic railroad." It would depend primarily on radio and remote control.

Slum Clearance Plans Being Laid

HARRISBURG (AP)—Harrisburg's Redevelopment Authority considered plans today to start a 6-year-old slum clearance program on the strength of a $507,009 state grant for the project.

The federal government has approved a $4,645,125 loan-grant for rebuilding a 36-acre zone in the general vicinity of the State Capitol buildings. The State Department of Commerce made the state grant yesterday.

Chairman Milton M. Cohen said the first step would be to appraise the properties taken over for the redevelopment. Cohen said 726 families now live in the area but that the project will be conducted in easy stages so that a minimum of families will be relocated at one time.

The authority plans to build some 250 housing units with a portion set aside for a school and commercial and industrial projects.

Thanksgiving 1956

With war and rumors of war about us, we look back to that first Thanksgiving Day. Those early colonists were thankful for so little compared to the plenty we Americans share today . . . A plenty that includes more freedom of life—better living due to great advancements in science. We are particularly reminded of the wonders that have taken place in the field of medicine. Many fatal diseases are now curable. This alone is sufficient to inspire thankful hearts in all of us.

SLAYER DIES IN PHILA. HOSPITAL

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The confessed slayer of a Philadelphia real estate man died last night in Philadelphia General Hospital

He was Edward H Maddox, 21, who was arrested last Thursday as he hid in an unused section of a factory building, where he had cut his wrists and taken poison in a suicide attempt

Maddox a Negro was charged with the holdup slaying of Joseph Langman 75, on Nov 8 Police began searching for Maddox last week after his parents notified authorities he had confessed the slaying to them

Maddox had appeared to be recovering A bedside hearing scheduled yesterday for Maddox and Eddie Coger Jr , 23 was called off however Coger was held without bail on charges of conspiracy and being an accessory Police said Maddox told them he and Coger planned the robbery but that he Maddox, committed the crime alone Coger is accused of owning the gun which killed Langman

The hospital said an autopsy would be performed on Maddox

Hammarskjold Reported To Favor Egypt In Canal Fuss

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS N Y (AP) — Egypt was reported Tuesday to have the general support of U N Secretary Dag Hammarskjold in its demand that the U N police force leave the Suez Canal zone after a British-French withdrawal

With Britain, France and Israel standing firm in their opposition, U N diplomats were said to be seriously concerned over the delay in finding a formula to resolve the deadlock

Makes Report

Hammarskjold's view of the function of the police force, based on his interpretation of resolutions adopted by the General Assembly was reported to include possible security duty during the clearing of the blocked waterway A U N spokesman said such 'security arrangements" would be subject to negotiation

The secretary general, who returned on Monday from a trouble-shooting trip to Egypt, submitted two reports to the Assembly Tuesday. A U N spokesman said one centered on the operation to clear the canal, in which Hammarskjold agreed the U N would help, and the other on the U N police force

47 Ships Block Canal

Egypt has demanded that Britain, France and Israel immediately withdraw their troops from Egyptian territory seized in their offensive Britain and France have insisted they will pull their forces out of the northern third of the canal zone only if the positions are taken over by U N police troops Israel has indicated it will try to hang on to the Gaza Strip and so far has not moved to withdraw from Egypt's Sinai Peninsula.

The U N. spokesman said clearance of the canal, blocked by the wreckage of two bridges and 47 sunken ships, would be undertaken as authorized by the U N , with the organization arranging with "a number of firms" to do the work He added, "The negotiations for the undertaking might also have to cover security arrangements "

"The U N emergency force will carry out the functions assigned to it by the General Assembly for the supervision of the cease-fire and the withdrawal of the British-French and Israeli forces," the spokesman continued

"In so doing " he said, "the U N. emergency force will contribute to the re-establishment of conditions in which the clearance of the canal can be carried through successfully No one can at present forecast exactly how long the operation will take "

Earlier estimates have said the clearance job may take six months

Meets Briton, Frenchman

Hammarskjold's first conferences after his return here included sessions with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau Both were understood to have insisted that their governments will not withdraw their troops from Egypt unless the U N force polices the canal area.

Egypt in turn stood firm on its demand — backed by the Soviet Union — that the U N. troops must take up positions along the 1949 Egyptian - Israeli armistice line after a speedy withdrawal of British, French and Israeli forces

Dispatches from Cairo said Egypt was becoming increasingly restive over the delay in the demanded withdrawal Wing Cmdr Ali Sabry, chief political adviser to Egyptian President Nasser, told a reporter Egypt expects the withdrawal to begin this week if possible

Needed Assembly Approval

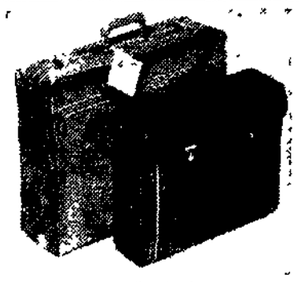

The question of U N. assistance in removing the ships and bridges blocking the canal will require approval of the General Assembly, but UN officials foresaw no difficulty on this Hammarskjold already has begun negotiations with Danish and Dutch salvage companies to take over the job.

The commander of the U.N police force, Maj Gen E L M. Burns, flew back to the Middle East after a series of talks here with military representatives of some of the nations contributing troops to the force More than 600 troops of the U N. force already were in the canal zone, standing by in barracks behind the Egyptian lines The first contingent of Indian soldiers took off from the staging area near Naples at dawn They were Asia's first contribution to the police force

TOP OFFICIALS THINK WE'LL PROBABLY NOT GO TO WAR NOW

By ED CREAGH
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Are we going to war?

That's the big question in people's minds, of course, in the ebb and flow of world events from Hungary to the Gaza Strip.

In the opinion of top level officials of the Eisenhower administration: probably not.

Of course, the campaign isn't over. No political campaign really is over, ever.

Soviet Union Off Base

But the people in key positions will tell you — —as long as you don't use their names — that in their view the outlook is for peace. Or at least for no big-scale war.

Here's the outlook, as it's given out on an off-the-record basis:

The Soviet Union is off-base. Recent events in Poland and Hungary have rattled the skeleton of the Soviet empire even though "measure have been taken," as a Russian commentator might put it, to quell revolt in both countries.

The Usual Story

Tanks. Guns. The usual story "Measures have been taken."

But the feeling in higher official quarters here is that the Russians are scared, if not panicky.

The feeling too is that some of the bigshot Russians are scared they'll be booted out of their jobs.

Some say this is behind the recent tough, tall talk of Soviet Communist boss Nikita S Khrushchev, who has been sounding off at parties to the tune of top headlines in the Western world.

Some of this country's chief peerers through the Iron Curtain suspect — hopefully, perhaps — that Khrushchev's attitude reflects desperation.

Threat Not Carried Out

They don't expect war, however They don't think Russia is ready. They don't think the Soviets have enough long-range bombers. They are convinced the Soviets don't have — yet — the ocean-spanning guided missiles that probably will decide the next war, if there is one.

They can and will get a hot argument from the Democrats here. Sen. Stuart W. Symington, among others in his party, has been contending the Russians are ahead of us, or are about to be.

The Russians haven't carried out their threat to send "volunteers" into the Middle East mess.

Why?

They have Syria, in the candid opinion of our policymakers, about ready to reel into their orbit.

Why haven't they given the necessary push?

Is it the feeling, which any Communist will voice at the faintest provocation, that history is on the Reds' side and they can afford to wait?

Is it that they're groggy from the smouldering revolts in the satellite countries?

Anybody who knows the answers should get in touch with his government.

Here in Washington, nobody seems entirely sure.

Widow Bludgeoned To Death By Axe

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A 41-year-old widow of a year, who supported her 8-year-old son by working as a domestic, was bludgeoned to death with an axe last night.

The son, Charles Zubryd, found the body of his mother, Mrs. Helen Zubryd, in the basement of their home about 20 miles northwest of Pittsburgh. He had just returned from a brief visit to a neighbor's home.

Homicide Detective Ted Botula said Mrs. Zubryd apparently resisted the slayer. An autopsy was ordered to determine if she had been criminally assaulted.

Shortly after the slaying, Elmer Skiles, a 63-year-old neighbor, died of a heart attack while guiding newsmen to the slaying scene.

DEFENSE AWAITS APPROVAL ON ORDNANCE DEPOT

By JOHN KOENIG JR.
AP Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department, ready to declare surplus the huge Susquehanna Ordnance Depot at Allenwood (Lycoming County) Pa., needs only official approval from the House and Senate Armed Services Committees.

Any committee protests to the sale have to be filed by Nov. 26.

Agreement by the two congressional committees would be another giant step toward releasing the 7,600-acre site for sale to private industrial interests. The installation now is largely idle.

The Army, Navy and Air Force have cleared the property for release. However, federal law states that disposal of any property valued at more than $25,000 must be approved also by the two armed services committees.

Go For Check

Following that, the proposal would go to the General Services Administration — watchdog over all government properties—for a check on whether any other department of the federal government desires the property.

Whether the GSA will find another department interested in the site—for which $10,987,847 was paid in 1940—is not known. But House and Senate committee approval in the matter is regarded as almost routine once the Army Navy and Air Force have made their decisions.

"We consider the defense department knows more about the matter than we do," a Senate committee aide said.

Notice of the Defense Department's proposal to abandon the depot went out to members of both congressional committees on Nov. 9. Members have 15 days, including mailing time, to reply.

If there are no objections to the proposal, the committee chairmen —Rep. Vinson (D-Ga) and Sen. Russell (D-Ga)—are authorized to give committee approval. Objection would mean the calling of a public hearing.

Since the Nov. 24 deadline falls on a Saturday, no action is expected until next Monday.

At its peak of activity during World War II, the Susquehanna Deport employed some 9,000 persons. Recently it has been used to store ammunition. A portion has been leased to the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg for use as a prison farm.

Disposal of the depot by the federal government has the support of business interests in the Williamsport area. The site is regarded by them as a good one for establishment of a defense industry to bring new jobs to the area.

Both Rep. Bush (R-Pa), in whose district the site lies, and Sen. Duff (R-Pa) have pressed for government sale of the installation.

Four Pennsylvanians are members of the congressional committees considering disposal of the depot. They are Sen. Duff and Reps. Green (D), Gavin (R) and Van Zandt (R).

DEMS PROPOSE VICTORY BALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Pennsylvania congressmen today approved a suggestion by Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) that Democrats hold a victory ball to celebrate the party's success in retaining control of Congress.

In offering his proposal, Humphreys asked that "instead of letting the Republicans seize all the limelight with inauguration festivities in January, why can't we Democrats sponsor a big Democratic victory celebration near the year end?"

Rep. Kelley (D-Pa) said he though the suggestion was a "good idea" and that "I would be for it."

Rep. Flood (D-Pa) termed it a "sound idea" but said there was a question as to the time.

"If it is held, I think it should be during the session," said Flood. "If it will help the party, I'm for it."

A spokesman at Democratic headquarters said Humphrey's proposal would be considered at next week's meeting of the executive committee of the national committee.

The spokesman said he assumed the party would be comparable too a fund-raising dinner.

"We can use the money," Kelley commented.

TOP OFFICIALS THINK WE'LL PROBABLY NOT GO TO WAR NOW

By ED CREAGH
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Are we going to war?

That's the big question in people's minds, of course, in the ebb and flow of world events from Hungary to the Gaza Strip.

In the opinion of top level officials of the Eisenhower administration: probably not.

Of course, the campaign isn't over. No political campaign really is over, ever.

Soviet Union Off Base

But the people in key positions will tell you — —as long as you don't use their names — that in their view the outlook is for peace. Or at least for no big-scale war.

Here's the outlook, as it's given out on an off-the-record basis:

The Soviet Union is off-base. Recent events in Poland and Hungary have rattled the skeleton of the Soviet empire even though "measure have been taken," as a Russian commentator might put it, to quell revolt in both countries.

The Usual Story

Tanks. Guns. The usual story "Measures have been taken."

But the feeling in higher official quarters here is that the Russians are scared, if not panicky.

The feeling too is that some of the bigshot Russians are scared they'll be booted out of their jobs.

Some say this is behind the recent tough, tall talk of Soviet Communist boss Nikita S. Khrushchev, who has been sounding off at parties to the tune of top headlines in the Western world.

Some of this country's chief peerers through the Iron Curtain suspect — hopefully, perhaps — that Khrushchev's attitude reflects desperation.

Threat Not Carried Out

They don't expect war, however. They don't think Russia is ready. They don't think the Soviets have enough long-range bombers. They are convinced the Soviets don't have — yet — the ocean-spanning guided missiles that probably will decide the next war, if there is one.

They can and will get a hot argument from the Democrats here. Sen. Stuart W. Symington, among others in his party, has been contending the Russians are ahead of us, or are about to be.

The Russians haven't carried out their threat to send "volunteers" into the Middle East mess.

Why?

They have Syria, in the candid opinion of our policymakers, about ready to reel into their orbit.

Why haven't they given the necessary push?

Is it the feeling, which any Communist will voice at the faintest provocation, that history is on the Reds' side and they can afford to wait?

Is it that they're groggy from the smouldering revolts in the satellite countries?

Anybody who knows the answers should get in touch with his government.

Here in Washington, nobody seems entirely sure.

Widow Bludgeoned To Death By Axe

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A 41-year-old widow of a year, who supported her 8-year-old son by working as a domestic, was bludgeoned to death with an axe last night.

The son, Charles Zubryd, found the body of his mother, Mrs. Helen Zubryd, in the basement of their home about 20 miles northwest of Pittsburgh. He had just returned from a brief visit to a neighbor's home.

Homicide Detecive Ted Botula said Mrs. Zubryd apparently resisted the slayer. An autopsy was ordered to determine if she had been criminally assaulted.

Shortly after the slaying, Elmer Skiles, a 63-year-old neighbor, died of a heart attack while guiding newsmen to the slaying scene.

DEFENSE AWAITS APPROVAL ON ORDNANCE DEPOT

By JOHN KOENIG JR.
AP Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department, ready to declare surplus the huge Susquehanna Ordnance Depot at Allenwood (Lycoming County) Pa., needs only official approval from the House and Senate Armed Services Committees.

Any committee protests to the sale have to be filed by Nov 26.

Agreement by the two congressional committees would be another giant step toward releasing the 7,600-acre site for sale to private industrial interests. The installation now is largely idle.

The Army, Navy and Air Force have cleared the property for release. However, federal law states that disposal of any property valused at more than $25,000 must be approved also by the two armed services committees.

Go For Check

Following that, the proposal would go to the General Services Administration — watchdog over all government properties—for a check on whether any other department of the federal government desires the property.

Whether the GSA will find another department interested in the site—for which $10,987,847 was paid in 1940—is not known. But House and Senate committee approval in the matter is regarded as almost routine once the Army Navy and Air Force have made their decisions.

"We consider the defense department knows more about the matter than we do," a Senate committee aide said.

Notice of the Defense Department's proposal to abandon the depot went out to members of both congressional committees on Nov. 9. Members have 15 days, including mailing time, to reply.

If there are no objections to the proposal, the committee chairmen —Rep. Vinson (D-Ga) and Sen. Russell (D-Ga)—are authorized to give committee approval. Objection would mean the calling of a public hearing.

Since the Nov. 24 deadline falls on a Saturday, no action is expected until next Monday.

At its peak of activity during World War II, the Susquehanna Deport employed some 9,000 persons. Recently it has been used to store ammunition. A portion has been leased to the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg for use as a prison farm.

Disposal of the depot by the federal government has the support of business interests in the Williamsport area. The site is regarded by them as a good one for establishment of a defense industry to bring new jobs to the area.

Both Rep. Bush (R-Pa), in whose district the site lies, and Sen. Duff (R-Pa) have pressed for government sale of the installation.

Four Pennsylvanians are members of the congressional committees considering disposal of the depot. They are Sen. Duff and Reps. Green (D), Gavin (R) and Van Zandt (R).

DEMS PROPOSE VICTORY BALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Pennsylvania congressmen today approved a suggestion by Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) that Democrats hold a victory ball to celebrate the party's success in retaining control of Congress.

In offering his proposal, Humphreys asked that "instead of letting the Republicans seize all the limelight with inauguration festivities in January, why can't we Democrats sponsor a big Democratic victory celebration near the year end?"

Rep. Kelley (D-Pa) said he though the suggestion was a "good idea" and that "I would be for it."

Rep. Flood (D-Pa) termed it a "sound idea" but said there was a question as to the time.

"If it is held, I think it should be during the session," said Flood. "If it will help the party, I'm for it."

A spokesman at Democratic headquarters said Humphrey's proposal would be considered at next week's meeting of the executive committee of the national committee.

The spokesman said he assumed the party would be comparable too a fund-raising dinner.

"We can use the money," Kelley commented.
